An Act to further amend subsection (a) of Section 722 of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by exempting motor vehicles of war amputees, or veterans suffering from paraplegia, from the payment of title or registration fees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 484, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (c) of Section 603 of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 571), entitled "An act relating to assessment for taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for county, borough, town, township, school, except in cities and county institution district purposes; and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation thereof for such purposes; creating in each such county a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for the acceptance of this act by cities; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class; providing for the appointment of a chief assessor, assistant assessors and other employees; providing for their compensation payable by such counties; prescribing certain duties of and certain fees to be collected by the recorder of deeds; and eliminating the triennial assessment," by clarifying the information to be shown on the assessment roll as to the owner of a severed and distinct estate in real estate involving mineral rights.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I intended to discuss Senate Bill 717, making a ten million dollar deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance. The bill was held over temporarily. However, while I was out to the telephone it was called up and passed finally. I would have voted for the bill anyway, but I did want to discuss it and discuss the report of the Department of Public Assistance as prepared by the Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. President, as I understand that they were in a hurry to pass Senate Bill 717. At least, Mr. Wray informed me that unless this bill was passed today we would lose an allocation from the Federal Government as its proportionate contribution to this ten million dollars. Mr. Wray tells me that the Department of Public Assistance is out of funds and wants to get this bill approved and notify the officials in Washington. For that reason I will refrain from discussing the bill today and reserve the right to discuss it tomorrow. I also understand that some of the Members of the Senate want to go to Philadelphia to a dinner, and far be it from me to hold them up.

So, Mr. President, for the reasons stated, I will defer my talk on this subject until tomorrow.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 119, entitled:

An Act regulating the suspension removal furloughing and reinstatement of police officers in boroughs and townships of the first class having police forces of less than three members and in townships of the second class.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 432, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county board of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by providing for nominations and elections of county officers in counties about to undergo a change in classification, and imposing certain duties upon county commissioners, county boards of elections, and others.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 716, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Appropriation Acts page 62) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine" providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 719, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Welfare to reimburse State-aided hospitals for part of the cost of training student nurses in approved schools of nursing

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Section 10 The Board shall annually prepare and make available for public distribution lists of all schools of nursing or combinations of schools of nursing approved and classified by it the graduates of which shall be eligible for examination for licensure as licensed registered nurses. The removal of any such school from the approved list shall not make any bona fide student therein at the time of said removal ineligible for examination upon satisfactory completion of the required program.

Section 11 Each person upon being licensed by the Board as a licensed registered nurse under the provisions of this act shall without additional fee therefor be given a card to evidence such license which shall be valid during the current renewal year. Licenses issued pursuant to this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of October of each year or on such other annual expiration date as the Board may fix. Application for renewal of a license shall annually be forwarded to each active registrant prior to the expiration date of the current renewal year. The application form shall be completed and returned to the Board accompanied by the required fee of one dollar ($1) upon approval of each application the applicant shall receive a renewal of license.

The form and method of license and renewal shall be provided for by the Board in such manner as will enable it to carry into effect the purposes of this act. The Board shall maintain a record of all licenses issued under this act and of all renewals as herein provided.

Section 12 Except as otherwise herein provided it shall be unlawful for any person association copartnership corporation or institution to

(1) Sell or fraudulently obtain or fraudulently furnish any nursing diploma license record or registration or aid or abet therein or

(2) Practice professional nursing as defined by this act under cover of any diploma license record or registration illegally or fraudulently obtained or signed or issue any diploma license record or registration unlawfully or under fraudulent representation or mistake of fact in a material regard or

(3) While engaged in the performance of any nursing services use in connection with his or her name the words "licensed nurse" "licensed registered nurse" "registered nurse" or letters "R.N." or any designation tending to imply that he or she is a licensed registered nurse unless he or she is licensed to so practice under the provisions of this act or

(4) Otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act.

Section 13 Any person or the responsible officer or employees of any corporation copartnership institution or association violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) for the first offense for the second and any subsequent offenses not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) and in default of the payment of such fine and costs to undergo imprisonment for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days.

Section 14 The Board may suspend or revoke any license in any case where the Board shall find that

(1) The licensee is guilty of gross immorality

(2) The licensee is unfit or incompetent by reason of negligence habits or other causes

(3) The licensee has wilfully or repeatedly violated any of the provisions of this act or of the regulations of the Board

(4) The licensee has committed fraud or deceit in the practice of nursing or in securing his or her admission to such practice

(5) The licensee has been convicted or has pleaded guilty or entered a plea of nolo contendere or has been found guilty by a judge or jury of a crime or has been dishonorably discharged or discharged under circumstances amounting to a dishonorable discharge from the military forces of the United States or of any other country

(6) The licensee is an habitual drunkard or is addicted to the use of morphine cocaine or other drugs having a similar effect or if he or she has become mentally incompetent

(7) The licensee is continuing to practice nursing when such licensee knows he or she has an infectious communicable or contagious disease

(8) The licensee has been guilty of unprofessional conduct or such conduct as to require a suspension or revocation in the public interest

(9) The licensee having obtained a license upon declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States has not become a citizen of the United States within seven (7) years after the date of such declaration of intention

Section 15 All suspensions and revocations shall be made only in accordance with the regulations of the Board and only by majority vote of the members of the Board after a full and fair hearing before the Board All actions of the Board shall be taken subject to the right of notice hearing and adjudication and the right of appeal therefrom in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Agency Law approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (Pamphlet Laws 1388) or any amendment or reenactment thereof relating to adjudication procedure The Board by majority action and in accordance with its regulations may reissue any license which has been suspended or revoked

Section 16 The following acts or parts of acts and their amendments are hereby repealed as respectively indicated

The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (R. L. 321) entitled "An act to provide for State registrations of nurses to establish a State Board of Examiners in connection therewith and to provide penalties for the violation of certain provisions regarding such registration" absolutely

The act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 988) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the State registration of nurses and licensed attendants the annual recording of registration certificates and regulating the profession of nursing and repealing certain existing laws" except in so far as it applies to licensed attendants

All other acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 17 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment but Section three shall not become operative until the first day of November one thousand nine hundred fifty-two

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 513, as follows:

An Act to amend section 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1340) entitled "An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties" by providing that certain appeals may be taken to the court of common pleas of the county in which the aggrieved person resides

Section 1 Section 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 130) "An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Sectary to Administer Act Appeal to Court

(a) The secretary shall administer and enforce the provisions of this act and may make rules and regulations necessary for its administration

(b) An person aggrieved by an order or act of the secretary under the provisions of sections four to eleven of this act may with [ten] thirty days after notice thereof file a petition in the court of common pleas of [Dauphin County] the county in which the aggrieved person resides for a trial de novo to determine whether such order or act is lawful and reasonable. The filing of such a petition shall not suspend the order or act of the secretary unless a stay thereof shall be allowed by a judge of said court pending final determination of the matter. The court shall summarily hear the petition and may make any appropriate order or degree

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 708, as follows:

An Act requiring certain non-profit and cooperative associations and corporations to obtain the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission before beginning to furnish telephone service on a cooperative or non-profit basis or to furnish such service in areas not theretofore served providing for regulation of such service after approval and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The following words and phrases shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section unless the context clearly indicates otherwise

(1) "Association" shall mean any group of persons organized on a cooperative or non-profit basis providing telephone service to its own members only or to its own members and others but shall not include any group serving less than ten telephones

(2) "Corporation" shall mean any legal entity organized under any statute of this Commonwealth or any other state or the United States on a cooperative or non-profit basis to provide telephone service to its own members or stockholders only to its own members or stockholders and others but shall not include any entity serving less than ten telephones

(3) "Telephone service" shall mean any service affording voice communication through the use of electricity and wire connection between the transmitting and receiving apparatus

Section 2 After the effective date of this act no association or corporation shall begin to engage in the furnishing of telephone service or shall extend its telephone service into any area not theretofore served unless such association or corporation shall first have obtained the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission evidenced by its certificate of public convenience issued in the same manner and on the same findings of fact as is now provided by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1053) as amended known as the "Public Utility Law"

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as depriving any such association or corporation of any right power or privilege which it lawfully possessed and exercised on the effective date of this act

Section 4 Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as conferring upon any such association or corporation any rights powers or privileges not enjoyed on the effective date of this act

Section 5 Whenever the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission shall have issued a certificate of public convenience to an association or corporation under the provisions of this act the telephone service thereafter furnished by such association or corporation shall be subject to and in conformity with the provisions of the "Public Utility Law" applicable to the furnishing of similar service by a public utility as defined in said law The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to require such association's or corporation's compliance with such provisions of law

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 16, Printer's No. 82, and

Senate Bill No. 195, Printer's No. 49

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 318, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties of the second class to establish fire training schools for the paid and volunteer firemen of municipalities within the county.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, 1st line of title, by striking out the word "class" and inserting in lieu thereof "and fourth classes."

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out the word "class" and inserting in lieu thereof "and fourth classes."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. HELM offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. VAN SANT and STIMMEL offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 9, 1951.

Whereas, The Honorable Marian E. Markley, on Sunday, April 8, 1951, celebrated a birthday anniversary which marks another year of service to her community and to the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Mrs. Markley has through her work in the past as secretary to the Honorable Franklin H. Lichtenwalter during his terms of office as speaker of this House and as a member of Congress shown a high degree of efficiency in the performance of her work and a rare capacity for friendship which have done much to facilitate and further the prompt and capable performance of Legislative tasks; and

Whereas, As representative of the second district of Lehigh County Mrs. Markley has brought her rare capabilities, conscientious attachment to the proper solution of Legislative problems, large experience in Legislation, and of the greatest importance, her warmth of personality and a deep spirit of friendship for all persons with whom she has had opportunities to share work and to collaborate in the performance of tasks often requiring a keen insight to many diverse problems requiring profound solution; and

Whereas, Mrs. Markley has distinguished herself as an outstanding citizen and as a capable member of this House of Representatives; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends to the Honorable Mrs. Marian E. Markley its felicitations on her celebration of her birthday anniversary, and that it expresses its desire to continue to enjoy her wise counsel and friendly spirit of cooperation as a source of inspiration and as an aid to the further performance of its many tasks for many years in the future.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate very much this resolution. Everyone asks me, How do you like being in the House? Well, I like it very much, and one of the reasons that I like it is that it reminds me of a story, if I may . . .

The SPEAKER. The House will be in order.

Mrs. MARKLEY. The story is about a certain gentleman who was trying to find a church in which he thought he might be at home. He was going down the street one day and a church service was being held. He entered the church and the congregation and preacher were reading in unison, and this is what they read:

"We have left undone the things we should have done and we have done the things we should have left undone."

The gentleman slid in his seat and he said: "I have found my crowd at last."

That is the way I feel.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 10, 1951.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GILBERT L. BENNETT, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty Father, Who art the strength of them that put their trust in Thee, we beseech Thee to arm us with power. With quietness and confidence refresh our souls. When our steps are slow and our fingers are slack, quicken us afresh with Thy spirit. Make us equal to life's most strenuous demands. We ask in the name of Him who overcame the world, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Yesterday, Mr. President, I said I was going to discuss to some extent the Department of Public Assistance as well as this report that was prepared by the Joint State Government Commission.

Yesterday we approved a deficiency appropriation for the Department of Public Assistance in the amount of ten million dollars, and I noticed that when the deficiency was approved I do not believe there was one vote against it. As long as we continue to approve these deficiencies for the departments of State government, so long we are going to continue to have these billion dollar budgets, so long are these departments going to continue to spend money at will and, frankly, after the money is spent, and I mean over and above what the Legislature allocates to these departments, so long as we do nothing about it, that is how long these departments are going to continue to spend over and above what we give them.

Mr. President, I hope that as the result of this bill that was introduced, setting up the Accountant General, that these deficiencies will be done away with through a procedure that will be set up in that bill, and in that connection I am on the subcommittee with Senator Diehm and Senator Wade, who are studying some amendments to the bill, and we are going to Trenton, New Jersey, on Friday to study the system down there, that I understand is pretty good.

Mr. President, for this biennium we gave the Department of Public Assistance $163,000,000 to function for two years. In addition to that, we provided $25,000,000 which the Department of Public Assistance was permitted to use from surpluses accumulated by the State. They used up the $163,000,000, as well as the $25,000,000, and yesterday came here and received another $10,000,000, which I think made it $198,000,000 from the State government, in addition to whatever was allocated to the Department of Public Assistance by the Federal Government.

Mr. President, this report is a splendid report, and I only hope that we have a report similar to this dealing with every department, board and commission of the State government because I think it would be helpful to the Members of the Legislature while they are in Session to cure some of the evils and some of the inefficiency in the various departments of the state government.

I for one want to commend the Committee that functioned in connection with the investigation of the Department of Public Assistance and for the compilation of this report. Frankly, it does not cover all phases but it does a pretty good job. It is rather mild in its criticisms and what is lacking in it are recommendations to cure the evils that are outlined in this report and in the administrative procedure of the Department of Public Assistance. So, Mr. President, I want to take just a little bit of time here not to criticize the Committee or to criticize the report, but to make a few suggestions that I think will improve the Department of Public Assistance and, perhaps, at some future time during this Session, I may draft a bill to take care of some of these deficiencies in the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. President, under the law the Department of Public Assistance is governed by what they call a State Board, and the functions and duties of the State Board are outlined in this report. I am not going to read them, but they are really responsible for the administrative procedure, for the rules and regulations that govern the Department of Public Assistance. It is a $200,000,000 program and under the law there are nine members on this board, and the bad feature about it, as I see it, is the fact that these nine members do not get a nickel in compensation for serving. Now, how could we expect—how do we expect a board of nine people to run a $200,000,000 project without getting paid? That, in my opinion, is a fallacy in itself.

Mr. President, how does this board function? This board meets once every month. Just imagine that; once every month it meets to run a $200,000,000 project, and while I was attached to the Auditor General's Department, I represented the Auditor General, who is a member of the board, at, I think, one or two of these meetings, and if my memory serves me correctly I do not believe the meetings lasted more than three hours, and what happened? The board comes here to Harrisburg, not the whole complement of nine members. Some of them come and some of them do not come. They are scattered all over Pennsylvania, and before they get here there is an agenda laid out for them, and if it requires a resolution, a resolution is prepared for them and the person who prepares the agenda and the resolution, he does all the talking, and it is just a matter of somebody making a motion to go along with the contents of the resolution and somebody seconds the motion. They take a vote and they very seldom turn down anything that is presented on the agenda.

I do not know how many members of this Senate are in business, but I say to you, Mr. President, if you have a business and you only attended to that business once a month, what would happen to it? It would not be long before you were out of business. I am sure about that and that, perhaps, can account for all of the inefficiency that this report outlines to the Legislature.

Mr. President, in my opinion I think this free service board ought to be abolished, and in my opinion I think we ought to appoint a paid board to do this job, somebody that will work at it five days a week, six days a week, concentrate on it, look after this $200,000,000 project. I am sure if this were done we would not find all of the misgivings that we find there in this report, and we would not find that there was $16,000,000 handed out to chiselers and in the form of overpayments. That is only a suggestion.

Now, Mr. President, let us take the next phase of it, take a look at the chart. We talk about bureaucrats in the Federal Government, and we talk about bureaucrats here in the State government, too, but you just take a look at this chart in this report on page 13, and take a look at the number of bureaus set up within a bureau. You have the State Board of Public Assistance, the Secretary of Public Assistance, the State Civil Service Commission, the Deputy Secretary, Public Relations—I do not know what the Public Relations fellow does but they got him down here—the County Administrator of Budgets—I do not know what he does—the Bureau of Finance, the Bureau of Assistance, Administrative Services, Assistance Policies, Employment Program—and I am going to touch on the Employment Program as I go along—Field Service, Medical Care, Correspondence and Reports, Claims Settlement, Audits and Accounts, Methods and Systems, Personnel, Research and Statistics, Office Management and Supply, Area Offices, General Accounting, Audits, another Audits, Regional Offices, County Boards of Assistance, County Staff, Social Service and Clerical Service. That is a monstrosity and if anything demands a public hearing it is this thing here, to see how many of these bureaus we can eliminate or consolidate.

I am assuming that for every bureau that is here, you have a director, and for every director you have a secretary and for every secretary you have clerks. They have all got to do something and, perhaps, that accounts for the multitude of literature that goes out from the Department of Public Assistance to these County Boards of Assistance. In that connection, Mr. President, yesterday I asked Mr. Wray, the Deputy Secretary of Public Assistance, to give me a compilation of the eligibility rules and regulations that are prepared over here by these bureaucrats in the Public Assistance Bureau, so that I could show you how voluminous those rules and regulations are.

Now, Mr. President, if you will turn to page 103, on page 103 you will find the rules of eligibility for general assistance, old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to permanently and totally disabled, and, frankly, it is in simple concise form but from this, from this, as I said before, from these bureaucrats over here, and they tell me in the local offices every lay in the week some kind of a change in regulation comes through, and it keeps the visitors that ought to be out on the job investigating these people to determine whether their eligibility is changed, it keeps them busy keeping up with these changes, changes and more changes in rules and regulations and in rules of eligibility.

Mr. President, I asked for that yesterday, and Mr. Wray said to me, "Which one do you want? Do you want the big one or do you want the small one?" He said, "If you make me bring the big one over, you are going to make us look silly, but if you let me bring over the small one, you are going to make us look good," and I said, "Mr. Wray, I do not know how I could make you look any more silly than this book made you look. So, bring over the whole shebang so the Members of the Legislature can take a look at what you have over there and maybe we can help you to simplify it," and to this day I have nothing. The last I heard is that they were trying to get a set together for me. I would like to see what it is going to look like when I get it.

Mr. President, the next phase of it is the Auditor General's staff. Frankly, Mr. President, it has always been the theory of those that were interested in public assistance that it is the aim of the Department of Public Assistance to put people on the rolls, but there is not enough done to take them off, and what is it? It is nothing more than self-preservation. I do not know how many visitors they have; I do not know how many attorneys they have; I do not know how many clerks they have; I do not know how many stenographers they have; I do not know what the personnel setup is, but it is only common sense to believe that the more you reduce the rolls, the less need you will have for all of that personnel, and he who has a good job is not going to do himself out of a job by reducing the rolls. Nobody will. It is self-preservation. It is everybody taking care of himself, and that is the theory upon which this Auditor General's staff was organized. I do not say this for any other reason except that I was over in the Auditor General's Department at the time, and I organized this staff that functions out of that Department, with the approval of the Governor and with the opposition of the Department of Public Assistance. It was our theory that there ought to be some group functioning that would take these people off the rolls. It is their job to put them on. At least that is the theory they assume, and you would have to have some active body that would act counter to the Department of Public Assistance and go around and review and investigate these cases to take them off the rolls. So, this bureau was set up and I remember, and I think the same practice ought to be inaugurated at the present time, we would conduct a county investigation, we would send a man out to a county and we would pick out certain spots in the county where the recipient would have to call for his check instead of mailing the check to him; we would write that person a letter that was in that area and we would say to him, "Your check will not be mailed this time. You call at such and such a place, at such and such a time, and pick up your check, personally." Then we would send investigators to each one of these places in the county, they had to call for the checks, and then we had a uniform questionnaire that we completed to determine the eligibility of those that called for the checks, and you would be surprised. There were lots of them that did not call for the checks, and when we went to their homes to find out why they did not call, they would say, "I am no longer eligible. I do not need it," but if that thing were not done, they would have stayed on those rolls on and on and on until something happened.

I think that same procedure ought to be adopted now to clear up whatever questions might exist by way of eligibility in these various counties of the State. I do not know what system the Auditor General is following now but from the latest reports I get, I am told that they knock off sufficient people from the rolls to more than justify the allocation that is made to the Department of the Auditor General to conduct these investigations, and I think it ought to be continued. As a matter of fact, I think a counter group ought to be set up either in the State Police, that I understand helped to compile this report, or in the Department of Justice, and they be given police powers, if necessary, so that they can do something to these chiselers, these leeches, that live off the Commonwealth illegally, and not just let them get by with it without doing anything to them. We have got to make an example of some of these leeches if we are to reduce these rolls and take care of the real honest to God deserving people of this Commonwealth of ours.

Now, Mr. President, we come to the budget allowance and this Department of Public Assistance, frankly, Members of the Senate, has worked this thing down to a science. In the incidentals they tell me they make an allowance to go to the hair dresser, they make an allowance for magazines, they make an allowance for the movies, they make an allowance for other luxuries. Why, between you and me, people who earn their bread and butter by the sweat of their brows cannot do some of the things that these people on public assistance do. Something has to be done about it and I understand Fred Hare is preparing some kind of a bill that will put a maximum on the amount of relief a recipient can get. I do not know whether it is the proper maximum or not. Those who deserve public assistance, those who are in need, ought to get what they are entitled to, but certainly these luxuries that are included in the amount of the budget that is given to a person on Public Assistance ought to be eliminated as much as possible.

Mr. President, I talked to a druggist back home the other day, and he told me that there was a relief recipient who comes in time and time again with a prescription, and the druggist went back this one time and he filled up a little envelope that they use with this medicine, these pills, and he brought it out to this fellow and the fellow said to him, "Are you giving me some more of those?" He said, "I've got more of those at home than you have got here." He said, "What do you say if I do not take them and you give me the money for them?" Of course, the druggist turned him down and he reported it to the doctor. Of course, I do not know what kind of doctors would do such a thing, but if there are too many of them around, what I think we ought to do is hail them in to show cause why their licenses should not be suspended. If it is a racket, we ought to try to break it up. I know you stick your chin out when you make a statement like that, but it is all right with me. If there are any doctors that stoop to that sort of thing, then something ought to be done with them.

Then, Mr. President, we take the visitors. I read a newspaper account here a short time ago that said that probably there were not enough visitors in the State. I do not know whether there are enough or whether there are not enough visitors in the State, but I do say this, that if the visitors were given a job to do and that job was confined to visitors to investigate eligibility without being given a half a dozen other things to do that consume most of their time, perhaps they could make their visits on schedule and make them more frequently. I talked to a visitor just last week who told me that she has so many other things to do that she is just now in the process of visiting those recipients who were last visited in September of 1950. So, I said to her, "Well, what happens if you visit that person now and you find that they are ineligible since 1950?" The answer I got was just a shrug of the shoulder, and the remark, "What can you do?"

Mr. President, I think if these visitors were given a job and divided their duties so that certain of them just investigated general assistance, which is a little bit different from old-age assistance, and the old-age assistance confined to another group and the aid to dependent children to another group, and they were kept on the roll and it was checked to see whether or not they make their regular periodic visits, a lot of these ineligible people that are now on the rolls could be taken off the rolls.

Now, Mr. President, I want to say just a little bit about the employment of those on public assistance. In my opinion, I think they ought to establish a placement bureau within the Department of Public Assistance, and I frankly believe that before a person is placed on assistance every effort ought to be made to get him some kind of a job. I know it is going to be said that all relief cases are reported to the Department of Labor and Industry. I checked with that, too, and the person in charge of the employment service will tell you that he has enough to do to take care of his own cases without bothering with public assistance cases. I think, too, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, that industry ought to interest itself and employ these people on public assistance. I mean those that are employable. We can say, as a matter of argument, that industry is paying the bill for them. Industry says that it is paying forty-one per cent of the taxes here in Pennsylvania. Two hundred million dollars of that goes to public assistance, and I understand twenty-seven per cent of the general fund expenditures represent that two hundred million dollars. Now, if that is true, I think industry ought to try to absorb some of these people on public assistance and relieve the Commonwealth of this heavy load. As a matter of fact, I think the Department of Public Assistance ought to call a meeting of all of the public relations people employed by industry and see if they cannot set up some kind of a program to absorb as many of these people as is possible. I am sure if that were done, we could reduce the relief rolls in Pennsylvania to a great extent which would result in a huge saving. I think also the Commonwealth ought to try to absorb some of the people that are employable on the public assistance rolls. I think the city governments and the county governments ought to do it, but there has got to be some kind of a system inaugurated whereby these local political subdivisions, as well as the State, will have a list or some sort of a record and characterization of those on public assistance to see which of them they can draw from the rolls and give employment to.

I also think, Mr. President, and these are just suggestions, that at least once a month when a check is mailed to a relief recipient, they ought to be compelled to file a questionnaire under oath to determine whether or not their eligibility has changed since the time they filed the last statement, and I think it ought to be made perjury for them to falsify that affidavit. I think it would be a deterrent to telling lies and I think it would help to get some of these people off the rolls.

Now, Mr. President, with reference to restitution, this report does not cover one phase. I do not know how many thousands of judgments are on record against relief recipients. I do not know what efforts are being made to satisfy those judgments. I do not know how many of those judgments are satisfied by compromise with the recipients. I expect to ask for a list of them, but I think if there are attorneys on the pay roll or if they do have a restitution department, then I think that they ought to do something about collecting the judgments or wipe them off through legislation, one or the other, and not let them stay on record and nothing be done about them.

Mr. President, I would also like to know how many properties, for instance, were taken over by the Department of Public Assistance. I would like to know what procedure they followed in disposing of those properties. I would like to know who bought them and how much they paid for them. There are a lot of things I would like to know about this restitution end of it that this report does not talk too much about.

I realize, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, that there are other things that could be discussed to improve this Department of Public Assistance, and I would certainly be happy to cooperate with anybody in this chamber or with the Department to get something together that will improve the administrative procedure that is now in effect, to the end that we might cut our expenditures for public assistance to a minimum and only take care of those who are legally entitled to help from this great Commonwealth of ours.

PRESENTATION OF STUDENTS FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, may I interrupt the business of the Senate to present a group of visitors in the gallery?

Mr. President, I am happy to present the class in advanced reporting from the School of Journalism at Pennsylvania State College. The class is under the leadership of its teacher of journalism, Professor Frederick B. Marbut. I am happy to be able to present this group of future legislative correspondents to the Senate this afternoon.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests of Senator Letzler please rise in place and take a bow?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I certainly do not want to prolong this ex parte debate on the Department of Public Assistance. The very honorable gentleman, who represents the Minority side, last week made a speech on the Department. If my memory serves me rightly, one of the phrases used by the gentleman from Westmoreland was that we should eliminate the Department. It looks like that idea is slowly growing popularity.

Mr. President, I can remember back when we were going through what they call the administration of Gifford Pinchot, the second, when we had a variety of assistance records or statutes on the books, and then we came into the administration of the very distinguished Governor, Mr. George Earle, and there was a study made under the direction of the then administration on this question of public assistance or relief, which was a very prominent subject at that time because of the economic instability of this Commonwealth and the other forty-seven states of the Republic. As a result of that study, there was presented to the General Assembly the Goodrich Report, which was adopted and which created the Department of Public Assistance.

Now, Mr. President, those of us who happen to come from western Pennsylvania are very proud of the fact that on that committee was a very distinguished gentleman from Allegheny County, a statesman, a renowned jurist, a student of public affairs, a very courageous young man by the name of Ralph Smith, who served on that committee and who published a minority report in which he pointed out, Mr. President, just what would happen if this centralization of assistance was created in this Department of Public Assistance under this Goodrich Report. He was in the minority in that report, and his warnings went unheeded. The Department was created and in the Department, Mr. President, there were things set up such as civil service to protect the common people, and we set up civil service in such a way that it is twice as hard to get somebody off the pay roll as it is to get them on. We set up a routine that must be followed so that justice will be triumphant, and we set this Department of Public Assistance up and, as the gentleman has just said, although the relief rolls go down, it seems as though the number of employees never diminishes, and although the appropriations, while we try to hammer them down, it looks as though we are spending more money now for public assistance than we did when we were in the middle of the depression.

Now, Mr. President, as to the report which is before the General Assembly and which was prepared by this committee of Legislators, acting under the jurisdiction of the Joint State Government Commission, that committee has done a marvelous job. As the gentleman has just said, there is very little in the discussion that is not in this report. There are recommendations here, some of them expressed and some of them implied, which show what the General Assembly can do if they are serious in approaching this problem.

Now, Mr. President, I want to emphasize, if I can, for the benefit of the gentlemen of the Senate, that more and more and more money is being appropriated to this Department of Public Assistance, and it will grow and grow and grow unless we do something practical and tangible about it. All of the speeches on the floor of the Senate will not reduce this appropriation one iota, will not reduce this bureau that the gentleman discusses and which has been inflicted on us since 1937. When there is talk about abolishing the Department, when there is talk on the floor of the Senate that, perhaps, we should return relief to the local political subdivisions, when there is talk of trying to restore employment among the recipients of relief, as the gentleman has suggested, the distinguished gentleman from Somerset, Senator Hare, has at this time in his desk a bill which he is preparing to introduce which will put a ceiling on public assistance. As the gentleman from Westmoreland said last week, if there is a citizen in this Commonwealth who by the sweat of his brow is supporting a family of five, six, seven, eight children and he is hurt in an industrial accident, the most compensation that that gentleman can receive as a result of that injury is twenty-five dollars a week, and yet a hale and hearty individual, who is just too lazy to go to work, with the same number of children, is getting two hundred, two hundred fifty, three hundred dollars a month from public assistance, and I think it is about time that the gentlemen of the Senate get together and do something that will stop this type of relief in Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. President, you cannot do it by making speeches. I wish if the gentlemen of the Senate did nothing else, they would take a look at the distinguished members of this body who served on this committee. Then you will understand the serious, constructive thought that was put into this report, and it was put into this report, not to publish another volume of statistics, it was put into this report in the fervent hope that we would have courage enough to do something about it.

PREMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I want to dispel from the mind of the esteemed Majority Leader that there is anybody on this side of the chamber, and I do not think on the other side, who has got the idea in his mind to abolish the Bureau of Assistance. To my mind, it is one of the greatest pieces of legislation that was ever passed in this chamber.

Mr. President, I can remember years ago when what haunted everybody, I do not care how well-to-do they were, was that some day they would lose their jobs, or the banks would fail or they would foreclose on their mortgages, and they would go over the hills to the poorhouse. That is one thing that this Bureau of Assistance has done. It has abolished the poorhouse in Pennsylvania, and I am sure that there is not a person on this floor that wants the poorhouse to come back.

Now, Mr. President, it is all right. I approve of what Senator Yosko has done here. I think every department ought to stand an investigation. I think it is good for the department and good for the Commonwealth. I want to say this to them. My experience with the Bureau of Assistance in Allegheny County has convinced me, maybe I am wrong, but in Allegheny County I think it is administered in very good shape and I know they are checked and examined, and the visitors examine these people who are on relief.

I can remember the Senate from Cambria many a time on this floor got up here and protested the activity of the Bureau of Assistance in trying to sell out a man's home, and I am sure that there is a lot of sympathy with that idea. I do not think any administration should be too tough in selling a home, if it is the last thing that an old couple has got.

Now, I realize that there are people on relief that could work, but they cannot get a job. I want to say that I know in my County if a person is over forty or forty-five years of age, man or woman, they do not want them in any industry, and even on the public pay roll they would rather have younger people than people above forty-five years of age. I do not know what you are going to do with those people if they are willing to work and cannot get it. They have got to be taken care of, and so, I merely want to conclude with this remark, that I am glad that Senator Yosko has given a lot of study to this problem. It probably requires more study, but if there is any movement here to abolish it, I will assure you I will fight it as long as I can.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, one can easily see how you can cook up a very fine debate on public assistance by just everyone expressing their personal viewpoints, and maybe that is the way it ought to be. I know that where there is so much smoke, there must be some fire.

Mr. President, for the benefit of those who have not the time to look at the monthly sheets that are sent out, or rather the weekly sheets sent out by the Department of Public Assistance, it might be interesting to note some of the figures that come from that Department covering relief. For instance, in the month of January 1951, we find a total expenditure for relief of $11,605,000. Of this amount we have $7,421,000 of State monies and Federal Funds of $4,184,000. You can easily see that this is the proportionate figure, as it runs somewhere near that throughout the year, because in December of last year we find that out of a total of $11,628,000, there is $7,149,000 of State moneys and $4,478,000 of Federal. A year ago, 1950, the month of January, we find a total of $14,360,000, with a State grant of $9,901,000 and a Federal grant of $4,459,000. You will find that it is roughly around fifty per cent—it fluctuates between forty-five and fifty-five per cent of the moneys that are expended come from Federal funds.

Now, Mr. President, the Federal funds up until this Session of the Legislature have been allocated to the four categorical reliefs, old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to widowed mothers and blind pensions. Rather, that amount of money from the Federal Government covers only the general assistance and not the categorical reliefs. However, we expect to get from the Federal Government this year, this biennium, some eight millions of dollars which had not been accounted for in the Budget. I think that you ought to look into that very seriously when you start adding the figures in the Budget, to find whatever might be termed fat, that name being very popular with one ex-Governor of the Commonwealth who is making quite a reputation talking about fat in the Federal Budget, and I want to say that he is an expert at it, too, because I have read some of his budgets and he ought to know where to look for fat in the Federal Budget. However, getting back to this relief problem, Senator Walker very ably said that we cannot do anything about it by making speeches but we can air it out. We can get the opinions of the Members of the Senate, we can crystallize those different opinions and maybe we can do something about it.

Mr. President, I agree in part with what Senator McGinnis said that originally it was said that this was a great piece of legislation, but we have come so far along the line in civilization and in government that we now believe that the old political patronage proposition is passe. We must not use it anymore, we must not appoint persons to office because they are friends of political job holders or elected public officials. We now give them their jobs because they are friends of the people that have the jobs. In other words, you have destroyed that enemy of public government that they used to call political patronage, and in its place you have put private patronage, if you please. If you do not believe that, just try to get a job in the various Civil Service Departments, both Federal and State government, and I for one very frankly say, whatever the result may be of this statement, that we had better government before than we have today, because (and this is something that should be very interesting to the Members of the Senate) out of the $11,605,000 spent for public assistance in Pennsylvania, the total of the grant to the recipients of this relief was $9,858,000. Out of $11,605,000, $1,037,000 went for administrative costs or a percentage of eight and nine-tenths, and the balance of that money went into the so-called incidentals that Senator Yosko talked about.

Now, Mr. President, if you create a monstrosity there is only one way to destroy it. They have tried curing cancer by giving medicine, but it will not work and they have to use the knife. So far, the only effective cures that I have heard about have been those where they have had surgical operations, and I think that this Department of Public Assistance is ripe for a grand surgical operation performed by politicians, if you please. You see, the only difference between politicians and statesmen is that politicians are still breathing. Mind you when I say this to you, that unless we do something about public assistance in this Session of the Legislature, the cancerous growth will, as Senator Walker so ably said, keep growing and become a fester upon the body politic that will require more than a major operation to cure. You cannot do what we are doing in Pennsylvania. I have looked at the figures for my county. We have approximately three hundred twenty thousand souls living in Westmoreland County, and I find that a very interesting item. Do you know how many persons in Westmoreland County are on the so-called general assistance?? There are three hundred seventy-five. I cannot get through my mind the figure of $266,000,000 a biennium for relief in Pennsylvania during the 1949-1951 biennium, and then tie that in with three hundred seventy-five people from Westmoreland County receiving general assistance. In the minds of the people, and I know that in the minds of some of my colleagues, when I make an attack upon public assistance in Pennsylvania they believe that I have joined the ranks of those who would have the needy go without. I am not in that group, but I do not think that we ought to waste public funds taking care of parasites, and I do not think that we ought to waste twenty-six million dollars, roughly, in administrative costs when the twenty-six million ought to pretty near pay the whole bill. Do the people of Pennsylvania know that roughly we spend ten per cent of every relief dollar for administrative cost? Then they say that they do not have enough help as it is. How can we spend any more? I have said it before and I am going to say again and again that If we keep up the program that we have in vogue at this moment in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, regardless of its source, regardless of where it started or who is to blame for the start, we are going to make the fit in Pennsylvania unfit taking care of the unfit. Do you realize that we have come from an appropriation, a total appropriation budget in Pennsylvania of some two hundred eighty odd millions of dollars to one billion four hundred and some millions of dollars in this Commonwealth?

Mr. President, I have said, too, that the more buildings you build for mental institutions, the more people you will find to put in them. Back in 1937, when we created the Authority and spent one hundred million dollars for public buildings for the insane institutions and so forth, I said then—they thought they had a program that would last five generations—I told them that the more buildings you build, the quicker you fill them, and that is what you are going to do now, because the old family responsibility has disappeared. It is disappearing in Pennsylvania every day. As soon as a child is born that happens to be a little backward or a little shy, it seems that the old family responsibility, the mother and father love, has been discarded now for county and State institutions. I do not know where Senator McGinnis got the idea that we had destroyed the poor homes and the poorhouse. We have destroyed them by name, we do not call them that any more, Senator. We now call them county institutions and the doors are just as big, the beds are just as hard and the cockroaches just as rampant. I think the time has come when a bipartisan committee, without any special creation by resolution, but just a committee of Senators, ought to spend a few evenings together and perform this operation on the Department of Public Assistance, and we ought to do it now.

Mr. President, I agree with Senator Hare that some ceiling ought to be placed on public assistance, and I do not think that there ought to be a ceiling that is one cent greater than what you give an injured workman or an unemployed workman in Pennsylvania who became unemployed or injured through no fault of his own. It ought not to be one cent more.

I have a letter before me from a school teacher in Pennsylvania, and as a matter of the record, if it is so desired, her name will be given for the record, because she said I can use her name. She is teaching in her room today children of persons that she taught years ago who were on relief then and are on relief now. What kind of a system is that? I do not care what kind of public indignation may be raised at the Members of the Senate who have the courage to do it, but it must be destroyed. You cannot have generations of Americans being born into relief and continuing on in relief. No right thinking person wants that as a part of our government, and the fire that we have set in here ought to be kept going. Speeches will not do it, but at least let us get it aired out in the open where people can see what is happening to us in Pennsylvania—Appropriations of $266,000,000 a biennium, more than the total cost of government in this Commonwealth a decade or so ago. We have got to stop it and we have got to stop the political handling of it, too.

Mr. President, here is something that may interest the Members of the Senate. The percentage cost in January of 1951, was eight and nine-tenths per cent. The percentage costs in January of 1950, was six and seven-tenths per cent. Do you want to know how that happened? I will tell you. Right before the election, the visitors were added to the staff. They were promised raises. Whether they got them or not, I cannot say. I would have to go back and see the records, if we can ever get them through Senator Yosko's request I have a newspaper article in my possession which shows that the then Acting Secretary of Welfare, a man by the name of Wray, promised the Philadelphia relief workers a definite raise if they would work and contribute to the Fine-Duff campaign. That is a matter of record, and the reason the piece got into the paper at all was that they were glad, it said the relief visitors and workers in the Department in the Philadelphia area were glad that Mr. Wray was not made the Secretary of Public Assistance because he had fallen down on his promise to give them the raise after they had contributed to the campaign. Now, I do not object to them contributing. I might object because they contributed to the Republican Party, but if a person wants to contribute to a political campaign for good government, it is perfectly all right with me. I do not see anything wrong with it, but I do not want any pressure applied; I have never tried to apply pressure, and I have never belonged to a group that allowed it to be applied but that is not the point. The point is that we are festering and fostering upon the body politic a growth that will become more and more of a problem as the years go by. We cannot afford to have children born into relief and living on relief until they die. With Social Security becoming more effective everyday, with the new opening of the Social Security Law and more and more citizens coming under the coverage of Social Security, with the millions of dollars that are contributed through the special community funds and the drives for cancer, drives for bleeding hearts, drives for crippled children, drives for tuberculosis seals, drives for Easter seals, drives for Christmas seals, drive for Halloween seals and all the other drives going on, I venture to say that relief, public and private, is the greatest cost to the people of the United States of any other cost, barring none, including the Army, Navy and Air Corps. We have got to stop this business. Rome was destroyed because there were not enough persons to raise corn to give to those who were out getting corn free without working. Regardless of what some historians say, that is what killed Rome. Public relief killed Rome. Public relief will kill this civilization of ours quicker than any communist will. You have got to stop somewhere. There ought to be a tying up of public and private relief. There ought to be a division between general assistance, private assistance and categorical assistance. We have got to do it now and I stand ready to give any amount of time and what little intelligence I can devote to it, and whatever experience I have had in the years I have been here to sign and join with any committee of this Senate to save the people of Pennsylvania at least a hundred million dollars in the next biennium in relief.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am somewhat amazed and I might say angry when I hear so much talk about those on relief. It is true that the appropriation is out of this world, possibly, but we are hitting at the wrong place, at the root of misery. I would like to know how many of my colleagues, forty-nine of them sitting here, can point to one specific case in their county where any one family is getting too much in relief, or if any one family has money to go to the theatre or buy any luxuries. There is so much talk about these poor people. I would like to have one specific case. I have devoted a great portion of my life privately, socially and politically, to determine the needs of relief. I conducted, I believe, the first State-wide investigation back in 1935, trying to determine then what was wrong with our setup. Nothing is said about the fifty-eight thousand State jobs we have, thousands upon thousands of roads and highways, every department on the Hill, nothing at all about salaries, five thousand, seven thousand, twelve thousand. I have not heard a colleague of mine complain about those positions, but day in and day out we find fault with the poor man and woman who cannot get a job, who is over the hill. Industry does not want him, so he has the last recourse. He must apply for relief and it is our duty to take care of him. That is why we meet here. We must keep body and soul together, and as long as we have society we must take care of the man who cannot take care of himself. That is our job.

Mr. President, we have not gone far enough. Rather than criticize the people receiving relief, I find fault with our system, because the poor man who has devoted his life to procuring a little home and has a small home amounting to a thousand or two thousand dollars, you say to him, "Now, because you have been conservative, you must sign on the dotted line. We want that property. You must sign a two thousand dollar bond or you will starve," but on the other hand the man who has been a public drone all his life, he may have lost out in politics or gambling, barroom, pool room, he comes to relief. He has no property. He signs nothing. He gives nothing back whatsoever. So, I say we have not gone far enough.

Mr. President, Senator Walker said, let us do something. I have had a bill in every Session since 1937. There is one in the hopper now dealing with the subject. Can I find anyone who will agree with me? Oh, they think it is fine, but will the bill come out of committee? No. They feel that man should not have his property confiscated because he has been a good citizen, but now because he is old and crippled and sick, you say, "Let us take that property away from him." So, week in and week out we get up on the floor and find fault. I would like to have one of my colleagues point out to me—again I say—one specific case in any of the sixty-seven counties where any one family is receiving more than his budget allows and then compare that budget and see what it does allow, a mere pittance, just enough to keep body and soul together. So, if we are going to find fault about economy in government, let us not start with the poor people. Let us start in the Highway Department, the Department of Commerce, Labor and Industry and down the line. Let us find out whether we have any drones, but let us forget about those that are hungry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. NEFF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, it ill behooves me or other Members of the Senate to prolong this discussion in regard to relief that was instituted here today in regard to a bill that was passed upon by this body yesterday, but I am moved, after hearing the last two speakers, to add just a little bit to what has been said here today and give the Members of the Senate the benefit of at least my impressions and reflections as to what has been said here on this problem.

First, Mr. President, I want to disagree with Senator Dent, my distinguished colleague from Westmoreland, when he said that the only difference between a politician and a statesman is that the politicians are still breathing. Secondly, I want to answer Senator Haluska's inquiry as to whether or not there is any Member here who can bring to his attention cases that are unworthy. I can, and will do so on the floor if requested.

Mr. President, going back to Senator Dent's statement that statesmen, in effect, are dead, I think we have some statesmen in this body. I have heard Senator Dent on several occasions speak out against the corruption, the leeches, the racketeers living off of public assistance, living off of the taxpayers of this State, and that takes courage. The ordinary politician does not have the kind of courage that he and Senator Yosko have displayed here today, and he as of other days in speaking out against this octopus that is devouring the tax monies, and the well-being of the citizens of our State. I agree in toto with what he has said. I agree with what Senator Yosko has said. This commission or this agency, administrative body, certainly needs investigation. I think the Joint State Government Commission has pointed that out and certainly it ill behooves any member of the Senate, without deep and sincere reflection and review of this report, to get on the floor and in a purely political vein seek to uphold these chiselers, hoodlums and people in this State who will never work, who will never contribute their pittance to society, if something is not done.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not want to take issue with Senator Haluska if he wants to stand up here and talk about some one specific case that we know about. I know of some specific cases, but I do not want to take time to discuss them here, because that is not going to cure what is in the report here. If the Senator wants some specific cases, here is sixteen million dollars worth of them and that is only a spot check. I am sure the Senator is not going to say that every person on the assistance rolls today is deserving to be on the rolls. I am complaining solely about the chiselers and the leeches that are on the rolls, and I am trying to work out or suggest some kind of a procedure to get them off the rolls, and I am sure, Mr. President, that if we went into a public hearing on this and called in some of the visitors who do not agree with the entire administrative procedure of the Department of Public Assistance, I am sure if we got former Senator Heyburn, the Auditor General who is sitting here, in at this hearing, and he brought in his investigators to this hearing, he would point out plenty of cases of ineligibility on the public assistance rolls.

Mr. President, we are not complaining about those that are legally entitled to assistance, those who need assistance. I think everybody in this chamber is for helping those people out, to help tide them along, but I think we are against the idea that once they go on assistance, they stay on assistance forever, and if you take a look at this report you will see where some of them have been on the rolls as high as twelve years, and that is what we are against and what all of us should be against. We are all for helping the poor and the needy, but let us confine it to the poor and the needy, and let us get those off the rolls that are eating up the funds that ought to go to the poor and the needy.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am not speaking of generalities. I am not talking politically. I have no friends or no relatives on relief. I have no friends or relatives on jobs handing out relief. When I speak here, as my good friend from Beaver said or inferred, I want him to know that when I get to the floor I speak my mind whether it is good politically or bad to me. It makes no difference, and I have no fear and I want no favors.

Mr. President, again I say if any Senator knows of any chiselers, he is not doing his sworn duty if he has not reported that case to his department back in his county. I am against chiselers and I have reported a number of cases that I thought were chiseling and most of them I was wrong in. In a few cases I was right. They got a few pennies more than they were entitled to according to the budget. Senator Yosko points out, look at the red book, and again I say I would like to have from Senator Yosko, or Senator Walker, or Senator Neff or any other Senator by next Monday to give me a specific case from any of the sixty-seven counties that they know of that is receiving more than what they are entitled to, or is able to get a job and would not take it, and then I will agree with them. I will lock arms with them and join their crusade, but up until the time they speak on generalities and refer to the book, that is no criteria. That does not satisfy my cause. I want a case where someone is chiseling on relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and for every one they give me, I will give you fifty cases of people who are chiseling on the pay roll by huge expense accounts, working for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

DELEGATION OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN LEADERS PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is pleased to observe that we have with us today a delegation of ladies under the leadership of Mrs. Sara G. Leffler, Vice-Chairman of the Republican State Committee. They are Vice-Chairmen from the various counties, members of the Republican State Committee and young Republican women leaders here to attend an institute of politics.

Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

DAUGHTERS DIVISION OF ALLENTOWN WOMENS CLUB PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is also pleased to observe the presence of the Daughters Division of the Allentown Womens Club. Miss Marilyn Schaad is the President. They are the guests of Senator Freed.

Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KEPHART, from the Committee on Judiciary General, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 176, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 575) entitled "An act providing for joint action by Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the development of the ports on the lower Delaware River, and the improvement of the facilities for transportation across the river; authorizing the Governor, for these purposes, to enter into an agreement with New Jersey; creating the Delaware River Joint Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof, including the power to finance projects by the issuance of revenue bonds; transferring to the new commission all the powers of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission; and making an appropriation," authorizing the Governor on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to enter into a supplemental compact or agreement with the State of New Jersey amending Articles I, II, IV, XI and VII of, and adding Article XIII, to the compact and agreement between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey, authorized and made pursuant to the act herein supplemented, by changing the name of The Delaware River Joint Commission to The Delaware River Port Authority, and the method of appointment of commissioners; removing the present Pennsylvania members of the commission, extending the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the Delaware River Port Authority and defining such additional jurisdiction, powers and duties; to take effect upon the enactment of substantially similar legislation by the State of New Jersey embodying the supplemental agreement between the two States in this act set forth and authorizing the Governor to apply on behalf of the Commonwealth to the Congress of the United States for its consent thereto.

SENATE RESOLUTION

FELICITATING TEMPLE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF PHARMACY ON ITS FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. DrSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 10, 1951.

Whereas, The School of Pharmacy of Temple University has completed half a century of fruitful service to our Nation, to the citizenry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the City of Brotherly Love; and

Whereas, The School of Pharmacy of Temple University from its inception under the aegis of the incomparable Minehart progressed "per Aspera ad Astra," through decades of sustained and expanding scientific pursuits under the guiding hand of its late Dean Everett Kendig, reached now a position of leadership in the very vanguard of modern research in the various fields of pharmacological endeavor with the indefatigable and progressive Dean Joseph Sprowls at its helm; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extend to Temple University its heartfelt felicitations on the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of its School of Pharmacy; and be it further

Resolved, That felicitations be conveyed to Dean Joseph Sprowls and the faculty of the School of Pharmacy of Temple University; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania express its fondest hope that the School of Pharmacy of Temple University will prosper and flourish long into the future and will continue with accelerated pace its inestimable service to the medical profession and the citizenry of Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward copies of this Resolution upon its passage to Dr. Robert L. Johnson, President of Temple University, and to Dr. Joseph Sprowls, Dean of the School of Pharmacy of Temple University.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXTENDS ITS SINCERE GREETINGS TO GOVERNOR JOHN S. FINE ON HIS FIFTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1951.

The proverbial showers of April that carry life-giving moisture to the winter-scarred land also brought to this Commonwealth fifty-eight years ago an individual who was destined to invest its governmental structure with grace and vitality.

Although Governor Fine was born in Luzerne County and his youthful experiences were restricted to its confines, yet on attaining man's estate his vision broadened and his interests soon encompassed the welfare and prosperity of every section of the Commonwealth.

As a young lawyer, his zeal for social justice always took precedence over any desire for personal advantage or legal prestige.

As a judge, he envisaged the numerous problems that came before him, along with their sources and background, in this selfsame impartial manner that became the basis for many fair and objective decisions.

Although a judicial sanctuary is a prize of security that many a man would covet, yet Governor Fine in spite of the hazards of political existence and his abandonment of an assured career courageously responded to the call of the people to serve them in the capacity of their Chief Magistrate.

Since the anniversary of his birthday falls in the midst of unusual legislative activity; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly (if the Senate concur) extend to Governor John S. Fine its heartfelt and sincere greetings on the occasion of his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly express its fondest hope that the Governor will be privileged to move along the pathway of many more milestones of sustained health, increasing prosperity, and expanding governmental service and opportunity to the end that the people of this Commonwealth may become the beneficiaries of his administrative skill and sagacity into the indefinite future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to His Excellency, Governor John S. Fine.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

CONSIDERATION OF WORKMENS' COMPENSATION REFEREE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I call from the table the nomination of Gladstone A. Carmalt for appointment as Workmen's Compensation Referee.

The Clerk read the nomination as follows:

WORKMENS' COMPENSATION REFEREE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 26, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Gladstone A. Carmalt, Brookville, Jefferson County, for appointment as Workmen's Compensation Referee, to serve until the third Tuesday of January 1955, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

JOHN S. FINE.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and MR. PEELOR,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nomination just read.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise this afternoon for the purpose of opposing the confirmation of Gladstone A. Carmalt as a Workingmen's Compensation Referee. I oppose him on the basis of his own record in office and not from a personal standpoint. I have had the pleasure of meeting this gentleman just once. However, the United Mine Workers of America, of the Fourth District, which comprises about seven counties in Western Pennsylvania, has supplied me with a number of cases that this gentleman has acted on in his official capacity as a Workmen's Compensation Referee, and in which, Mr. President, he has definitely demonstrated that he is not in sympathy with the cause of the injured working men and women of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, one case in particular with which I have personal knowledge concerns the case of Alex Stefan vs. Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. In this case, Mr. President, the claimant lost the industrial use of an eye due to traumatic detachment of the retina. The referee disallowed compensation. The Workmen's Compensation Board reversed, remanding record for appointment of impartial doctor, and the case was won on the basis of the testimony of the impartial doctor. The claimant was paid in this particular case, Mr. President, for the loss of an eye; and now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in reviewing this record I have a copy of the referee's decision and his findings of fact. I am not going to burden the Members of the Senate by reading in detail each and every case, but in this one particular his conclusions at law were as follows:

First, that Article III of the Workmen's Compensation Act applied to the contract of employment existing between the claimant and the defendant on March 19, 1946. As a matter of fact, he agreed to that and, second, since the claimant had failed to establish by clear, conclusive and positive proof the happening of an injury by accident, in the course of his employment with the defendant on March 19, 1946, he was not entitled to the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Act as amended. However, Mr. President, the Board of Review awarded this claimant the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars. Now, I know that in the minds of quite a few Members of the Senate the possibility exists that they are thinking, well, these may be isolated cases. I do not agree with that theory because I had a number of conversations with the representatives of the United Mine Workers in the Pittsburgh district, and they have assured me these are cases they picked from random for the purpose of showing that this man is not qualified and not learned in the Workmen's Compensation Law.

After this came to my attention, Mr. President, I introduced Senate Bill No. 25, which sets up the procedure whereby every other year your Workmen's Compensation referees would appear before the Board of Review for the purpose of proper examination as to their knowledge of the Workmen's Compensation Act which is passed and amended at each and every Session of this Legislature.

Mr. President, I have another case here. As a matter of fact, I have quite a few of them and I just want to point out to you the decisions of this individual that seeks the confirmation of two-thirds of the Members of this Senate. We have another case here of Alfred Dent vs. Pittsburgh Coal Company. In this case the referee found the claimant had a thirty-five per cent disability which did not, under law, give the claimant any compensation. The referee ordered suspension of compensation payments. The Workmen's Compensation Board reversed the referee and granted the claimant compensation for the permanent loss of the use of his hand. The compensation awarded, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, was three thousand one hundred fifty dollars.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have a case here of Frank Oloff vs. Industrial Collieries Corporation. In this case, Mr. Carmalt, the referee, disallowed compensation, finding that the claimant did not sustain accidental injury. The Workmen's Compensation Board reversed the referee, remanding the record, and the claimant was awarded on a total disability basis at the rate of $20 per week. Compensation is to continue so long as disability remains the same. However, not to exceed the five hundred week statutory limit as required by law.

Now, Mr. President, for the information of those members in the western Pennsylvania area, in this particular case Samuel Krimsly, Esquire, represented the claimant and Rufus S. Marriner, Esquire, was also a co-attorney in this particular case. Rufus Marriner is well known in western Pennsylvania and practices law in the County of Washington, at Washington, Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have personal knowledge of this case which I am about to speak about. It is in regard to a claimant by the name of John Zayakosky vs. Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. In this case, Mr. President, the claimant sustained accidental injury to his eye, which did not result in industrial loss of vision nor decreased his earning capacity. Under the Compensation laws of the Commonwealth he was not entitled to any compensation but should have had future protection if the injury sustained resulted in either complete loss of vision or decreased earning capacity. The claimant reported the accident and was treated by a company doctor. In order to secure future protection in eye cases, it is necessary to establish accidental injury either by an agreement with the employer or an order of a referee. In this case the defendant refused to enter into such an agreement. At the time of the hearing, the only testimony offered was that of the claimant, who testified that he met with an accident and was having considerable trouble with his injured eye.

The referee, however, refused to make a finding that there was an accident although not denied by the defendant. This claim was not even denied by the company. The Workmen's Compensation Board found on December 26, 1950, that this claimant sustained an accident in the course of his employment, but did not award any compensation inasmuch as the claimant did not sustain any loss in earning capacity. In this particular case, Mr. President, the referee definitely demonstrated to me and to the people in the western end of the State that he is not in sympathy with the cause of the working men and women of this Commonwealth. No other testimony was offered other than the claimant, and he still disallowed the claimant's petition that he did receive an injury during the course of his employment.

Mr. President, in this case, it is a fellow by the name of Fati Maliq vs. Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, and in this case the defendant agreed that the claimant had a twenty per cent disability from accidental injury sustained in the course of his employment. Counsel for the defendant argued that computation of a weekly wage following the accident should be based on a five-day week. The contention of the Workmen's Compensation Department of the United Mine Workers of America was that since the claimant was unable to work steadily, that his weekly wage should have been computed on the actual time worked. The Workmen's Compensation referee agreed with the position of the defendant, and found that the claimant was twenty per cent disabled but refused to award compensation, suspending future payments of compensation. The Workmen's Compensation Board on February 14, 1951, awarded compensation to the claimant on the basis of a loss of two-thirds wages before and after the accident.

Mr. President, I could go on and on and on. I have quite a number of cases here. However, I am not going to take up the time of the Senate. I do not know just what the members of the Senate are going to do on this case. You have listened to a lot of debate this afternoon on the relief subject, and I am just going to say this, that it is very easy to get on the floor of the Senate and denounce people who cannot defend themselves. I do agree that the administrative costs are out of line, but getting back to this confirmation, I ask the members of the Senate to take into consideration the record of this individual. If you feel that he has done a good job in the execution of his duties, then you can vote for him. If you feel that he has been unjust and unfair, and I believe that I have demonstrated that here this afternoon, I ask that you support my position and vote against the confirmation of this individual. That alone will teach these other referees, with whom I have no quarrel, that they must take into consideration the facts of each and every case and decide the case on its merits alone.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, while we may agree or disagree on various subjects here, I certainly wish to uphold the position taken by my colleague from Washington County, Senator Lane, and I am going to vote "No" on the confirmation of Mr. Carmalt. However, I do not want to leave the inference here that the Democratic Party is in any way not united. We have taken the position, as the Minority Party, that all confirmations would be acted upon by Caucus and up until today that has been our position, and that will be our position in the future. We have taken the steadfast position where a person seeking confirmation from a county or a district represented by a Democratic Senator, if that Senator has objection, we uphold him. In this case, Mr. Carmalt does not come from such a district. We had no Caucus action. Each member is privileged to vote as he wishes. We have proven once again that we are the liberal party, that we have no bosses. We serve the people.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Executive Nominations Committee, Senator Watson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATSON. I will be glad to, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Watson, a short time ago we had a hearing with Mr. Draemel, the Secretary of Forests and Waters, before the Committee on Executive Nominations, at which time Mr. Draemel agreed to answer a series of questions. I called Mr. Draemel today to determine whether he had answered the questions and had submitted them to the Committee as he had promised he would do, and he told me that he had prepared the answers to the questions and submitted them to the Secretary to the Governor, Mr. McCallum, for delivery to you. I now ask you, Senator Watson, has the Secretary to the Governor, Mr. McCallum, delivered the answers to the questions submitted to Mr. Draemel to you?

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, he has not.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, Senator Watson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WATSON. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Watson, have you planned on bringing out the name of Mr. Draemel in the near future for consideration by the Members of this Senate?

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, that is entirely up to the Committee on Executive Nominations. I am only the Chairman.

Mr. LANE. Well, Mr. President, I wish to advise the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations that he advise this Committee to bring Mr. Draemel's name out and he will get some votes over on this side.

Mr. WATSON. Thank you.

(a) Voluntary Substitution The guardian of the estate of an incompetent party to a pending action or proceeding in the orphans' court may become a party thereto by filing of record a statement of the material facts on which the right to substitution is based

(b) Compulsory Substitution If the guardian does not voluntarily become a party the clerk of The Orphan's Court upon the praecipe of an adverse party setting forth the material facts shall issue a citation upon the guardian to show cause why he should not be substituted as a party

(c) Status of Guardian Continuance If the guardian voluntarily becomes a party to the action or proceeding or if the citation upon him is made absolute he shall have all the rights and liabilities of a party to the action or proceedings The court may order such continuances and extensions as may be necessary to afford him a reasonable opportunity to appear and prosecute or defend the action or proceeding

Section 502 Death or Removal of Guardian An action or proceeding in the orphans' court to which a guardian is a party is not abated by his death or resignation or by the termination of his authority The successor of the guardian may be substituted in the action or proceeding in the same manner as though the incompetent were a party

B Claims Rights of Creditors

Section 511 Effect of Determination of Incompetency An incompetent shall be incapable of making any contract or gift or any instrument in writing after he is adjudged incompetent and before he is adjudged to have regained his competency This section shall not impair the interest in real estate acquired by a bona fide grantee of or bona fide holder of a lien on real estate in a county other than that in which the decree establishing the incompetency is entered unless the decree or a duplicate original or certified copy thereof is recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds in the county in which the real estate lies before the record or entering of the instrument or lien under which the grantee or lienholder claims

Section 512 Specific Performance of Contracts

(a) Application to Court If any person makes a legally binding agreement to purchase or sell real or personal estate and is adjudged incompetent before its consummation his guardian shall the power to consummate it but if he does not do so the court on the application of any party in interest and after such notice and with such security if any as it may direct in its discretion may order specific performance of the agreement if it would have been enforced specifically had there been no adjudication of incompetency

(b) Execution and Effect of Deed or Transfer Any necessary deed or transfer shall be executed by the guardian or by such other person as the court shall direct The title of any purchaser under an agreement in which the incompetent was the vendor shall be the same as though the incompetent had conveyed or transferred such property while competent

(c) Indexing in Judgment Index When any petition for specific performance of an agreement to purchase or sell real estate is filed the prothonotary of the court of common pleas where the real estate or any part of it lies upon the receipt of a certificate of such fact by the prothonotary of the court where the petition was filed shall enter the petition upon the judgment index against the defendants and shall certify it as lis pendens in any certificate of search which he is required to make by virtue of his office

Section 513 Notice to the Commonwealth and Political Subdivisions When the Commonwealth or a political subdivision thereof has a claim for maintaining an incompetent in an institution the guardian within three months of his appointment shall give notice thereof to the Department of Revenue or to the proper office of such political subdivision as the case may be

Section 632 Recording and Registering Decrees Awarding Real Estate A certified copy of every adjudication or decree awarding real estate or an appropriate excerpt from either of them may be recorded at the expense of the estate in the deed book in the office of the recorder of deeds of each county where the real estate so awarded lies and if recorded shall be indexed by the recorder in the grantor's index under the name of the incompetent and in the grantee's index under the name of the distributee and shall be registered in the survey bureau or with the proper authorities empowered to keep a register of real estate in the county Provided that no adjudication or decree awarding real estate subject to the payment of any sums by the distributee shall be recorded or registered unless there is offered for recording concurrently therewith written evidence of the payment of such sum

E Rights of Incompetent and Distributees

Section 641 Liability of Guardian for Interest A guardian who has committed a breach of duty with respect to estate assets shall in the discretion of the court be liable for interest not exceeding the legal rate on such assets

Section 642 Disposition of Trust Income Except as otherwise provided by the trust instrument the trustee of an inter vivos or testamentary trust with the approval of the court having jurisdiction of the trust may pay income distributable to an incompetent beneficiary for whose estate no guardian has been appointed directly to the incompetent or expend and apply it for his care and maintenance or the care maintenance and education of his dependents

Section 643 Distributions of Income and Principal During Incompetency All income received by a guardian of the estate of an incompetent in the exercise of a reasonable discretion may be expended in the care and maintenance of the incompetent without the necessity of court approval The court for cause shown may authorize or direct the payment or application of any or all of the income or principal of the estate of an incompetent for the care maintenance or education of the incompetent his spouse children or those for whom he was making such provision before his incompetency or for the reasonable funeral expenses of the incompetent's spouse child or indigent parent In proper cases the court may order payment of amounts directly to the incompetent for his maintenance or for incidental expenses and may ratify payments made for these purposes

Article VII

Foreign Guardians

A Powers and Duties

Section 701 In General A foreign guardian may institute proceedings in the Commonwealth (subject to the conditions and limitations imposed on nonresident suitors generally) and may exercise all the other powers of a local guardian Except in the case of powers with respect to securities for which special provision is made in Section 702 the maintenance of a proceeding or the exercise of any other power by a foreign guardian shall be subject to the following additional conditions and limitations

(1) Copy of Appointment The foreign guardian shall file with the register of the county where the power is to be exercised or the proceeding is instituted or the property concerning which the power is to be exercised is located an exemplified copy of his appointment or other qualification in the foreign jurisdiction

(2) Affidavit The foreign guardian shall execute and file an affidavit with the register of said county stating that after diligent search and inquiry the estate of which he is guardian is not to his knowledge or so far as he has been able to discover indebted to any person in the Commonwealth and that he will not exercise any power which he would not be permitted to exercise in the jurisdiction of his appointment The affidavit shall be attached to the copy of appointment

(3) Taxes When the foreign guardian exercises a power to sell or mortgage any Pennsylvania real estate all taxes due thereon to the Commonwealth or to any subdivision thereof must be paid or provided for

Section 702 Security Transfers When there is no guardianship in the Commonwealth a foreign guardian upon submission of a certificate of his appointment shall have all the powers of a similar local guardian with respect to stock bonds and other securities of a Pennsylvania corporation or a federal corporation located in Pennsylvania and shall not be required to comply with the conditions and limitations of Section 701

Section 703 Service of Process The acceptance by a foreign guardian of the privilege extended by the laws of the Commonwealth of exercising any of his powers within the Commonwealth shall constitute the Secretary of the Commonwealth his attorney-in-fact upon whom service of process and notices may be made in any suit or proceeding instituted in the courts of the Commonwealth arising out of or by reason of the exercise of any of his powers or the performance or nonperformance of any of his duties as such fiduciary

Section 704 Proof of Authority in Court Proceedings Upon commencing any proceeding in any court of the Commonwealth the foreign guardian in addition to the requirements of Section 701 shall file with the court in which the proceeding is commenced an exemplified copy of his official bond if he has given a bond If the court believes that he should furnish security or additional security in the Commonwealth or in the domiciliary jurisdiction it may at any time order the action or proceeding stayed until sufficient security is furnished

Section 705 Effect of Local Proceedings No person who before receiving actual notice of local administration or of application therefor has changed his position by relying on the powers granted to foreign guardians by this act shall be prejudiced by reason of the application for or grant of local administration

B Distribution to Foreign Fiduciaries

Section 711 To Foreign Personal Representative When a share of an incompetent's estate administered in the Commonwealth is distributable to a deceased nonresident creditor or other distributee the court may award it to his domiciliary personal representative or to some other person performing the function of a personal representative unless it shall appear that the rights of any resident of the Commonwealth may be adversely affected or the court shall determine that for any reason ancillary administration within the Commonwealth is advisable

Section 712 To Foreign Trustee Guardian or Committee When a share of an incompetent's estate administered in the Commonwealth is distributable to a nonresident minor a trustee subject to the jurisdiction of a foreign court or a nonresident incompetent the court may award it to the guardian or committee of the nonresident appointed in the foreign jurisdiction or to such trustee Provided that the court shall be satisfied that adequate security or other protection has been provided in the domiciliary jurisdiction by the domiciliary law for the protection of the persons beneficially interested in the same so awarded

C Transfer of Administration

Section 721 Award to Foreign Guardian When Incompetent Becomes a Nonresident When the incompetent for whose estate a guardian has been appointed by the court is or becomes a nonresident of the Commonwealth the court upon satisfactory proof that it will be for the best interests of the incompetent and that on rights of a resident of the Commonwealth will be adversely affected and that removal of the property will not conflict with any limitations upon the right of the incompetent to such property may direct the locally appointed guardian to transfer the assets of the incompetent within his control to a duly qualified guardian or guardians in the jurisdiction where the incompetent resides

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, while I realize Senate Bill No. 6 has many fine features, I am going to vote "no" on this bill as a protest to the fact that they took out the transfer of the incompetents' estates from the Common Pleas Court to the Orphans Court. In every county, with the exception of Philadelphia, the Common Pleas Court Judges though that incompetents' estates should be turned over to the Orphans Court. Unfortunately, we find ourselves in this position due to the fact that a few men in Philadelphia have made us amend the bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

ARTICLE I

Preliminary Provisions

Section 101 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the Register of Wills Act of 1951

Section 102 Definitions The following words when used in this act unless the context clearly indicates otherwise shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

(1) "Register" means the register of wills having jurisdiction

(2) "Court" means the orphans' court having jurisdiction

(3) "Clerk" means the clerk of the orphans' court having jurisdiction

(4) "Personal representative" means an executor or administrator of any description

(5) "Letters" means letters testamentary or letters of administration of any description

(6) "Will" means a written will codicil or other testamentary writing and a nuncupative will

Section 103 Effective Date This act shall take effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two

Section 104 Severability If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid the remainder of this act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable

ARTICLE II

Jurisdiction and Powers

Section 201 Register's Jurisdiction Within the county for which he has been elected or appointed the register shall have jurisdiction of the probate of wills the grant of letters to a personal representative and any other matter as provided by law

Section 202 Deputy Register Every register shall appoint a deputy or two deputies who shall have power to perform the duties of the office in his behalf and for whose conduct he and his surety shall be accountable In case of a vacancy in the office of register the first deputy shall exercise all the powers of the register until a successor is appointed or elected

Section 203 Witnesses Testimony The register shall have power to

(1) Subpoenas Issue a subpoena to any person in any county of the Commonwealth to appear or produce papers or records before him

(2) Administering Oaths Administer oaths and affirmations to parties and witnesses appearing before him and to designate any clerk or clerks in his employ to administer such oaths and affirmations to parties and witnesses appearing before them

(3) Depositions Issue commissions or rules to take the depositions of witnesses in another county or outside of the Commonwealth. The practice relating thereto shall conform to the practice in the local orphans' court.

Section 204 Witness Fees Witnesses appearing before the register in obedience to the register's subpoena shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage as are allowed by law to witnesses in the orphans' court.

Section 205 Enforcement of Subpoenas Orders and Costs Should any person refuse to comply with any subpoena or order of the register or to pay all costs the register shall forthwith certify the record of the proceedings to the court. The court upon petition of any party in interest shall compel payment of the costs and shall enforce obedience to the subpoena or order in the same manner as in cases of subpoenas and orders issued or made by the court.

Section 206 Caveat

(a) Bond When a caveat has been filed the register shall not delay the probate of a will or the grant of letters for more than ten days after the filing of the petition for probate or for grant of letters or after the filing of the caveat which ever shall be later unless within such ten-day period a party in interest shall file with the register his bond in the name of the Commonwealth with sufficient surety in such amount not less than five hundred dollars or more than five thousand dollars as the register considers necessary conditioned for the payment of any costs which may be decreed against the caveator.

(b) Failure to Give Bond If no bond is filed within the ten-day period the caveat shall be considered abandoned except as the register for cause shown shall extend the time.

(c) Costs The register or the court upon appeal shall determine the amount of costs occasioned by a caveat and direct by whom they shall be paid. If all or part of the costs shall be finally decreed to be paid by the caveator any party interested in the costs may bring suit on the caveator's bond as provided by law.

Section 207 Certification of Records to Court Whenever a caveat shall be filed or a dispute shall arise before the register concerning the probate of a will the grant of letters or the performance of any other function by the register he may certify or the court upon petition of any party in interest may direct the register at any stage of the proceeding to certify the entire record to the court which shall proceed to a determination of the issue in dispute. No letters of administration pendente lite shall be granted by the register after proceedings have been removed to the court except by leave of court.

Section 208 Appeals

(a) When Allowed Any party in interest who is aggrieved by a decree of the register or a fiduciary whose estate or trust is so aggrieved may appeal therefrom to the court within two years of the decree provided that the executor designated in an instrument shall not by virtue of such designation be deemed a party in interest who may appeal from a decree refusing probate of it. The court upon petition of a party in interest may limit the time for appeal to six months.

(b) Bond Anyone appealing from a decree of the register shall within ten days after filing his appeal file with the register his bond in the name of the Commonwealth with sufficient surety in such amount not less than five hundred dollars or more than five thousand dollars as the register considers necessary conditioned for the payment of any costs that may be decreed against him. If no bond is filed within the ten-day period the appeal shall be considered abandoned.

(c) Effect of Appeal No appeal from a decree of the register shall suspend the powers or prejudice the acts of a personal representative to whom letters have been granted.

(d) Excepted Appeals This section shall not apply to appeals for inheritance tax purposes nor to appeals specially regulated by law.

Section 209 Bill of Costs The court may establish a bill of costs to be charged for the services of the register not otherwise provided by law.

Probate

Section 301 Place of Probate The will of a decedent domiciled in the Commonwealth at the time of his death shall be probated only before the register of the county where the decedent had his last family or principal residence. If the decedent had no domicile in the Commonwealth his will may be probated before the register of any county where any of his property is located.

Section 302 Manner of Probate All wills shall be proved by the oaths or affirmations of two competent witnesses and

(1) Will Signed by Testator In the case of a will to which the testator signed his name proof by subscribing witnesses if there are such shall be preferred to the extent that they are readily available and proof of the signature of the testator shall be preferred to proof of the signature of a subscribing witness.

(2) Will Signed by Mark or by Another In the case of a will signed by mark or by another in behalf of the testator the proof must be by subscribing witnesses except to the extent that the register is satisfied that such proof cannot be adduced by the exercise of reasonable diligence. In that event other proof of the execution of the will including proof of the subscribers' signatures may be accepted and proof of the signature of a witness who has subscribed to an attestation clause shall be prima facie proof that the facts recited in the attestation clause are true.

(3) Nuncupative Will In the case of a nuncupative will the witnesses shall have been present when the will was declared and shall have reduced it to writing or directed it to be reduced to writing.

Section 303 Limit of Time for Probate

(a) Original Probate A will other than a nuncupative will may be offered for probate at any time.

(b) Conclusiveness of Original Probate The probate of a will shall be conclusive as to all property real or personal devised or bequeathed by it unless an appeal shall be taken from the probate as provided in Section 208.

(c) Effect Upon Grantee or Mortgagee A will offered for original or subsequent probate more than two years after the decedent's death shall be void against a bona fide grantee or mortgagee of real estate of the decedent if the conveyance or mortgage is recorded before the will is offered for probate. This subsection shall not apply to a will of a person dying before the effective date of this act offered for original probate within three years after the decedent's death.

Section 304 Nuncupative Wills A nuncupative will shall not be admitted to probate nor shall letters thereon be issued unless notice has first been given to those who would be entitled to the estate in case of intestacy.

Section 305 Wills in Foreign Language A writing not in English shall not be filed for probate or for any other purpose in the office of the register unless there is attached to it and filed with it a translation into English sworn to be correct. The register shall attach the translation to the original and shall file them in his office and in all cases where a recording is now or hereafter may be required both the original and the translation shall be recorded. A writing filed in violation of this section shall not constitute notice to any person.

Section 306 Wills Probated Outside the Commonwealth A duly authenticated copy of a will proved outside of the Commonwealth according to the law of the place of probate may be offered for probate before any register having jurisdiction and letters testamentary or of administration with a will annexed may be granted thereon as though the original will had been offered before such register. If in addition to such copy there shall be produced a duly authenticated copy of the record of the probate proceeding of the original instrument the will shall be entitled to probate in this Commonwealth and appropriate letters shall be issued thereon without the production or examination of the witnesses to prove such will unless the record shows or it is satisfactorily proved that an essential requirement of Pennsylvania law for a valid will has not been met. In such event the probate proceedings may be supplemented by the submission of additional evidence to the register.

Section 307 Enforcing Production of Will The register at the request of any party in interest shall issue a citation to any person alleged to have possession or control of a will of a decedent requiring him to show cause why it should not be deposited with him. In the absence of good cause shown the register shall order the will to be deposited with him.

ARTICLE IV

Letters—Accounts

Section 401 Bonds of Personal Representatives If any register shall grant letters without having taken such bond as may be required by law he and his surety shall be liable to pay all damages which shall accrue to any person by reason thereof. Nothing herein stated shall be deemed to relieve the personal representative from liability which would otherwise be imposed upon him by law.

Section 402 Revocation of Letters

(a) When No Will The register may revoke letters of administration granted by him whenever it appears that the person to whom letters were granted is not entitled thereto.

(b) When A Will The register may amend or revoke letters testamentary or of administration granted by him not in conformity with the provisions of a will admitted to probate.

Section 403 Transmission of Accounts to the Court All accounts filed with the register shall be transmitted to the court for audit and confirmation on dates fixed by the court by general rule or special order and shall be advertised as required by law.

ARTICLE V

Records and Certified Copies

Section 501 Wills All probated wills shall be indexed and recorded by the register and shall remain in his office except for the period required to be in the custody of a higher court. The recording may be accomplished by photographic or other mechanical process.

Section 502 Inventories and Appraisements The register shall index and record all inventories and appraisements filed with him. The recording may be accomplished by photographic or other mechanical process.

Section 503 Certified Copies Every register upon the request of any person paying the fee therefor shall make and certify under the seal of his office true copies of his records or of papers filed with him or of proceedings before him. Such certified copies shall be as good evidence as the original in any judicial proceeding in the Commonwealth.

Section 504 Recording Proceedings in Another County Copies of wills and probate proceedings duly certified by the register may be filed in the office of the register in any county where real estate of the testator is located. The register with whom such papers are filed shall forthwith record the same and the record thereof shall be as valid and effectual in law as the original will after probate or its duly certified copy or its record would be for all purposes of vesting title of evidence and of notice.

by jury or when the right is waived the court in its discretion may require a jury to decide any issue of fact and the verdict in such case shall have the same effect as though a trial by jury had been allowed as a matter of right to a party in interest

Section 746 Trials in the Orphans' Court

(a) Jury Jury trials in any case begun before or certified or appealed to the orphans' court shall be tried in the orphans' court The court shall draw a jury and preside at the trial of the issue and shall have all the powers of a judge in trials by jury in cases at law in the court of common pleas The panel of jurors drawn for service in the common pleas court of the county in which the orphans' court is located shall be available for such service in the orphans' court when required and in counties where there is a separate orphan's court the orphans' court and the court of common pleas shall by appropriate rules provide for and regulate the manner in which the jurors shall be made available and sent to the orphans' court when required for the trial of issues therein

(b) Rules of Court Unless and until the orphans' court otherwise directs, the appropriate rules of the common pleas court of the same county shall apply to jury trials of issues in the orphans' court, and matters relating to such trials shall be heard and disposed of by the orphans' court

(c) Effect of Verdict The verdict of the jury in the orphans' court shall have the same effect as the verdict of a jury in a case at law in a court of common pleas

F Enforcement of Orders and Decrees

Section 751 Methods of Enforcement Compliance with an order or decree of the court may be enforced by

- (1) attachment of the person
- (2) sequestration of real or personal property
- (3) execution on personal property
- (4) attachment execution or
- (5) execution on real estate

Section 752 Procedure on Attachment of the Person

(a) Direction of Writs A writ of attachment of the person shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff of the county in which the court is located or of any county where the person to be attached is located

(b) Discharge of Person Attached for Contempt Any person attached for contempt may be discharged from custody by the court upon purging himself of contempt to the satisfaction of the court by whose order he was attached

Section 753 Procedure on Sequestration of Real or Personal Property A writ of sequestration of real or personal property of an estate or trust or of the respondent to enforce an order or decree of the court in the administration of the estate or trust shall be allowed by the court as fully as in any court of equity and shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff of the county in which the court is located or of any county where property to be sequestered is located The court by general rule or special order may prescribe the practice relating to sequestration of real and personal property To the extent not provided for by general rule or special order the practice relating to sequestration shall conform to the practice in the local court of common pleas

Section 754 Procedure on Execution on Personal Property Writs of execution on personal property shall be allowed by the court and directed to and executed by the sheriff of the proper county The proceedings thereon shall be the same as on execution on personal property issued out of the court of common pleas of the same county

Section 755 Procedure on Attachment Execution Writs of attachment execution shall be allowed by the court and directed to and executed by the sheriff of the proper county The proceedings thereon shall be the same as attachment executions issued out of the court of common pleas of the same county

Section 756 Procedure on Execution on Real Estate

(a) Filing in Common Pleas The prothonotary of any court of common pleas shall on demand of the fiduciary or of any party in interest file and docket a certified transcript or extract from the record showing that an orphans' court has adjudged an amount to be due by any person and such transcript or extract shall constitute a judgment against such person from the time of its filing with the same effect as if it had been obtained in an action in the court of common pleas. If the amount adjudged to be due shall be increased or decreased on appeal the prothonotary shall if the decree of the appellate court is certified to him change his records accordingly and if the appellate court has increased the amount the excess shall constitute a judgment from the time when the records are so changed.

(b) Satisfaction and Discharge If the orphans' court shall order such person to be relieved from any such judgment the prothonotary shall on demand of any party in interest enter on his records a certified copy of such order which shall operate as a satisfaction of the judgment.

(c) Executions Execution may be issued on the judgment out of the court of common pleas against the real estate of such respondent by any interested party for the recovery of so much as may be due to him in the same manner as upon a judgment rendered by the court of common pleas.

G Costs

Section 761 Allowance and Allocation The allowance and allocation of costs incident to proceedings before the court or to the administration of estates or trusts within the jurisdiction of the court shall be as now or hereafter provided by law and in the absence thereof as fixed by the court by general rule or special order.

H Appeals

Section 771 Right of Appeal Any party in interest who is aggrieved by a final order or decree of the orphans' court or a fiduciary whose estate or trust is so aggrieved may appeal therefrom to the proper appellate court. An appeal in like manner may be taken from a decree of distribution of the orphans' court which is not final within the meaning of this section provided the orphans' court shall certify that the decree is sufficiently definite to determine the substantial issues between the parties.

Section 772 Effect of Appeal No appeal from an order or decree of an orphans' court concerning the validity of a will or the right to administer shall suspend the powers or prejudice the acts of a personal representative acting thereunder. The reversal or modification of any decree of an orphans' court in a proceeding in which the court has jurisdiction of the sale mortgage exchange or conveyance of real or personal estate shall not divest any estate or interest acquired thereunder by a person not a party to the appeal.

Section 773 Disposition of Cases on Appeal The Supreme and Superior Courts of the Commonwealth shall in all cases of appeal from a decree of the orphans' court hear try and determine the same as to right and justice may belong and decree according to the equity thereof and may place or allocate the record costs including printing costs upon the party in interest who appeals or upon the estate or trust.

Section 1 Section 15 of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 207) entitled "An act providing when how upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements for the removal of nuisances and for water rents or rates sewer rates and lighting rates for the procedure upon claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened the distribution of the proceeds of such sales and the redemption of the property therefrom for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed within six months before the passage of this act and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly" as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 470) and the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1494) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 15 Such tax municipal or other claim if filed within the period aforesaid shall remain a lien upon said properties until fully paid and satisfied Provided That either a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default in the form hereinafter provided be filed [in cases of tax claims] either before or after judgment on the scire facias [and in cases of other than tax claims after judgment on the scire facias] or else a writ of scire facias in the form herein provided be issued to revive the same within each period of five years following (a) the date on which said claim was filed (b) the date on which a writ of scire facias was issued thereon (c) the date on which any judgment was entered thereon (d) the date on which a previous suggestion of nonpayment and default was filed thereon or (e) the date on which a judgment of revival was obtained thereon

The suggestion and averment shall be in the following form under the caption of the claim

And nowthe claimant byhis solicitor or by the chief of its delinquent tax bureau suggests of record that the above claim is still due and owing to the claimant and avers that the owner is still in default for nonpayment thereof The prothonotary is hereby directed to enter this suggestion and averment on the municipal lien of the proper docket of the claim and also to index it upon the judgment index and on the locality index of the court for the purpose of continuing the lien of the claim

Such suggestion and averment shall be signed by or have stamped thereon a facsimile signature of the solicitor or chief executive officer of the claimant or the chief of its delinquent tax bureau The prothonotary shall docket and index the suggestion and averments directed therein and for such services in all counties of the fifth class and the political subdivisions in such counties shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar and in all other classes of counties and the political subdivisions thereof he shall receive the following fee to be taxed and collected as other costs in the claim

for taxes or municipal claims for one year and is directed to be indexed in one name onlyone dollar ($1)

Each additional year includedone dollar ($1)

Each additional name includedtwenty-five cents ($.25)

The filing and indexing of such suggestion and averment within five years of filing the claim or the issuing of any writ of scire facias thereon or of any judgment thereon or of the filing of any prior suggestion and averment of default shall have the same force and effect for the purposes of continuing and preserving the lien of the claim as though a writ of scire facias had been issued or a judgment or judgment of revival had been obtained within such period Provided That no writ of levavi facias shall be issued upon a claim for the purpose of exposing the property liened to sheriff's sale except after a judgment shall have been duly obtained upon the claim as provided in this section and such judgment must have been obtained within five years of the issuance of the levavi facias Whenever the lien of a claim has been revived and continued by the filing and indexing of a suggestion and averment of default the claimant may at any time within five years thereafter issue a writ of scire facias thereon reciting all suggestion and averment of default filed since the filing of the claim and shall proceed thereon in the manner herein provided subject to the right of the owner to raise any defense arising since the last judgment

If a claim be not filed within the time aforesaid or if it be not prosecuted in the manner and at the time aforesaid its lien on real estate shall be wholly lost

Section 2 In any case where any county city borough incorporated town or township has heretofore filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county any municipal claim and the county city borough incorporated town or township has not within the period of five (5) years after the date on which any such claim was filed sued out a writ of scire facias to reduce the same to judgment or has not done so in time then such county city borough incorporated town or township may within six (6) months after the effective date of this act file a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default or where any county city borough incorporated town or township has heretofore filed a suggestion of nonpayment and an averment of default on a municipal claim when the law required that a writ of scire facias be sued out then in either case such claim so revived shall be a valid claim and be a lien upon the real estate upon which it was a lien at the time the claim was filed Provided That the lien of any such claim shall not reattach against any real estate transferred to any purchaser during the time when the lien of any such municipal claim was lost nor shall the lien of any such claim impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority because of the failure of the county city borough incorporated town or township to sue out the writ of scire facias within the five (5) year period or was entered of record during the time the lien of such municipal claim or judgment was lost nor shall any such lien so revived impair or affect the priority of the lien of any mortgage or other lien which gained priority during the time such municipal claim was not revived or was not effective

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 276, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 458) entitled as amended "An act creating as bodies corporate and politic "Parking Authorities" in cities of the first second second A and third classes prescribing the rights powers and duties of such authorities authorizing such authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate parking projects to conduct research of the parking problem and to establish a permanent coordinated system of parking facilities and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities empowering such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government State political subdivisions of the State or any agency thereof exempting the property and securities of such parking authorities from taxation and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" by extending the provisions of the act to boroughs and townships of the first class

Section 1 The title of the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 458) entitled as amended "An act creating as bodies corporate and politic "Parking Authorities" in cities of the first second second A and third classes prescribing the rights powers and duties of such authorities authorizing such authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate parking projects to conduct research of the parking problem and to establish a permanent coordinated system of parking facilities and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities empowering such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government State political subdivisions of the State or any agency thereof exempting the property and securities of such parking authorities from taxation and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 969) is hereby further amended to read as follows

An Act

Creating as bodies corporate and politic "Parking Authorities" in cities of the first second second A and third classes boroughs and townships of the first class prescribing the rights powers and duties of such authorities authorizing such authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate parking projects to conduct research of the parking problem and to establish a permanent coordinated system of parking facilities and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities empowering such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government State political subdivisions of the State or any agency thereof exempting the property and securities of such parking authorities from taxation and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates

Section 2 Section two and subsections (a) and (b) of section four of said act section two and subsection (a) of section four which were amended by the act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 969) are hereby amended or further amended to read as follows

Section 2 Findings and Declaration of Policy

It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of Legislative finding.

(a) That residential decentralization in cities of the first second second A and third classes boroughs and townships of the first class has been accompanied by an ever increasing trend in the number of persons entering the business sections by private automobile as compared with other modes of transportation

(b) That the free circulation of traffic of all kinds through the streets of cities of the first second second A and third classes boroughs and townships of the first class is necessary to the health safety and general welfare of the public whether residing in the city borough or township of the first class or traveling to through or from the city borough or township of the first class in the course of lawful pursuits

(c) That the greatly increased use by the public of motor vehicles of all kinds has caused serious traffic congestion on the streets of cities of the first second second A and third classes boroughs and townships of the first class

(d) That the parking of motor vehicles on the streets has contributed to this congestion to such an extent as to interfere seriously with the primary use of such streets for the movement of traffic

(e) That such parking prevents the free circulation of traffic in through and from the city borough or township of the first class impedes rapid and effective fighting of fires and the disposition of police forces in the district and endangers the health safety and welfare of the general public

(f) That such parking threatens irreparable loss in valuations of property in the city borough or township of the first class which can no longer be readily reached by vehicular traffic

(g) That this parking crisis which threatens the welfare of the community can be reduced by providing sufficient off-street parking facilities properly located in the several residential commercial and industrial areas of the city borough or township of the first class

(h) That the establishment of a parking authority will promote the public safety convenience and welfare

(i) That it is intended that the authority cooperate with all existing parking facilities so that private enterprise and government may mutually provide adequate parking services for the convenience of the public

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the safety and welfare of the inhabitants thereof by the creation in first second second A and third class cities boroughs and townships of the first class of bodies corporate and politic to be known as "Parking Authorities" which shall exist and operate for the purposes contained in this act. Such purposes are hereby declared to be public uses for which public money may be spent and private property may be acquired by the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

Section 4 Method of Incorporation

(a) Whenever the [city] council of any city or borough or the board of commissioners of any first class township shall desire to organize an Authority under the provisions of this act it shall adopt a resolution or ordinance signifying their intention to do so.

In the event that such resolution or ordinance sets forth the proposed articles of incorporation in full it shall not be required any law to the contrary notwithstanding in publishing such resolution or ordinance under the provisions of existing law to publish such proposed articles of incorporation in full but it shall be sufficient compliance with such law in such publication to set forth briefly the substances of such proposed articles of incorporation and to refer to the provisions of this act. Thereafter the [city] council of any city or borough or the board of commissioners of any first class township shall cause a notice of such resolution or ordinance to be published at least one time in the legal periodical of the county in which such Authority is to be organized and at least one time in a newspaper published and of general circulation in such county. (3) it purports to insure only one person except that a policy may insure originally or by subsequent amendment upon the application of an adult head of a family who shall be deemed the policyholder any two or more eligible members of that family including wife dependent children or any children under a specified age which shall not exceed nineteen years and any other person dependent upon the policyholder and

(4) the style arrangement and over-all appearance of the policy give no undue prominence to any portion of the text and unless every printed portion of the text of the policy and of any endorsements or attached papers is plainly printed in light-faced type of a style in general use the size of which shall be uniform and not less than ten-point with a lower-case unspaced alphabet length not less than one hundred and twenty-point (the "text" shall include all printed matter except the name and address of the insurer name or title of the policy the brief description if any and captions and subcaptions) and

(5) the exceptions and reductions of indemnity are set forth in the policy and except those which are set forth in the policy and except those which are set forth in section six hundred eighteen of this act are printed at the insurer's option either included with the benefit provision to which they apply or under an appropriate caption such as "exceptions" or "exceptions and reductions" provided that if an exception or reduction specifically applies only to a particular benefit of the policy a statement of such exception or reduction shall be included with the benefit provision to which it applies and

(6) each such form including riders and endorsements shall be identified by a form number in the lower left-hand corner of the first page thereof and

(7) it contains no provision purporting to make any portion of the charter rules constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion is set forth in full in the policy except in the case of the incorporation of or reference to a statement of rates or classification of risks or short-rate table filed with the commissioner and

(8) a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back and

(9) if such policy is entitled or referred to as "non-cancellable" such "non-cancellable" policy is automatically renewable until age sixty upon payment of the required premiums by the insured

(B) If any policy is issued by an insurer domiciled in this Commonwealth for delivery to a person residing in another state and if the official having responsibility for the administration of the insurance laws of such other state shall have advised the commissioner that any such policy is not subject to approval or disapproval by such official the commissioner may by ruling require that such policy meet the standards set forth in subsection (A) of this section and in section six hundred eighteen

Section 618 Policy Provisions (A) Required Provisions Except as provided in paragraph (C) of this section each policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall contain the provisions specified in this subsection in the words in which the same appear in this section provided however that the insurer may at its option substitute for one or more of such provisions corresponding provisions of different wording approved by the commissioner which are in each instance not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary Such provisions shall be preceded individually by the caption appearing in this sub-section or at the option of the insurer by such appropriate individual or group captions or sub-captions as the commissioner may approve

(1) A provision as follows

Entire Contract Changes This policy including the endorsements and the attached papers if any constitutes the entire contract of insurance No change in this policy shall be valid until approved by an executive officer of the insurer and unless such approval be endorsed hereon or attached hereto No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions

(2) A provision as follows

Time Limit on Certain Defenses (a) After three years

from the date of issue of this policy no misstatements except fraudulent misstatements made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after the expiration of such three year period

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial three year period nor to limit the application of section six hundred eighteen (B) (1) (2) (3) (4) and (5) in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance)

(In a policy where the premiums are payable weekly the words "if such application is made a part of the policy" may be inserted in the foregoing policy provision between the word "policy" and the word "shall" immediately following)

(A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from its date of issue may contain in lieu of the foregoing the following provision (from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option) under the caption "Incontestable" After this policy has been in force for a period of three years during the lifetime of the insured (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled) it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application)

(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after three years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy

(In policies whereon the premiums are payable weekly the words "or from the date of any reinstatement thereof" may be inserted in the foregoing policy provision between the word "policy" and the word "shall" immediately following)

(3) A provision as follows

Grace Period A grace period of (insert a number not less than "7" for weekly premium policies "10" for monthly premium policies and "31" for all other policies) days will be granted for the payment of each premium falling due after the first premium during which grace period the policy shall continue in force

(A policy which contains a cancellation provision may add at the end of the above provision "subject to the right of the insurer to cancel in accordance with the cancellation provision hereof")

(A policy in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse any renewal shall have at the beginning of the above provision "unless not less than five days prior to the premium due date the insurer has delivered to the insured or has mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer written notice of its intention not to renew this policy beyond the period for which the premium has been accepted")

(4) a provision as follows

Reinstatement If any renewal premium be not paid within the time granted the insured for payment a subsequent acceptance of premium by the insurer or by any agent duly authorized by the insurer to accept such premium without requiring in connection therewith an application for reinstatement shall reinstate the policy provided however that if the insurer or such agent requires an application for reinstatement and issues a conditional receipt for the premium tendered the policy will be reinstated upon approval of such application by the insurer or lacking such approval upon the forty-fifth day following the date of such conditional receipt unless the insurer has previously notified the insured in writing of its disapproval of such application The reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from such accidental injury as may be sustained after the date of reinstatement and loss due to such sickness as may begin more than ten days after such date In all other respects the insured and insurer shall have the same rights thereunder as they had under the policy immediately before the due date of the defaulted premium subject to any provisions endorsed hereon or attached hereto in connection with the reinstatement Any premium accepted in connection with a reinstatement shall be applied to a period for which premium has not been previously paid but not to any period more than sixty days prior to the date of reinstatement (The last sentence of the above provision may be omitted (a) from any policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from the date of its issue and (b) from any policy on which the premiums are payable weekly)

(5) A provision as follows

Notice of Claim Written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at (insert the location of such office as the insurer may designate for the purpose) or to any authorized agent of the insurer with information sufficient to identify the insured shall be deemed notice to the insurer

(In a policy whereon the premiums are payable weekly the first sentence of the foregoing policy provision may read "written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within ten days of the commencement of any non-hospital confining sickness covered by the policy and within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any other loss covered by the policy or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible")

(In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit which may be payable for at least two years an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the above provision Subject to the qualifications set forth below if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least two years he shall at least once in every six months after having given notice of claim give to the insurer notice of continuance of said disability except in the event of legal incapacity The period of six months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of such claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer shall be excluded in applying this provision Delay in the giving of such notice shall not impair the insured's right to any indemnity which would otherwise have accrued during the period of six months preceding the date on which such notice is actually given)

(6) A provision as follows

Claim Forms The insurer upon receipt of a notice of claim will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss If such forms are not furnished within fifteen days after the giving of such notice the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss written proof covering the occurrence the character and the extent of the loss for which claim is made

(7) A provision as follows

Proofs of Loss Written proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment contingent upon continuing loss within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss Failure to furnish such proof within the time required shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give proof within such time provided such proof is furnished as soon as reasonably possible and in no event except in the absence of legal capacity later than one year from the time proof is otherwise required

(8) A provision as follows

Time of Payment of Claims Indemnities payable under this policy for any loss other than loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof of such loss Subject to due written proof of loss all accrued indemnities for loss for which this policy provides periodic payment will be paid (insert period for payment which must not be less frequently than monthly) and any balance remaining unpaid upon the termination of liability will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof

(9) a provision as follows

Payment of Claims Indemnity for loss of life will be payable in accordance with the beneficiary designation and the provisions respecting such payment which may be prescribed herein and effective at the time of payment If no such designation or provision is then effective such indemnity shall be payable to the estate of the insured Any other accrued indemnities unpaid at the insured's death may at the option of the insurer be paid either to such beneficiary or to such estate All other indemnities will be payable to the insured

(The following provisions or either of them may be included with the foregoing provision at the option of the insurer

If any indemnity of this policy shall be payable to the estate of the insured or to an insured or beneficiary who is a minor or otherwise not competent to give a valid release the insurer may pay such indemnity up to an amount not exceeding $..... (insert an amount which shall not exceed $1000) to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured or beneficiary who is deemed by the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto Any payment made by the insurer in good faith pursuant to this provision shall fully discharge the insurer to the extent of such payment

Subject to any written direction of the insured in the application or otherwise all or a portion of any indemnities provided by this policy on account of hospital nursing medical or surgical services may at the insurer's option and unless the insured requests otherwise in writing not later than the time of filing proofs of such loss be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services but it is not required that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person)

(10) A provision as follows

Physical Examinations and Autopsy The insurer at its own expense shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of a claim hereunder and to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law

(11) A provision as follows

Legal Actions No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after written proof of loss has been furnished in accordance with the requirements of this policy No such action shall be brought after the expiration of three years after the time written proof of loss is required to be furnished

(12) A provision as follows

Change of Beneficiary Unless the insured makes an irrevocable designation of beneficiary the right to change of beneficiary is reserved to the insured and the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy or to any change of beneficiary or beneficiaries or to any other changes in this policy

(The first clause of this provision relating to the irrevocable designation of beneficiary may be omitted at the insurer's option)

(B) Other Provisions Except as provided in paragraph (C) of this section no such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall contain provisions respecting the matters set forth below unless such provisions are in the words in which the same appear in this section provided however that the insurer may at its option use in lieu of any such provision a corresponding provision of different wording approved by the commissioner which is not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary Any such provision contained in the policy shall be preceded individually by the appropriate caption appearing in this subsection or at the option of the insurer by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the commissioner may approve

(1) A provision as follows

Change of Occupation If the insured be injured or contract sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while doing for compensation anything pertaining to an occupation so classified the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in this policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation If the insured changes his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in this policy the insurer upon receipt of proof of such change of occupation will reduce the premium rate accordingly and will return the excess pro-rata unearned premium from the date of change of occupation or from the policy anniversary date immediately preceding receipt of such proof whichever is the more recent In applying this provision the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be such as have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued but if such filing was not required then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be those last made effective by the insurer in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation

(2) A provision as follows

Misstatement of Age If the age of the insured has been misstated all amounts payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age

(3) A provision as follows

Other Insurance in This Insurer If an accident or sickness or accident and sickness policy or policies previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith making the aggregate indemnity for(insert type of coverage or coverages) in excess of $..... (insert maximum limit of indemnity or indemnities) the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured or to his estate or in lieu thereof insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a like policy or policies in this insurer is limited to the one such policy elected by the insured his beneficiary or his estate as the case may be and the insurer will return all premiums paid for all other such policies

(4) A provision as follows

Insurance with Others Insurers If there be other valid coverage not with this insurer providing benefits for the same loss on a provision of service basis or on an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss the only liability under any expense incurred coverage of this policy shall be for such proportion of the loss as the amount which would otherwise have been payable hereunder plus the total of the like amounts under all such other valid coverages for the same loss of which this insurer had notice bears to the total like amounts under all valid coverages for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premiums paid as shall exceed the pro-rata portion for the amount so determined For the purpose of applying this provision when other coverage is on a provision of service basis the "like amount" of such other coverage shall be taken as the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage

(If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the next following policy provision there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "Expense Incurred Benefits" The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and by hospital or medical service organizations and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner In the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance automobile medical payments insurance or coverage provided by hospital or medical service organization or by union welfare plans or employer or employee benefit organizations For the purpose of applying the foregoing policy provision with respect to any insured any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice In applying the foregoing policy provision no third party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage")

(5) A provision as follows

Insurance with Other Insurers If there be other valid coverage not with this insurer providing benefits for the same loss on other than an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss the only liability for such benefits under this policy shall be for such proportion of the indemnities otherwise provided hereunder for such loss as the like indemnities of which the insurer had notice (including the indemnities under this policy) bear to the total amount of all like indemnities for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro-rata portion for the indemnities thus determined

(If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the next preceding policy provision there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "other benefits" The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner in the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations For the purpose any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice In applying the foregoing policy provision no third party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage")

(6) A provision as follows

Relation of Earnings to Insurance If the total monthly amount of loss of time benefits promised for the same loss under all valid loss of time coverage upon the insured whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis shall exceed the monthly earnings of the insured at the time disability commenced or his average monthly earnings for the period of two years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made whichever is the greater the insurer will be liable only for such proportionate amount of such benefits under this policy as the amount of such monthly earnings or such average monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly benefits for the same loss under all such coverage upon the insured at the time such disability commences and for the return of such part of the premiums paid during such two years as shall exceed the pro-rata amount of the premiums for the benefits actually paid hereunder

but this shall not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of benefits payable under all such coverage upon the insured below the sum of two hundred dollars or the sum of the monthly benefits specified in such coverages whichever is the lesser nor shall it operate to reduce benefits other than those payable for loss of time

(The foregoing policy provision may be inserted only in a policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from its date of issue The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "valid loss of time coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by governmental agencies or by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada or to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner or any combination of such coverages In the absence of such definition such term shall not include any coverage provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations

(7) A provision as follows

Unpaid Premium Upon the payment of a claim under this policy any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom

(8) A provision as follows

Cancellation The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer stating when not less than five days thereafter such cancellation shall be effective and after the policy has been continued beyond its original term the insured may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered or mailed to the insurer effective upon receipt or on such later date as may be specified in such notice In the event of cancellation the insurer will return promptly the unearned portion of any premium paid If the insured cancels the earned premium shall be computed by the use of the short-rate table last filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided when the policy was issued If the insurer cancels the earned premium shall be computed pro-rata Cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior to the effective date of cancellation

(9) A provision as follows

Conformity with State Statutes Any provision of this policy which on its effective date is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides on such date is hereby amended to conform to the minimum requirements of such statutes

(10) A provision as follows

Illegal Occupation The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation

(11) A provision as follows

Intoxicants and Narcotics The insurer shall not be liable for any loss sustained or contracted in consequence of the insured's being intoxicated or under the influence of any narcotic unless administered on the advice of a physician

(C) Inapplicable or Inconsistent Provisions If any provision of this section is in whole or in part inapplicable to or inconsistent with the coverage provided by a particular form of policy the insurer with the approval of the commissioner shall omit from such policy any inapplicable provision or part of a provision and shall modify any inconsistent provision or part of the provision in such manner as to make the provision as contained in the policy consistent with the coverage provided by the policy

(D) Order of Certain Policy Provisions The provisions which are the subject of subsections (A) and (B) of this section or any corresponding provisions which are used in lieu thereof in accordance with such subsections shall be printed in the consecutive order of the provisions in such subsections or at the option of the insurer any such provision may appear as a unit in any part of the policy with other provisions to which it may be logically related provided the resulting policy shall not be in whole or in part unintelligible uncertain ambiguous abstruse or likely to mislead a person to whom the policy is offered delivered or issued

(E) Third Party Ownership The word "insured" as used in this act shall not be construed as preventing a person other than the insured with a proper insurable interest from making application for and owning a policy covering the insured or from being entitled under such a policy to any indemnities benefits and rights provided therein

(F) Filing Procedure The commissioner may make such reasonable rules and regulations concerning the procedure for the filing or submission of policies subject to this act as are necessary proper or advisable to the administration of this act This provision shall not abridge any other authority granted the commissioner by law

Section 619 Age Limit If any such policy contains a provision establishing as an age limit or otherwise a date after which the coverage provided by the policy will not be effective and if such date falls within a period for which premium is accepted by the insurer or if the insurer accepts a premium after such date the coverage provided by the policy will continue in force subject to any right of cancellation until the end of the period for which premium has been accepted In the event the age of the insured has been misstated and if according to the correct age of the insured the coverage provided by the policy would not have become effective or would have ceased prior to the acceptance of such premium or premiums then the liability of the insurer shall be limited to the refund upon request of all premiums paid for the period not covered by the policy

Section 620 Requirements of Other Jurisdictions (1) Any policy of a foreign or alien insurer when delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth may contain any provision which is not less favorable to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions of this act and which is prescribed or required by the law of the state under which the insurer is organized

(2) Any policy of a domestic insurer may when issued for delivery in any other state or country contain any provisions permitted or required by the laws of such other state or country

Section 621 Conforming to Statute (A) Other Policy Provisions No policy provision which is not subject to section six hundred eighteen of this act shall make a policy or any portion thereof less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions thereof which are subject to this act

(B) Policy Conflicting with This Act A policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth in violation of this act shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this act When any provision in a policy subject to this act is in conflict with any provision of this act the rights duties and obligations of the insurer the insured and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this act

Section 3 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 622 a new section to read as follows

Section 623 Application (A) The insured shall not be bound by any statement made in an application for a policy unless a copy of such application is attached to or endorsed on the policy when issued as a part thereof If any such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall be reinstated or renewed and the insured or the beneficiary or assignee of such policy shall make written request to the insurer for a copy of the application if any for such reinstatement or renewal the insurer shall within fifteen days after the receipt of such request at its home office or any branch office of the insurer deliver or mail to the person making such request a copy of such application If such copy shall not be so delivered or mailed the insurer shall be precluded from introducing such application as evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving such policy or its reinstatement or renewal

(B) No alteration of any written application for any such policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent except that insertions may be made by the insurer for administrative purposes only in such manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant

Section 625 Policies Unlawfully Issued A policy issued in violation of subsection (b) of this article shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided herein and when any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any said provision such provision so conflicting shall be invalid and the policy shall be deemed to contain all of the required provisions

Section 5 This act shall take effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two A policy rider or endorsement which could have been lawfully used or delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth immediately before the effective date of this act may be used or delivered or issued for delivery to any such person during five years after the effective date of this act without being subject to the provisions of Section 617 618 and 621 of this act

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 365, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364), entitled "An act relating to business corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, reorganization, winding up and dissolution of such corporation; conferring certain rights, powers, duties, and immunities upon him and their officers and shareholders; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted, or may continue, to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain State departments, boards, commissions, or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," by permitting the Department of State to copy and destroy or return certain documents; permitting directors to fill vacancies in the board of directors resulting from an increase in the number of directors; deleting certain requirements as to the appointment, compensation and duties of agents; providing that meetings of shareholders at which directors are to be elected may be adjourned for periods of fifteen days each; fixing the method of cumulative voting in cases where directors are elected separately by the holders of different classes of shares; providing that courts having jurisdiction over trustees who are evenly divided as to how shares shall be voted may direct the voting of such shares; deleting requirements as to the voting of shares of foreign corporations owned by other corporations; providing that articles of incorporation may be amended to eliminate the preemptive rights of shareholders, and providing for the purchase of and payment for shares of any shareholders who dissent therefrom; specifying cases of merger or consolidation of which sixty days' notice to shareholders must be given; providing that shareholders of a parent corporation shall have no right to dissent from a merger or consolidation of such parent and one or more wholly-owned subsidiaries thereof, providing the state of incorporation and relative rights and preferences of the shareholders of the parent corporation are not changed thereby; providing that foreign corporations which shall have done business in Pennsylvania without procuring a certificate of authority to do so shall be conclusively presumed to have appointed the Secretary of the Commonwealth their agent to accept service of process in cases arising out of acts of omissions of such corporation in the Commonwealth, and specifying the duties of the Secretary upon receipt of such process.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the members of the Senate, I have some amendments correcting typographical errors and misspelled words in the bill which I would like to send to the desk, and if the amendments are adopted I am going to request that the bill go over in order as amended. I do not want to do this if it is going to hurt Senator Barr's feelings.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I would like to advise Senator Barr that we have to come to that point on the calendar, Senate Bill No. 365, and it has been suggested that you would like to just drop a few pearls of wisdom regarding that bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Majority Leader, Senator Walker, to drop these pearls of wisdom. I cannot understand the bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if I am going to explain this bill to the gentleman from Allegheny, it is going to take quite some time. I am sure you would like to know all about this bill. May I merely say to the gentleman from Allegheny, I have before me amendments to the bill which are simply amendments of typographical errors, which I propose to send to the desk, and if the amendments are adopted I am going to request that the bill go over in order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, is going to amend the bill and have it go over in its order, maybe I can meet with him and he can explain it to me so that I can explain it to our men.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 10, 1951.

The House met at 2:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest chaplain, Pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, our Father, that Thou hast given to us a sense of the moral which is the eye of the soul, the ear of the spirit, and the tongue of the conscience. Help us to keep this moral sense sharp so that we can tell the difference between the good and the bad, lest all things seem to be the same.

Make the high ideals of our youth haunt us until we find in Thee the sensitive conscience that keeps us worthy of our trust. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, April 9, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. FROST and HELM. RESOLUTION No. 28.

In the House of Representatives, April 9, 1951.

The State of Pennsylvania has become a leader among the States, in the field of education, providing for its young citizens, the best and most practical training possible to equip them to face life.

The educational advantages offered by Pennsylvania must be made available to every young man and woman, residing within the boundaries of this great State.

Because Pennsylvania is vast in area, and every section populated to some extent, that goal can be realized only through the proper transportation of students from the sparsely settled regions to the nearest centralized edu-cational facilities available.

Though, the present transportation facilities are ade-quate, the system in various school districts is often in-efficient, resulting in waste and a failure in purpose; therefore be it

Resolved; That the Joint State Government Commis-sion be directed to study the problem of transportation of students in the public schools, with particular regard to the efficiency of the present transportation system; the present needs for transportation, and those changes in the present system which would increase its efficiency and result in a wiser use of the transportation facilities; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commis-sion prepare a report of its investigation and submit such report together with its recommendations to the next General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "body" the following "without" the use of drugs or surgery."

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 12, by striking out the words "of analysis" and inserting in lieu thereof "for analysis and diagnosis."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time?

Is there objection?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw my amendments and ask that the bill come up for final passage.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the fact that Mr. Waterhouse is attempting to make a good bill out of this, but I do not think we should rush amendments of this type through without due study and consideration. This bill, regardless of what has been said previously about it on the floor of this House, was rushed out of Committee without due study and consideration.

I honestly and sincerely want to vote for this bill. I am not against licensing the chiropractors as chiropractors, but gentlemen, under this bill the powers that it gives to certain individuals are very poorly outlined and very poorly defined. I would suggest, if Mr. Waterhouse is sincere and he wants a good bill for the chiropractors and he wants every Member in this House to vote for it, that he hold this bill up and conscientiously sits down with the men that are interested in it and draw up proper amendments that will clearly and definitely define the powers that he wants to confer on certain individuals. We have no objection to anyone being licensed or powers being conferred upon them if they have properly studied and equipped themselves to carry on the duties and the powers which they are asking this Legislature to confer upon them without having been fully trained in schools and institutions for that purpose.

This bill is going to affect the health of the people of Pennsylvania. I see no reason to put into the hands of certain inexperienced individuals power with which they may do harm to the people that come to them for help. I would, therefore, suggest that Mr. Waterhouse hold the bill up and sit down with the people concerned and try to make a good bill out of it so we can all vote for it.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I am satisfied in my own mind, and I think many other Members of the House are, that we do have a good bill.

It was at the request of the gentleman and of certain other Members of the House that we prepared an amendment which specifically stated that it could not be interpreted that this would allow the use of drugs or surgery. That is what we did in the amendment. We have no desire to allow the use of either one in chiropractic. The chiropractor does not want it and I certainly would not want to have any part of putting anything out that would give them the idea they had it.

There is nothing in the bill as it now stands, according to the interpretation of the Justice Department, that could be interpreted that way. But as an act of courtesy, I did go and have these amendments prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau and I believed they did the thing that the gentleman wants.

It appears now that that is not what they want, and just so it is understood that we are not rushing it, this bill was introduced on February 5, was in Committee until March 13, had first reading on March 14, was re-committed for the purpose of a hearing on March 19, had a hearing on March 27; was re-reported as amended on April 3 and here we are on the ninth. So we have not attempted to rush this bill at all.

I believe now there only remains one thing to be done and that is to give the membership of this House a chance to vote on the bill as it stands. For that reason I request that my amendments be withdrawn, my request for unanimous consent having been refused, and the bill come up for final vote.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I do not think any Member of this House could possibly accuse me of being biased on the question of licensing chiropractors. Since 1937 I have been in favor of licensing the chiropractors. I have a close relative who is a licensed chiropractor since 1913, I believe, or 1914. I have several friends practicing chiropractic. I have always been for the chiropractors, both on the floor and in Committee. I have been a member of the Committee on Professional Licensure since 1937, and it is with great reluctance that I oppose the passage of this bill as it stands.

I believe sincerely that the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Sarraf, in offering the amendments that he did was sincere in trying to make a workable and real bill out of the chiropractic bill. The definition as it may be construed, contained in this bill, would allow chiropractors to practice dentistry, optometry, medicine or anything else they want to practice.

It is ridiculous to assert that the chiropractic board can police the profession and enforce their rules and regulations in the practice of chiropractic.

I am a practicing dentist and in thirty-two years of practice I have never had an inspector for the Board of Professional Licensure in my office, and I do not know any other dentist that has had in my vicinity.

The idea that the Board of Professional Licensure will enforce the provisions of the bill is asinine. They do not have the funds. They do not have the facilities to enforce their rules and regulations. Under this bill, the chiropractor can do anything and everything he wants to do, and it is up to the members of the profession themselves to decide what they want to do.

I believe the gentlemen are perfectly sincere in saying they have no intention of doing the things which we fear they might do, but they cannot answer for other members of their profession; they cannot enforce it and therefore in view of the fact that they have refused to accept any and every amendment suggested to protect the public and their own profession I must again say with much reluctance I oppose passage of this bill as it stands.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, two years ago a bill with the same definition of chiropractic passed this House. That bill passed this House and went over to the Senate and but for the fact there was a tie vote over there in the Senate, it would be the law today.

We have known this bill now, this is the second Session we have sat in on this bill. The bill is the same bill that we had here two years ago. If there was any opportunity at all to make any changes in it, that time has now passed. I feel this bill should be voted on here today, and let us get through with this bill. I feel favorable toward it and intend to vote for it.

Mr. REESE. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise in opposition to this bill. I am going to vote for it. Last week when I offered amendments to section five requiring one year college credits in addition to the present bill's 2550 hours, I stated then that the 2550 hours was equal to two years in a chiropractic college. The sponsor at that time said it was equal to four years.

I have here in my hand the curriculum of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, and the third academic year and the fourth academic year consist of 1267½ hours per year; meaning that the 2550 hours equals two years. I just wanted to correct that.

I am for the bill, being a chiropractor we need chiropractic legislation, and I ask every Member of this House to vote for the bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to take up a great deal of time. Committee action we cannot divulge on the floor. The discussion that went on today could have been carried on in Committee, but the Committee felt that out on the floor we could amend this bill. The only amendment which I had was to the definition. There were other amendments advanced. None was accepted.

One of my colleagues stated that because the House, last session, unanimously or practically unanimously, passed this bill does not produce the same condition which we have today. Today we have a chiropractic board appointed by Governor Duff. Three of the chiropractic board are licensed chiropractors. Two are of the unlicensed group. On that board two can sit and make decisions. There are as I told you, two unlicensed men and only two are needed to make decisions. Now you may say, what decisions? Decisions as to what schools are recognized. Various decisions such as who are to be given examinations.

In this bill that you are passing on right now is the word "limited" examination. Now you know that a limited examination could be anything. They have a board I did not like in the first place, but they are managed well and cared for well,—and for your information, today as I speak there are 600 licensed chiropractors in this State, licensed as drugless therapists and the amendment offered yesterday would have added nothing. That is what they are, drugless therapists with the word chiropractor added to them.

Now there is one thing I want to emphatically impress upon the House; my debate and my argument is not against the practice of chiropractics. That has been established; they are recognized. They have a board which you have given them.

This is the way the board is to function and operate. We as legislators should move slowly with regard to the health of our State. If you want to blanket them all in, I do not like it, but I am not going to fight about it.

This piece of legislation, mind you, is not for the licensed chiropractors; this is for the twelve or fifteen hundred who are practicing today without a license. Do you mean to tell me that we are going to put through a bill in this House without a definite definition to a board chosen, as it has been chosen, without deliberation and consideration?

I only ask you to please judge this thing. It was a bad day that I introduced my amendments, I realize that. A more crucial bill than the chiropractic bill was acted upon in this House. It was your tax measure; your Governor's program. It is halted. It is out of our hands now; it has to be brought back. Yet here is a bill they say has been given consideration, and long consideration. My colleague says it has been here. Sure it has been here. You are giving the opportunity in this bill to people, who do not qualify, your vote to make them chiropractors under this bill, and to boot, a nice big, broad definition, as the dentist has told you, which could permit them not to be M. D.'s, I will admit,—I admitted that to one of the Members here, but to do almost anything else in the various divisions of the healing art. If you feel that that is trivial, vote for the bill.

My advice to you is to move very much slower; see what you are doing. I was informed we will amend it on the floor. Today I was informed we will amend it in the Senate. I advise you all as Members with the health of the State on your mind, your own children, to think more seriously about this than just thinking you are doing something for a good group of people who are licensed today if they qualify.

I do not want to take up any more time. I realize that this has been hashed backward and forward, but the situation today is not one as has been in the last eighteen years that I have been here. As I have informed you, you have a board now. You are giving new duties to that board. I said this before, do you wish to give this board already chosen a blank check?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen from Erie Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, is it the gentleman's intention that when this bill gets into the Senate that he hopes to amend or have someone amend the definition in this bill?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I can assure him that the amendment specifically stating "without the use of drugs or surgery" will be included in the bill. I wanted to put it in here, but inasmuch as I cannot, it will be done in Senate Committee by agreement.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, if that is the case, I feel that I might go along with the bill.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, without questioning the sincerity of the gentleman who sponsored the bill, it would seem to me that amending the bill in the way that he wants to amend it would make the bill worse than it is, instead of better. To substitute the words "without the use of drugs or surgery" means nothing.

To my mind it is a subterfuge and misleading. The second amendment, if it can be so, is even worse than the first, because it broadens the field more than the words already in the bill. The words "for analysis and diagnosis" substituted for "analysis" would in my mind seem to give them even more latitude than the bill now gives them.

I therefore submit to the House, if we are in the position where we are going to delegate our authority to the Senate, which we so often do, instead of taking care of our own duties here in the House, that you are going to give the Senate the privilege of making the bill worse than it is now.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support this bill. I will have to disagree with several of my colleagues who have stated here on the floor that this bill did not receive careful and proper consideration in the Committee. I know that this bill had extended debate. We afforded the opponents and proponents of this bill ample time to state their objections and recommendations, and I think the opponents of this bill in suggesting various amendments are only attempting to emasculate a good piece of legislation.

I think the chiropractors should have their own board, should govern themselves and police their own organization. This bill is nothing new. It was up here at the last session. It is practically the same and I do think it is a very good piece of legislation.

In the Committee our Chairman was very uniformly considerate of both the opposition and the proponents, and I think it is a very good piece of legislation.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker. I am very sorry to interrupt the speaker, but Committee action, I have stated four or five times, I do not like to discuss. As an old Member and knowing the ethics of the House, I do not care to discuss it and it is very unfair to make statements of that sort in this House, because I do not care to discuss what was carried on in Committee. I object to that sort of remark.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, just to be very brief, I do not want to take the time of the House, but I just want to reiterate: I think we have a very good bill. I think it is not a bill that can in any way be misinterpreted. If you want to go into definitions, your medical, your dentistry and all others could be interpreted most any way you want to interpret them if you were unethical. Any definition, without someone standing over you with a shotgun and saying: "this is it, boys" can be twisted somewhat.

I do not think in this bill you will find it has a bit more latitude than any other bill, and I certainly hope the Members of the House see fit to support this bill. I am satisfied that those casting an "aye" vote will not regret it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 73, entitled:

An Act to amend Article V of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by permitting school directors to attend meetings of educational or financial interest to districts and providing for the payment of their expenses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 516.1), page 2, lines 13 and and 14, by striking out "necessary traveling and hotel"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 516.1), page 2, line 14 by inserting after the word "actually" the following "and necessarily"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 516.1), page 2, line 14, by inserting after the word "incurred" the following "in going to, attending and returning from the place of such meeting, but not exceeding twelve dollars ($12) per day, together with railroad expenses actually incurred in going to and returning from such meeting"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 218, as follows:

An Act to further amend section 30 of the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 269, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by providing for the establishment by the Department of Public Instruction of a standardized driver-training program in the public schools and providing for assistance to school districts in certain cases

Section 1 Subsections (a) and (c) of Section 1519 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1519 Teaching of Safe Driving of Motor Vehicles

(a) Any school district may provide for the teaching of safe driving of motor vehicles in the elementary and secondary schools of the district or in the secondary schools only in accordance with the standardized program established by the Department of Public Instruction. In the case of pupils under the age of sixteen (16) years such instruction shall be limited to class room instruction by those who shall possess the qualifications prescribed by the State Council of Education. In the case of pupils of the age of sixteen (16) years and over the instruction may include practical instruction in the operation of motor vehicles on the public highways or other places selected by the board of school directors or by the principal of the school where the instruction is given

(c) The board of school directors may appropriate and expend money of the school district for the purpose of paying the compensation of the instructors and to purchase rent or hire motor vehicles automobile liability insurance and to maintain and repair the same and to purchase fuel lubricants parts and accessories therefor

Any such school district shall receive assistance from the department upon complying with its established standardized program as herein provided

Section 1519.1 Standardized Driver-Training Program
(a) The Department of Public Instruction shall establish for operation in the public school system of the Commonwealth a standardized driver-training program in the safe operation of motor vehicles

(b) The Department of Public Instruction shall assist school districts throughout the Commonwealth in the functioning of such program by

(1) Preparation publishing and free distribution of driver-training instructional material to insure a more complete understanding of the duties of motor vehicle operators

(2) Making such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out such program and

(3) Providing assistance to school districts complying with the program established by the Department to the extent of the appropriation available from the Motor License Fund as follows (i) payment of traveling expenses of Commonwealth employees essential to the program (ii) purchase of visual training aids and psychophysical testing equipment (iii) costs of printing posters and (iv) other printed matter and costs of postage

(c) Every school district complying with the standardized program established by the Department for the school term 1951-52 and for every school term thereafter shall be paid a sum which shall be proportionate to the total amount available to the Department from the Motor License Fund for allocation and distribution to all school districts in the Commonwealth after expenditures enumerated in clause (3) of subsection (b) of this section have been covered for assistance to their driver-training programs as the ratio which the average daily pupil membership in such driver-training courses in such school district bears to the total average daily pupil membership in such driver-training courses in all school districts in the Commonwealth. Allocations and apportionments within any school district shall be made according to a similar ratio. Such sums shall be paid in the same manner as other reimbursements are paid to school districts

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 277, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred eighty of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by requiring new residents and residents becoming of age to notify assessors of such facts and prescribing penalties and providing for public notice of the requirement

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the bill, it would provide that any resident of a district becoming 21 years of age, or any resident moving in, becoming a resident or inhabitant of a district, would be forced to notify, or would be ordered by this bill to notify the proper assessors, and that the penalty provided is double the amount of the tax if he does not do so. There is a further provision that the board of directors of a school district must advertise the fact at the same time as they advertise the budget.

I would ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if that is substantially a correct interpretation of the bill.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the gentleman has made a very good analysis.

Mr. SEYLER. Now, Mr. Speaker, there are several points that I would like to ask the gentleman. The first is in the first line of the bill it says: "any school district" and in a subsequent line it refers again to "any school district"—I would like to ask the gentleman whether that means that this would apply to all school districts of all classes.

Mr. McMILLEN. This is the intent and purpose.

Mr. SEYLER. Then, Mr. Speaker, I would inquire whether the gentleman could tell us how many districts in the Commonwealth do not impose a per capita tax.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, does the gentleman know whether the city of Philadelphia, for example, imposes a per capita tax?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe they do.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is correct. Would the gentleman accept my word that in the latest report of the Department of Public Instruction, of which I have a copy here, I found that over fifty school districts in addition to the city of Philadelphia do not impose a per capita tax.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman has looked it up and has figures, I would say they must be right.

Mr. SEYLER. Well then, my question to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, is this, I would ask the gentleman what purpose would be served in having the citizens of school districts, including the great city of Philadelphia which does not impose per capita tax, have all of their residents on reaching the age of 21 and all residents who move into the city or who become inhabitants of the great city, be forced to notify the proper assessor of that action?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, is there no other type of tax that they have that would apply here? Is there no occupation tax or anything like that?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I am not prepared to answer the question. I understand I was doing the interrogating. I do not know. Can the gentleman offer an example of such tax?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, we have in many of the school districts in my area a tax, an occupation tax and various types of taxes that apply to a man whether it is a per capita tax or not. If they are registered, they naturally come under the act and fall subject to the tax which is levied accordingly.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman whether it is not true that other ways are provided for finding out those people subject to the other types of tax. For example, occupation tax which the gentleman mentions, is it not true that they are employees of companies and that the proper list is furnished by the employers?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, no, that is not the case.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, the bill states that the proper assessor shall be notified. I would like to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, who is the proper assessor?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, in at least the second class township to which I belong, we have a regular assessor in each township. It is presumed that it is his job to contact and to have on his list each person who is assessable. However, that becomes a difficult job, and many people move into the district and remain there a year or two years, send their children to the public schools, partake of the benefits of the taxes paid by other individuals, and yet brag of the fact that they do not pay any tax.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman referring to the county assessors?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, no, I am referring to township assessors.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, who would the proper assessors be in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not certain about that. If you ask one of the Philadelphia gentlemen, I presume that he could tell you that.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, who would the proper assessors be in the city of Scranton?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what system they have set up for assessing there.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill requires that these people shall notify the assessor. Will the gentleman tell me what will constitute proper notification?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it would not be necessary to go—a phone call giving him their name and the address where they are living would be sufficient notification, I would say in this case. A letter would do, a personal call would do. There is not any limitation that says he must do it in a specific, certain way.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that this bill is warranted by the fact that the assessors are now negligent in their duty of supplying the proper lists to the proper authorities?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, no, I would say it is necessitated more due to the fact that too many people are evading the responsibility of carrying their load of the taxes of the Commonwealth and of the various districts.

Mr. SEYLER. Can the gentleman give me any figures, Mr. Speaker, to support his statement that too many people are evading this responsibility?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does not want to admit to an obvious fact. We are not going out into districts and finding out. This is what we are trying to find out in the bill, how many people are evading.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that a fact that is obvious could be supported by some sort of statistical evidence.

Mr. McMILLEN. We had a bill here in the last session, I might add, that permitted school boards . . .

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Indiana?

Mr. SEYLER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to ask the gentleman whether he is of the opinion that those per capita taxes presently assessed, are being adequately collected?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, that, of course, is a problem with which each district must deal. If the school directors or the rural supervisors, whoever levies the per capita tax permits the collector to be negligent, then that of course is a problem that would have to be attacked in some other way. I assure the gentleman in my district we get the money.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman aware of the figures for Indiana County in which he is a representative?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, no, I am talking about my own district particularly.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, would he gentleman be interest in the figures from Indiana County?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it will be all right, if the gentleman has them there.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, the figures are as follows: According to the last report I can find from the Department of Public Instruction; the total taxes levied in that county including per capita and property and other taxes $925,603. Of that $817,809 was collected. In other words, $107,794 was not collected. I would presume that a large part of this, judging by experience, although I do not have the breakdown, is per capita.

My last question to the gentleman—I am sorry, I have two questions. This is the first one: how would the parties violating this provisions, be detected?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is a problem which can be dealt with in each district by having your assessor be more accurate on it. However, this is an attempt to equalize and to make more certain and to stop a lot of confusion that does exist. This is not an attempt to penalize anybody, it is an attempt to make this thing easier to handle.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, a penalty is provided and I ask the gentleman whether it is not probably true that however they are detected under this provision, they can be detected at present. In other words, the bill makes no provisions, I believe, for any special way of detecting violators of this provision.

Mr. McMILLEN. Except in the loss of tax revenue that the district suffers.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that if such violators would be detected under the provision of this bill, they will be detected now?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, you would have fewer delinquents under this bill than you have under the present situation because they know that when they are detected they will be subject to twice the amount of taxes which they evaded.

Mr. SEYLER. I have one more question, Mr. Speaker.

This bill provides a penalty of double the tax when the error is detected. How would that affect the present provisions in cities of the first class under a million and a half; one district is under this classification, that is Pittsburgh. How would it affect the school district of Pittsburg, in which case the law already provides there shall be a $25 fine for such failure to make return?

Mr. McMILLEN. To make a return?

Mr. SEYLER. Yes.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, this is only a failure to register and meet the qualifications, so I would say that they would be subject to just twice the tax that they have evaded during that particular time.

Mr. SEYLER. Plus the $25?

Mr. McMILLEN. The chances are, plus the $25, because it is a separate law.

Mr. SEYLER. Or would this supersede the $25?

Mr. McMILLEN. I do not think so.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think it has become obvious from the interrogation that there are quite a few points in this bill which indicate it was rather hastily pressed upon us, and perhaps without due consideration being given to its effect upon present legislation in the present status of the per capita tax.

For example I asked the representatives of the City of Philadelphia, on both sides of the House, do they think they want to impose on the people of Philadelphia an obligation to make certain notification in spite of the fact that they have no per capita tax? As a matter of the fact they would be excluded. There are also some fifty odd, perhaps more, I stopped counting when I got over fifty, school districts in the Commonwealth where they have no per capita tax. Are the members representing those districts willing to put the residents of their district to the bother of going through an unnecessary notification as suggested by this act.

I also offer the statement that insofar as the interrogation is concerned, insofar as any other evidence has been presented thus far, there has been no evidence of real kind that this a necessary act. We have assessors to whom the law assigns the duty of providing these lists. The gentleman has been unwilling to say that he feels the assessors are falling down on the job. I realize that our county assessors are being attacked and other assessors are being attacked for not performing their duties, and serious proposals have been made that they should be discontinued. I do not know whether this is a part of that same general trend or not, but at any rate it is open to some thought on the part of Members who are interested in that point of view.

It seems to me there would be some doubt as to whether the bill is workable and just. Notification must be given to the citizens that it is their duty to perform this notification which is an entirely new thing, entirely a new departure. Up to now it has been the responsibility of the assessors to collect this tax. That notification to the people is to be given at the same time as the budget is advertised.

I do not know what the experience of other gentlemen is but in my county, and I suspect it is the same throughout, a small notice in the classified advertising section, under legal notices, is given to notify anyone interested, that the budget is available for inspection. In that small notice would be inserted the name and address of the proper assessor. As the bill is written, that would it seems to me, have to be the proper assessors because in the City of Scranton for example, where I understand the county assessors are responsible for the list, you would have to list the entire number of assessors.

I do not know what the situation would be in the City of Philadelphia, but I suspect that it would be similar. In general it seems to me that this bill, for the sake of catching a few people who not meet their proper responsibility in per capita tax, would put a great many people to considerable annoyance unnecessarily and would have the effect of catching some innocent people who were not aware of the provisions and having them penalized unjustly.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, I must concur in the reflections and observations of the previous speaker, Mr. Seyler. It would seem to me that where a tax is imposed by local ordinance or otherwise, that local authority usually carries with it a duty upon the person or persons upon whom it is imposed to make the return. The duty is theirs, already established. If the person upon whom a per capita tax is levied does not make his return, he is in default. He has violated a tax law and he is subject to a penalty. If he violates his duty or does not perform his duty, in the first instance—or does not perform his duty at that time, would he perform his duty any the more if he were required by such a bill, as this proposed bill, to make known to the authority that he is around and has not paid his tax, or he is not on the assessor's lists.

For instance, we in Philadelphia do not have a per capita tax but we have a gross receipts tax. The gross receipts tax is levied upon people and professions or businesses. I quite agree with Mr. McMillen. There are many people—perhaps who do not pay the tax. The duty is there none the less.

We have a wage tax—to go into something else—in Philadelphia. There are a number of people in Philadelphia who do not make their returns. The duty is upon the taxpayer and that taxpayer is always subject to that duty. We passed another bill saying that every man must report the fact that he is in the City of Philadelphia, either to the income tax bureau or to the school board. If he violated his original duty in not making his return what makes us think that he is going to report himself under the obligations of such a bill as now proposed.

I must agree with Mr. Seyler that the proposed bill, places a great burden, a tremendous burden upon many bona fide citizens who report their tax status, and it would not be achieving any result.

I think the bill—although the purpose is laudable, I must agree with Mr. McMillen—it would create a great inconvenience and not achieve its objective in any manner. For that purpose I will vote against this bill.

Mr. McMILLEN. I regret that there was an error in one answer. This bill applies to school boards in districts of the second, third or fourth class, so that perhaps it would not apply to the city of Philadelphia or to some of these other areas that they are worrying about.

I should like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Seyler, what is your occupation?

Mr. SEYLER. School teacher.

Mr. McMILLEN. You are working for a school district now?

Mr. SEYLER. That is correct.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Seyler, do you believe that the school teachers should have an increase in salary?

Mr. SEYLER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. You are going to vote for that bill, I presume, when it comes upon the floor of the House?

Mr. SEYLER. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Chances are the gentleman will complain that the raise will not be sufficient when it does come, is that right?

Mr. SEYLER. I will not complain, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe in the principles of taxation for everybody?

Mr. SEYLER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Does the gentleman believe that everyone then should carry its share of the burden of public services?

Mr. SEYLER. Their fair share, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McMILLEN. Fair share, we will put it that way. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, we are dealing with a subject here that could be drawn out. Many arguments pro and con could be expressed. Regardless of what opinions may be expressed, the fact would still remain that there has been, there are and there will continue to be a lot of people who simply try to evade bearing their responsibility and their share of the public service cost.

It is a known fact all over the Commonwealth that many of our young people will not go and register to vote simply because they think they will be caught and then have to pay taxes. This of course has nothing to do with registration to vote. This bill deals only with the financial structure and the financial obligation of the citizen. Upon the premise that we are all obligated and should all carry our share and use every means and device to make it easier to give a more complete coverage of assessables this bill should be passed and placed in the hands of the proper people.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to prolong the debate but there is a question of fact here involved that I would like to speak on briefly.

The gentleman's first answer was that this applied to any school district of any class. I would like to read just the first part of this act for the benefit of the Members that do not have their books open and let them judge as to the meaning of this jarticular part. It says as follows:

"Every resident or inhabitant in any school district upon attaining twenty-one years of age and every person twenty-one years of age upon becoming a resident or inhabitant in any school district * * * *"

I asked the gentleman a question in good faith and he answered the question, I believe, correctly in the first place. I had consulted—I am not an attorney and I do not believe my friend on the other side is either—two attorneys, one of whom is an eminent Member of this House and their feeling as to the subsection as worded, was that it meant any school district as it very explicitly says, and that would mean all classes of school districts.

Just in summation I would like to say that we have a great amount of per capita taxes on the books uncollected. We would simply be adding, if this would have some effectiveness, more names of people who perhaps would not pay it. In other words it seems to me that the thing to do is to collect the per capita taxes on the book before we can sincerely come and say that adding more names by means of this particular subsection will solve the problem that the gentleman raises.

In European countries it is quite customary to have people, as they move from place to place, report to authorities. In other words they have more regimentation and they are used to more regimentation than we here in the United States. It seems to me that only when it can be shown that there will be a definite and real gain should we subject any of our citizens to any more regimentation or dragooning, making them sign papers, making them fill out more forms than is absolutely necessary.

Mr. McMILLEN. The gentleman in his arguments seem to point out the fact that simply because there are some uncollected taxes we should continue to let the rest of them go and not bother to levy the tax on them. I take a different point of view from that. Let us put them all on the tax list and then collect all the taxes. It will take less from everybody.

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the sponsor of this bill to pass it over until we can clear up some of these facts that they are discussing now.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have been requested by the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Costa, who has a question or two he wants to ask on this to pass it over. I have no desire to force this issue. I am trying to solve a problem, and you cannot solve a problem by forcing the issue. If these Members have questions in their minds I am perfectly happy to be cooperative, and get it straightened out. If it is agreeable let us pass it over.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the gentleman from Indiana desire to expunge from the record the statement "you cannot solve a problem by forcing the issue," or does he wish the statement to remain upon the record? It is his conviction at the present time that you cannot solve any problem by forcing the issue, or is he just referring to his own particular bailiwick?

Mr. McMILLEN. I am referring to the fact, Mr. Speaker, that if the gentlemen want this bill passed over, and have a little time to consider it, I am perfectly agreeable. That is all there is in the discussion.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman. I like his first answer.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision that the bill was agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears none, and the decision is withdrawn.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 277, Printer's No. 185,
was passed over at the request of The SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 295, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by increasing the maximum per capita tax rate

Section 1 Sections six hundred seventy-nine and six hundred eighty of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 679 Per Capita Taxes Each resident or inhabitant over twenty-one years of age in every school district of the second third and fourth class which shall levy such tax shall annually pay for the use of the school district in which he or she is a resident or inhabitant a per capita tax of not less than one dollar nor more than [five] ten dollars as may be assessed by the local school district Every husband against whose wife a per cipta tax is levied shall be liable for the payment of such tax Collection thereof from such husband may be made and enforced in the manner provided by law for the collection and enforcement of payment of other taxes owing by such husband including the collection thereof from the husband's employer

Section 680 List of Residents for Per Capita Tax Purposes In order that the board of school directors of each school district of the second third or fourth class may assess levy and collect a per capita tax of not less than one dollar nor mare than [five] ten dollars on each resident or inhabitant over twenty-one years of age in the district it shall be the duty of the proper assessors in each such school district to prepare a list of residents or inhabitants in such school district over twenty-one years of age and return the same with the other taxable property in the district as provided by law In each school district as provided by law In each school district all such lists of residents or inhabitants shall be included and certified in the list of taxable property to be certified to the board of school directors in each such school district as herein provided Assessors whose assessment district includes the whole or parts of more than one school district shall return separate lists of residents and inhabitants of each such school district

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. I sincerely regret that these two bills are on the calendar together. I am particularly sorry that the same sponsor is on both, because I do not wish him to have any implication either. But I must rise to say that I think this bill is one that we should consider well also.

There are two ways in which the school districts may impose per capita taxation. One is by means of a specific provision in the school code. The other is by a provision in the well known 481 bill. At the present time the limit on those districts that wish to impose a per capita tax under the regular provisions of the code is—from one to five dollars. On the other hand under 481 the limit is $10. I feel that the per capita tax is a tax that we should not extend. It is definitely a regressive tax of the most virulent sort. In other words if the gentlemen believe, and there are some who sincerely believe, that the flat rate income tax is a fair tax because the same rate of taxation is imposed on all, those gentlemen might well pause in consideration of a tax that is actually regressive in rate. That is to say the rate gets lower as income goes higher. If we take the income, and after all that is a fair test of ability to pay, we find that the per capita tax on an income of $2,000 is exactly the same as the proposed one half of one percent income tax on that individual. But as we raise the income to $4,000, we find that the rate has been cut in half. As we successively raise it, we find that it still continues to be more and more regressive. In other words the rate becomes less as the income becomes greater. For that reason I feel that the per capita tax should not be extended. I think perhaps it is a justifiable tax as it remains low in rate. But I do not believe that it should be extended.

I realize the gentleman may say, or supporters of the bill may say, the school boards can oppose this under 481 anyway, which in a sense is an argument saying that this bill is not needed. But if that is their defense then I would say that there are certain safeguards that were put in there for the protection of individuals. There is, for instance, an advertisement, the fact that it is to be imposed and the reason must be stated as to the reason for imposition, and then an appeal is granted. None of this will be possible if we merely use this bill to extend 481 to include the per capita tax as it now appears in the school code. Therefore, I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I too regret that this bill had to come up in this order, but this is another problem with which school boards are faced.

It is true that we can levy five dollars under the present school code or the school law. We can also go to 481 and levy a percapita tax there, but that means additional costs, advertising and the difficulty involved in it. The money that is spent in that way could very well be put back into the school system rather than into the cost side of the ledger.

This bill is simple. The principle behind it is clear and I see no reason to debate it. I am sure each Member of the House can make up his own mind on how it would affect him and what he would like to do with it. I would like to see the bill pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONGRATULATING GOVERNOR FINE

Messrs. SMITH and FLACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1951.

The proverbial showers of April that carry life-giving moisture to the winter-scarred land also brought to this Commonwealth fifty-eight years ago an individual who was destined to invest its governmental structure with grace and vitality.

Although Governor Fine was born in Luzerne County and his youthful experiences were restricted to its coun-finer, yet on attaining man's estate his vision broadened and his interests soon encompassed the welfare and prosperity of every section of the Commonwealth.

As a young lawyer, his zeal for social justice always took precedence over any desire for personal advantage or legal prestige.

As a judge, he envisaged the numerous problems that came before him, along with their sources and background, in this selfsame impartial manner that became the basis for many fair and objective decisions.

Although a judicial sanctuary is a prize of security that many a man would covet, yet Governor Fine in spite of the hazards of political existence and his abandonment of an assured career courageously responded to the call of the people to serve them in the capacity of their Chief Magistrate.

Since the anniversary of his birthday falls in the midst of unusual legislative activity; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly (if the Senate concur) extend to Governor John S. Fine its heartfelt and sincere greetings on the occasion of his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly express its fondest hope that the Governor will be privileged to move along the pathway of many more milestones of sustained health, increasing prosperity, and expanding governmental service and opportunity to the end that the people of this Commonwealth may become the beneficiaries of his administrative skill and sagacity into the indefinite future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to His Excellency, Governor John S. Fine.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 375, as follows:

An Act requiring cities of the first class to make annual appropriations to Firemen's Pension Funds

Section 1 Every city of the first class shall annually appropriate to the Firemen's Pension Funds of such cities an amount which when added to the contributions of members of such funds during each year and income from investments each year shall equal a total sufficient to pay in full the retirement allowances payable each year No such appropriation shall be less than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000)

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of this measure and I have been on opposite sides with respect to a great deal of legislation, but we on this side feel that this is a much needed measure in Philadelphia.

In view of the fact that the city charter has not yet passed we feel that we should vote for this measure. Of course, we on this side are of the opinion that had the charter been passed, measures of this nature should be handled locally, but inasmuch as that bill is not yet through we are joining with the sponsor of this measure in passing this worth-while bit of legislation.

An Act requiring approval of the interested electorate to initiate housing projects

Section 1 After the effective date of this act no new housing project shall be initiated in any political subdivision by any housing or redevelopment authority by whatever name it may be called or by any limited dividend housing company unless the question of whether or not the instrumentality may initiate such project is first submitted to and approved by the electors of the political subdivision within which the proposed housing project or any part thereof shall be located. The governing body of any political subdivision upon resolution duly adopted or electors equal to at least five per centum of the highest vote cast for any candidate in the political subdivision at the last preceding municipal election may petition the county board of elections of the proper county to have a question of whether or not a project may be initiated by the instrumentality as hereinbefore provided submitted to the electors of the political subdivision and the county board of elections shall cause a question to be placed on the ballots or one the voting machines and submitted to the electors of the political subdivision at the first general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days thereafter in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth if a majority of the persons voting on such question vote "yes" then the project may be initiated and carried out but such instrumentality within the political subdivision in case of a tie vote or if a majority of the persons voting on the question vote "no" the right to initiate and carry out the project shall be denied and the same question shall not be voted upon again prior to the election occurring approximately two years thereafter

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to rise in opposition to House Bill 539 that is before this House for consideration. This bill would handicap housing in my particular district and in the City of Philadelphia.

We have several projects that are under consideration, also under development. A piece of legislation of this nature, because of the referendum that would have to be put before the people; five percent of the electorate would have to vote in order that a project might come into being. I say a piece of legislation of this nature could not bring any good to the people in the blighted areas and especially to the Veterans for whom we have so honestly said in this House we are going to do something. We are going to take care of the Veterans, take care of them, help to house them because of the facts that they are greatly in need of housing. We have told the underprivileged people of Pennsylvania that we are going to help to see that they have decent houses. A bill of this nature would impose certain hardships upon Veterans and people in blighted areas.

I am asking the Members of the Legislature that they vote to defeat this piece of legislation because we have organized labor against it, we have the American Legion and we have the Veterans of Foreign Wars that feel that if this piece of legislation is passed we will have no more adequate housing projects.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I would willingly yield to any Members on the other side who are desirous of speaking against this bill. I understand there is another gentleman who was supposed to have spoken against it.

Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to oppose this iniquitous piece of legislation. The Legislature of 1937 passed a measure which, of course, first permitted the establishment of housing authorities.

In 1945 this Legislature passed a measure known as the Redevelopment Authorities law which, of course, allowed slum clearance projects by means of projects set up by redevelopment authorities authorized by this Legislature.

The preceding Governor was anxious, and he had the joinder of the Democratic Members of this House in passing legislation, to insure proper housing measures, not only in Philadelphia but throughout the state. Now we have a measure that has been presented to us wherein the local authorities, which have been set up according to the provisions permitted by this legislative body, will lose the powers that have been delegated to them.

This bill intends to take away from the duly constituted authorities the proper power that they have to determine where housing developments shall be set up and will of course, under the provisions proposed in said bill delay, unduly hinder, and in many instances prevent the erection of much needed housing developments.

It seems to me that those Members of this House who have been clamoring for aid to low income individuals and for aid to Veterans who desire housing accommodations certainly should be opposed to this measure.

We in the Philadelphia area, particularly where we are to experience in the not too distant future a tremendous influx of population, where we are at the present time beginning a large defense program which will, of course, call for the moving into the Philadelphia area of thousands upon thousands of individuals trained to help in the defense program, are acutely aware of the need for proper housing developments. If this measure were to come into existence, if this House were to pass this measure and it would go through the Senate and be signed by the Governor, it would certainly hinder the defense program. This measure is certainly contrary to the American system of representative government.

As the Philadelphia Housing Association has pointed out in a communication which is sent to many of our Members, it is equivalent to asking the voters to make an administrative decision on the location of every highway bridge or fire station or to determine how and when garbage shall be collected. If we were to carry out the thought expressed by this measure, we would be submitting to the electorate matters of an administrative nature which is certainly contrary to the principle of the referendum as it existed in our American system in the early days when the referendum was first carried out in the western states. For that reason alone, those Members here who are certainly interested in preventing interference by individual voters in every administrative policy should vote against this bill.

May I also point out that in the Philadelphia area particularly, the housing authority has embarked on a substantial program wherein we will have, in the next few years, the erection of twenty thousand additional housing units.

Blair Lee who is the Chairman of the Philadelphia Housing Authority has pointed out that the passage of this bill will particularly eliminate that program, and will result in the failure of the housing authority to proceed expeditiously as they must in the immediate future. For that reason we on this side from Philadelphia are very happy to oppose this measure, and we call upon all the Members of the House who are interested in providing adequate housing accommodations and in carrying on the housing program which has been promulgated and advocated by previous administrations to vote against this measure.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate a sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Young, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman correctly that under the provisions of this bill, first a resolution has to be adopted for the purpose of selecting a site.

Do I understand also under the provisions of this bill that the Redevelopment Authority would first have to pass a resolution selecting certain places that are to be redeveloped?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, does the bill say that?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, do I understand further under this bill it would have to be submitted to the voters under a referendum?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, the voters for a what?

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, a resolution of the Housing Authority would then have to be submitted to the voters under a referendum?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, that election would have to take place during a general or municipal election, and it would have to be at least 60 days before the election?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is absolutely correct.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I have a high regard for the sponsors of this bill, but I must voice my objection to it. In my opinion, the passage of this bill would doom the Redevelopment Authority in the City of Philadelphia and in other parts of the state.

In my district, there is a great deal of blighted area, and the Redevelopment Authority has done a very good job. They have made it possible for many poor people, underprivileged, to get proper housing. Were this bill to pass it would mean that it would take months and months before any site could be selected. It would mean that the Redevelopment Board would not be in a position to select any site. They would have to first submit it to the people for a vote and that would take many months before they could possibly select a site.

Sincerely this bill is not a bill in favor of redevelopment. This bill in its essence means to retard and to interfere with the redevelopment program. It may be that the sponsor does not have such intentions, but the result of this bill would mean nothing less than the doom of redevelopment.

I might also call the attention of the House to the fact that the League of Third Class Townships in its convention last summer voted to oppose the referendum so far as redevelopment is concerned.

I would like to read into the record a telegram which I received from my district. My district as a rule does not send any telegrams but this is so vital, this is so important to our people that for the first time they sent me a telegram concerning this bill and I ask leave to read the telegram.

"At the regular meeting of the committee of the Philadelphia quarterly meeting of friends charged with the operation of friends neighborhood guild the following minute was adopted. It was called to the attention of the committee that a bill HB 530 had been introduced into the Pennsylvania Legislature by Messrs. McConnell and Young of Mercer County. This bill would prohibit any new development, public housing and or limited dividend housing project until approved by the electorate. The Guild Committee much concerned about the living conditions in the neighborhood of the Guild and has for many years urged which would promote the improvement of such living conditions. It is now engaged in an approved redevelopment project which would probably been impossible were such legislation as House Bill 539 now in force. The Committee feels that the people to be benefited by redevelopment and housing project are not generally vocal in making their needs known to the lawmakers, nor are they a pressure group. The Guild Committee feels that it is their responsibility of their elected representative to see to it the interests of these people are cared for. It seems obvious that the impetus behind the mood rises from selfish interests who would like to see adequate housing programs defeated and we therefore urge that House Bill 539 or bills of similar intent not be enacted. We ask your support in doing everything possible to defeat this bill." Signed Frederick A. McCord, Chairman Friends Neighborhood Guild Committee, 534 North 4th Street, Philadelphia.

I therefore ask the Members to defeat the passage of this bill.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, at the outset of my discussion of House Bill 539 I want to pay due respect to the sponsor of the measure, inasmuch as he was very good to me in having the bill postponed for a period of time so that the other Members of the House and myself could correlate the facts that we are confronted with in this particular measure that is before us.

In order to inform the Members of the House, inasmuch as only the Philadelphia delegation has been speaking about the measure, I want to say that the entire state of Pennsylvania, and every community in the state of Pennsylvania is affected by House Bill 539. I fully realize that the sponsors of the bill will evidently try to sell to you the merits of the legislation on a home rule basis. Wherein that is a true factor, I find myself disagreeing with this, for as you will notice in reading the bill a referendum by the people is not needed where a housing project is instituted by a real estate organization or some private individual.

Now then, if we are to ask for a vote or a referendum of the electorate in order to select the site of a housing project, why should we not do the same for private individuals or real estate organizations who, of course, would greatly benefit by this bill?

We have a problem before us which is in direct effect a bill that without question is profoundly to the benefit of the real estate lobby operating here on capitol hill.

I want you to take cognizance of a letter which I received in today's mail. (Incidentally this is the only piece of mail that I have received in favor of this legislation). It is from a very close personal friend of mine whom I have known down through the years, and I am going to write him and advise him that I am sorry I cannot go along with this measure, inasmuch as he asks me to vote for it because "it will be very vital to me personally." That is the crux of the argument in this piece of legislation.

By voting for this bill you will defeat the program of housing which has been subscribed to by both the Republican and the Democratic parties in the state of Pennsylvania and in the nation. It is only the selfish interests that do not want to have the housing as we have had it in the past.

I want to reiterate to you some of the remarks the speakers before me have made, that the Veterans' organizations are against this measure, labor organizations are against it, because you are dealing with a social problem that affects so many people.

The proponents of the bill may say, what are you afraid of in the event the electorate has an opportunity to vote on it? They can pass the proviso in a referendum within the community in which it is needed. This may be true and it may be best, but every day and every month that you hold back the program you are just keeping some Veteran or person that is underprivileged from moving into a good, decent home. I know the membership of the House does not want to do that.

I want to register my protest against Bill 539 and hope that the membership of the House will defeat it.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, with your permission, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Young, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOUNG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know under the provisions of the bill what is meant by "initiate?"

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I am glad the gentleman asked that.

Mr. JONES. Does this refer to a project that is in the blue-print stage or does it refer to the actual construction of a project?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Webster says that the definition of "initiate" is "to introduce by first act." For the purpose of this bill we will accept the definition as to any resolution by the Housing Authority stating that they do propose to build such development. In the blue print stage, yes, that is initiated; if the building has already been started, yes, that is initiated; any plans that have been formulated will be accepted as being initiated.

Mr. JONES. Under the terms of the gentleman's bill, then, projects that are now in the blue print stage, his bill would not refer to them at all?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, it will not interfere with them at all.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very, very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, much has been said concerning House Bill 539, and it is my intention not to repeat any of the salient facts that have been established thus far in the discussion.

However, I believe it is my duty to say just a word in defense of the great program of rehabilitation and development that has been conducted in Allegheny County under the sponsorship of the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

One of the most ambitious programs that has ever been undertaken anywhere in the country is now in progress in Pittsburgh. Doubtless every Member of this House has read about the work that is going on in the section known as Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle. We reached a point there where our business cannot go any further to the left, it cannot go any further to the right because we are right in between the Allegheny and the Monongahela Rivers. There is only one place for it to go and that is to go up into the so-called Hill district, a district that comprises part of the legislative district that I represent. Selfish reasons would prompt me to go along with this bill, because I can see that since these projects have not already been initiated that in all probability we might, through a determined and consistent effort there, be able to stop the march of progress up the hill, and save that part of my district that is affected.

But just like all other progressive moves, some few people have to make sacrifices, some few people have to be inconvenienced. And when I think of the municipal auditorium that is planned; something to be done to eliminate the traffic situation there that is almost intolerable, something to be done to give us parking facilities in an area that is already congested; when I think of the hundreds of people who are living now in the rat traps and fire traps who are waiting for decent homes now, I cannot keep still.

I remember just two or three days ago there was a piece of legislation introduced into this House that was voted upon and voted upon favorably, censuring, if you please, the Philadelphia Housing Authority because it was so slow in providing the houses that were drastically needed over there. I say to you that under this legislation you will not only slow down public housing, but you will stop it altogether.

Only yesterday in the Senate of the United States there was a bill passed providing for a million and a half dollars in new houses. Under the terms of this bill over in Allegheny County where we have 76 boroughs, 51 townships, 3 third class cities and one second class city, we have to go before the electorate. Five percent of those people there who are opposed to public housing can stymie the whole march of progress. I am one of those who say this: give people an opportunity and they will find their own way. Let the people in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County know just what is involved in this bill and they will rise up en masse and ask you to defeat it. We do not want to stop the march of progress there.

I say to you, because this is not a partisan issue and I am not asking for the Members of this side of the House to vote, I am asking for all the friends of public housing wherever you sit here to vote against this. Public housing is no longer in the experimental stage; it is now an accepted part of our national public policy, and I say to you that this legislation, to my mind, represents a backward step. It is not forward looking. All levels of government heretofore have cooperated to see to it that we got decent houses. I submit to you if our housing program had kept up with all the other avenues of development in this state, Pennsylvania today would not have to give up three congressmen. We would have provided homes for our people, and they would have somewhere to live, and our population ratio would have increased as it should have increased in a great industrial state such as Pennsylvania.

I submit to you in closing, public housing is not on trial here today before the bar of public opinion. Those of us who say we are in favor of public housing to the unheard of thousands who cannot be heard here today, who are in need of public housing, in their eyesight and in their judgment, we are on trial, gentlemen. I ask you in all fairness that you vote "no" to House Bill 539.

Mr. GUARNIERI. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to delay the House at this time. I concur wholeheartedly in all the statements of Mr. Jones, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Petrosky and Mr. Rose.

My purpose is to introduce to the record, Mr. Speaker, these resolutions and letters from various authorities and various groups opposing House Bill 539. There is a resolution from the American Legion of Pennsylvania, a letter from the Philadelphia Housing Authority, a statement from the Philadelphia Housing Association and a letter from the Philadelphia Committee on Public Affairs, all opposing the passage of House Bill 539. That is my only purpose; I can add nothing to these statements given today.

The SPEAKER. The resolutions and communications offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Guarnieri, will be noted in the Journal.

Exhibit No. 1. Resolutions Adopted by the Department Executive Committee at its Meeting April 7, 1951, Pittsburgh, Penna.

No. 1. WHEREAS, the National Housing Act of 1949 providing for financial aid to local political subdivisions for redevelopment and low rent housing has been supported by both National and department mandate of The American Legion on a number of occasions, and

WHEREAS, The American Legion had written into the law certain preferences for veterans and their families, and

WHEREAS, failure to implement This act of Congress will cause the greatest loss to veterans and their families by reason of these preferences, and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 539 now pending in the State Legislature would force a referendum on every single development, and

WHEREAS, Such action is contrary to the principle of representative government, is extremely costly, creates cumbersome machinery with long delays in effect would be the death knoll of the low rent housing program in Pennsylvania, and

WHEREAS, The real purpose is to destroy, by indirection, the low rent housing program in Pennsylvania which would have created decent, safe and sanitary homes for needy veterans unable to otherwise provide for such accommodations at today's inflated prices, now, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the Executive Committee of the Department of Penna. meeting in Pittsburgh this 7th day of April, 1951, directs the Department Commander to contact all the members of the House and Senate of Penna. and also the Governor to make known its opposition to H. B. 539.

Hon. George T. Guarnieri,
House of Representatives
The Capitol
Harrisburg, Penna.

My Dear Mr. Guarnieri:

The Philadelphia Committee on Public Affairs at its meeting yesterday instructed me to write to certain members of the legislature and ask them to oppose Bill 539 which would prohibit any public housing project until approved by the electorate. That would be an unwarranted expense and would greatly hamper any housing development.

We hope that you will vote against it.

Very truly yours,

Philadelphia Housing Association, 1717 Sansom Street,

Dear Sir:

The Philadelphia Housing Association has studied House Bill 539 which would require a referendum by local electorates before any slum clearance, redevelopment, limited dividend or low-rent housing project could be started. We believe that this proposed legislation would be harmful not only to slum clearance and housing programs but to the entire legislative process as well.

It is contrary to American representative government on which the American political system is based. The people's representatives are responsible for running public affairs. The referendum, as applied to public housing and redevelopment, is contrary to this system. It is unnecessarily expensive, it takes responsibility away from representative government and places it upon each individual elector. It makes a legislator out of every voter, regardless of whether he is able or willing to be a legislator. It is equivalent to asking the voters to make an administrative decision on the location of every highway, bridge or fire station, or to determine how and when garbage shall be collected.

We cannot believe that the Pennsylvania Legislature intends to abandon the far-reaching purposes of the Housing Authorities Law of 1937, of the Redevelopment Authorities Law of 1945, or the Housing and Redevelopment Assistance Law enacted during Governor Duff's administration by the last session of your Legislature, and yet that would be exactly the result if H. B. 539 were to pass. Similar legislation adopted in other states has resulted in the complete stoppage of the housing and redevelopment programs.

Pennsylvania, because of its widely diversified industries, has grave responsibilities during the national emergency. We surely learned at great cost during World War II that full production in our factories is impossible without adequate housing for employees. We are certain, therefore, that you would not wish to enact legislation designed to prevent needed new housing. We hope that when this legislation comes up under a special order of business on Tuesday, April 10, that you will oppose its passage.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) William W. Jeanes, President.

"House Bill No. 539, now pending before the House of Representatives in Harrisburg, would require a general referendum for the selection of sites of every housing and redevelopment project. It would mean the end for all practical purposes of the program for low-rent housing and redevelopment in Pennsylvania," said P. Blair Lee, Chairman of the Philadelphia Housing Authority.

Speaking on behalf of the Authority, Mr. Lee stated that this bill would create cumbersome machinery, long delays and that the task of clearing and rebuilding the blighted areas of cities by the teamwork of private and public enterprise would become nearly impossible.

In asking for the shelving of the bill, Mr. Lee pointed out that local housing authorities are now fully subject to responsible local government according to normal representative processes, similar to other types of local administration. "Public hearings have been held on all sites recommended by the Philadelphia Housing Authority in order to reach decisions in the best interests of the community," said Mr. Lee. In Philadelphia, City Council unanimously approved the Cooperation Agreement which authorized the Authority to proceed with a six-year program of 20,000 homes. Under the agreement the approval of the City Planning Commission is a prerequisite in all cases, and where the side is in a redevelopment area, the prior approval of the Redevelopment Authority is also required. The Cooperation Agreement also provides that the Authority will make payments in lieu of taxes equal to ten percent of shelter rents.

"It is felt," continued Mr. Lee, "that the procedures contained in H. B. No. 539 would be costly to carry out, extremely time-consuming and a denial of the usual methods of representative local government." Such delays, in the opinion of the Philadelphia Housing Authority, will cause Pennsylvania to lose most of the benefits from this already established program. In view of the fact that similar bills have been introduced into the legislatures of fifteen other states this year, it appears to be part of a national campaign to obstruct the redevelopment and housing programs, Mr. Lee indicated. But public housing and redevelopment programs are now established national policy, he pointed out, with 247 localities having begun redevelopment programs and 701 localities throughout the United States having made application for public housing programs. Congress twice approved the low-rent housing program while 42 states have passed enabling legislation.

In view of this situation and in the interest of the progress of the housing and redevelopment programs in the many Pennsylvania communities, the Philadelphia Housing Authority will request that the representatives from Philadelphia and the rest of Pennsylvania vote against H. B. No. 539. Mr. Lee also requested the Governor and the Mayor to use their offices to defeat this attack upon the low-rent housing and redevelopment program in Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth.

The Honorable Bernard Samuel
Mayor of the City of Philadelphia
City Hall
Philadelphia 7, Penna.

Dear Mayor Samuel:

H. B. 539, now pending before the Legislature at Harrisburg, will be a body blow at the opportunity to construct low-rent housing in Philadelphia and to begin the task of clearing slums. Its enactment will so long delay the programs as to make it nearly impossible, thus losing to Pennsylvania and this City, the important benefits which are available.

The enclosed news release states clearly our evaluation of this measure. The bill is not what it pretends to be, and is clearly meant to prevent the progress of the redevelopment and housing programs.

May we ask your assistance and support in taking whatever measures may appear appropriate to you to make sure that this legislation is defeated.

Your interest and action in this matter will contribute greatly to the City's low-rent housing program.

Sincerely yours,

P. Blair Lee, Chairman
The Philadelphia Housing Authority

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, now that the tumult and the shouting has died I would like to say a few soft words in favor of the bill.

There have been aspersions cast that this is a bill drafted by selfish interests, that it is the brain child of the real estate lobby. I can tell you truthfully that that is not so, and you gentlemen know my word to be the truth. I speak very vigorously at times, but I speak the truth.

My colleague, the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. McConnell, learned that such a bill had been enacted in California. He became interested in the thing. He had Mr. Glidden of the Legislative Reference Bureau draw the bill. In deference to my colleague I endorsed the bill with him; I sponsored the bill with him, much to my chagrin.

The reason that these people should be permitted to vote on these projects is because these projects are built with their tax money. These projects are tax free. The ten percent shelter allowance or computation is paid in lieu of taxes, should there be sufficient money in the project to pay them.

There has been a great deal of discussion about slum clearance, but my experience has been that when they clear the slums the poor unfortunate people who live in those slums are cast forth into the outer parts of the city, and the people who come in and inhabit these new dwellings are not the people that they evicted.

Take the situation here in Harrisburg. A development was built. Because of the influx of tenants, it became necessary to build an addition on the school building. In order to build an addition to the school building they evicted 35 veterans' families from the area and adjacent to the school building.

Take the county of Allegheny. The Housing Authority went in there to an area which was populated by good old German-Dutch ancestry and they condemned the property. Those people had built their homes, they had lived there long, their roots were deep in the soil of their adopted country. They were going to be cast out forthwith until an aroused citizenry protested.

That is the point that I try to make here. You say that these projects never will be initiated. That is a gross misstatement. Do you mean to say that your people are so heartless in Allegheny and Philadelphia that they are not aware of the situation among your poor unfortunate people in the slum districts? Do you mean to say they are so heartless that they would not approve such a dwelling? I think you are slurring our own people.

In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia who stated that this would stop his seven projects; it most certainly will not stop them. They can be completed. There is nothing in this act that will stop them.

I do not want to prolong this thing. I understand there is a fraternal meeting tonight—there is a free dinner and I know that you gentlemen are always willing to have a free dinner regardless of who provides it.

I, too, have a number of letters here. I have one from the Americans for Democratic Action that is printed in green ink. I should think they would print that in red ink. I have here a mimeographed circular from the Philadelphia Housing Authority; not for general consumption, however. This is the thing the Housing Authority sent out to all the other Housing Authorities in Pennsylvania. This is the damndest lobbying I ever heard of. However, appended to the top of this thing is a note: "We just wanted you to know what Philadelphia Housing Association is doing. We have no confidence in the Philadelphia Housing Association and we know them well. Good luck to you'."

These people work with the outfit. These referendums are nothing new. It takes twenty percent of your people to petition to vote on Sunday movies and you have Sunday movies. Twenty-five percent of your people must petition for beer and liquor and you have beer and liquor; you have it in Philadelphia and Allegheny County.

This morning in my hotel room I was looking at this little brochure that was put on my desk. Here is a picture of a very wistful looking young boy on the front here and is entitled "What kind of a country are you leaving me?"

And it says "When I am able to afford a house, will I be able to build one just as good as I can make it, or will it be a Government bill passed with only part of what the Government taxed me for housing?"

Now that is our argument. Why not let the people vote? Why should they not vote? Paradoxically enough, about twenty Members on that side of the House have come to me and said "Ed, we are in favor of this, but we can't vote for it." They are my good friends. I would not embarrass them by saying their names. I do not think that anything can be resolved, the issue has been joined here.

I am reminded of a paragraph from the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, which went like this:

"When I was young I did eagerly frequent doctor and saint, and listened to great argument about it, but forevermore came out by the same door by which I went in."

I mean to say that this argument is resolving nothing. Let us call the roll.

Mr. ROSEN. Mr. Speaker, I want to take exception to some of the remarks of the gentleman from Mercer in regard to Americans for Democratic Action. Men like Richardson Dilworth, Joseph Clark, Mr. Otto, do not need their printing in red ink, and for the record, I want to submit this letter from the Americans for Democratic action.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal.

Americans for Democratic Action
Philadelphia Chapter

April 7, 1951.

To the Philadelphia Area Members of the State House of Representatives

Gentlemen:

The Philadelphia Chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action urges all Philadelphia area legislators to join together and resoundly defeat House Bill 539 when it comes to the floor of the House for final vote this Tuesday, April 10th.

This bill, companion to one introduced in fifteen legislatures, represents a deliberate nation-wide campaign by selfish to kill housing projects.

It is a cleverly designed bill which tries to use the very techniques of democracy to destroy the purposes of democratic government. House Bill 539 provides that every proposal for slum clearance, low rent housing, redevelopment must be submitted to the voters for referendum at subsequent elections. This is a travesty on democratic procedure and would make every voter a legislator, who in the future could be called on to decide every public improvement by separate vote. Such a proposal, besides being an unjustifiably expensive one, not only would destroy and delay public housing but would constitute a set-back to American representative government.

The various housing and redevelopment laws have been part of our state program for the last fifteen years. Our Philadelphia area is on the threshold of a great expansion because of the new plants building along the Delaware. The future of this great area, the demands of the mobilization prices and the needs of our people call on you to defeat this desperate maneuver.

Sincerely yours,

Harry Ferleger, Executive Vice-Chairman.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, until the question of a wage state tax has been resolved we question the wisdom of bringing any other political subdivision into the wage tax category. Therefore we felt that this bill should be defeated.

Mr. GOOD. Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to give every consideration to the second class townships in regard to being included under 481. I ask the Members to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

(a) Within twenty-one days after the final order of any judge of the juvenile court, committing or placing any dependent, neglected or delinquent child, such child shall, as a matter of right, by his or her parent or parents or next friend, have the right to present to the court a petition to have his or her case or cases reviewed and reheard, [if, in the opinion of such parent, parents, or next friend, an error of fact or of law or of both has been made in such proceedings or final order, or if said order has been improvidently or inadvertently made.]

Upon the presentation of such petition, the court shall grant such review and rehearing as a matter of right. The testimony at such reviews and rehearings shall be taken down and transcribed by an official court stenographer, which testimony shall be duly made a part of the record in such case. [From the final order of such court, in proceedings for such rehearings and reviews, appeals shall lie as a matter of right to the Superior Court, upon the same terms and with the same regulations as are provided by law with respect to appeals from any decree of the orphans' court. In hearing such appeals, the Superior Court shall consider the testimony as a part of the record.]

(b) An appeal may be taken from any decision, refusal of a petition for review or refusal of a petition for revocation or modification of an order of Juvenile Court, within sixty (60) days thereafter to the County Court of Allegheny County. Every petition for appeal shall identify the parties, state the facts of the case, state the decision of the court, and state the reasons for complaint.

(c) Such petition shall be presented either in person or by registered mail to the President Judge of the County Court of Allegheny County and a copy filed with the judge of juvenile court. Within ten days thereafter, the judge of juvenile court shall certify to County Court of Allegheny County a complete account of the case, showing the facts, the decision and the basis on which such decision was made.

(d) The President Judge of County Court shall appoint three members of the court to examine the case on its pleadings to determine whether or not prima facies cause for appeal exists. The court en banc may determine the cause upon the pleadings or order a hearing on the petition.

(e) If after determination of the petition for appeal, the court finds that cause for appeal exists, the court shall set a date for a hearing and the case shall be heard de novo by three judges of County Court of Allegheny County.

(f) Cause for appeal shall be established in pleading or evidence if it is shown.

(1) That the case as heard by Juvenile Court was determined on material beliefs of fact which are untrue.

(2) That the neglected child may be better cared for or the delinquent child better corrected by some manner or treatment other than that ordered and directed by Juvenile Court.

(3) That the decision was improper under all the circumstances.

(g) Hearing may be held in private in county court, but records may be taken for the purpose of appeal to Superior Court.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed the the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1951.

The proverbial showers of April that carry life-giving moisture to the winter-scarred land also brought to this Commonwealth fifty-eight years ago an individual who was destined to invest its governmental structure with grace and vitality.

Although Governor Fine was born in Luzerne County and his youthful experiences were restricted to its confines, yet on attaining man's estate his vision broadened and his interests soon encompassed the welfare and prosperity of every section of the Commonwealth.

As a young lawyer, his zeal for social justice always took precedence over any desire for personal advantage or legal prestige.

As a judge, he envisaged the numerous problems that came before him, along with their sources and background, in this selfsame impartial manner that became the basis for many fair and objective decisions.

Although a judicial sanctuary is a prize of security that many a man would covet, yet Governor Fine in spite of the hazards of political existence and his abandonment of an assured career courageously responded to the call of the people to serve them in the capacity of their Chief Magistrate.

Since the anniversary of his birthday falls in the midst of unusual legislative activity; therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly (if the Senate concur) extend to Governor John S. Fine its heartfelt and sincere greetings on the occasion of his fifty-eighth birthday anniversary; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly express its fondest hope that the Governor will be privileged to move along the pathway of many more milestones of sustained health, increasing prosperity, and expanding governmental service and opportunity to the end that the people of this Commonwealth may become the beneficiaries of his administrative skill and sagacity into the indefinite future; and it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to His Excellency, Governor John S. Fine.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, apparently the headquarters staff of the PSEA has circulated reports leading the teachers of this Commonwealth to believe that possible salary increases are wholly dependent upon the rise or fall of the proposed flat income tax.

Many teachers as a result of this wholly malicious, misleading propaganda have been reduced practically to a state of hysteria. I know of no occasion in the history of Pennsylvania when an organization staff which should uphold high standards has descended to the malicious deception that the headquarters staff of the PSEA has descended to.

It is not true in any sense that the teachers' salary program stands or falls upon the success of the wage or the income tax measure. Both the majority and minority Members of this House regard the figure fixed in the Governor's budget for the public schools as a minimum figure. We do not regard it as a maximum in one way or another, irrespective of the thing that befalls any particular tax measure. I am sure that the teachers of this Commonwealth, those interested in the mental health institutions, and those interested in the other essential services that the Commonwealth renders can rest assured that those needs will be financed. It is unsportsmanlike; it is playing a low standard of politics for any organization to so delude the teachers of the Commonwealth that they shower telegrams and letters upon the Members of this House, because of their belief that if a particular tax measure falls then they do not receive any salary increase.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make a brief statement to the Minority Leader, and say that certainly the teachers' and all other programs will rise or fall on whether or not we provided the money, whether it be this type of tax or any other tax. But we do have to provide the money in this House for everything we have promised.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thoroughly agree with the Majority Leader, and I hope, since he has been so broad minded since this session began, that he does not now develop a single-track mind and center his attention solely upon a particular tax program which is inherently so questionable that there has up to this time been a refusal to submit it to public scrutiny, and offer the opportunity for those that might have suggestions to make to appear at a public hearing.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSOR

Mr. HARRY W. PRICE, JR., asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

REPORT OF PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION ON INTERSTATE COOPERATION

Mr. WOOD presented the report of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation.

CONDOLENCE

Mr. BERKSTRESSER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1951.

Harvey H. Clevenger, a member of the 1947-1949 session of the House of Representatives, succumbed to a cardiac ailment while on duty as a maintenance inspector of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Mr. Clevenger was an active participant in church, fraternal, and political circles. He was a member of the Methodist Church of McConellsburg. He held membership in the F. and A. M. at Chambersburg, the Harrisburg Consistory and the Jaffa Shrine at Altoona.

He was an ardent Republican for many years and at the time of his death was the Chairman of the Republican County Committee for Fulton County.

Vocationally, Mr. Clevenger was a construction engineer for over twenty-five years. His magnificent personality was the key to a host of admirers and friends and his untimely death will be mourned by many who had the rare fortune to associate with him. He is survived by his wife, one son, three daughters, and three sisters; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House pause to express respect and sorrow at the passing of one of its outstanding members; and be it further

Resolved, That this House note the great loss which McConellsburg has sustained in its deprivation of an outstanding citizen and a civic leader; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the widow of Harvey H. Clevenger—Mrs. Amy Lodge Clevenger of McConellsburg.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. JUMP from the Committee on Cities—Third Class, reported as committed House Bill No. 955, entitled:

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 11, 1951.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GILBERT L. BENNETT, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, who has called our fathers to Thy service and opened their eyes to behold Thy wondrous works, Thou art the same today even as Thou wast in the beginning. Thou art our refuge in this life. Our fathers believed and trusted in Thee. Therefore didst Thou teach them the laws of life and the way of wisdom.

Thy blessing we invoke upon our Governor, the Presiding Officer and Members of this body, and the people of this great Commonwealth. Grant unto us all a faith equal to our several tasks. We pray in the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding Session.

COMMENDING THE RESIDENTS OF SOMERSET COUNTY FOR ORIGINATING THE SOMERSET COUNTY MAPLE FESTIVAL

Mr. HARE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 11, 1951.

Whereas, the Fourth Annual Somerset County Maple Festival will be held on April 12th and 13th of this week in Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, this event has captured the public fancy throughout the Nation, by calling attention to this sweet distillation of the sugar maple tree, and

Whereas, the Meyersdale Chamber of Commerce is the guiding light in thus calling attention to an almost forgotten art and

Whereas, it is common knowledge and a generally accepted fact that the residents of Somerset County have been singularly blessed with an abundance of the better traits found in man, and

Whereas, on many occasions discussions concerning the County have been matters of public debate embracing the productivity of our fields, the size and color of our barns, and the pulchritude of our fair ladies, inevitably ending up on the sweet subject of maple syrup, and

Whereas, the County's inhabitants have been known for generations as the Frosty Sons of Thunder, and their abiding place has been called the Roof Garden of Pennsylvania, The Foothills of Heaven, and

Whereas, our third grade maple syrup is regularly sold to the city slickers as first grade Vermont syrup, and commend any person or group of persons who publicize the natural products of our great State,

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania commends the Community and the County for their initiative in originating and carrying forward The Somerset County Maple Festival and that the Chief Clerk of the Senate forward copies of this resolution to Mr. Herman Bashore and to Mr. Thomas Shipley, Meyersdale, Pennsylvania. Co-Chairman of the Festival Committee.

An Act to reenact sections one to nine inclusive of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2803) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" by making the same applicable in counties of the second class and repealing inconsistent laws excepting as to proceedings now pending

Section 1 Sections one to nine inclusive of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2803) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of townships of the first class and parts thereof to cities and boroughs and regulating the proceeding pertaining thereto" are hereby reenacted to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That whenever electors equal to at least ten per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in any township of the first class contiguous to a city or borough at the last preceding general election or whenever ten per centum of the qualified electors residing within any part of a township of the first class contiguous to a city or borough shall petition the council of such city or borough for the annexation of the township of the first class or part thereof to the contiguous city or borough and for a referendum on the question of such annexation the council shall cause a question to be submitted at the primary election occurring at least sixty days thereafter by certifying a resolution duly adopted to the county commissioners of the county or counties in which any part of the city or borough or the township of the first class is located for submission of such question on the ballot or on voting machines at such election both in such township and in the city or borough to which annexation is desired in the manner provided by the election laws of this Commonwealth

Such question shall be in the following form

Do you favor the annexation of the township of (or the part of the township briefly described) to the city (or borough) of?	Yes
	No

If a majority of the persons voting on such question in the entire township and a majority of the persons voting on such question in the city or borough shall vote "yes" then the township of the first class or part thereof as the case may be shall on the first Monday of January next following be and become a part of the city or borough

All petitions shall be accompanied by a plot or plots of the territory to be annexed showing all streets and highways municipal improvements and public buildings and all petitions for the annexation of a part of a township of the first class shall include a description of the part of the township sought to be annexed

Section 2 Until changed in the manner provided by law the township of the first class or part thereof if not divided into wards shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city or of the enlarged borough if such borough is at the time divided into wards and if the township or part of a township at the time of the annexation was divided into wards then each ward of the township or part of a township shall constitute a separate new ward of the enlarged city or borough (if divided into wards) and shall be numbered by the council of the city or borough consecutively beginning with the next highest number after the existing highest numbered ward of the city or borough Until changed in the manner provided by law all election districts in the township of the first class or part thereof shall remain as constituted at the time of the annexation and shall become election districts of the enlarged city or borough All election and other officers of such election districts in office at the time of the taking effect of the annexation shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms unless sooner removed as provided by law

Section 3 In the case of the annexation of an entire township of the first class all the indebtedness of the township as well as the indebtedness of the city or borough to which the same is annexed shall be paid by the city or borough as enlarged by such annexation and all territory included within the limits of the same shall be liable for the payment of the floating and bonded indebtedness and the interest thereon of all the territory included within such enlarged city or borough All taxes thereafter levied therefor shall be uniform throughout the territorial limits of the enlarged city or borough

All of the public property owned by any such township shall become and remain the public property of the city or borough to which it is annexed

Section 4 Where any part of any township of the first class is annexed to any city or borough the township officers of that part of the township not annexed and the city or borough council shall make a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of all public property owned by the township at the time of annexation both real and personal including funds as well as of indebtedness if any to and between the township and the city or borough In making such adjustment and apportionment of the property and indebtedness the township and the city or borough shall be entitled respectively to share in a division of the property and indebtedness in the proportion that the assessed valuation of the land remaining in the township bears to the assessed valuation of the land annexed The adjustment and apportionment as made shall be reduced to writing in proper form and duly executed and acknowledged by the proper officials and filed in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions in the county in which said city is located

Section 5 In case the council of the city or borough and the township authorities cannot make such amicable apportionment and adjustment of their property and indebtedness in compliance with this act within six months after any such annexation then the council or any officer of the township may present a petition to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the city or borough is located whereupon the court shall appoint three disinterested commissioners residents and taxpayers of the county not residing in the city or borough nor in the township who after hearing notice of which shall be given to the city or borough and township interested as the court shall direct shall make report to the court making an apportionment and adjustment of all the property as well as indebtedness if any to and between the city or borough and the township said report to state the amount if any that shall be due and payable from the city or borough to the township or from the township to the city or borough as well as the amount of indebtedness if any that shall be assumed by the city or borough or by the township or both of them

Section 6 The commissioners shall give the city or borough and the township at least five days notice of the filing of their report and unless exceptions are filed thereto by the city or borough or by the township within thirty days after filing thereof the same shall be confirmed by the court absolutely and any sum awarded by said report to the city or borough or to the township shall be a legal and valid claim in its favor against the city or borough or township charged therewith and the amount of debt if any apportioned to any city or borough or township shall be a legal and valid claim against such city or borough or township charged therewith and any property real or personal given and adjudged to the city or borough or the township shall become and be the property of the city or borough or the township to whichever one the same is given and adjudged and upon such report being confirmed such claim or indebtedness charged against any city or borough or against any township may be collected in the same manner as a judgement is collected against any city or borough or township Such commissioners shall be allowed five dollars per day for each day actually spent by them in the performance of their duties together with their actual necessary expenses All costs and expenses of such proceedings shall be apportioned by the court to and between the township as it shall deem proper

In case exceptions are filed to the report of such commissioners the court shall dispose of the same taking testimony therein if deemed advisable and the decision of the court thereon shall be final and binding on the several cities boroughs and townships unless an appeal is taken within thirty days to the Superior or Supreme Court as in other cases

Section 7 In cases in which such cities boroughs or townships of the first class are situated in two or more counties the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the city or borough is located shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the matter but the same shall be heard by a judge not a resident of either of the judicial districts affected who shall be called to preside specially in the matter and in such case the court shall appoint the commissioners hereinbefore provided for them both or all of such counties

Section 8 When an election is held on the question of annexation under the provisions of this act and the township of the first class proposed to be annexed or in which the territory proposed to be annexed is located votes against such annexation the question of such annexation shall not again be voted upon for a period of two years from the date of such election

Section 9 All proceedings for the annexation of a township of the first class or a part thereof to any city or borough under the provisions of any existing law that are pending and not finally disposed of on the effective date of this act shall in the discretion of the courts before which they are pending or if not pending in any court upon petition of any city borough or township affected to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the township is located be discontinued and vacated and all proceedings for the annexation of any township of the first class or part thereof to any city or borough shall thereafter be had only under the provisions of this act

Section 2 The act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 430) entitled "An act providing a method of annexation of parts of townships of the first class in counties of the second class not in excess of twenty per centum of the assessed value of any such township in counties of the second class to contiguous cities of the second class boroughs or other contiguous townships of the first class and regulating the proceedings pertaining thereto" and all other acts and parts of the acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed except as to proceedings now pending

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

An Act to amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" by providing for nominations and elections of county officers in counties about to undergo a change in classification and imposing certain duties upon county commissioners county boards of elections and others

Section 1 The act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" is hereby amended by adding to Article IX thereof a new subdivision subdivision (d) and two new sections therein sections 990 and 991 to read as follows

(d) Nominations and Elections in Counties about to Undergo a Change in Classification

Section 990 County Boards to Ascertain Offices to be Filled Whenever pursuant to the provisions of The General County Law the Governor certifies a change of classification to any county the board of county commissioners shall immediately after the recording of such change notify the county board of elections of the change in classification The board of elections shall thereupon promptly ascertain all county offices to be filled at the ensuing municipal election as a result of the impending change in classification and any existing county offices which are not to be filled at said election For this purpose it shall be the duty of the chairman of the county committee of each party to send to the board a written notice setting forth all party offices to be filled in the county at the ensuing municipal election

Section 991 Procedure upon Ascertaining Offices When the board shall have ascertained all offices to be filled at the ensuing municipal election it shall proceed as already provided in this article if it is still possible to secure nominations for such offices in accordance with this article at the primary election But if notice of an impending change in classification as hereinbefore provided for does not come to the election board in time for it to ascertain the county offices for the primary election then all candidates who have been or are nominated for county offices pursuant to subdivision (a) or to subdivision (b) of this article shall in all cases where the offices for which they are nominated are the same under the county's present classification and under its new classification which is impending as a result of the Governor's certification be the candidates for those offices except for deaths or withdrawals provided for in this act Provided however That no office which is not automatically established by law for the impending classification shall be deemed to be established by this section Any nomination either for joint county offices or for any separate county office when such offices or office will become either partly or wholly separate or will become joint with one or more presently separate county office upon the ensuing first Monday of January shall not be construed as a nomination for any of the said offices but any person being such a nominee may be nominated for any new office or offices ascertained All offices ascertained which are to be filled at the municipal election in anticipation of the new classification and for which nominations have not been made pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this subdivision may have candidates nominated for them as if vacancies had occurred as to the candidates for such offices and as if they were substituted nominations in accordance with the procedure insofar as it is applicable provided by sections 979 980 and 981

(b) of this act for substituted nominations except that the cause of vacancy set out in the nomination certificates shall not be death or withdrawal but that the office was not ascertained for nominations in time for the regular procedures established by this article

Upon the ascertainment of the offices to be filled at the ensuing municipal election if it shall appear that any candidates have been or will be nominated for offices which are to be abolished as a result of the impending change in classification the county board of elections shall proceed to keep off or to remove from the ballots or ballot labels all such nominations together with the offices involved

Upon the ascertainment of offices to be filled at the municipal election pursuant to notice of change in classification the board shall give notice of all such offices by newspaper publication at least twice in accordance with section 106 of this act indicating whether the nominations thereto were obtained at the primary election or are to be obtained as hereinbefore provided Notice of the November election shall be given as provided in section 1201 of this act and shall set forth (1) any existing county offices which will cease to exist on the ensuing first Monday of January indicating that those offices and any candidates therefor will not appear as such upon the ballots or ballot labels (2) existing county offices which will subsist and the candidates therefor (3) county offices which will come into existence on the ensuing first Monday of January and the candidates therefor

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 716, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Appropriation Acts page 62) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislation and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine" providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Walker, is there a breakdown of the deficiency appropriations requested by the various departments involved in House Bill No. 716 available to us?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is a breakdown furnished to the Senate and the House Appropriations Committees which is available to any Member of the General Assembly.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you. Mr. President, I do not know whether there is a breakdown of the deficiency items represented by House Bill No. 716.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not know whether the gentleman heard my answer to his question or not. As I understand it, the interrogation was, is there a breakdown available. Mr. President, my answer was in the affirmative. I just now thought I heard the gentleman say he did not know whether there is a breakdown available or not. I again desire to inform the gentleman that there is a breakdown available.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Walker, will you agree to temporarily hold up House Bill No. 716, pass it over, until we get a chance to look at this breakdown? I would like to know what I am voting for.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, over in the Committee on Appropriations in the House and in the Senate there are breakdowns available. There are represented on the Appropriations Committee members of both the Republican and the Democratic groups, and by a very rapid count there are seven—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield a moment?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, maybe Senator Walker does not remember, but this bill was reported to the floor by consent. There was no meeting where we could see this breakdown of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the only thing I am trying to say is there are seven members of the Minority Party on this Committee, one of whom practically lives in the appropriation office. Now, I have no objection to them obtaining the information that they so desire. The only thing I am suggesting is, Mr. President, if they wanted this information they should never have agreed to report this bill out on the floor by agreement. It seems to me there is too much of that.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have yielded as long as I am going to yield. I am going to finish my statement and then they can have the floor.

Mr. President, I have no objection to this bill going over until Monday, and any information that they desire I think should be made available to them, and if there is not sufficient information in the Appropriation Committee's hands, then, Mr. President, I think that they would have sufficient time and I am heartily in favor of them checking up with the various departments that are represented in this deficiency appropriation bill.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much. Will the bill go over until Monday?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, for the information of the Majority Floor Leader, the request that he made to me was that the bill that had the deficiency appropriation for the Department of Public Assistance be reported to the floor, but instead of only that bill being reported there were three bills reported. That is the actual thing that happened.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am certain the gentleman from Allegheny is not suggesting that I have any influence in the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DENT. Agreed to, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Did the Chair understand the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, to make a request that the bill go over in order?

Mr. YOSKO. That is right, Mr. President.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 716, on third reading, go over in its order, until Monday to give us a chance to look at the breakdown of the expenses involved in the deficiencies appropriations.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 719, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Welfare to reimburse State-aided hospitals for part of the cost of training student nurses in approved schools of nursing

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of four hundred forty thousand dollars ($440,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Welfare for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the two fiscal years commencing the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-nine to be paid to State-aided medical and surgical hospitals for the purpose of reimbursing such hospitals for part of the cost of training student nurses in approved schools of nursing Payments from the appropriation herein made shall be made to such hospitals from time to time at the rate of seventy-five dollars ($75) annually for each student nurse being trained in a hospital

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire of the Minority side whether House Bill No. 719 is included in the request. That is also a deficiency appropriation.

Mr. BARR. No. Mr. President, we have to take care of the nurses.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE BILL NO. 175 CALLED UP

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to direct the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to page 6 of the Senate Calendar, under the heading of Bills on Second Reading. House Bill No. 175, Printer's No. 211, appears on the Calendar on Second Reading. Yesterday that bill was amended by correcting the title, and for the information of the Members of the Senate it was supposed to be amended and read for the second time so that it would appear on the Third Reading Calendar. It appears on the Second Reading Calendar, and I understand it is rightfully on third reading. May I clear that with the desk? Is that correct, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. Yes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may we have the Calendar corrected so that the bill appears on the Third Reading Calendar and read it for the third time?

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 175, as follows:

An Act authorizing and directing the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to make a comprehensive study of the migratory habits of fish particularly shad and the stocking and tagging of shad below and above the Safe Harbor Dam the Holtwood Dam and the Conowingo Dam and to cooperate with the federal government and the Joint State Government Commission in connection therewith and prescribing powers and duties

Whereas prior to the construction of the Safe Harbor Dam the Holtwood Dam and the Conowingo Dam on the lower Susquehanna River shad fishing was an important industry in Pennsylvania and

Whereas the shad industry is now virtually extinct in Pennsylvania and

Whereas the diversification of economic activity in Pennsylvania is of the utmost importance in connection with the stabilization of the Commonwealth's economy and

Whereas the Congress of the United States has authorized a study of shad and has offered to cooperate with Pennsylvania and to share the cost of a joint effort in determining the factors relevant in the migration of shad in the Susquehanna and its tributaries

Section 1 The Pennsylvania Fish Commission hereinafter termed "Commission" is hereby authorized and directed to make a comprehensive study of the migratory habits of fish particularly shad including the stocking and tagging of shad below and above the Safe Harbor Dam the Holtwood Dam and the Conowingo Dam

Section 2 The Commission is hereby authorized to invite and accept from the Federal government cooperation and financial aid in connection with the study authorized and directed in Section 1 and to cooperate with the Joint State Government Commission in connection therewith

Section 3 The Commission is directed to report the results of the study hereby authorized and directed to the next regular session of the General Assembly

Section 4 Effective date this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, some of the members from the Democratic Caucus were against this particular bill, and I want to explain to them what happened by the amendments being inserted. As I understand it, our objections were to the fact that we were taking approximately fifteen thousand dollars out of the Commonwealth General Fund to be spent on a purely sport enterprise. In other words, it had something to do with taking shad in truck loads up the Susquehanna and dropping them in the Susquehanna, with little numbers on their tails, and then find out how many of them get their tails twisted before they get through the locks down at the lower end of the River. We objected to that because we felt that money should come from the Fish and Game Fund and ought to be under the supervision of the Fish and Game Commission. Mr. President, for the information of my colleagues I want it clearly understood that I am voting upon this bill in the affirmative with the understanding that the moneys will come from the Fish and Game Fund and not from the General Fund of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland is correct. The amendments placed in the bill do take the project out from under the Joint State Government Commission and return it to the Pennsylvania

Fish Commission where the Senate felt it rightfully belongs, and also the appropriation of fifteen thousand dollars was deleted from the bill. The only amendment that was made yesterday in the bill was to delete the appropriation from the title. Inadvertently, it had not been stricken from the title when the appropriation was stricken from the body of the bill, and that was the only additional amendment placed in the bill. So, the gentleman from Westmoreland is correct in the information he gave the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to advise the gentlemen of the Senate with regard to House Bill No. 716, Printer's No. 112, I am advised, since we put that bill over, that there will not be sufficient money, according to a statement from the Auditor General, to meet some of the pay rolls on April 15 unless we pass this bill, and may I suggest that if there is some checking up to be done that it be done as expeditiously as possible so that we will not delay this pay roll too long.

Mr. President, as the gentlemen of the Senate know, we are adjourning today for the week, and as a result they will not be able to meet the April 15 pay roll in some of these departments unless we pass this bill.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am going to be brief because I know you men want to get home. I want to read partly from a letter printed in the Pittsburgh Press on Monday of this week, written to the Pittsburgh Press by the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, and to point out to the Members of the Senate how accurate his figures were compared to what this bill is that we have before us today.

Mr. President, in answering an editorial written by the Press, the Mayor has said:

"and, of course, we have the State investigation which is spending more than one thousand dollars a day"—and may I interpose at this time that is not counting the money being expended by the State Police down in our City—"in a rather frantic effort to turn up with something which will justify its existence. No agency could be more partisan, more vindictive, more determined to 'get' prominent members of the opposition party than this fantastically expensive and endlessly prolonged special inquiry."

"Quite frankly, I cannot see how anyone can have confidence in an investigation begun and directed by the ex-Attorney General of Pennsylvania, who, immediately after his forced removal from that office, again appeared as counsel for notorious hoodlums and racketeers. Margiotti's appointments are obviously of his own stripe, and his is still the directing hand."

"But be that as it may, it is obvious that this swarm of special deputy attorney generals, political accountants, State Police Officers detached from normal duties, is leaving nothing undone to uncover and publicize anything which may be to the discredit of this administration."

"Now, what has come of all of this?"

"Never have so many labored so much and produced so little."

Mr. President, in this deficiency appropriation today I note that there are approximately four hundred fifty thousand dollars for salaries and expenses. I know one department alone where there are only five hundred and fifty employees of the State, and their traveling expenses have amounted to one hundred fifty thousand dollars. I also note that there has been an investigation being held in the City of Philadelphia for the past two years, and the amount expended in that investigation has been the sum of forty-seven thousand dollars, while at the same time an investigation in Allegheny County from the time it began until about a month ago has cost the taxpayers of this State over ninety thousand dollars.

Mr. President, I wonder why the difference? Philadelphia is quite a much larger city, and I do realize that it is under Republican rule. I presume then that it costs twice as much to investigate in cities that are under Democratic rule. I also note in this deficiency appropriation for the Department of Labor and Industry that in salaries, the deficiencies have amounted to two hundred thousand dollars. I appreciate the fact that some of that could be taken up in the raise granted by Mr. Duff right before the election last year. I personally was for the raise, but I just was not for the timing, because I think the raise should have been given on the first of the year, as it was in the City of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, because the cost of living started upwards previous to the budgets that were made up for the year 1950.

Now, Mr. President, I could talk here endlessly about the money that is being wasted. I only hope that the next time they start one of these political probes, they will go through and complete it because they have called off this probe temporarily for a period of six weeks, and everyone is being paid the same as though they were working. I always thought that under the due process in our government, when there was a Grand Jury inquiry being made, that they had some facts to go on. The gentlemen had nothing more to go on, and they had to take a six weeks vacation to go out and see if they could not dig something else up. If there is anything wrong, I hope they find it. If anyone has done anything wrong, I hope they go through with their prosecution.

Mr. President, I do know also that the prosecuting attorney is trying now to delay the trial of one former member of this Senate, Senator Frey, who is the City Controller of Pittsburgh, and I noticed in the morning paper today where he was rebuked by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, which has ruled that he would have to go to trial next week, and I fully intend to get up several times while this trial is going on to show you gentlemen the absurdity of the charges being made against this former member of the Senate. Here is a man who has been indicted, and I read—what ever it is you present to a Grand Jury—the presentment, and I find out he was indicted for sending a package out to his daughter's farm in a city automobile.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I just want to suggest one thing to the gentlemen of the Senate. I know that Senator Barr and I have no mutual desire to pry into either the Philadelphia investigation or the Pittsburgh investigation here on the floor of the Senate. I just want to call to the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate, for example, the traveling expenses that he mentioned for the Department of Labor and Industry. There is no suggestion, I assume, that the traveling expenses were not rightfully incurred in the sincere discharge of the responsibility of the Department. If there is something in error in the traveling expenses, if they have not been properly incurred, then I think that the gentlemen of the Senate should know that. If, however, as far as the gentleman knows, there is nothing illegal about the incurrence of the expense items suggested, then I think that that statement should be cleared on the Floor of the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think that everybody in the Senate knows that there is very little of the policeman or cop in me, and I am not at all trying to say how these traveling expenses were incurred, because that is not my duty. I say it is too high when you pay one hundred fifty thousand dollars for traveling expenses for five hundred fifty-eight employees, many of them located here in Harrisburg, some in Pittsburgh and some in Philadelphia, but when it comes to some of it, I must say that I do think that there is a little laxity, because at the time this investigation was on in Pittsburgh last year, I happened to be up at the William Penn Hotel at the time the Republican State Committee met in September, and I was there with a man who counted forty-two State cars that came up and discharged their passengers for this convention. At the same time they are trying to indict a city councilman in Pittsburgh, who had a farm outside of the city limits, for driving his car outside of the city. This man at that time wanted me to make some political benefit out of that in connection with the campaign of Senator Walker, but I said, "No." When I have to stoop to try to use things like that in a campaign, that is the day I would leave politics.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sorry that there seems to be some confusion, but what I was discussing was the Department of Labor and Industry. As I understand this bill that is now before us, there is an item of one hundred fifty thousand dollars for traveling expenses. Is that not right, sir?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, no, there is not. There is an item of two hundred seventy-one thousand dollars for the Department of Labor and Industry, but in the breakdown I note that the traveling expenses in that Department have been, in the last period that was given us, increased one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this is the item concerning which I suggested that if there is no suggestion that they were not sincerely incurred in the honest discharge in the duties and responsibilities of the Department, then we should understand that. If there is some doubt or suspicion that they were not rightfully incurred, I think the Senate should know that.

Mr. President, I am talking about the Department of Labor and Industry. I am not for the moment investigating Allegheny County or Philadelphia County.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I may not have expressed myself clearly, but the point I was trying to make is that I read, some few weeks after Governor Fine took office, where he wrote to the head of each department and told them before they go on all these junkets, they have been going on, they would have to get permission out of the Governor's Office, and if these departments follow through on what the Governor asks, I think the next time we come back here this item will be considerably cut.

Mr. WALKER. I am assuming, Mr. President, that the answer to my question was no. I again repeat, Mr. President, I am assuming that the one hundred fifty thousand dollars item for traveling expenses charged in the deficiency bill for the Department of Labor and Industry was sincerely and honestly incurred in the faithful discharge of the duties and responsibilities of the Department.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, is the gentleman from Allegheny asking me a question?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President. If I am incorrect in the conclusions I have arrived at, I wish the gentleman would set me right.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I assume that when the Governor originally issued this proclamation, there must have been some irregularity or he would not have done it.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, we are getting into a field of collateral subjects. May I call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to the fact that the memorandum from the Governor's office dealt with out-of-State travel. I do not think that the item dealt with travel inside the State, and again, Mr. President, I am saying very carefully it is my assumption from what the gentleman now says about the one hundred fifty thousand dollars, that the item as incurred, sincerely incurred in the faithful discharge of the duties and responsibilities of the department.

Mr. BARR. That is a debatable question, Senator Walker, and that is your assumption, but I think it might be well for the Governor to issue another memorandum for inside the State junkets.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, what the gentleman is driving at is he thinks it would be grand if we passed a bill prohibiting deficiency appropriations. That is what he is working up to.

Mr. President, if there is nothing further we can exchange about the investigations in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, I suggest we now have a roll call on House Bill No. 176, Printers No. 112?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is quite apparent that the gentleman from Allegheny County is very definite at times and very evasive at other times. Right now his interrogation has proven that he wants to be very definite. He wants the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, to say yes or no to his question. Yesterday he threw a cloud of suspicion over the relief recipients, and when I asked him to give a specific case, he just passed it up. He was not too definite yesterday. It all depends upon the occasion, it seems.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if we are going to take a march back into the future, yesterday, when the Democratic Party got into a civil war on Public Assistance, if the gentleman from Cambria had any idea I was going to stick my neck into that argument, he certainly was out of his mind. That was a debate on the other side of the Floor, and I certainly was not going to be coaxed back into that. I was lucky to get out of it, and as long as the Democratic Party wants to fight among themselves about what happened yesterday, that is all right with us.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is quite apparent that the gentleman was out of his mind, but he is back into it now, despite the fact he said he would not get back into it yesterday. He got into it yesterday. He got up and made a long long talk on relief, and threw a cloud of suspicion over the relief recipients. He may or may not have been out of his mind, but right now he is.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the statement was made a short time ago that there was a breakdown of the expenditures involved in this deficiency appropriation. That, of course, was not true in toto. It was true in part. Mr. Stoner did not have the figures at his finger tips. Frankly, he should have them at his finger tips, because I understand he is in charge of the Appropriations Committee. He had to go around and dig them up. We had to recess and wait here until he got them, but the figures that he did bring were in lump sums so that it was impossible to analyze them.

Mr. President, the Majority Leader asked a question. He wanted to know whether or not the traveling expenses were incurred in the performance of duties for the Department. Frankly, he cannot say that the expenses were incurred in that manner and neither can I, because we got them in a lump sum, and if we want to really determine how the expenses were incurred, what we have got to do is take a look at the requisitions that were issued from time to time and that will tell us the story.

Mr. President, last December I wrote a letter to the Budget Secretary and he got the letter because I got an acknowledgment from him, and in that letter I specifically asked him that when he prepared the Budget report, if there were any deficiencies requested by any department, board or commission of the State government, he should get an itemized statement of what the deficiency was for and a detailed explanation of it. I have not seen any such statement presented to the Senate, or to the Appropriations Committee or to anybody else, and it is about time the Senate is presented with some sort of information with which we can be guided when we are called upon to vote for deficiency appropriations and other bills that are of interest to us as well as the people of the Commonwealth.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I want to be registered as voting "no" and after the roll call is announced, to give my reasons.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1

Holland,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, my reason for voting against the deficiency appropriation is the fact that we do not know what we are voting on. All we are voting on is figures supplied by departments. I think you will find after investigation that these deficiency appropriations occurred right before the election, when, according to statements made by opponents of the Republican Party in the Primary, it was stated that employees were traveling all over the State at State expense to attend political meetings and to enlarge the political meetings. Therefore, I feel that in this deficiency appropriation is a lot of money that was used in political campaigns and, therefore, that is why I voted against it.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the gentleman made a suggestion that these deficiencies were incurred right before the election. Now, Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman if he will obtain a copy of House Bill No. 716, Printer's No. 112 and turn to page 5 of the bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, what page?

Mr. WALKER. Page 5, beginning on line 10, To the Department of Public Instruction, and the balance of that page, Mr. President, is devoted to an explanation for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the payment of salaries of the county superintendents and assistant county superintendents of public schools and supervisors of special education or persons acting in their stead, as required by law, the sum of twenty-six thousand five hundred dollars, and beginning on line 16, for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for reimbursement to school districts for transportation of school children, as required by law, the sum of $1,066,320.

I ask the gentleman, Mr. President, is he under the impression that either of those two appropriations were made just before the election for political purposes?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, that is peanuts toward the other appropriations. That is about one-sixteenth of the appropriation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am asking the gentleman a specific question, and I would like to have him answer it.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I do not intend to evade the question, but the Department of Public Instruction is only one part of it. Let us go into some of the others.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have not heard the answer to this one yet.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I hope they did not have it in the Department of Public Instruction, but I do not know, after some of the statements made in the Primaries by the opponents of the Republican Party, and I am very doubtful about this and the Department of Public Instruction was controlled by the Republicans.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, that is just what I mean by loose statements made on the floor of the Senate for political purposes. The gentleman admits that he does not know, yet a few minutes ago he gave us his reason for voting "no" on the bill, because this money was spent just before the election for political purposes.

Mr. HOLLAND. Now, Mr. President, that is only a small part of it. Would you say the Department of Justice was not for political purposes? Would you say that the Department of Labor and Industry was not for political purposes? I know a good bit about your Labor Department.

House Bill No. 716, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Appropriation Acts, page 62), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, at the risk of starting another civil war on public relief in Pennsylvania, I am going to offer a bill in co-sponsorship with my distinguished colleague from Potter, Senator Berger, carrying out the concepts expressed editorially in the Philadelphia Inquirer last Sunday and the New York Times editorial commending us on our approach to this problem that has become a national irritant.

Here in Pennsylvania we have a definite pattern established, right or wrong. Under the United Mine Workers Welfare Fund we now pay one hundred dollars a month for a retired miner who can qualify under the program. As the son of a man who spent his lifetime in the coal mines, and who retired only last week, I am fully cognizant of that program. We have a program in Pennsylvania on unemployment compensation which is set at one hundred dollars a month, and our present workmen's compensation program, right or wrong, is set at one hundred dollars a month. If a teacher teaches school for forty years, she may qualify for one hundred dollars a month. To that end I am drawing the relief program into that same pattern and setting a ceiling on relief that a family might receive in Pennsylvania at one hundred twenty-five dollars a month, with the understanding that if a workman gainfully employed, through no fault of his own, no matter how many dependents are in the family, gets only one hundred dollars a month, then relief recipients should not be permitted to run up as high as three hundred dollars a month if they develop a chronic case of unemployment and unemployed tendencies.

Now, Mr. President, I am fully aware of the old adage that it is easy enough to titter when the soup is smoking hot, but it is mighty hard to giggle when there is nothing in the pot, but I have gone through this thing, as have many other of the groups in Pennsylvania, and on behalf of Senator Berger and myself, in the hope that this might prove a product toward final settlement of a chronic condition in public assistance, I would like to offer the bill at this time.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HARE and BERGER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 497, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from, the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by transferring the power of determining the nature and extent of assistance from the Department of Public Assistance to the County Boards and fixing the maximum allowable assistance.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. ROBINSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. ROBINSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 498, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (m) of Section 1 of the act, approved the ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 927), entitled "An act fixing and regulating the fees, commissions, mileage and other costs chargeable by the sheriff in counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes for their official acts and the services of their deputies, watchmen, appraisers and other agents; requiring prepayment of same, unless secured or chargeable to the county and delivery of itemized receipts therefor; requiring certain payments by the county, including the compensation of special deputies; providing for the taxation and collection of fees, commissions, mileage and other costs; requiring salaried sheriffs to account to the county for certain fees and commissions collected; and repealing inconsistent laws, general, special or local," by further fixing the mileage chargeable by sheriffs.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, April 16, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:12 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, April 16, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 11, 1951

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest Chaplain, Pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, as we seek Thy blessing on us as a group, we pray Thee, also, to consider each one separately; for we know that we can do what is best only as each of us hears Thee speak. If there is malice in any, root it out; where there is love, strengthen it. If there is self-interest, make it unsuccessful; where there is consideration for others, let it prosper. If there is unity in evil, break it up; where there is agreement in goodness, preserve it.

We pray Thee to bless each one who serves our Commonwealth for Thy name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, April 10, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

STUDENTS FROM EXETER JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WILBUR K. HAMILTON. RESOLUTION No. 29.

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1951.

The transition from a civilian economy to a state of mobilization, adequate to deter aggression against a secure peace, is invariably beset with delays and irritations.

For small business in particular, the unavoidable hiatus that develops between normal activity and the slack of re-tooling entails unemployment, shut down, and loss.

The roll of small business in maintaining a continuous flow of the countless articles that are indispensable to a well-integrated economy is not only legitimate, but is of such paramount importance as to warrant the establishment of a governmental department whose function would be to carry the needs and the requirements of Washington directly to the innumerable businesses, industries, mines, foundries, and machine shops throughout Pennsylvania. Thus, emergencies could be met promptly and priceless time would be spared in the all-important task of making Pennsylvania a dynamic arsenal of democracy in a threatening world; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, hereby memorializes the President of the United States to authorize the organization and the establishment of a governmental department for the express purpose of imparting useful information concerning the needs of the government directly to the many small businesses throughout the land, and particularly in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives forward a certified copy of this resolution to the President of the United States.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 204, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 1512 of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by requiring water utility companies to furnish to townships lists of water meter readings flat-rate bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer charges

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WM. C. LEONARD and ROBERTSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1512), page 3, line 2, by inserting after the word "charges" the following: "The township is authorized and empowered to pay to such utilities reasonable amounts for necessary clerical and other expenses incurred in the preparation of such lists."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WM. C. LEONARD and ROBERTSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after the word "charges" the following: "and providing reimbursement for their expenses."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 206, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township lists of water meter readings flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WM. C. LEONARD and ROBERTSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 2401), page 3, line 13, by inserting after the word "rate" the following: "The township is authorized and empowered to pay to such utilities reasonable amounts for necessary clerical and other expenses incurred in the preparation of such lists."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WM. C. LEONARD and ROBERTSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after the word "rates" the following: "and providing reimbursement for their expenses."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 252, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 605 of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 571), entitled "An act relating to assessments for taxation in counties of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for county, borough, town, township, school, except in cities and county institution district purposes; and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation thereof for such purposes; creating in each such county a board for the assessment and revision of taxes; defining the powers and duties of such boards; providing for the acceptance of this act by cities; regulating the office of ward, borough, town and township assessors; abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class; providing for the appointment of a chief assessor, assistant assessors and other employees; providing for their compensation payable by such counties; prescribing certain duties of and certain fees to be collected by the recorder of deeds; and eliminating the triennial assessment," by requiring the recorder's record of conveyances to contain complete post office addresses of grantees.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 811, entitled:

An Act to add section 1501.1 to the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by empowering township supervisors to compel connection with and use of sewer systems constructed by municipal authorities to impose penalties to enforce regulations and orders and to connect properties of owners failing or neglecting to make connection

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 840

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 840, Printer's No. 144, entitled:

An Act imposing an income tax on residents of Pennsylvania as herein defined including trust and estates and on income of non-residents derived from property, business or other sources in Pennsylvania; defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof; providing for the assessment, collection and lien of said tax; providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons, fiduciaries, partnerships, associations, corporations, political subdivisions, State officers, employes and departments; saving certain local taxes; and imposing penalties.

was defeated on final passage, Wednesday, April 4, 1951, be reconsidered.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Smith vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted on the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO AMEND MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 840

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 840, Printer's No. 144, was defeated on final passage, Wednesday, April 4, 1951, be amended by adding after the word reconsidered in the last line the following: "for the purpose of a Public Hearing and further consideration."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I notice that on this motion and in connection with the pending bill that the Majority Leader was privileged to say that he voted with the majority. I hope and trust and confidently believe that that is the last time in these proceedings that he can say he voted with the majority.

With this motion we return to our original position. We have said that this particular bill involving such a drastic change in our tax structure and our tax philosophy should be given a public hearing to the end that the various groups which have advocated the passage of this bill and the various groups which have opposed it should have the opportunity to state their case in an open forum and carry their message to the public.

Now I find that I am in line with some distinguished majority party opinion. I have here a clipping from the Philadelphia Inquirer, Tuesday morning, March 27th. The headline of that article says

"Full Hearing Promised on Pay Tax Bill."

I would say, Mr. Speaker, that the repeated caucuses that have been held and side bar conferences, are evidence of the fact there has at least been an attempt for boring from without and within, both.

But I call to the attention of the House the fact that it would be indeed a unique development if promises made by responsible party leaders, who presumably at the time they spoke were in the confidence of the executive should be repudiated by other party leaders.

Senate Majority Leader, John M. Walker, today declared there would be no attempt to railroad through the Legislature the more than one billion dollar budget and $163 million emergency tax program advocated by Governor John S. Fine. During their debate on the floor of the Senate Walker told the Senate that public hearings would be held on the administration's fiscal program to give the public the absolute picture and wherever necessary cut the fat and squeeze out the water.

Now I am asking the House in all seriousness whether first of all the administration has repudiated the promises made by its leaders on the open floor of the Senate. And if those promises have not been repudiated, then I am asking on what basis this House should abdicate its functions insofar as the obligation of holding a public hearing is concerned? Are we going to say to the other Chamber, "We just do not have time to examine this bill; we just do not have time to assure ourselves that we have cut out the fat; we just do not have time to see whether the appropriations are or are not adequate; we just do not have time to examine the estimates for the purpose of determining whether or not they are in line with the trend of the times; and so, we are just sending this bundle, this tax program over to the Senate without the examination that a responsible body should give it."

And it was not just one reporter that had the story about a public hearing. It was published in the other end of the state.

"Public Hearings Promised in State Budget Battle. Open Sessions Assured by Senator Walker as Democrats Rap Income Tax Plan.—Pittsburgh Press. Harrisburg, March 27th—The Battle of the Budget Will be fought in the Open and There Will Be No Railroading on tax plans."

"Fought in the open"—pregnant words.

That promise came today from Senator John M. Walker of Oakmont, Republican Floor Leader of the Senate. He said.

"There will be public hearings on Governor John S. Fine's $1,200,000,000, budget and that every item in it will be carefully examined. If we can find any way of saving money, we are going to do so."

Now, of course, in that article there is mention made of another statesman, one G. Mason Owlett. He has apparently taken the House under his gentle over-lordship; has temporarily divorced himself from his accustomed base in the Senate. He goes on to say that the only thing that can be done is to pass the Governor's tax program as is. At long last—at long last we find the distinguished gentleman bearing the banner of the average guy.

We had a Governor that threw Mason Owlett out of his office—could do business without him. In the same breath that this gentleman speaks about putting this tax program across, he says that FEPC is not an important matter and there are other things more important that should be discussed. And that in the face of the fact that the Executive has pledged his good faith to the enactment of FEPC legislation.

It was not just two reporters that told the people of this Commonwealth that there would be hearings. Pains were taken to plant that idea all over the state—"Income tax laws will get a hearing."

"Study of state budget promised by Senate leaders."—in the Philadelphia Bulletin. Harrisburg, March 27th.

"Opponents of new state taxes have a promise from Senate Majority Leader, John M. Walker, to hold public hearings on Governor Fine's budget."

Now I want to know whether their promises hold. I want to know and the people have a right to know whether if those promises hold, why this House would not be a party to any public hearings that are held regarding this measure. There is abundant reason why there should be a public hearing. If you read the morning papers, you have noted the fact that down at Washington they are cutting the budget to the tune of billions, and they are planning tax reductions because the tax statutes now in effect in view of existing business conditions, if continued would raise so much money that not even Harry Hopkins could spend it all, if he were down there trying.

There has been no examination with which I am acquainted, no examination with which the Members of this House are acquainted as to the actual effect of pending business conditions upon tax receipts, actual and estimated under the existing tax structure. And if abundant revenue over and above expectations were flowing into the coffers at Washington, is there any reason to conclude that here in Pennsylvania there ought not to be the same result?

The tax program should be examined and public hearings held to determine the effect upon current and estimated tax receipts flowing from the changes in the upward trend, in the amount of business being done in the country. It is absurd to conclude that with the government spending, placing contracts at the rate of a billion dollars a day, that business taxes will not increase.

Is Pennsylvania excluded from the realm, the ring of those to whom these war contracts are awarded? And will they have no effect upon business? Certainly they will have an effect upon business and they will have effect upon the taxes derived from business under our present tax structure. And only by means of a scientific inquiry can we determine what that increase would be.

I have many requests from responsible sources asking for a public hearing. The City Controller of Philadelphia says he wants to find out the extent to which this proposed income tax will affect the situation in Philadelphia. This House has a right to know what the responsible officials in charge of Philadelphia's fiscal affairs want to know; they have a right to know what the effect of this act will be, and they have a right to tell the Members of this House why they are opposed to this bill, if indeed they are.

Now I presume these motions have opened the way for a wide range of discussion in the event the Members of this House are disposed to speak. The instruction from my caucus, was that I do not arrange a formal speaking program and that the Members on both sides of the House feel free to rise and address this distinguished audience as the spirit may move them.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would yield to any other individual on this side or the other side of the House at this time that would like to make a statement.

First of all I would like to assure the gentleman on the other side that I certainly hope he is wrong when he said that this would be the last time I would vote with the majority. I can assure him that it will not be.

The Minority Leader made statements about what has been said in the Senate by the Senate Majority Leader. I would like to tell him, and I would like to tell every Member of this House, that the Senate Majority Leader was not speaking, never can speak and never will speak for House Members, regardless of what he says. If there are promises to be made for individuals in this House we will make them ourselves, not anyone in the Senate.

The Minority Leader also spoke about Mr. Owlett. I personally have not seen Mr. Owlett since long before the tax program, and because Mr. Owlett takes a stand either for or against I certainly think it is his prerogative as a citizen. He is no different from labor leaders that take a stand on subjects; he is no different from teachers; he is no different from any other individual in this State of ours. It is his privilege to take a stand either for or against any bill that we put on this floor.

One of the things concerning public hearings, at least one of the things that I have always had affect me,—and I think also every Member of this House,—has been requests from individuals whether or not they wanted a public hearing.

I am going to be very truthful, and I am going to repeat the statement of Mr. Lovett and say, "Let us be fair." I personally have had less than twenty-five requests from individuals for a public hearing. Out of those twenty-five requests but a few mentioned anything about a public hearing and just were against the basis of taxation; they do not want any taxation.

I would ask the gentlemen on the other side to remember that I come from the City of Philadelphia, there are several million people in that city, and if they felt as strongly as has been stated here about a public hearing, believe me, they would let me know about it.

I would like to compare some of these requests for a public hearing with other bills. I have received, and I think every Member in this House has received hundreds, not twenty or twenty-five, but hundreds of requests to have public hearings and fight against the registration of firearms act. I have had hundreds of letters on that.

I have had hundreds of letters opposing the loyalty oath and asking for public hearings, from very responsible people. I have had hundreds of letters asking for hearings on oleomargarine. But I have still received less than twenty on this tax bill or on the budget.

The major part of the communications that I have received have come from people who contend that they represent certain groups, and those very same persons are the very ones who are demanding the best educational facilities, the best hospitals, the best institutions and the best colleges in this State. They are the ones that are demanding public hearings as leaders and not representing individuals.

This budget and this tax program has not been a deep, dark secret. We have had it before us for weeks. The newspapers have had it. The general public has had it. Our budget has been publicized over the entire State, and I am sure that the gentlemen on the other side of the House will agree with me that a public hearing on a tax bill or a budget is unprecedented.

I have faith in our Appropriations Committee and I certainly think he should have. Our Appropriations Committee, as we know, screens every single item of expenditure for this State. They have done a good job in the past and I do not see why they will not do a good job now.

Furthermore, I do not think our budget, if it is compared, is out of line with any of the other States. Let us break it down and compare it on a yearly basis. Our budget is computed on a basis of $610 million a year; this is a yearly basis.

Now let us compare that to other States. New York and California, both States are comparable in population. Pennsylvania has approximately ten and a half million population, New York approximately fourteen, California approximately ten and a half. I think they are on a comparable basis. Both New York and California have budgets of over one billion dollars a year. Remember that, one billion a year, which is approximately sixty-six percent higher than our own budget. We also have to take into consideration that Pennsylvania is the only one of these three States that bears the entire burden of public assistance; they do not have that burden in other States as we do.

I would also like to call to the attention of the House another fact. New York City has an annual budget of $1,336,000 for 1951. The City of New York itself has a budget of that amount of money for one year, and yet everyone says our budget is exaggerated when it is $1 billion for two years.

Certainly these facts to my mind do not support the request for a public hearing in any way. I would like to know who here today can say that $368 million that we are spending for education can be reduced or should be reduced, or who will say that $284 million for public health and welfare should be reduced.

Who can say that $60 million for soldiers' bonus and retirement of funds and rentals can be forgotten? Those are exact amounts, and they total eighty-six percent of our general fund budget I say to you that a public hearing would be a total waste of time on this bill. The public has had the facts, and they have them today.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the distinguished and able Majority Leader had a good deal to say about the bill, but he hardly made out a case against the public hearing.

I have to keep quoting from the press. On April 8 editorially the Inquirer said, the fact of the matter is that there is no demonstrated need at this time for either a State income tax or a State sales tax, no demonstrated need. It is funny that the talented reporters and the talented editorial writers, if what the gentleman from Philadelphia says is true, should say that there is not a demonstrated need.

Then the Inquirer goes on to say first of all no proof has been furnished, that the $163 million deficiency is an immovable figure and cannot be cut. There has been no proof provided which shows the revenue estimates upon which the Governor's budget is partly based are iron clad.

I had not expected to argue about this bill, but since the Majority Leader has seen fit to introduce the merits of the particular bit of legislation into the discussion, when all we were talking about was the advisability of a public hearing, I want to call his attention to the fact that for decades budget office estimates have not been worth the paper they have been written on.

In 1941 the estimated receipts for the 1941-1943 biennium, as I read the budget, were $413 million; actual estimated receipts for the 1941-1943 biennium were $511 million, a difference of $97 million.

Now you can account for it by all kinds of trick bookkeeping, but that is all that the average person reading the budget can detect.

The estimated receipts for the 1943-1945 biennium were $380 million; the actual receipts for the 1943-1945 biennium were $529 million. A difference of more than a $100 million.

You can account for that difference again by trick bookkeeping. But for the average person who takes the figures and the budget and looks at them there they are, estimates for the coming biennium, and then on the next column what actually came in. The Differences have ranged over the years from $30 million to more than $100 million.

It is worthwhile taking time before a committee to untangle those figures. We do not have the time to do it here in the House because I read from my paper, I give a lot of figures, the Majority Leader comes back and says that if you shall consider the transfer of this fund from this account to this account, and if you consider the relative importance of the size of the surplus this year and the surplus next year, that it will all be explained.

But the public is as befuddled as I am about these budget things. The Post Gazette goes on to ruminate editorially to the following effect, "The Assembly's diffident attitude toward the budget has resulted in much fiscal uncertainty." If the newspapers are uncertain, certainly they convey their uncertainty to the general public. If the Assembly had kept a close watch upon the purse strings and had kept the public accurately informed, there would have been much less confusion as to the State's fiscal status at the end of the last two administrations.

Then here is a gem: take for instance, 1946, when the then Governor Edward Martin was running for the Senate with a boast that he would leave the State with a surplus of a $170 million. That fund vanished when Jim Duff took office and asked for $133 million in new taxes, and the surplus that Governor Duff was expected to leave has not prevented Governor Fine from asking for $163 million in additional taxes. I say there is abundant reason why the public should be permitted to sit in with the Ways and Means Committee of this House and get the facts and figures; if facts and figures there are. That will relieve the newspapers from the present confusion that they are carrying to the public; that will relieve the Members of this House from confusion, and will for all time prevent a repetition of a celebrated interlude, when a great and glorious party campaigned from one end of the State to the other concerning the glories of a $200 million surplus that vanished down to $9 million when the Governor appointed a special committee to find out what had become of the surplus. If there had not been talk of the $200 million surplus a Governor never would have recognized that talk by appointing a committee to find out what became of it.

You can avoid that sort of thing for the future by carrying your case before an open hearing. You do not carry your case before an open hearing because you are afraid of the facts and figures that would be produced at that hearing.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader, my friend Mr. Smith saw fit to use my saying "Let's be fair." I appreciated the fact that he gave any other Member an opportunity to speak prior to his making this statement. The reason I did not arise at that time, was because I thought the gentleman had a change of heart, and that he was going to get up and insist that we pass this amendment. But I find that the change of heart was not there.

I just want to say a few words about the response of the people of Pennsylvania for a public hearing. The gentleman from Philadelphia well knows that every Member of this House is sent to this House to represent his constituents. Since the very beginning I have insisted upon a public hearing. I find no letters in my mail condemning me for insisting upon a public hearing on this legislation, with the exception of a few letters that I received in the last few days from organizations that represent the school teachers of Pennsylvania. Their interest is a selfish interest. But what I want to say to you is that had I insisted upon a public hearing and the people that I represent felt that a public hearing was not necessary, I feel pretty sure that they would have notified me of their wishes. So I say, my friends, today again "let's be fair," if you have not anything to hide and time is not so important.

Are you afraid what would happen if there were a public hearing? Is Mr. Smith afraid that since he did not get any mail asking for it that there would be nobody here? I want to say to Mr. Smith that I feel sure if he permits a public hearing on this bill we will have all kinds of representation here to show him that the people of Pennsylvania are not in favor of putting a flat income tax on the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I certainly would like to assure both the gentlemen that have just spoken that we on this side of the House are not afraid of our budget. Our budget and our tax program is in black and white; we have given them to the public, we will back them up two years from now when the proof comes in. I am sure the gentlemen will have to agree that it is difficult enough to get tax experts to agree on forecasting for the future. You cannot get two out of ten to agree. As he knows and everyone else knows, we are not working, again let me remind him, on bookkeeping figures. We are working on definite forecasts for the futures. It can change; it can go up; it can come down. Two years from now we will be able to say "we told you so." It is in black and white for the public, it is in black and white for the gentlemen and it is in black and white for the newspapers. We have nothing to hide nor are we trying to hide anything.

I submit, Mr. Speaker, I would like this motion voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

NOT VOTING—1

Mihm.

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion to amend the motion to reconsider the vote, was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was defeated on final passage?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, we are now voting upon reconsideration of a bill that was defeated last week. I felt confident that if you would ever resurrect this bill you would do it for the purpose of a public hearing. But you have proven without a doubt today that that is not your intention.

Last week, from the arguments that were made on your own side of the House opposing this bill, they felt that they should have a public hearing to a great extent.

Since there has been such a change of heart, whether the influence of Mr. Owlett's piece in the paper has been brought to the attention of the Members, I do not know. I am still of the opinion that you have before us or are now going to try to bring before us a piece of legislation that my good friend from Philadelphia was surprised when I raised the question of constitutionality. But I find in the newspapers, especially in the Pittsburgh district, that there is some question on the constitutionality of certain sections and phrases of the bill.

I realize that the motion for reconsideration limits debate to some extent, but there are a few points that I think you should know and that we should talk about here before we vote for reconsideration. There are a few questions I want to ask and I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that this tax bill that we are now going to reconsider is the same as the tax that is now used in Philadelphia?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think that it is quite obvious, this one is an income tax and the other is a wage tax, so it certainly is not the same.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the bill, the present bill exempt those receiving bonuses?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, yes, it does.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, and would the gentleman explain to the Members of this House what the particular meaning of the word "bonus" is?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I must say, not being Mr. Webster, only being Mr. Smith, that probably the nature of the word "bonus" would be a gift or gratuity. It could be extended into that classification, I believe.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that in industry in this State certain corporations pay bonuses to certain individuals?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, well, that would not be exempt under this bill. That would be considered part of the salary, the same as it is under the Federal tax.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the wording is bonus, not salary. The gentleman receives his salary plus a bonus.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I did not quite get the gentleman's question.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman receives his salary plus a bonus.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it certainly has been considered by the Federal people, I think, that any bonus is considered part of salary and that is an example as the gentleman is now stating. The income taxes are withheld from that part of a man's salary because in that case a bonus would be part of his salary.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman exempt pensions under this particular bill?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, yes we do.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, and how broad is the word "pension."

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe it would cover any legitimate pension such as a blind pension, widow's pension, pension to soldiers.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consider a $100 a month pension to the miners as a pension?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if it is a true pension and not part of a salary I would say yes.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consider every judge's pension in the State of Pennsylvania a pension?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, speaking of a judge, I think we are kicking the word "pension" around just a little bit. I wonder if the gentleman does not mean retirement. I would like to ask the gentleman, is he talking retirement now or pension?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain to me the difference between a pension and a retirement?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think the judges get a retirement, not a pension. They pay in a part of it and the State pays in a part of it. I think that is correct, I am not sure, but I think I am correct in that.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman consider the $100 a month that I was talking about a retirement?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would say if it is a pension, no.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that the Steel Corporation in their last settlement with the workers agreed to pay the difference between social security and $100 a month.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, maybe if I would read this clause to this gentleman it might make him understand it a little bit better. Would the gentleman have any objection if I read section 8 on page 15.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would be glad if the gentleman read the whole bill.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, no I will not take up the gentleman's time. I have read it, thank you.

"Any amount received by any person whatsoever under any law of this Commonwealth, the United States or any other state providing for any pension or bonus, or in respect to services in the military or naval forces of the United States in any war in which the United States has been engaged and compensation received by any person for active service as a member of the armed forces of the United States for any month, during any part of which such person served in a combat zone, as designated from time to time by the President of the United States by executive order."

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his enlightenment of the Members of the House on this particular section of the bill.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if I may interrupt the gentleman, I have this marked on my bill, these designations and all of this follows exactly the Federal rulings.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I object to the inference that this particular bill be compared in any way with the Federal graduated income tax law. The point that I am trying to make, and I think you gentlemen here should realize it, is that you are going to tax small incomes in the State of Pennsylvania, men who are in the armed services of the United States who are not in the battle zone.

You are going to tax and deduct from their salaries a certain percentage under this law, and you have in this law itself guarantees to exempt large incomes, much larger than those incomes that are received for work. You are exempting them under this law and you are reaching down into the envelope of the man who can least afford to pay and taking out a percentage.

I want to say to you that since you did not see fit to give a public hearing so that we can bring forth all of these things in connection with this new fandangled form of taxation in Pennsylvania, I want to say again that if you ever put a flat income tax on the books you will never get a graduated income tax for the State of Pennsylvania which all of the branches, Joint State Government Commission and other organizations have recommended as a form of taxation in Pennsylvania. I say again that since you did not see fit, you acted wisely last week when you defeated this bill. I say to you now, if you voted last week to defeat this measure, if you have not received any special gains for yourselves I do not know how your mind could be changed.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I voted against the bill last week when it was defeated because the Republican majority refused to give us a public hearing. I am against the reconsideration of this bill and I am going to try to give you my reasons for that position.

House Bill 840 is a bad bill, and I hope that at least 105 Members of this House will see the wisdom of voting this bill down. If House Bill 840 was a good bill, the majority party would have been glad to hold a public hearing. A public hearing would have brought out the good points and the bad points, but as I have already said, it is a bad bill and the majority side knows it is a bad bill. If they had permitted a public hearing the bad points of this bill would have been brought out and hit the front pages of the newspapers throughout the State. That would have been bad politically and it seems as though the majority party is always on the job when it comes to politics. In the Spring of 1950 when the primaries were being held the Pittsburgh Press sent questionnaires to the candidates in Allegheny County. The paper was interested in finding out whether or not there would be new taxes in the session of 1951.

When the Republicans wrote their campaign platform on which Governor Fine and the present Legislators were elected, they did not come right out and promise no new taxes. They hemmed and hawed in the manner of political platform writers. But they left a clear implication that this was the idea they wanted to put over—no new taxes.

They even went so far as to promise flatly to call off the pop tax. That is how good they felt about prospects of no new taxes. They can show where, in their platform phrasing, they hedged. And they can show where they quibbled. And where they said "uncertainty" made a prediction impossible at that time last September. But their unmistakable intention was to get across the idea that if you elected them, you would get no more taxes.

The election is over. The votes have been counted. And the Republicans won. Mr. Fine and the Republican majorities are safely settled in their upholstered seats. So what do we hear now? That the Republicans are straining and striving for ways and means to slash expenses? That they are bursting a gusset to avoid adding a penny of new taxes?

Nope. We hear, instead, that they are scratching the bottom of the feed barrel to find $140 or $160 million extra for the next two years.

For what do the Republicans in Harrisburg want all this money while their brethren in Washington are crying for less spending?

Mr. Speaker, the reason I voted for public hearings, the reason I voted for the amendment this morning was that the campaign speeches made by the Republicans during the last primary and election indicated there would be no new taxes. In my remarks I referred to the Pittsburgh Press. On Sunday, December 31, the Pittsburgh Press came out and here are the pictures of many of the candidates on both sides of the room. It states there the Republicans intimated strongly that there would not be any new taxes. That is the main reason why we should have a public hearing. The people have a right to know why we need all this money now when we did not need it when the election was on.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will, of course, accord the Majority Leader the privilege of closing the debate.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Leonard, raises an interesting angle. On September 17 last here is an article that appeared in the Pittsburgh Press. At the top of the article was "$40 Million Surplus" that is what we were to have, come May 31 next—$40 million. That has dwindled to $10 millions, perhaps.

Then the headline reads: "No New Taxes Goal of State Republicans." That was fine—Fine, you know. "Leaders have planned to find $120 millions." Now that is what they told the people, and they furnished a bill of particulars.

I do not want to take the time of reading the bill of particulars, but they showed at that time that they could find $120 millions—find the $120 million, and as a result, they would not have to add any new taxes.

We have decided we are not going to have a public hearing, and the people will be questioning about these bright promises of last September. Here is the word that you can carry to your Republican caucus, which I understand you will shortly hold. Without exception it is my confident prediction that not a member of the minority group will vote for the reconsideration of this bill. And not a member of the minority group, notwithstanding the offer of cash money, will vote for this bill.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I did not want to prolong this debate, but I believe the gentleman has made a direct accusation. I can assure him I know nothing about that. I know of nobody on this side that knows anything of that. And I would like to affirm to him and assure him that that is a positive fact.

I ask at this time, Mr. Speaker, that a roll call be taken on the motion to reconsider.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill was defeated on final passage?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Smith and Mr. Kent and were as follows:

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Lovett, Maxwell and Wheeler.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

L. 275) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith" by classifying cities into five classes and providing for the government of cities of the third class A

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. HAROLD G. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities—Third Class for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 73, Printer's No. 208

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 213, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 477) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment of the salary medical and hospital expenses of policemen and firemen by cities boroughs towns and townships who are injured in the performance of their duty and providing that absence during such injury shall not reduce any usual sick leave period" by adding a presumption of relationship to employment of diseases of the heart and tuberculosis of the respiratory system and providing disability benefits for such conditions

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-eight day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 477) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment of the salary medical and hospital expenses of policemen and firemen by cities boroughs towns and townships who are injured in the performance of their duty and providing that absence during such injury shall not reduce any usual sick leave period" as last amended by the act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1081) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c that any policeman or firemen of any city borough town or township who is injured in the performance of his duties including in the case of firemen duty as special fire police and by reason thereof is temporarily incapacitated from performing his duties shall be paid by the municipality by which he is employed his full rate of salary as fixed by ordinance or resolution until the disability arising therefrom has ceased All medical and hospital bills incurred in connection with any such injury shall be paid by such municipality During the time salary for temporary incapacity shall be paid by the city borough town or township any workmen's compensation received or collected by a policeman or fireman for such period shall be turned over to such city borough town or township and paid into the treasury thereof and if such payment shall not be so made by the policeman or fireman the amount so due the city borough town or township shall be deducted from any salary then or thereafter becoming due and owing Provided however That diseases of the heart and tuberculosis of the respiratory system contracted or incurred by any such policeman or fireman after one full year of service shall be presumed to be due to and arising directly out of the employment of any such policeman and fireman and shall be compensable in accordance with the terms hereof and unless any such disability shall be compensable under the Compensation Laws as having been caused by accidental injury such disability shall be compensable as occupational disease disabilities are presently compensable under the Compensation Laws of this Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 554, as follows:

An Act authorizing political subdivisions other than cities of the first and second classes and school districts of the first class and first class A to appoint and pay the compensation of employees to make an assessment list of all inhabitants or residents thereof over twenty-one years of age for taxation purposes

Section 1 The taxing authorities of any political subdivision except cities of the first and second classes and school districts of the first class and first class A which are authorized by law to levy and collect an occupation tax per capita tax or other head tax may by ordinance or resolution provide for an annual preparation of a list of residents or inhabitants of such political subdivision over twenty-one years of age by employees to be appointed and paid by such taxing authority to be used in the assessment and levy of its occupation per capita or other head tax

A copy of such ordinance or resolution shall be given to the regular tax assessor who under existing law makes and furnishes the tax assessments for the political subdivision. Such tax assessor shall not thereafter furnish to such taxing district a list of the residents or inhabitants thereof during the period that the aforesaid ordinance or resolution shall remain in effect

Section 2 The list of persons prepared by the employees of the taxing district under the provisions of this act shall be made at such time and in such manner as directed by the taxing authority appointing such employees and the same shall be all respects considered as the official assessment list of taxables for that district

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

STATEMENT OF MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to make a brief statement to the gentlemen of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny may proceed.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am advised that there has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District some type of a petition involving legislative responsibility of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This morning there were in this Capitol building—whether or not they are still here I do not know—two gentlemen representing the petitioners in this particular case. These two gentlemen are attempting to serve upon the Members of this Senate copies of this petition, naming them as co-defendants in an action which has been taken by a resident and/or a taxpayer of the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I wish to advise the gentlemen of the Senate that they are immune from service of papers of that type while they are within the halls of this building, and especially when they are within the confines of the rail of the Senate Chamber, and I would like to serve notice on the gentlemen who are attempting to serve the Members of this Senate that service of that type is not recognized and will not be recognized by the District Court in Philadelphia. Whatever quarrel the taxpayer has with the City of Philadelphia or with certain co-defendants is something that the Court will first have to take jurisdiction of and then adjudicate. There was a saying a long time ago, Mr. President, by a very distinguished citizen of this great Republic, that you cannot dig coal with bayonets. May I also suggest, Mr. President, that you cannot have congressional reapportionment spearheaded on the bayonet end of any mandamus proceeding of any disgruntled taxpayer who has the right to run for public office if he has the intestinal fortitude.

I want to say to the gentlemen of the Senate that if they have been served the paper from the District Court of the United States, that such service is not good and that they can ignore it.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I would like to advise those crack pots who have those subpoenas that my name is "Di" and not "De."

INTERROGATION

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if he would advise that we, the Members of the Senate, stay within the rail from now on so that we are not subject to the prosecution?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to request that the Majority Floor Leader identify which rail he is referring to.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was about to do that in my answer. As the President well knows, it is difficult to get the gentleman from Cumberland to stay in his seat even when we are trying to have a roll call. As a matter of fact, I will settle for this much, if he will just stay here until we finish today's proceedings and then what he is served after he leaves here is at his own risk.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, being the usual trusting soul that I am, I must admit that I have been served. A gentleman approached me and handed me a nice blue-covered petition of some kind, and I thought it was an administration bill. It seemed to be somewhat the color of the administration legislation, and I thought I was going to be honored with putting in the new bills around here. However, as I understand the advice, I can completely ignore the service. Is that true?

Mr. WALKER. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. Well, if the President, who is not only my President but my legal adviser in this case, tells me to ignore it, I shall do so.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. ROBINSON, from the Committee on Elections reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 387, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 404 of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. STATEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to make a brief statement.

Mr. President, I desire to advise the Chair that the two gentlemen who are attempting to serve the members of this Senate are now in the hall of the Senate, and I would respectfully request the Chair to advise anybody who is attempting to serve Members of this Senate on the floor of the Senate that the Sergeant-at-Arms will be instructed to escort them from the Chamber, if there is any attempt to serve Members of the Senate during this Session.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would advise anyone who is undertaking to serve a process on the Members of the Senate to please refrain from attempting to do so. Otherwise, the Chair will have to instruct the Sergeant-at-Arms to eject them from the Chamber.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I recently received a communication from the offices of William C. Porter, Attorney-at-Law, Court Square Arcade Building, Washington, Pennsylvania, which I believe will be of considerable interest to the Members of this Senate. It goes on to say:

"Dear Senator:

"I represent the Borough of Marianna, which is faced with a situation that must be common to other small communities in the State and which I think ought to receive some attention at Harrisburg.

"As you know the provisions of the law which established the Sanitary Water Board make it possible to compel municipalities to construct sewage disposal plants in those cases where the present sewage facilities are such that streams may be polluted. The cost of such disposal plant in Marianna would be enormous, many times the annual income of the borough, and would impose on the borough a financial burden that could not be paid off for a generation. Those who are responsible for the passage of these laws have been generally lauded in the press for their efforts to clean the streams of the state, and I think the general public's reaction has been that the pure streams law are an unmixed blessing. People do not seem to realize the tremendous financial burden they impose on small communities like Marianna which have no means to pay for them.

"Nevertheless the Sanitary Water Board brought pressure to bear on the borough council at Marianna and on other borough councils in other parts of the State and compelled them to employ engineers to draw plans and specifications for construction of expensive sewage disposal plants. In Marianna the cost of the plans alone will be more than $5,000.00. An application had to be made to the Federal government for a loan to cover the costs and now we are faced with the difficulty that the Federal government will not approve the loan unless we can justify it on the basis of national defense needs.

"We are therefore caught between the requirements of the Sanitary Water Board which tells us that we must plan for the construction of sewage plants and the requirements of the Federal authorities who tell us that we may not borrow money for purposes not related to national defense.

"In the meantime we have employed and become obligated to an engineering firm, with the expectation that a loan would be made to us, which expectation was based on statements made by authorities of the Sanitary Water Board.

"I am submitting this matter to you in the hope that you may be able to focus attention on the plight of small communities like Marianna who are being compelled by a State law to undertake the construction of facilities which they cannot afford and do not actually need. Clean streams are desirable but I doubt if they are worth the cost that will have to be paid by the little boroughs and townships of the State, and few people realize what that cost would be. I think that certain politicians have been making political capital of the pure streams laws while keeping hidden from the public the fact that these laws require unreasonably excessive expenditures on the part of small municipalities who can least afford the luxuries that the pure stream laws entail.

"Very truly yours,

"WM. C. PORTER."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that we on this side are very cognizant of the plight which many small communities find themselves in because of these Sanitary Water Board orders, and for the information of the gentleman from Washington, I might say that the bill just introduced today by Senator Wade and myself would tend to alleviate that to some extent.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I thank the distinguished Senator from Potter, Mr. Berger, for this information, and I want him to know that I for one, as a minority representative, will certainly support this legislation, and I hope we can get it passed pronto at this Session.

L. 334) are hereby amended or further amended to read as follows

Section 410 Uniform Policy Provisions No policy of life or endowment insurance except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener shall hereafter be [issued or] delivered [by any stock or mutual life insurance company] in this Commonwealth unless it contains in substance the following provisions or provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are more favorable to the policyholder

(a) A provision that all premiums shall be payable in advance [either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by one or more of the officers of the company who shall be named in the policy]

(b) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace either of thirty days or one month within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made subject at the option of the company to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before the payment of the premium during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or the deferred premiums of the current policy year if any are paid the amount of such premiums with interest on any overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured two years from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums [and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of the company] and that at the option of the company provisions relative to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted

(d) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(e) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages

(f) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the third policy-year the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled to elect such option shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash or applied [to the payment of premium or the purchase of paid up additions to the policy as the policyholder] in accordance with any one of such other dividend options as may be provided by the policy [may elect] If any such other dividend options are provided the policy shall further state which option shall be automatically effective if such party shall not have elected some other option

In lieu of the foregoing provisions the policy may contain a provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that beginning not later than the end of the fifth policy-year the company will determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy and that the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto shall have the right to have the current dividend arising from such participation paid in cash and that at periods of not more than five years thereafter such apportionment and payment at the option of [the policyholder] such party shall be had

Renewable term policies of ten years or less may provide that the surplus accruing to such policies shall be determined and apportioned each year after the second policy-year and accumulated during each renewal period and that at the end of any renewal period or renewal of the policy by the insured the company shall apply the accumulated surplus as an annuity for the next succeeding renewal term in the reduction of premiums

(g) A provision specifying the options if any to which the policyholder is entitled in the event of default in a premium payment

(h) A provision for a loan value at any time [while the policy is in force] after three full years' premiums have been paid and while no premium is in default beyond the grace period for payment

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Nonforfeiture Law) it shall be provided that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the whole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto and that the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy-year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy-year which provision may further provide that such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made A company may in lieu of the provision hereinabove permitted for the deduction from a loan on the policy of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that one-fifth of the entire reserve may be deducted in case of a loan under the policy or may provide therein that the deduction may be the said two and one-half per centum or the one-fifth of the said entire reserve at the option of the company

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) [it shall be provided] the loan provision shall provide that the company will advance on proper assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof at a specified rate of interest a sum equal to or at the option of the [owner of the policy] party entitled thereto less than the cash surrender value at the end of the current policy year as required by section four hundred and ten A of this act and that the company [will] may deduct from such loan value (in addition to any indebtedness deducted in determining such value) any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year The company shall reserve the right to defer such loan except any made to pay premiums to the company for six months after application therefor is made This subsection (h) shall not apply to term insurance

(i) A provision for a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value

(1) In the case of any policy issued prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be provided in event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three years which shall secure to the owner of the policy a stipulated form of insurance the net value of which shall be at least equal to the reserve at the date of default on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto specifying the mortality table and rate of interest adopted for computing such reserves less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by the policy and of any existing dividend additions thereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy Such provision shall stipulate that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from date of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid and may stipulate that the company may defer payment for not more than six (6) months after the application therefor is made This provision shall not be required in term insurance of twenty years or less

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture

benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section

(j) table showing in figures the loan value if any and the options if any available under the policy each year upon default in premium payments during at least the first twenty years of the policy and if the proceeds of the policy are payable in installments [or as an annuity] which are determinable prior to maturity of the policy a table showing the amount of the [installment or annuity payment] guaranteed installments

(k) A provision that the holder of a policy shall be entitled to have the policy reinstated upon written application therefor at any time within three years from the date of default in premium payments unless the policy has been duly surrendered or the extension period expired upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per centum per annum compounded annually

(l) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to single premium or non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein Provided however That the policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by laws of the state or government under which the company is organized and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth may when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in policies [issued] delivered therein A clause in any policy of life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause

Section 410A Standard Non-Forfeiture Law (a) In the case of policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined in subsection (g) no policy of life insurance except as stated in subsection (f) shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder

* * * * *

(6) A statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary [with] beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy a statement that the cash surrender values and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits available under the policy are not less than the minimum values and benefits required by or pursuant to any statute of the state in which the policy is delivered an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up non-forfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the company on the policy and if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may to the extent inapplicable be omitted from the policy

The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of six months after demand therefore with surrender of the policy

(d) The adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards that the present value at the date of issue of the policy of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy (ii) two per cent of the amount of insurance if the insurance be uniform in amount or of the equivalent uniform amount as herein-after defined if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy (iii) forty per cent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year (iv) twenty-five per cent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole [of] life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance whichever is less. Provided however That in applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent (4%) of the amount of insurance or level amount equivalent thereto. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subsection shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy the equivalent [level] uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this subsection shall be deemed to be the level amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy containing the same endowment benefit or benefits if any issued at the same age and for the same term the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the [inception of the insurance] date of issue as the benefits under the policy. Provided however That in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten.

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for ordinary insurance and the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table for industrial insurance and the rate of interest not exceeding three and one-half per centum (3½%) per annum specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up non-forfeiture benefits. Provided however That in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment if any offered as a non-forfeiture benefit the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty per centum (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table. Provided further That for insurance issued on a substandard basis the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

(e) Any cash surrender value and any paid-up non-forfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond [the last preceding policy anniversary] the beginning of the policy year in which the default occurs. All values referred to in subsections (b) (c) and (d) may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions other than paid-up term additions shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (b) additional benefits payable (i) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means (ii) in the event of total and permanent disability (iii) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits (iv) as [decreasing] term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which if issued as a separate policy this section would not apply and (v) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits and premiums for all such additional benefits shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and non-forfeiture benefits required by this section and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up non-forfeiture benefits.

Section 7 The first paragraph and the last four paragraphs of Section 410 B of said act as added by the act approved the seventeenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1116) are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 410 B Uniform Provisions for Contracts of Annuities and Pure Endowment Contracts [On and after January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six no] No annuity or pure endowment contract shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth [by any stock or mutual life insurance company] except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener [unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been filed with the Insurance Commissioner and formally approved by him Except] and except in the case of a reversionary annuity otherwise called a survivorship annuity or an annuity contracted by an employer in behalf of his employees [no annuity or pure endowment contract shall be so issued or delivered in this Commonwealth] unless it contains in substance the following provisions:

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable to nonparticipating contracts nor to contracts for which a single stipulated payment to the company is made shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and any such contract may be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the holder of the contract than hereinbefore required.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent a life insurance corporation which issues life insurance on a participating basis from issuing annuities reversionary annuities or pure endowments on a non-participating basis.

Any such contract or any application endorsement or rider form used in connection therewith issued in violation of this section shall nevertheless be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this section and when any provision in such contract application endorsement or rider is in conflict with any provision of this section or with any other statutory provision the rights duties and obligations of the company of the holder of the contract and of the beneficiary or annuity thereunder shall be governed by the provisions of this section. The provisions of this section shall not apply to contracts of reinsurance nor to contracts for deferred annuities or reversionary annuities included in life insurance policies.

[For the purposes of this section application forms rider forms and endorsement forms for use in connection with any such contract excepting riders or endorsements relating to the manner of distribution of benefits or to the reservation of rights and benefits under any such contract and used at the request of the individual holders of such contracts shall be deemed to be parts of such contracts and shall require the approval of the Insurance Commissioner. No rider and no endorsement except as stated above shall be attached to or printed or stamped upon any such contract issued or delivered in this Commonwealth until the form of such rider or endorsement has been filed with the Insurance Commissioner and formally approved by him]

Section 8 The first paragraph and clause (c) of Section 411 of said act as amended by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1634) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 411 Prohibited Policy Provisions No policy of life insurance shall be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth [by any stock or mutual] life insurance company organized under the laws of any other State or country or be issued by any stock or mutual life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth except policies of industrial insurance where the premiums are payable monthly or oftener if it contain any of the following provision

Section 9 Section 412 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 412 Application for Insurance Insurable Interest No policy [or agreement for insurance] of life insurance shall be [issued by any stock or mutual life insurance company] delivered in this Commonwealth except upon the application of the person insured A person liable for the support of a child may take out a policy of insurance on such child and persons copartnerships associations and corporations may insure the lives and health of officers directors principals partners and employes without the signing of a personal application as hereinbefore required Any person may insure his own life for the benefit of any person copartnership association or corporation but no person shall cause to be insured the life of another unless the beneficiary named in such policy or agreement of life insurance whether himself or a third person has an insurable interest in the life of the insured if a policy of life insurance has been issued in conformity with this section no transfer of such policy or any interest thereunder shall be invalid by reason of a lack of insurable interest of the transferee in the life of the insured or the payment of premiums thereafter by the transferee The term "insurable interest" is defined as meaning in the case of persons related by blood or law an interest engendered by love and affection and in the case of other persons a lawful economic interest in having the life of the insured continue as distinguished from an interest which would arise only by the death of the insured

Section 10 Section 420 of said act as amended by the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 149) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420 Exchange Alteration and Conversion of Policies Any life insurance company may at the request of a policyholder exchange alter or correct any policy of life or endowment insurance or annuity policy contract or any other policy benefits additional thereto issued by it for or into any policy [conforming (a)] which conforms with the laws in force [when the first mentioned policy was issued if the rewritten policy bears the date thereof or (b) with the laws in force when said exchange alteration or conversion is effected if the rewritten policy bears a then current date Provided however If such rewritten policy bears the date of said original policy] on the date of the original policy if the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective as of such date or which conforms with the laws in force on a subsequent date as of which the rewritten policy is by its terms made effective If the rewritten policy is made effective as of a date earlier than the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs (a) the rewritten policy If evidence of insurability is required in conjunction with an exchange alteration, or conversion to a policy on a plan requiring a lower premium rate or to a policy to which benefits or features are added differing from those in the original policy may provide that the date on which the exchange alteration or conversion occurs shall be used in determining the applicability of an incontestability clause in the rewritten policy to the right of the company to contest such exchange alteration or conversion or in determining the applicability of a clause in the rewritten policy limiting liability in the event of suicide of the insured and (b) the amount of insurance under said rewritten policy shall not exceed the amount of insurance under said original policy or the amount of insurance which the premium paid for the original policy would have purchased if the rewritten policy had been originally applied for whichever amount is the greater Nothing contained in section three hundred and forty-six or in clause (c) of section four hundred and eleven of this act shall be construed as prohibiting any such exchange alteration or conversion of policies as provided by this section

Section 11 Section 420C of said act as amended by the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 334) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 420C Uniform Industrial Policy Provisions [From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no] No policy of industrial insurance shall be [issued or] delivered [to take effect] in this Commonwealth [or be issued by a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth] unless the same shall contain in substance the following provisions

(a) A provision that the insured is entitled to a grace of four (4) weeks within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made except that where premiums are payable monthly the insured shall be entitled to a grace of one month or 30 days During such period of grace the policy shall continue in full force but in case the policy becomes a claim during said grace period before the overdue premiums are paid the amount of overdue premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the policy

(b) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties but if the company desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties

(c) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the life-time of the insured two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premium [and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to naval or military service in time of war and except as to provisions and conditions] and that at the option of the company provisions relating to disability benefits [in the event of total and permanent disability] and those granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means may also be excepted

(d) A provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated the amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages

(e) A provision that the policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and that the company will annually determine the portion of any divisible surplus accruing on the policy and indicating the conditions under which the company shall apportion such dividends to the policyholder or the party entitled thereto

(f) A provision for a non-forfeiture and cash surrender value

(1) In the case of any policy prior to the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit shall be available in event of default in premium payments after premiums have been paid for three full years and shall be a stipulated form of insurance effective from the due date of the defaulted premium the net value of which stipulated form of insurance shall not be less than the reserve on the policy (exclusive of reserves if any for provisions relating to benefits in the event of specific types of disability or provisions granting additional insurance specifically against death by accident and for provisions granting other benefits in addition to life insurance) at the end of the last completed quarter of the policy year for which premiums have been paid and on any dividend additions thereto if any (the policy to specify the mortality table and rate of interest and also the method of valuation if other than net level premium adopted for computing such reserves) less a specified maximum percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of dividend additions thereto if any and less any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy. Provided however That the said percentage or other rule of calculation so stated as to permit determination of the value shall be specified for each year for which required values are not included in the policy. And provided A company may in lieu of the provision herein permitted for the deduction from the reserve of a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured by the policy and of any dividend additions thereto insert in the policy a provision that a deduction of one-fifth of said reserve may be made or said two and one-half per centum of the maximum face amount insured or one fifth of said reserve at the option of the company. Provided further That after premiums have been paid for five full years the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within four weeks of the due date of the defaulted premium for a specific cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of insurance as aforesaid. And provided further That the company may defer payment of such cash value for not more than six months after application therefor is made. In the event that such cash or other non-forfeiture value is not requested within the required period it shall be provided that a stipulated form of insurance shall automatically become effective.

(2) In the case of any policy issued on or after the operative date of section four hundred and ten A of this act (the Standard Non-forfeiture Law) a non-forfeiture benefit and cash surrender value shall be provided in accordance with said section.

(g) A table showing in figures the non-forfeiture options available under the policy at the end of each year upon default in premium payments during the premium payment period but not to exceed the first twenty (20) years of the policy and providing that the company will furnish upon request an extension of such table beyond the years shown in the policy.

(h) A provision that the policy if not surrendered for its cash value or if the period of extended insurance has not expired may be reinstated upon written application therefor within one year from the date of default in payment of premiums upon payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy and at the option of the company interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum compounded annually and upon the presentation of evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured.

(i) A provision that when a policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death.

(j) A form number and title on the face of the policy clearly and correctly describing its form.

Any such policy may be [issued or] delivered in this Commonwealth which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the policyholder than hereinbefore required. The policies of an insurance company organized under the laws of any other state or foreign government may contain when [issued] delivered in this Commonwealth any provision which may be prescribed by the laws of the state or government under which the company is organized not contrary to the provisions heretofore prescribed and the policies of a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth when [issued] delivered in any other state territory or foreign country may contain any provision required by the laws of such state territory or foreign country to be contained in the policies [issued] delivered therein.

Any of the foregoing provisions or parts thereof not applicable to non-participating policies shall to that extent not be incorporated therein and the provisions of this section shall not apply to policies issued or granted pursuant to the non-forfeiture provisions prescribed in [subsection] clause (f) of this section. A clause in any policy of industrial life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause.

Section 12 The first paragraph of Section 420D of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 769) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 420D Prohibited Industrial Policy Provisions [From and after the first day of January nineteen hundred and thirty-eight no] No policy of industrial life or industrial endowment insurance shall be [issued or] delivered [to take effect] in this Commonwealth [or be issued by a life insurance company organized under the laws of this Commonwealth] if it contains any of the following provisions:

Section 13 Section 518 of said act as amended by the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 601) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to ask someone on the Majority side to explain these amendments to Senate Bill No. 126.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I yield to the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, answer the inquiry of the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is my understanding that there is an amendment in this bill, and I would like someone to explain it. It is my responsibility on this side, and I do not know much about this amendment. I would like to know a little bit about this piece of legislation.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, am I correctly informed that Senator Lane would like an explanation of the bill?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is my understanding that there is an amendment in this bill, and I want to know what the amendment does. There is a new amendment inserted, is there not?

Mr. WADE. The amendments, Mr. President, are very extensive and they are amendments to the insurance company law of the State of Pennsylvania. Now, I have a brief analysis here composed of some seven or eight pages that I should be very happy, indeed, to read to the Senator or let him read them for himself, but I want to assure you that the bill originates from a committee appointed by the Insurance Commissioner of the Commonwealth taking into consideration the opinions of all segments of the insurance industry. After a series of conferences they agreed upon this bill which is very comprehensive, and I want to say again that I have an explanation here of some eight or ten pages that I should be very glad to read to the Senator for the purpose of the record, or in private if he so wishes.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, Senator Wade happens to be my insurance counselor, too, and I would like to ask him again if he believes that this bill is in perfect order and is beneficial to the population of this Commonwealth.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I firmly believe that the bill as drawn now and as it has been amended on three different occasions twice in committee is in good order and adds valuable amendments, much needed amendments to protect the interests of the policyholders of the State of Pennsylvania. I feel that the bill should now be passed by the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 172, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1388) entitled "An act relating to the practice procedure regulations and adjudications of departments departmental administrative boards and commissions independent administrative boards and commissions officers and other administrative agencies of this Commonwealth and judicial review thereof and preserving equitable jurisdiction in certain cases" by redefining "regulation" changing provisions governing promulgation of regulations imposing duties on the Department of State providing for judicial review of regulations requiring all appeals to be taken to the Superior Court and enumerating the agencies affected and the extent to which they are affected

Section 1 Clause (e) of Section 2 of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1388) entitled "An act relating to the practice procedure regulations and adjudications of departments departmental administrative boards and commissions independent administrative boards and commissions officers and other administrative agencies of this Commonwealth and judicial review thereof and preserving equitable jurisdiction in certain cases" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 Definitions The following words and terms shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates otherwise

* * * * *

(e) "Regulation" means any rule regulation or order in the nature of a rule or regulation [generally applicable to the public promulgated by an agency authorized by statute so to do but shall not be construed to include the name or facts of any adjudication giving rise to such regulation] of general application and future effect promulgated by an agency under statutory authority in the administration of any statute administered by or relating to the agency or prescribing the practice or procedure before such agency

Section 2 Section 21 of said act as amended by the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1367) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 Regulations [All regulations of any agency which are in effect on the effective date of this act or which shall be adopted thereafter shall have no effect unless they are printed and made available upon written request within thirty days after the date of adoption] All regulations of any agency which are in effect on the first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one shall expire on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two unless a copy thereof certified by the executive officer chairman or secretary of the agency is filed in the Department of State in such form and size as shall be prescribed by the Department of State prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two Regulations adopted after the thirtieth day of November one thousand nine hundred fifty-one shall have no effect until a copy thereof certified by the executive officer chairman or secretary of the agency is filed in the Department of State in such form and size as shall be prescribed by the Department of State Printing of copies of regulations filed with the Department of State shall not be required All regulations shall be approved as to legality by the Department of Justice before they are filed in the Department of State but failure of the agency to submit a regulation for such approval shall not invalidate the regulation Copies of all regulations shall be made available by the adopting agency upon request

Section 3 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 21 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 22 Permanent Record of Regulations The Department of State shall maintain a permanent record of all regulations filed with it Such record may be in the form of microfilm or other reproductions in which event the original certified and approved copies need not be retained The Department of State shall furnish certified copies of any regulation filed with it upon the payment of the charges made for certified copies of other records on file in the department The Department of State shall prepare and publish in such form and at such time or times as it shall determine an index of all regulations on file with it and periodic supplements thereto The Department of State shall have power to adopt and enforce rules governing the physical form and size of regulations to be filed with it and such other rules as it deems necessary in carrying out its functions under the provisions of this act but shall not require regulations to be printed

Section 4 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 35 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 36 Notice to Department of Justice Before notice of any hearing leading to an adjudication is given the agency shall submit the matter to its representative in the Department of Justice who shall pass upon the legality of the proposed action or defense Failure of the agency to submit the matter to the Department of Justice shall not invalidate any adjudication

Section 5 Said act is hereby amended by adding immediately before Section 41 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 40 Judicial Review of Regulations (a) The validity of any regulation other than rate-making wage-fixing and price-fixing regulations may be determined upon petition for a declaratory judgment thereon addressed to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County when it appears that the regulation or its threatened application interferes with or impairs or threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The agency shall be made a party to the proceeding. The declaratory judgment may be rendered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the regulation in question.

(b) No regulation shall be declared invalid unless such regulation violates the Constitution of this Commonwealth or of the United States or does not come within the statutory authorization of the agency or was issued without observance of the procedure required by the applicable statutes or is arbitrary or capricious.

The agency or any party (including intervenors) affected by the judgment of said court may within thirty days of the filing of such judgment appeal therefrom to the Superior Court.

Judicial review of rate-making wage-fixing and price-fixing regulations shall be as provided in the particular statutes pertaining to such regulations.

Section 6 Section 45 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 45 Appellate Review. The agency or any party affected by any decision of a court on the review of a regulation or an appeal from adjudication may within thirty days of the filing of such decision appeal to the Superior [or Supreme] Court [as in other cases].

Section 7 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 45 thereof a new section to read as follows:

Section 46 Final Adjudications Appeals Under Existing Law. The provisions of sections forty-one to forty-five shall not apply to any adjudication which under existing law (1) is final or (2) may be appealed to a court other than the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

Section 8 Section 51 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

[Exemptions]

Section 51 (a) None of the provisions of this act except sections twenty-one to twenty-three inclusive shall apply to proceedings before the Department of Revenue Auditor General Board of Finance and [Avenue or Secretary of the Commonwealth involving the original settlement resettlement review or refund of taxes bonus interest or payments made into the State Treasury or judicial review of such proceedings. The provisions of sections thirty-one to forty-five inclusive shall not apply to adjudication of an agency from which an appeal to a court is provided by another statute or to adjudication of an agency whose adjudication is provided by another statute as final.

(b) Sections forty-one to forty-five inclusive of this act shall not apply to the adjudications of the Banking Board or of the Building and Loan Board.

(c) This act shall not apply to actions of the Secretary of Banking in the taking possession and liquidation of banking institutions and building and loan associations or to actions of the Insurance Commissioner in the taking possession and liquidation of insurance companies.

Application of Act

Section 51 (a) Except as provided in section forty-six hereof all of the provisions of this act shall apply to the following agencies: (1) Department of Agriculture (2) Department of State (except election cases and except proceedings involving the original settlement resettlement review or refund to bonus interests or payments made into the State Treasury) (3) Insurance Department (4) Department of Public Instruction in so far as relates to its powers and duties in the issuance of licenses to barbers (5) Board of Property (6) State Council of Education (7) State Board of Censors (8) State Board of Medical Education and Licensure (9) State Board of Pharmacy (10) State Dental Council and Examining Board (11) State Board of Optometrical Examiners (12) State Board of Osteopathic Examiners (13) Osteopathic Surgeons' Examining Board (14) State Board of Examiners for the Registration of Nurses (15) State Board of Veterinary

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 329, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 3 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 202) entitled "An act providing for the licensing and regulation of motor boats operated or navigated upon any public stream artificial or natural body of water or non-tidal waters of any river within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on certain police officers and the Board of Fish Commissioners including the enforcement of certain existing laws and prescribing penalties" by directing the Department of Revenue to authorize local agents which may be county officers to issue motor boat licenses

Section 1 Section 3 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 202) entitled "An act providing for the licensing and regulation of motor boats operated or navigated upon any public stream artificial or natural body of water or non-tidal waters of any river within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on certain police officers and the Board of Fish Commissioners including the enforcement of certain existing laws and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1984) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 Any person owning a motor boat and desiring to operate or navigate the boat or cause it to be operated or navigated on any inland water shall make a written application to the Department of Revenue or to any local agent authorized by the department for a license for such boat Such application shall be made on a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the Department of Revenue and together with such other information as the Department of Revenue may require shall state

(a) The name and address of the applicant and if the applicant is a partnership the names and addresses of all the partners and if the applicant is a corporation the names and addresses of the officers

(b) The size seating or other capacity gross weight and type of the boat

(c) The type number of cylinders the horse power and maximum speed of the motor and the type of muffler or under-water exhaust used in connection with such motor

(d) The engine number of the motor which propels the boat

Upon receipt of an application and upon the payment of a license fee of one dollar for each cylinder of the motor built in or attached to the boat or a fee of two dollars in the case of electrically propelled boat the Department of Revenue or its local agent shall issue to the applicant owner a license for his boat together with duplicate metallic license plates which plates shall contain a serial number corresponding with the number on the license issued to the owner and shall be displayed conspicuously at all times one or each side of the bow of the boat Such license plates shall be used only on the boat the engine of which bears the number set forth in the application

The Department of Revenue shall authorize at least one local agent in each county of the Commonwealth local agents shall be furnished with the materials and equipment necessary to issue licenses at the time of application and shall be paid such compensation as the Secretary of Revenue shall determine The Department of Revenue may authorize any county officer to act as its local agent for the issuance of licenses

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 365, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled "An act relating to business corporations; defining and providing for the organization, merger, consolidation, reorganization, winding up and dissolution of such corporation; conferring certain rights, powers, duties, and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted, or may continue, to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain State departments, boards, commissions, or officers to collect fees services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," by permitting the Department of State to copy and destroy or return certain documents; permitting directors to fill vacancies in the board of directors resulting from an increase in the number of directors; deleting certain requirements as to the appointment, compensation and duties of agents; providing that meetings of shareholders at which directors are to be elected may be adjourned for periods of fifteen days each; fixing the method of cumulative voting in cases where directors are elected separately by the holders of different classes of shares; providing that courts having jurisdiction over trustees who are evenly divided as to how shares shall be voted may direct the voting of such shares; deleting requirements as to the voting of shares of foreign corporations owned by other corporations; providing that articles of incorporation may be amended to eliminate the preemptive rights of shareholders, and providing for the purchase of and payment for shares of any shareholders who dissent therefrom; specifying cases of merger or consolidation of which sixty days' notice to shareholders must be given; providing that shareholders of a parent corporation shall have no right to dissent from a merger or consolidation of such parent and one or more wholly-owned subsidiaries thereof, provided the state of incorporation and relative rights and preferences of the shareholders of the parent corporation are not changed thereby; providing that foreign corporations which shall have done business in Pennsylvania without procuring a certificate of authority to do so shall be conclusively presumed to have appointed the Secretary of the Commonwealth their agent to accept service of process in cases arising out of acts of omissions of such corporation in the Commonwealth, and specifying the duties of the Secretary upon receipt of such process.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the act.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I have no objection, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in reading the bill—I may be wrong and therefore I want to be corrected if I am wrong—I think that under this piece of legislation, at least as I read it, a minority group could at a directors' meeting add enough directors to a corporation to take over the management of that corporation against the wishes of the majority members of the corporation's board of directors.

Mr. WALKER. Well, Mr. President, I might say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, this bill has been rather thoroughly discussed at several meetings of the State Bar Association, and just today I discussed the bill with a former distinguished member of this Senate who is somewhat interested in corporations and corporate practices.

Mr. President, the bill sets forth several amendments to the corporate code and the minor portions of the amendments deal in a great measure with the permission granted to the Department of State to accept petitions for filing of corporations, whether they be domestic or foreign corporations, copying the petition and the papers and the letters patent, returning the originals to the company and keeping copies on file. The letters, of course, extend the microfilming privileges to the Department of State. The specific portion of the bill which is suggested by the Senator's question, I think, appears on page 9 of the bill, beginning with line 3.

Mr. President, under the corporation code at the present time, and I know that the gentleman will bear with me, because I am dealing strictly with a left-handed memory—I do not have a copy of the code before me—but I am sure the members of the bar, especially those city practitioners who carry all this stuff in their heads, will be able to correct me if I am in error, but under the code at the present time vacancies on the board of directors are filled by a majority of the remaining members of the board, and even though there is less than a quorum present, under the present code the members of the board so remaining can fill the vacancies on the board.

Now, Mr. President, in the illustration that was used by our distinguished friend in discussing this matter with him awhile ago, it is true that where you had a membership of five directors and three of them would be eliminated for one reason or the other, the other two, under the code today, could fill the balance of the board, so that in reality a minority of the board of directors would be completing the board and, therefore, a minority of the board under the corporate code today, Mr. President, could control the board. That is the law today.

Mr. President, this particular bill extends that permission to fill the vacancies in memberships on the board of directors which are created, not because of vacancies, but because of an increase in the number of the board. For example, in the illustration used, Mr. President, if the stockholders decided the board was going to be increased from five to nine or from five to eleven, then the board, in case the stockholders do not fill those vacancies at that time, can fill those vacancies pending the next meeting of the stockholders, at which time an election would take place under the routine charter or bylaws of the corporation.

Now, the only amendment that this makes, Mr. President, is to extend the same right as to vacancies which are created by an increase in the board, that the board of directors now have where a vacancy has been created by death, resignation or disqualification.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Senator Walker. However, that does, in effect, set up the possibility of a malcontent group who may find themselves at a meeting in quorum strength to fill not only vacancies that may be existing upon the board as the law now prescribes, but they may also increase the number of directors and fill the vacancies, and by so doing they can take charge of a corporation when the majority thought of the corporation and the majority of the shareholders would not want them directly in control of the affairs of that corporation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest that that is not quite the situation. The filling of vacancies on the board, created by death, resignation or disqualification, are controlled by the statute which is now on the books.

Mr. DENT. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, any corporation can depart from the statute in their own bylaws. Now, every corporation is presumed to have in its bylaws a rule as to how the board of directors can be increased. If, as suggested by the gentleman from Westmoreland, the stockholders have in their bylaws given the board of directors the right to, just of their own prerogative, increase the number of the board whenever they deem it necessary, then that is a prior ratification of the increase. If they are allowed to do that under their bylaws, then there is nothing to hold them back from doing it at any time, and all this does is, if there is an increase in the number of the board, then the board of directors can fill those vacancies just as they can the other vacancies.

Mr. President, there is nothing in this amendment that would give a minority any more rights or privileges to take over a corporation, as suggested by Senator Dent, than they now have under the present corporate code, unless that extension privilege was already written into the bylaws. So in this way, Mr. President, the minority stockholders, or the minority members of the board, are protected or at least they are surrounded by the bylaws of the corporation which have been approved by the stockholders.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe that we are both trying to get to the basic reason for the passing of this Act. However, I still stand upon the premise that under the present law they may fill vacancies caused by death, resignation or disqualification, but this amendment gives them the right to fill vacancies created by an increase in the number of directors, and many many companies in their corporate bylaws give the board of directors the right to increase their number if a quorum is present. That quorum may still be the majority, but the quorum could still be the minority thought upon that board of directors. They can by their own vote at that meeting create vacancies by enlarging the board of directors, and thereby with their vote that day name enough new directors to create a situation where the new directors will control the situation in that corporation for the next year until the next shareholders' meeting.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, what the gentleman—and I mean this in a very kindly sense—is overlooking is the fact that no board of directors in a corporation can do anything that is not set forth in the bylaws of that particular corporation. Now, if in the bylaws they are permitted, if there are ten or eleven on the board, and if under their bylaws two directors constitute a quorum, then the two directors can pass measures that will control the corporation. Now, if the bylaws permit a minority of the board, who are left because of vacancies, to increase that number, that is in the law today. They can increase the number.

Mr. President, under the present law there is a hiatus in the filling of those vacancies because of the inability of the board to fill a vacancy unless it is created by death, resignation or disqualification, and all this amendment does is to merely permit an extension of the right to fill, and that is controlled entirely by the bylaws of the corporation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think we can discuss it a long time, but let us take a practical demonstration of the proposal as I see it.

Under the present law, they cannot fill vacancies created by increasing the membership of the board of directors regardless of whether the bylaws allow the board of directors to increase its directorship. However, under this bill they can now create, if the bylaws so allow them to create, they can now create and fill at the same meeting. Let us take a meeting of five directors, where the five directors are a quorum of an eleven member board or a seven member board. If amongst the five members, there are three who have always voted in the minority, and because of the fact that on that particular day only two of the majority thought corporation directors are there, these three then on that day constitute a majority, although in reality they are a minority. If the bylaws allowed the board of directors to increase its directorship, the three men can upon a motion increase the directorship by five. They can proceed to name the five and when a full board meeting is present, they will have eight to seven in control of the board of directors of that corporation, which is impossible today.

Now, in relation to the next change in this act, which in effect causes the sale of stock by a discontented stockholder who is not there when the amendment was placed into it by the board of directors and the shareholders had not voted, he can under this Act of the Legislature, demand his money and be paid for his stock, but if you get a malcontented group in control of a corporation, they can put through an amendment, and the only thing that the majority can do then is sell their stock to the corporation, and that may be exactly what the minor stockholders want in that corporation. This is a very dangerous piece of legislation in the hands of dishonest persons. Now, there are some persons who are dishonest who will find themselves in a position of trust in corporations. I do not know too much about the Fallansbee case, I followed it as much as I could in the newspapers, but if this act were in effect at the time that the Wollansbee Steel Company case was being tested by a minority group of stockholders, they would have had control of that corporation.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as to the illustration given by the gentleman from Westmoreland—again, Senator Dent, I mean this in the kindest vein—I discussed this with Senator Shapiro when we were discussing this bill before the Senate convened today. He used a five to three illustration so that we could place this matter squarely before us in the discussion. Now, as I said to the gentleman, who is as sincerely interested in this bill as you are, this has nothing to do with the Follansbee case; it is not predicated on and will not change a hair on that case, and, as the gentleman from Westmoreland can readily ascertain from quite a competent legal staff on that side of the aisle, this does not in the least disturb any of the rights of any minority stockholder or any individual stockholder in any corporation in seeking redress for any grievances that he might have with regard to the action of a group of directors or a group of stockholders acting on behalf of a corporation. If the fallacy which is suggested by Senator Dent was a hardship and a dangerous maxim to be placed upon the statute books, then when we passed the original corporation code the same would be true, because this has been on the statute books for some time. I would like to suggest to the gentleman, and I think my associates of the Bar will agree, that for quite sometime, where there have been vacancies created on boards of directors, because of the fact that the board has been increased, in any number of instances the board of directors have gone ahead and filled those vacancies, assuming under the code that they had that right, and you had to have a resolution adopted by the stockholders at the next meeting, ratifying the filling of those vacancies and ratifying whatever that board might have done during the time those members were in there, and finally what this does, it reduces to the written law what had grown up to be a practice among a lot of corporations.

Now, Mr. President, there is nothing dangerous in the bill. I want to assure the gentleman there is nothing in the bill that is going to deprive a minority stockholder of any of his rights or privileges. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman—and I say this in all sincerity—the bill has been on the Calendar for twenty days. Now, I certainly cannot be accused of trying to rush the legislation through. According to the history, it was reported from the Committee on Corporations on March 28, which was almost ten days after it was introduced in the Senate, and since the 28th of March it has been on the Calendar.

Now, Mr. President, I have conferred with various members on both sides of the aisle who happen to be lawyers, and who are interested in corporate practice, and we have discussed this thing back and forth. We placed a typographical error amendment in the bill last week so that the final reading would be before the Membership before we asked for a roll call. I have no desire to charge up San Juan hill on this thing, but in all fairness to the legislation, if the gentleman desire to have it stay on the Calendar for another twenty-one days until they have a chance to read it over again, I have no desire to hurry through the legislation. I am merely saying in all sincerity that I am sure that the legally trained men on the other side of the aisle will agree that there is nothing in this bill that will hurt the stockholders or hurt the minority groups.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not accusing the gentleman of any unfairness in the matter of handling the legislation. There was just a question in my mind then and is still in my mind now. If you will read the section, for instance Section 810, on page 18, deals with the rights of a dissenting shareholder. Now, that is a complete change in the procedure as it now exists today, and it has a great deal more in it than appears on the surface, because if it did not have a great deal in it, they have certainly taken a great deal of paper space to tell of the minor changes that are supposed to be made in the Act. However, one of the most serious things in it, and if you will listen, the original bill says, "Vacancies in the board of directors shall be filled by a majority of the remaining members of the board, though less than a quorum." Now, that sounds all right and it is the law, but when you add this, "Vacancies in the board of directors including vacancies resulting from an increase in the number of directors shall be filled by a majority of the remaining members of the board, though less than a quorum," you get the very thing that I think is wrong.

Now, Mr. President, there may be nothing wrong with it and there may never be a combination of three knaves who would get together or four or five knaves who would get together and gain control by loading that particular board, but it could be that such a situation would arise.

Mr. President, I do not ask them to let the bill go over for twenty-one more minutes. I think he is convinced it is good legislation, and offhand I would say that, other than that particular feature of it, I have no objection to it. I am not too well versed on the rights of minority shareholders, although I should be because that is all I have ever been. The question of loading the board of directors can become a very serious, can create a very serious situation in some corporation at a future date.

Now, if that were worded to the effect that vacancies resulting from an increase in the number of directors shall be named by a majority, by a clear majority of the existing directors, then there would be no opportunity for a minority to grasp control of the corporation, and they could fill whichever vacancies needed to be filled at the moment, but if you do not say a majority of the named directors prescribed by the bylaws, then you are putting into the hands of the minority the right to take control of the directorship of that company. Then if they get control and follow Section 810, the dissenting shareholder can only do one thing. He can sell his stock within twenty days at the price set or prevailing prior to an amendment that is made to the corporation that may effect his stock, and in his opinion adversely, or he may let it lapse and receive whatever is set up by a board, who would then evaluate the stock after the amendment has been passed, and the only right that he would have would be the amount that they would give him, and if he does not say anything at that moment, or if he accepts the money that they give him, or even if he does not accept the money, as I read the bill, once it is awarded to him, he ceases to have any say as a shareholder in that corporation, once he has dissented from the majority opinion of the board of directors.

Mr. President, this can be a dangerous piece of legislation or it may be correcting some evil. I have never run across that particular thing in corporations that I have been interested in, but I do know that we have had some pretty serious battles at times between a very narrowly divided group who consider themselves the majority and another group that is in the minority, and this Act of the Legislature would have many time given me the position of being a majority share of the board of directors instead of a minority, and I do not think it is right, really I don't I will vote "no" and not ask that the bill go over any further.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I request the sponsor to let the bill go over until tomorrow, and I would like to see that brief he has down in E Floor.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to let the bill go over until tomorrow. I want the gentlemen of the Senate to understand that I have been advised that due to pressure and civic responsibilities, some of the gentlemen of the Senate who come from Philadelphia will not be with us tomorrow. Now, I would like to have a roll call on this bill tomorrow. I do not care if I am the only gentleman of the Senate who votes in favor of the bill, and may I seriously suggest to the Senate, especially those fortunate enough not to have legal training, that you consult with some of the Members of the Senate who have been exposed to legal training, and perhaps we can calm your fears that this is a bad bill, because there is absolutely nothing wrong with the legislation; it has been sitting here getting dust, moth and rust on it for twenty-one days, but I am perfectly willing to let it go over until tomorrow and I urgently suggest that if you have any doubts, you consult some of the legal talent here on the floor of the Senate so we can call the roll on it.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will withdraw my request, have the Senate vote on it today, and let everybody from Philadelphia have a vote.

Mr. WALKER. I have no objection, Mr. President. I would like to have a roll call on the bill because I am satisfied, and I say this sincerely, that there is nothing wrong with the bill and we do not yield to any minority groups, any knaves who steal the corporate profits while they are in the minority, and I think if the bill is passed you will find that the sun will still rise in the East as heretofore. I ask that the roll be called.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to inform the Majority Leader that this is not a caucus action on our part. It is my own personal opinion on this legislation, and there is no binding contract on the Members on the Minority Side one way or the other. They are free to vote as they feel.

(The Senate was at ease)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire from the Committee of the Whole, what has been done about my bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I can only speak for myself and for Senator Barr, Senator McManamin and a few more of them. The Philadelphia Members of the Senate who will not be here tomorrow have suggested that as far as they are concerned, they will not hold the bill up today because of their necessary absence tomorrow, that they would just as soon have the bill voted upon today or, for the purpose of trying to get the bill more clearly understood, letting it ride until tomorrow. They will not object if the vote is taken in their absence. Now that is the status as I can see it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as I have said, after three weeks, I have no objection to the bill going over in order. I am just curious to know Mr. President, and this is a selfish motive on my part from here in, what particular advantage, if any, would the bill gain by waiting until tomorrow? Is the gentleman from Westmoreland suggesting that it would look any sweeter on Tuesday than it does on Monday?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have yet in my forty-three years to close my mind to an argument, and if I can be convinced that I am wrong I will be the first to stand upon this floor and say I misinterpreted the Act. If it is held over until tomorrow, and I should change my mind, then I will get up and ask my colleagues to vote for the bill. I think that is the only thing to be gained by asking that the bill go over until tomorrow.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I accept the suggestion made by the Gentleman from Westmoreland. He suggests that in all his forty-three years that he has not closed his mind to an argument. Well, then in all my forty-three years, Mr. President, I have never met a gentleman yet that I could not discuss something with and when I am right I can convince him, and when we call the bill up tomorrow I will have his vote.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, on behalf of all those interested, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 365, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I hope that while we are putting the Charter vote through tomorrow, if my vote is recorded it will be "aye" instead of "nay," like last week.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, at the request of the sponsor, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 404, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to add Clause (15) to Section 14 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 89) entitled "An act relating to the form execution revocation operation and interpretation of wills to nuncupative wills to the appointment of testamentary guardians to elections to take under or against wills and the procedure in reference thereto" by providing for a rule of construction with respect to cemetery lots owned by a testator or in which he has a right of interment go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 425, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four hundred eleven of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing the shooting restrictions on regulated shooting grounds

Section 1 Section four hundred eleven of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An Act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 409) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 411 Shooting Restrictions on Regulated Grounds Such permits shall entitle the holder or holders thereof and their guests to kill or take by shooting only not to exceed seventy-five per centum of the pheasants bobwhite quail of the subspecies approved by the commission and chukar partridges and ninety per centum of the mallard or black ducks propagated or purchased and released on the premises each year said propagation or release to be established to the satisfaction of the commission

All game birds released on said regulated shooting grounds shall be full-winged and fully able to care for themselves in a wild state and wherever the commission deems it desirable all mature birds released shall bear a metal leg band of a type approved by it. Such propagated or released birds may be taken without regard to sex or age or daily or season bag limits so long as not more than the specified percentages herein enumerated are taken during the shooting period below authorized

(a) The period for taking domestically produced pheasants bobwhite quail of the subspecies approved by the commission [and] chukar partridges and mallard or black ducks more than two generations removed from the wild on regulated shooting grounds [in areas where wild ring-neck pheasant sand bobwhite quail of the subspecies approved by the commission thrive and normally produce a shootable supply of such birds] shall begin on the date and hour of the general State-wide open season for [small] such game birds as fixed by the act or the commission and continue [to] through the [thirty-first] last day of [December inclusive] February next following Sundays excepted unless otherwise provided in paragraph (b) below

(b) The period for taking such ringneck pheasants bobwhite quail of the subspecies approved by the commission [and] chukar partridges and mallard or black ducks more than two generations removed from the wild on regulated shooting grounds established in areas [other than those stipulated in paragraph (a) above] where wild ringneck pheasants and bobwhit quail of the subspecies approved by the commission do not thrive and normally produce a shootable supply of such birds or which are commercially operated and are open to public use shall [be fixed by the commission without regard to the general State-wide open season for small game the period so fixed to be certified to the holders of such permits at least thirty days in advance of the season] begin on the fifteenth day of October and continue through the last day of February next following Sundays excepted

(c) The period for taking domestically produced mallard or black ducks less than two generations removed from the wild on all regulated shooting grounds [unless otherwise fixed and so certified by the commission] shall conform with the season established for waterfowl hunting by Federal regulations in effect for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

All species of game other than those specified found on the premises covered by such regulated shooting grounds permits may be taken on said premises only under the general provisions of the law governing seasons bag limits etc

Every person hunting on such regulated shooting grounds or participating in a shoot held under a regulated shooting grounds permit shall be possessed of a resident or nonresident hunter's license for the current year as required by law

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 480, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to the discharge of joint and several tortfeasors in certain cases go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, some of the Philadelphia Members will be away tomorrow in Philadelphia, and when this bill comes up for final action we will be precluded from expressing our opinion one way or the other on it, but there are certain phases of this bill on which I would like to elucidate at the time of the final vote. So, I wonder whether it can be postponed until such a time that the Philadelphia contingent will be back.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have been advised that the sponsor of the bill has no objection to it going over until next Monday. So, therefore, I will ask that the bill go over in order and then I will assure the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Stiefel, that the bill will go over and over and over.

Mr. STIEFEL. Senator Walker, you command my everlasting gratitude.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hearing no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 484, as follows:

An Act to further amend subsection (a) of section 704 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by permitting the use of semi-automatic shotguns for the hunting and killing of small game predators and unprotected birds

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 704 of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 810) is hereby further amended to read as follows

(a) Unlawful Methods and Devices

Section 704 Unlawful Methods of Hunting It is unlawful for any person to shoot at or to shoot for any wild bird or wild animal unless it is plainly visible to him or to dig cut or smoke or in any other manner take any live wild bird or wild animal other than a predator out of its den or place of refuge except that woodchucks may be dug out of their dens in cultivated fields under the conditions stipulated in the preceding section

Except as otherwise provided it is unlawful to hunt for catch take kill or wound or attempt to catch take kill or wound any wild bird or wild animal of any kind through the use of (a) what is commonly known as an automatic gun or an automatic firearm of any kind except that semi-automatic shot guns may be used for hunting and killing small game predators and unprotected birds (b) or a magazine shotgun to hunt for any bird or animal other than big game which contains more than three shells at one time in the magazine and chamber combined or a swivel gun or an air-rifle or the apparatus known as a silencer (c) or from an automobile or vehicle or boat or craft of any kind propelled by any mechanical power (d) or to set lay or prepare for use or to use any bait hay grain or other food or any trap snare set-gun net bird-line deelick pit-fall turkey blind or turkey pen the term "set-gun" as herein used meaning any contrivance device or firearm capable of discharging or projecting a deadly charge or missile which is set to operate in the absence of the owner (e) or to make use of or take advantage of any artificial light battery or other contrivance or device except that artificial lights such as are ordinarily carried in the hand or on the person may be used for the purpose of taking raccoons opossums and skunks (f) or to make use of any method or device not specifically permitted by this act for the purpose of catching taking wounding or killing wild birds or wild animals

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on House Bill No. 484, because I do not believe in having automatic or semi-automatic guns of any kind, or rather shotguns and rifles in the woods. I think it is dangerous enough now, and anybody that cannot shoot the type of animal that this bill prescribes, such as crows and other non-protected birds and predators, with a regular double-barreled or pump shotgun, certainly ought not to be given a destructive weapon such as an automatic or semi-automatic shotgun. Any of you that have ever been in the woods the first hunting day know that enough lead is flying around to recreate the Battle of the Argonne, and I do not think we ought to give some wild-eyed Indian an automatic shotgun and have him pump lead all over the hill side. I am going to vote "no."

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I am perfectly willing to put this bill over.

Mr. President, I have such a high regard for the gentleman's conclusions that I wanted to give him an opportunity of checking the present rights of any hunter to take a semi-automatic shotgun into the woods, and I think you will find, Mr. President, if the gentleman will check this, that they are permitted to take pump guns into the woods now. This deals strictly with hunting predatory animals, and small game predators and the unprotected birds such as the crow.

Now, Mr. President, I do not want to debate a House Bill. I have no pride of authorship in it. It is just that I would like to have the gentleman vote with me at all times, and that is why I wanted to give him the opportunity of going back and taking a look at these semi-automatic guns and compare them to going into the woods with a pump gun that you can now use.

Mr. Dent. Mr. President, I have been shooting crows for years, and I use both a double barreled and single barreled gun, and sometimes when I feel a little sharp, I use a rifle.

Mr. WALKER. That would be the day, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am still against semi-automatic shotguns. I don't think they should have ever been invented, to tell the truth, and nothing will change my mind on that.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—32

Berger,	Kephart,	Peelor,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kessler,	Probert,	Wade,

SYMPATHY OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO COMMUNITY, FRIENDS AND FAMILY OF THE LATE ROBERT C. GREER, SR.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATKINS, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 16, 1951.

Inevitable death, the ultimate fate of all, has brought the long and honorable earthly career of Robert C. Greer, Sr., to an end.

His was a sojourn replete with distinguished service in many fields. He crowded a diversification of interest and labor into the eighty-two years allotted him by his Maker and his stewardship of his many responsibilities must be a source of gratification to God and of unending inspiration to his fellow men.

He was active and progressive in community affairs and became the first Burgess of East Lansdowne many years ago.

His association with the church was fervent and constructive. His vital interest in the welfare of his church and its ethical contribution to his community found expression in his appointment as the Director of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal Church.

As a business man, he was always motivated by lofty principles and unquestionable precepts. Confidence in his sterling qualities as a business leader was manifested by his associates in their selection of him as President of the Bourse Sales Association. His long tenure on earth was happy, constructive, and fruitful. One of his daughters, Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, has in a sense extended the beneficent labors and the altruistic approach of her father into her administration of the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. Greer is survived by another daughter, Mrs. George N. Barrett, and three sons, David W., George F., and Robert C.

Although death always brings its poignant sorrows, yet its shock can be somewhat ameliorated when the honorable labors that have been consistently rendered throughout a long active life are brought to a cessation to receive their reward in Heaven; therefore be it

Resolved, That this Senate desires to express its respects and sorrow at the passing of Robert C. Greer, Sr.—a truly distinguished citizen of Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That this Senate tenders sympathy to his community, his many friends, and his family over the irreparable loss sustained by them; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution shall be transmitted to the surviving sons and daughters of Robert C. Greer, Sr.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 519, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act, approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, Senator Watson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Watson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATSON. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Watson, about a month ago the Committee on Executive Nominations met with Mr. Draemel, Secretary of Forests and Waters, at which time he was interrogated relative to the administration of his department. He agreed at that time to answer a series of questions that were propounded to him. He informed me that those questions had been answered and that the answers had been delivered to the Secretary to the Governor, Mr. McCallum—I think that is his name. I had asked you last week whether or not the Secretary to the Governor had delivered the answers to the questions to you, and your answer was no. I now ask you whether the answers to the questions were delivered to you.

Mr. WATSON. They were not, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Has the Secretary to the Governor discussed the questions with you or the fact that he had them in his possession?

Mr. WATSON. He has not, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, April 17, 1951, at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DISILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, April 17, 1951, at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 16, 1951.

The House met at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, by whose Holy Spirit men have been guided in their councils since the beginning of the world, direct, we beseech Thee, the deliberations of the Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania. To the Governor and all who share with him the task and burden of planning the program of the people of the State, grant spiritual strength, wise judgment, and adventurous faith, that they may lead us ever onward toward the goal that Thou hast set before us; the brotherhood of man; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, April 11, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HERSCH.

RESOLUTION No. 30.

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1951.

Eugene J. Hagerty, a distinguished member from Philadelphia, is doubly blessed. His daughter, Mrs. John Casey, better known as "Our Val," has thrilled the members of the last House with her beautiful songs. In fact her singing is so melodious and captivating and her charm as a performer is so infectious that she has been invited to sing to the present House at its closing session. Mr. Hagerty is indeed fortunate in having a talented and a personable daughter, but he has been even more graciously honored by her presentation to him on January 8, 1951, of a grandson, who, after a feeble start in life has now developed into a lusty eleven pound heir apparent. The word has gone forth that young Dennis Casey will some day become as notable a singer as his mother is, provided a proper inference from his present ability to hit high C is correctly taken; thereby be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives is particularly joyous that Mr. Hagerty has become the grandfather of a splendid boy, Dennis Casey, and extends its heartiest congratulations to Mr. Hagerty on the occasion of thus extending his distinguished lineage, and be it further Resolved, That the whole hearted felicitations of this House be tendered to Mrs. John Casey and her son, with its sincere wish that happiness and health will rule their lives.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. NAUGLE and WHALLEY.

RESOLUTION No. 31.

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1951.

Whereas, The Fourth Annual Somerset County Maple

Festival will be held on April 13 and 14 of this week in Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, This event has captured the public fancy throughout the Nation, by calling attention to this sweet distillation of the sugar maple tree, and

Whereas, The Meyersdale Chamber of Commerce is the guiding light in thus calling attention to an almost forgotten art, and

Whereas, It is common knowledge and a generally accepted fact that the residents of Somerset County have been singularly blessed with an abundance of the better traits found in man, and

Whereas, On many occasions discussions concerning the County have been matters of public debate embracing the productivity of our fields, the size and color of our barns, and the pulchritude of our fair ladies, inevitably ending up on the sweet subject of maple syrup, and

Whereas, The County's inhabitants have been known for generations as the Frosty Sons of Thunder, and their abiding place has been called the Roof Garden of Pennsylvania, the Foothills of eHaven, and

Whereas, Our third grade maple syrup is regularly sold to the city slickers as first grade Vermont syrup, and

Whereas, The House of Representatives of Pennsylvania is always ready to commend any person or group of persons who publicize the natural products of our great State, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania commend the Community and the County of their initiative in originating and carrying forward The Somerset County Maple Festival, and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives forward copies of this resolution to Mr. Herman Bashore and to Mr. Thomas Shipley, Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, Co-Chairmen of the Festival Committee.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION No. 32.

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1951.

For 18 years the American public has been spoon-fed with a series of crises calculated to frighten them into delivering their rights and duties into an expanding bureaucracy run by the few for the few.

All agree America's position on April 11, 1951 is filled with danger. We are engaged in a war and we are preparing to defend our homes from enemy action. The great question is not of the danger, it is who will decide to eliminate it correctly?

At just the point when all the military, political and diplomatic losses incurred since 1946 by the national administration's vacillating and incongruous policy and course of action, if any, could be recouped by vigorous counter-action and self-interest, President Harry S. Truman has seen fit to compound all the past errors by relieving from his command General Douglas MacArthur, a God-fearing American as well as a military genius.

In defense of this action, it is explained that a military commander must defer to his commander-in-chief, which is true; and must not meddle in the political action which is part of all war, which is false. No explanation, however, is or will be forthcoming explaining this newly-created political smokescreen to cover up the clinging murkiness of the older smokescreen around present administration policy and action, if any, which has for its purpose the appeasement of self-seeking foreign interests instead of protecting the welfare of the United States.

American citizens, including Harry S. Truman, know and believe in Douglas MacArthur. He is a recognized expert on military affairs and on the people and politics of the Pacific perimeter area. His achievements in keeping Japan from the entire Pacific perimeter under his jurisdiction free from communist influence, attack, and domination, as well as defeating the enemy's statellites in superior numbers with a limited force are only the latest in a long and distinguished career in the service of his country.

How long can America afford risking its life through the throttling of its first-rate leaders?; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth regretfully but firmly extend to President Harry S. Truman our unequivocal censure of his dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur, of his reaffirmation of the dilly-dallying policy of the State Department, and his consideration of the interests of foreigners over the rights of our citizens; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to the presiding officers of both houses of Congress.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 206, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 2401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township lists of water meter readings flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates and providing reimbursement for their expenses

Section 1 Section 2401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2401 Power to Establish and Construct Sewers and Drains Require Connections Sewer Rentals Townships may establish and construct a system of sewers and drainage locating the same as far as practicable along and within the lines of the public streets and highways of the township as seem advisable to the commissioners. The township commissioners may permit and where necessary for the public health by ordinance require any owner of property abutting on or adjoining any street or highway in which is a sewer to make connections with such sewer or drainage in such manner as the commissioners may order for the purpose of discharge of such drainage or waste matter as the commissioners may specify. The township commissioners may by penalties enforce any regulation they may ordain with reference to any sewer or drainage connections. All connections required shall be uniform. All persons so connecting may be required to pay in addition to the cost of making such connections a monthly or annual rate prescribing by ordinance. Such monthly or annual rate shall constitute a lien until paid against the property so connecting with such system and the amount thereof may be recovered by due process of law. All water utilities supplying water to users within the boundaries of any township shall at the request of the township commissioners furnish to the township on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month during which bills are issued a list of all water meter readings and flat-rate water bills and the basis for each flat-rate water charge so that the data may be used in calculating a monthly or annual rate. The township is authorized and empowered to pay to such utilities reasonable amounts for necessary clerical and other expenses incurred in the preparation of such lists.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or modify any of the provisions of the Public Utility Law.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Messrs. BLOOM, CLENDENING, WILLIAM C. LEON-

ARD and ROBERTSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 16, 1951.

Inevitable death, the ultimate fate of all, has brought the long and honorable earthly career of Robert C. Greer, Sr. to an end.

His was a sojourn replete with distinguished service in many fields. He crowded a diversification of interest and labor into the eighty-two years allotted him by his Maker and his stewardship of his many responsibilities must be a source of gratification to God and of unending inspiration to his fellow men.

He was active and progressive in community affairs and became the first Burgess of East Lansdowne many years ago.

His association with the church was fervent and constructive. His vital interest in the welfare of his church and its ethical contribution to his community found expression in his appointment as the Director of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal Church.

As a business man, he was always motivated by lofty principals and unquestionable precepts. Confidence in his sterling qualities as a business leader was manifested by his associates in their selection of him as President of the Bourse Sales Association. His long tenure on earth was happy, constructive, and fruitful. One of his daughters, Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, has in a sense extended the beneficent labors and the altruistic approach of her father into her administration of the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. Greer is survived by another daughter, Mrs. George N. Barrett, and three sons, David W., George F., and Robert C.

Although death always brings its poignant sorrows, yet its shock can be somewhat ameliorated when the honorable labors that have been consistently rendered throughout a long active life are brought to a cessation to receive their reward in Heaven; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House desires to express its respect and sorrow at the passing of Robert C. Greer, Sr.,—a truly distinguished citizen of Pennsylvania, and be it further

Resolved, That this House tenders sympathy to his community, his many friends, and his family over the irreparable loss sustained by them; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution shall be transmitted to the surviving sons and daughters of Robert C. Greer, Sr.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was visited this morning by two process servers. They evidently originally had it in mind to come on the floor of the House and serve every Member with a summons. It is my information that the Speaker, in legal terms, said: "Nothing doing so far as that is concerned." I told them I was in agreement with the Speaker.

Then they said: "Howabout handling our summons to Members of the House in the corridors?" I said that as far as I was concerned, I could not concede their right, nor the right of any other litigant, nor could I concede the right of any court to issue summonses of that kind, not only within this Chamber, not only within the Capitol building itself, but that I could not concede their right to issue a summons anywhere in Harrisburg, while this Legislature was in session. I could not prevent a process server from handing me a paper, but I could not concede and did not concede his right to do it.

Now I see by the press the various parties in Philadelphia are going to ask a three-Judge Federal Court to invalidate the Commonwealth's 1921 Apportionment Law.

I will concede that the proper court can invalidate that Act. The proper court can declare any of our statutes unconstitutional.

Then they want to proceed, according to this newspaper clipping, to restrain the Secretary of the Commonwealth from issuing any nomination petitions for legislative elections until the state is reapportioned—that raises a legal issue which I do not care to discuss—and until the state is reapportioned, to hold each Senator and Representative in contempt if the job is not done at the current session. At that point, while I am not a lawyer, I venture the statement that no court of competent jurisdiction can either issue legally or enforce such a proceeding.

It is an absurd proposition upon its face. As a Member of this House I can only vote for such bills as may be reported from a Committee. Now no one more than myself, no one in this House at least, desires a proper reapportionment bill more than I. Very frankly I admit that we of the minority have more to gain from an honest reapportionment than has the majority party.

The census will show that our 20 Senators in the Senate actually represent more men, women and children resident in their districts than are represented by the 30 Senators seated by the Republican party. If we were apportioning the state on the basis of population, we would have 51 percent of the strength in the Senate.

I repeat I can only vote for such bills as are reported from Committee. The presumption is that any bill reported from Committee will be an improvement upon the part of the existing reapportionment act, but it is conceivable that we could have reported to us a bill that from my point of view was worse than the existing situation. And if I so believed, no court, no court can command me or any other Member of this House to support a measure that is repugnant to my judgment or my conscience.

The principle, where the court should rule that we should act within a given session is also the principle that the court could say that we should operate within ten days or twenty days or ninety days. The proposal raised by the litigants, in which the court has not yet acquiesced, raises one of the most important constitutional questions that has faced the General Assembly in this generation.

How far can the courts go in determining the time at which this Legislature must operate, or what it must do?

We know that there has been a gradual accretion over the years in the powers of the court; a gradual encroachment upon the prerogatives of the Legislative branch of the government. So the proposal that we should submit to a summons is repugnant to common sense. I agree with the Speaker when he said that no process servers would be allowed upon the floor of this House, or in the corridors of the Capitol, nor would we concede that they could properly serve us with their papers here in Harrisburg while the Legislature is in session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have introduced a bill to reapportion the legislative districts and am doing all in my power to secure its passage.

I welcome all the help I can get to secure legislative reapportionment, but those who are attempting to bring this action in the courts and have harassed and annoyed Members of the Senate and the House in an effort to serve them with legal process are doing far more to hinder than to help. If their interest is in getting reapportionment rather than personal publicity they will withdraw the suit immediately.

The Constitution has made this the responsibility of the Legislature. It is not a judicial function. Furthermore, it is a state matter—not a federal matter. I am not a lawyer, but I cannot see what any court, especially a federal court has to do with it.

I agree with the Minority leader that this is a matter which the courts should refuse to consider. It is a legislative matter and not a court matter. Up to this time, we do not have the official census figures for the boroughs, the towns, the townships, the cities, and the wards. I do not know what we could have done up to this time without official figures. The federal officials have only furnished us with the census of the counties.

I am sure that before this session ends, we will reapportion the legislative districts in our state.

PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERS

The SPEAKER. Article II, Section 15, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that Members of the General Assembly are privileged from arrest, in the following language:

"The Members of the General Assembly shall in all cases, except treason, felony, violation of their oath of office, and breach or surety of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the sessions of their respective Houses and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place."

It has been held from earliest times by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, as well as several lower court decisions when the question has arisen, that the Members of the General Assembly are exempt from arrest or service of civil process while performing their legislative duties;—immunity being granted on the grounds of public policy;—the Members of the Legislature should not be drawn away from public duties with private suits.

The Chair is of the opinion that if a Member of this House is served a summons during his attendance at the session of the House, he is within his constitutional rights under privileges of a Member to refuse to accept such process.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 187.

An Act to further amend Article XIV of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by authorizing the appointment of special school police and defining their powers and duties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, by striking out on lines 12 and 13, the following: "shall be empowered to make arrests in connection with the performance of their duties"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "who shall be in uniform and shall display a badge or other sign of authority and who shall be vested with all of the powers of local police officers."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 17, 1951.

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore M. Harvey Taylor in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rec. THOMAS D. GARNER, Pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Bedford, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Our Father God, we pause this moment to hallow Thy holy name. We lift our hearts before Thee in complete adoration and praise.

We acknowledge our many shortcomings, but, even as we confess them unto Thee, we pray for Thy forgiving love. We thank Thee for the blessings which have been ours. We are grateful for the privilege of serving Thee and our fellowmen.

May Thy blessing be with the Members of this Senate. Imbue them with wisdom, insight and understanding faith, that they may serve all well.

In the name of our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. WADE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the bill I am about to introduce is addressed to a unique situation. The City of Scranton is a city of the Second Class A. At the present time it is the only city in that class. The minimum population presently required of a second class A city is 135,000. The 1950 census, which will soon be published, will probably fix Scranton's population at approximately 125,000 or roughly 10,000 below the minimum figure.

The present City Code in this Commonwealth is silent as to procedure when a city's population falls below the minimum required for the class it is in. This bill provides that a city shall regress in classification if its population is below the prescribed minimum for two consecutive United States decennial censuses.

It is the intent of this bill that a city shall not be required to be reduced in classification merely because its population in one instance falls below the minimum figure. Such a decrease in population might be a temporary situation which would later be corrected. To cause a city to change its form of government merely as a result of a temporary fluctuation in population would cause considerable undue hardship, confusion and expense. This bill intends to provide that such a change of classification would only come after a permanent decrease in population as would be reflected in two censuses over a period of ten years.

Behind the cold figures of the United States Census is an intensely human story. Up our way this has come to be known as the Scranton Story. Perhaps some of you may have heard of it. Last week I caused to be placed on the desk of each Senator a booklet published under the auspices of the Scranton Chamber of Commerce which told part of the story.

A generation ago, the City of Scranton was a thriving prosperous community, the anthracite capital of the world. Its economy was a single industry economy based solely on the mining of anthracite coal.

Coal mining in its very nature is a wasting asset industry. As the supply of coal in Lackawanna County gradually reached the point of exhaustion, coal mining was beset by many other problems. The coal industry came to be known as a sick industry and the anthracite counties became known as a distressed area.

There was little opportunity provided in the way of employment for young people in the coal regions. In the 1930's the percentage of unemployed persons was higher than in most other parts of the country and per capita expenditures for relief and public assistance were well above the average. Young people graduating from high school and college left the area in search of jobs. Families were broken up; civic spirit reached a low ebb; only the most optimistic saw any hope for the future.

The migration of people from Lackawanna County was accentuated in World War II. Literally thousands of residents of Scranton and Lackawanna County migrated to such industrial centers as Chester, Newark, Bridgeport and others. In 1943, there were five thousand vacant homes in the City of Scranton. Whole families whose roots had been firmly fixed in the City of Scranton and County of Lackawanna for generations found it necessary to tear themselves from their ancestral homes and their circle of friends and move elsewhere.

About this time a small group of men, public spirited citizens with an abiding faith in Scranton's future, decided to take matters into their own hands.

From meetings of a few persons, rapidly a plan and crusade evolved which enlisted the aid of the great bulk of the citizens of the community. Persons in all walks of life joined in a concentrated effort to rehabilitate Scranton by securing new industrial plants which would provide employment for thousands in diversified industries. Civic leaders, doctors, lawyers, union officials, clergymen, laborers, all classes and types of citizens, joined in this community effort.

Through a series of drives, enough funds were raised to publicize the many natural advantages the region has for industry. As the idea took hold, the campaign snowballed.

Since 1946, thirty-nine new factories have been built in Scranton and fifty-five smaller factories expanded their production facilities. Many former Scrantonians have returned to the city in the past few years.

The past decade has worked a miracle. Ten years ago, practically the only opportunity for male employment was in the coal mines. Today, industry in Scranton is so diversified that there are over fifty different types of industries in the area. Our industrial expansion is not complete but marvelous progress has been made and the pace of industrialization is accelerating every day.

In place of having five thousand vacant homes, the City of Scranton now has a housing shortage in spite of the fact that for the first time in years large scale housing projects are under construction in Scranton. Our population has increased from the depth it hit during the years of World War II.

However, at the time the 1950 census was taken, we had not yet returned to our previous peak. The question of what effect this will have on our city's status is uppermost in the minds of most citizens. The responsible citizens who have been most active in the rehabilitation program feel that a step backward in classification will be a serious blow to the enthusiasm for progress. It is also true that the form of government in cities of the second class is more attractive to prospective new industries.

Our municipal government is presently geared to a second class city. We have a fully paid fire department under Civil Service. City taxes are based on County assessments, there being no independent Board of City Assessors. All taxes including city, school, county and school district, are furnished the taxpayer on a single statement due to the fact that a single tax office has been created in Scranton. A change to third class city status would mean a considerable upheaval in the present form and organization of our municipal government.

The inequities which are patently inherent in this situation are further accentuated when it is realized that Scranton's population has been increasing for the past five years and that its present rate will certainly by 1960 again exceed 135,000. If this is so, under present law it would then be necessary for Scranton to return to the status of a second class city. Two changes in the organization of municipal government within ten years will work an unwarranted hardship, create considerable confusion and make necessary needless expenditures.

Mr. President, Scranton will come back. The spirit of the citizens of Scranton cannot be denied. We are asking members of this body to help us in our efforts to help ourselves by freeing the classification of our city for the next ten years and with this in mind I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it seems to me that history is repeating itself. It was just two years ago on the sixth day of April that the Committee on Agriculture of the Senate of Pennsylvania overrode the will of the people and killed any margarine bill which would permit the sale of colored oleo within the confines of this Commonwealth. Today it is my understanding that the majority members of that Committee proceeded to use the ax again upon legislation which would permit the sale of colored oleo in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I sometimes wonder how long the people of this Commonwealth are going to put up with that type of legislation. It seems to me that the people should become aroused when one or two can govern the welfare of ten million people in this Commonwealth. It seems to me that the housewives in this Commonwealth are being deprived of something that is essentially their right to use, and I for one cannot understand why this Committee would take such arbitrary action. I know that two years ago they used Miles Horst in ther to lobby against colored oleo, and the butter trusts won again, and it seems today that that is the case. The butter trusts have won again in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I do not suppose it is any use for any member of the Minority or the Majority side to introduce a resolution to discharge a committee, because it seems to be the unwritten law that the Majority Membership will vote to uphold the actions of this Committee. We have been quite tolerant. I think the membership on both sides have been tolerant in regard to the passage of this legislation. Here it is the middle of April. We have not done a thing. We have sat back and waited, and waited and waited until the Committee met, because we were under the impression that some type of legislation would be reported from that Committee to permit the sale of colored oleo in Pennsylvania, but low and behold you, it seems that history is repeating itself because nothing is forthcoming, and I say to these members that participated today and voted to kill all that legislation, they are doing an injustice. They are doing an injustice because there is not any question as to the healthfulness of oleo, there is not any question as to the purity of oleo.

It just seems that the butter block does not want competition, and yet they color their butter but they would not permit the sale of colored oleo.

I am not going to take up much more time, but I want you to know, Mr. President, that I feel that this is highhanded, arbitrary action on the part of this Committee, and it is going to come home to haunt them.

CALENDAR

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 318, as follows:

An Act authorizing counties of the second and fourth classes to establish fire training schools for the paid and volunteer firemen of municipalities within the county

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The county commissioners of all counties of the second and fourth classes are hereby authorized and empowered to establish equip and maintain fire training schools or centers for the purpose of giving instruction and practical training in the prevention control and fighting of fire to the members of paid fire departments and volunteer fire companies in any city borough town or township within such county which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, when this bill originally passed the Senate it was a permissive bill affecting only counties of the second-class, which under the classification is Allegheny County. Over in the House a distinguished Member of the House, who represents a fourth-class county, amended the bill by putting in fourth-class counties also. The bill is still permissive. It does not affect the original intent of those of us who were desirous of placing this matter at the disposal or for the use of the Commissioners of Allegheny County. Therefore, we have no objection to the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WAKLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 99, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to improve and extend by reciprocal legislation the enforcement of duties of support and to make uniform the law with respect thereto.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 104, as follows:

An Act providing for the sentencing of persons convicted of certain crimes to an indeterminate sentence having a minimum of one day and a maximum of life in certain cases authorizing the criminal courts to impose such a sentence and certain temporary sentences in connection therewith requiring psychiatric examinations of such persons before the imposition of such a sentence conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Welfare and the Pennsylvania Board of Parole and providing for the parole conditional parole or absolute discharge of persons so sentenced and the procedure relating thereto

Section 1 For the better administration of justice and the more efficient punishment treatment and rehabilitation of persons convicted of the crime of indecent assault incest assault and solicitation to commit sodomy sodomy assault with intent to ravish or rape If the court is of the opinion that any such person if at large constitutes a threat of bodily harm to members of the public or is an habitual offender and mentally ill the court in lieu of the sentence now provided by law for each such crime may sentence such person to a State institute for an indeterminate term having a minimum of one day and a maximum of his natural life.

Section 2 No person convicted of a crime punishable in the discretion of the court under the provisions of this act with imprisonment in a State institution for an indeterminate term having a minimum of one day and a maximum of his natural life shall be so sentenced until (1) a complete psychiatric examination shall have been made of him through the facilities of the Department of Welfare as hereinafter provided or by a psychiatrist designated by the court the results of whose examination shall be transmitted to and accepted by the Department of Welfare in lieu of an examination made through its own facilities and (2) a complete written report thereof shall have been submitted to the court Such report shall include all facts and findings necessary to assist the court in determining whether it shall impose sentence under the provisions of this act upon the person convicted in lieu of the sentence otherwise provided by law

Section 3 (a) To enable the court to procure such a psychiatric examination and to afford the Department of Welfare time in which to make the same the court is hereby authorized and empowered to postpone sentence upon any person convicted of any one or more of the crimes enumerated in section one of this act and to order the person so convicted to temporary imprisonment in the prison or jail such person was confined prior to his trial or would have been confined if not free on bail. Such period of temporary confinement shall not exceed a period of thirty (30) days unless the court on the request of the psychiatric examiner extends the observation period for an additional time not exceeding thirty (30) days. It shall be the duty of the Department of Welfare to make psychiatric examination of the prisoner and report to the court thereon within the period allowed by the court.

(b) If for any reason such examination is not made and a report thereon given to the court within such period of temporary imprisonment the provisions of this act shall thereupon not be available to the court and it shall sentence the prisoner to such sentence as now provided by law and the period of temporary confinement herein provided for shall be considered as a part of the sentence so imposed whether it be for the purpose of determining the length of the sentence by the court or for the purpose of parole.

Section 4 Whenever a court shall desire the Department of Welfare to make a psychiatric examination of and a report on a person convicted of any one or more of the crimes enumerated in section one of this act it shall make an order to that effect and it shall be the duty of the clerk of court to promptly notify the Department of Welfare of such order. The Department of Welfare shall thereupon make such a psychiatric examination of the person so convicted at the place where such person is in temporary imprisonment or may request that he be brought to any clinic established by the Department of Welfare for such purposes. In the latter event if agreeable to the court it shall order the person so convicted to be taken in custody to such clinic.

Section 5 (a) Whenever a court after psychiatric examination of and report on a person convicted of any one or more of the crimes enumerated in section one of this act shall be of the opinion that it would be to the best interests of justice to sentence such person under the provisions of this act he shall cause such person to be arraigned before him and sentenced to such State institution as shall have been designated by the Department of Welfare in its report to the court. The cost of transporting such person to the State institution designated by the department and the cost of his maintenance therein shall be borne by the Commonwealth and the several counties to the extent and in the manner provided by law.

(b) The costs of maintenance of any person so convicted while in temporary imprisonment as hereinbefore provided shall be borne by the county and the cost of the psychiatric examination of and report on such person shall be borne by the Department of Welfare.

(c) The Department of Welfare in its report to the court is hereby authorized to designate a penitentiary, industrial school or any other State institution as the place of confinement of the person who is the subject of such report if the court elects to sentence such person under the provisions of this act.

Section 6 It shall be the duty of the Department of Welfare from funds appropriated to it to provide psychiatric and psychological services to the courts as provided in section four of this act and for the purpose of affording such services to the Pennsylvania Board of Parole in the further examination, diagnosis and treatment of persons sentenced under the provisions of this act during their confinement and after conditional parole as hereinafter provided for.

The department may in its discretion establish one or more psychiatric clinics for the examination, diagnosis and treatment of persons convicted of any one or more of the crimes enumerated in section one of this act when so ordered by a court or sentenced under the provisions hereof or may use existing clinics or services for such work provided that such clinics or services shall provide qualified personnel experienced in the field of psychiatry and psychology as it relates to crimes involving sexual perversion, maladjustment or aberration.

Section 7 Within three months after a person shall have been sentenced under the provisions of this act for an indeterminate term having a minimum of one day and a maximum of his natural life and at least every six months thereafter the Pennsylvania Board of Parole shall cause to be brought before it with respect to each such person all reports, records and information concerning such person for the purpose of determining whether such person shall be paroled or discharged as hereinafter provided and it shall be the duty of the Board thereupon to make a ruling with respect to each such person who shall be notified in writing of such ruling. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a person sentenced under the provisions of this act from making application for parole in the manner now provided by law.

Section 8 The Pennsylvania Board of Parole is hereby granted control over the parole or discharge of persons sentenced under the provisions of this act whether imprisoned in a penitentiary or other State institution. The Board is hereby authorized and empowered to grant a parole or absolute discharge to any person sentenced under the provisions of this act at such time and under such conditions as the interests of justice may dictate. In considering the parole or discharge or an application for parole of any person sentenced under the provisions of this act the Board shall give serious consideration to the original report and subsequent reports of the psychiatric and psychological examination of the person so sentenced and of the recommendations contained in such reports.

Section 9 Except as otherwise provided in this act the Pennsylvania Board of Parole shall have all the powers conferred and duties imposed upon it with respect to the parole of prisoners generally in the parole supervision and discharge from parole of persons sentenced under the provisions of this act.

Section 10 Any person sentenced under the provisions of this act may appeal from a refusal of the Pennsylvania Board of Parole to grant him a parole or to discharge him to the court by which he was sentenced in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Agency Law approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1388) or any amendment or reenactment thereof.

Any such person may also without first applying to the board petition the court for his discharge. After considering the original report and subsequent reports of the psychiatric and psychological examination of the person sentenced and the recommendations contained in such reports and such other facts and reports of examinations as the court may direct to be brought before it the court may discharge the person sentenced.

Section 11 All acts and parts of acts here hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this bill applies to all our third-class cities. We have forty-seven in this State, and it is merely a permissive bill. It does not require them to change anything, but it does give those cities the power, if they wish, to re-classify their lands and buildings and their appraisals when they make their millage. The cities of Erie, Allentown, Wilkes-Barre, Altoona, York, Williamsport, Easton and Harrisburg do that now. When they appraise their property and real estate for taxation, they do it separately. This bill would allow all the cities to go further than that if they wish, and put a different rate of millage on lands and buildings.

Mr. President, in 1913, we had a great Republican Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, William A. McGee. He was known all over the United States as an expert on municipal government, and he came to this Legislature and secured the passage of a bill that goes much further than this, but it applies only to Pittsburgh and Scranton. There that bill provided that at each triennial assessment they could change the assessment ten per cent, take it off buildings and put it on land which they did. When the year 1925 came along, the tax in buldings, was half what it was on land, and it has been that way for a quarter of a century in Scranton and Pittsburgh. This same man in 1911 came to this Legislature, and he secured the passage of a bill that exempts machinery from taxation in the cities of Pittsburgh and Scranton, and that bill has been effective and on the statute books ever since.

Mr. President, you just heard Senator McMenamin tell us about the great improvements in Scranton, and I am very happy to announce here today that Pittsburgh is the most booming city in this world today. The United States Steel Corporation is moving its offices from New York City to Pittsburgh, and they have put a thirty story building up, shining steel inside and out. The Aluminum Company of America is moving its offices from New York City to Pittsburgh, and they are building, one block away, another solid aluminum building inside and out. The Equitable Life Assurance Company has come to Pittsburgh, and they are investing fifty-five million dollars in office buildings. The Pennsylvania Railroad has just completed a warehouse costing five million dollars. I talked to Mr. Lawrence, the Vice-President of the Jones and Laughlin Company yesterday, and he told me that the addition to their mill on the south side is costing them—and they are building it right now—one hundred and three million dollars.

So, Mr. President, this last year in the City of Pittsburgh the building permits have been over five hundred million dollars.

This folder here that Senator McMenamin just spoke about so eliquently shows you—it was on every Senator's desk I think last Wednesday—that thirty-nine new plants have been built, and fifty-five plants expanded in the last year or so in the City of Scranton. So, I say to you that it was a God send to Pittsburgh and Scranton that this legislation years ago was passed by this Legislature that allows the City of Scranton now to tell a manufacturer, come to our town and we will assess your buildings half what we will assess your land, and we will not tax your machinery a penny. We have done that in Pittsburgh through the same period, and I am sure after the stories you have heard here today about Scranton and Pittsburgh that you will not be afraid of this permissive bill that is before you now.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest also to the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny that while he was extolling the virtues of Pittsburgh, he should have mentioned the fact that at this point the Pirates are in first place.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 202, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 2445 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by authorizing the issuance of non-debt revenue bonds for the alteration addition to or enlargement of existing sewers sewer systems and sewage treatment works and the pledging of revenue derived from the existing system in payment of such bonds and authorizing the issue and sale of non-debt revenue bonds at one time

Section 1 Section 2445 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2445 Sewer Bonds For the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of constructing or acquiring a sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works or for the purpose of financing the cost or expense or its share of the cost or expense of altering making additions to or enlarging an existing sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works either singly or jointly with other municipalities or townships or both any township may issue non-debt revenue bonds secured solely by a pledge in whole or in part of the annual rentals or charges for the use of such sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works including in the case of alterations or additions to or enlargement of existing sewers sewer systems or sewage treatment works annual rentals or charges derived from the use of the then existing sewers sewer systems or sewage treatment works Said bonds shall not pledge the credit nor create any debt nor be a charge against the general revenues nor be a lien against any property of the township but shall be a lien upon and payable solely from the annual rentals or charges for the use of said sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works

Whenever any township has enacted an ordinance or resolution imposing a sewer rental or charge upon properties to be served by such sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed or in the case of alterations or additions to or enlargement of an existing sewer sewer system or sewage treatment works when the same is completed and has pledged sufficient of the revenues being derived or to be derived therefrom for the payment of the interest and sinking fund charges on such non-debt revenue bonds it shall have power to authorize the issue and sale of such non-debt bonds at one time or from time to time as the work of construction proceeds and sufficient additional non-debt revenue bonds as may be necessary may be issued and sold to provide for the interest and sinking fund charges accruing thereon until said sewer system or sewage treatment works or the alteration or addition to or enlargement thereof has been completed and has been in operation for not exceeding one year in order to provide sufficient revenues until such time as sewer rentals or charges may be collected from the owners of properties being served

Nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge or restrict or in any way impair the right of any township to create indebtedness in accordance with existing laws

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

The register or clerk with whom the same is filed shall forthwith send one copy thereof to the board. It shall be the duty of the board to proceed at once to assess the tax due from such decedent with interest as provided in this act. Such assessment shall include all property owned held or possessed by the decedent which should have been returned by him for taxation for any former year or years not exceeding five (5) years. In any case where a false incomplete incorrect or inaccurate return has been previously filed the board shall make an additional assessment for the five (5) years immediately preceding the year of assessment in the same manner as otherwise provided in this act. The school district levying the tax may proceed to collect the said tax by presenting a claim therefor to the orphans' court of the proper county or may proceed by action or suit at law in any court of competent jurisdiction or take any and all other appropriate steps or procedure for the collection of such taxes.

Section 11 Examination of Books and Witnesses Rules and Regulations (a) The board or any employee authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records of any resident in order to verify the accuracy of any return made or if not return was made to ascertain and assess the tax imposed by this act. Every such resident is hereby directed and required to give to the board or its duly authorized employee the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. The board is hereby authorized to examine any person under oath concerning any property which was or should have been returned for taxation and to this end may compel the production of books papers and records and the attendance of all persons whether as parties or witnesses whom it believes have knowledge of such property. In the event of the refusal of any taxpayer to permit the examination of his books and records or upon his refusal to appear before the board or to testify or in the event of his refusal to produce books papers and records which the board has directed to be produced the board may have recourse to the court of common pleas of said county which court shall upon cause shown direct the attendance of witnesses and the production of such books papers and records.

(b) The board is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of the tax penalties and interest imposed by this act.

(c) The powers conferred by this act upon the board relating to the administration and enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the said board by law.

Section 12 Compensation Employees (a) The members of the board and the receiver of school taxes and such of the assistants and employees thereof as the board and the receiver of school taxes shall respectively designate shall be paid by the school district for their services in the administration and enforcement of this act. Such compensation shall be in addition to any other salary or compensation each now or hereafter may be entitled to receive for any other duties performed or to be performed by him.

(b) Upon the respective recommendations of the board and the receiver of school taxes the board of public education shall appoint and fix the salaries which shall be paid by the school district of such other assistants and employees as the board and receiver of school taxes may respectively require to assist the board and the receiver of school taxes in the administration and enforcement of this act.

Section 13 Certified State to Board of Public Education and Collecting Officers For the purpose of enabling the board of public education to levy the taxes imposed by this act for one thousand nine hundred fifty and for every year thereafter it shall be the duty of the board to furnish annually at the same time as it furnishes the valuation of real property to the boards of public education in school districts of the class and to the receiver of school taxes or in school districts in which there is no receiver of school taxes to the school treasurer an estimate of the total valuation of all personal property taxable for school purposes.

Section 14 Interest Tax Liens and Claims (a) The tax imposed by this act shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid.

(b) The school district levying the tax may at any time transmit to the prothonotary of the county in which the school district levying the tax is located a certified record of taxes imposed under this act and the penalties and interest thereon. The record so transmitted shall contain the name of the taxpayer his address if known amount of tax penalty and interest due and the year during which said tax was payable and it shall be the duty of the prothonotary to enter and docket the same of record in the prothonotary's office in a docket which shall be designated "Personal Property Tax Lien Docket" and such tax lien shall be indexed as judgments are now indexed and shall be combined with liens arising from county or in cities coextensive with counties city and county personal property taxes. In no even shall the prothonotary be entitled to duplicate fees. All taxes imposed under this act together with penalties and interest thereon shall be a lien on the real estate of the taxpayer within the county until paid. After the same shall have been entered and docketed of record by the prothonotary all such liens shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any judicial sale of said real estate before any other obligation judgment claim lien or estate with which the said real estate may become charged or for which it may become liable save and except only the costs of the sale and of the writ upon which it is made and the real estate taxes imposed or assessed upon said property. The lien of said tax shall continue for a period of five years from the date of entry and may be revived and continued in the manner now or hereafter provided for revival of judgments and it shall be lawful for a writ of scire facias to issue and be prosecuted to judgment in the manner in which such writs are now ordinarily employed.

(c) Claims for taxes due under this act may be collected by action in assumpsit brought by the school district levying the tax against the taxpayer or may be presented at the audit of any estate in the orphans' court.

Section 15 Penalties (a) It shall be unlawful for any person or persons copartnership unincorporated association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation whatsoever in loaning money at interest to any person or persons whether such loans be secured by bond and mortgages or otherwise to require the person or persons borrowing the same to pay the tax imposed thereon by this act and in all cases where such tax shall have been paid by the borrower or borrowers the same shall be deemed and considered usury and subject to the laws governing the same.

(b) Any person who shall wilfully and corruptly make a false and fraudulent return as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon [his or her] conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo [an] imprisonment not exceeding two (2) years or both.

(c) Any person who wilfully fails or refuses to file any report containing the information required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both.

(d) As used in this section the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

[Section 16 Applicability and Related Matter (a) The provision of this act shall apply only to school districts of the first class having a population of 1,500,000 or more persons. If any act reclassifying school districts is passed by the General Assembly during the session of one thousand nine hundred forty-nine the provisions of this act and under such classification apply only to school districts of the first class and not to school districts of the first class A]

Section 17 Saving Clauses (a) Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to empower any school district of the first class to impose levy and collect the taxes hereby levied upon any personal property of any of the classes hereinbefore enumerated not within the power of the General Assembly under the Constitution of the United States

(b) If the tax or any portion of the tax imposed upon any of the personal property of any of the classes hereinbefore enumerated under the provisions of this act or if any exception of any personal property of any of the classes as hereinbefore enumerated from the imposition of the tax under the provisions of this act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be in violation of the Constitution of the United States or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the decision shall not affect or impair the right to impose the taxes or the validity of the taxes so imposed upon the personal property of the other classes as hereinbefore enumerated or to impose the taxes on the personal property so excepted. It is the intent of the General Assembly that the taxes imposed or excepted so held to be unconstitutional were not to be imposed or excepted as the case may be but that the taxes imposed upon all other personal property made taxable under this act were to be imposed and that taxes on the personal property excepted were to be imposed thereon.

(c) It is the intent of the General Assembly that the power vested in it to levy taxes shall not be delegated by any of the provisions of this act to any school district of the first class in violation of the provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. If a court of competent jurisdiction shall hold that such power has nevertheless been so unconstitutionally delegated the rate of the tax herein imposed shall be four (4) mills on each dollar of the value of the personal property made taxable which rate the General Assembly under such circumstances intends to be imposed.

Section 18 Repeal All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

[Section 19 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall continue in effect until and including the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one]

Section 9 Section five hundred eight of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 508 Voting Shares Held By Corporation Any corporation owning shares in [another] a domestic business corporation may vote the same by any of its officers or by proxy appointed by any such officer unless some other person by resolution of its board of directors shall be appointed its general or special proxy in which case such person shall be entitled to vote the shares Shares of its own capital stock belonging to a domestic business corporation shall not be voted directly or indirectly at any meeting and shall not be counted in determining the total number of outstanding shares for voting purposes at any given time but shares of its own capital stock held by it in a fiduciary capacity may be voted and shall be counted in determining the total number of outstanding shares at any given time

Section 10 Paragraph C of Section six hundred two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

C Prior to the issue of any shares of a series established by resolution adopted by the board of directors the corporation shall present to the Department of State a statement executed under the seal of the corporation signed and verified by two duly authorized officers thereof and setting forth

- (1) The name of the corporation
- (2) The resolution establishing and designating the series and fixing and determining the relative rights and preferences thereof
- (3) The date and the manner of the adoption of such resolution

If the Department of State finds that such statement conforms to law and the articles of the corporation and when all fees have been paid as required by law it shall endorse its approval thereon [shall file the statement] and shall issue to the corporation or its representative [a copy of] the approved statement and shall make and retain a copy thereof Upon the [filing] approval of such statement by the Department of State the resolution establishing and designating the series and fixing and determining the relative rights and preferences thereof shall become effective

Section 11 Paragraph C of Section seven hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

C The statement shall be delivered to the Department of State either prior to or within thirty days after the date of such redemption and cancellation. If the Department of State finds that the statement conforms to law it shall upon payment of the filing fee endorse its approval thereon [shall file the statement and] shall issue to the corporation or its representative [a copy of] the approved statement and shall make and retain a copy thereof. The [filing] approval of such statement shall operate as an amendment to the article of the corporation and shall reduce the number of shares of the class so redeemed which the corporation is authorized to issue by the number of the shares so redeemed and cancelled. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit a reduction of authorized capital stock or a reduction of stated capital in any other manner permitted by this act.

Section 12 Paragraph C of Section seven hundred six of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

C The statement shall be delivered to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that such statement conforms to law it shall upon payment of the filing fee endorse its approval thereon [shall file the statement and] shall issue to the corporation or its representative [a copy of] the approved statement and shall make and retain a copy thereof. Upon the [filing] approval of such statement the reduction shall be effective.

Section 13 Paragraph C of Section seven hundred eight of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

C The statement shall be delivered to the Department of State within thirty days after the adoption of the resolution aforesaid. If the Department of State finds that the statement conforms to law it shall endorse its approval thereon [shall file the statement and] shall issue to the corporation or its representative [a copy of] the approved statement and shall make and retain a copy thereof. If the resolution aforesaid provided for a reduction in the number of shares which the corporation is authorized to issue the [filing] approval of such statement shall operate as an amendment to the articles of the corporation and shall reduce the number of shares of the class so cancelled which the corporation is authorized to issue by the number of shares so cancelled otherwise the shares so cancelled shall upon such [filing] approval have the status of authorized but unissued shares. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit a reduction of authorized capital stock or a reduction of stated capital in any other manner permitted by this act.

Section 14 Section eight hundred eight of said act as last amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 139) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 808 Filing of Articles of Amendment. The articles of amendment proof of the advertisement heretofore required in this article shall be delivered by the corporation or its representative to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that such articles conform to law it shall upon payment of the filing fee forthwith but not prior to the day specified in the advertisement required by the preceding section endorse its approval thereon [and] shall [file the articles and] issue to the corporation or its representative a certificate of amendment to which shall be attached [a copy of] the approved articles and shall make and retain a copy thereof.

Section 15 Article eight of said act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 810 Rights of Dissenting Shareholders. A If any amendment to the articles of a corporation shall limit or deny any preemptive right of any outstanding shares the holder of any outstanding shares affected adversely by such amendment who shall have filed with the corporation prior to or at the meeting of shareholders at which the proposed amendment was submitted to a vote written objection to such proposed amendment and shall not have voted in favor thereof and who within twenty days after the effective date of the amendment shall also make written demand on the corporation for the payment of the fair value of his shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the amendment without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the amendment shall be paid by the corporation the fair value of his shares upon surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares. The demand of the shareholder shall state the number and class of the shares owned by him. Unless a shareholder files such written objection and also makes such demand within the twenty-day period he shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the amendment and shall be bound by the terms thereof. If within thirty days after the date on which such amendment became effective the value of such shares shall be agreed upon between the dissenting shareholder and the corporation payment thereof shall be made in cash within ninety days after the date on which such amendment became effective upon the surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares. Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation.

B If within such period of thirty days the shareholder and the corporation do not so agree then the dissenting shareholder may within sixty days after the expiration of the thirty-day period apply by petition to the court of common pleas in equity within the county in which the registered office of the corporation is situated for the appointment by the court of three disinterested persons to appraise the fair value of his shares without regard to any depreciation thereof in consequences of the amendment. The award of the appraisers or of a majority of them shall be submitted to the court for determination and the judgment of the court thereon shall be final and conclusive. The costs of such appraisal including a reasonable fee to the appraisers shall be fixed by the court and shall be borne by the corporation unless in the opinion of the court the action of any shareholder in refusing the offer of the corporation has been arbitrary vexatious or in bad faith in which case the costs shall be assessed in the discretion of the court. The award shall be payable only upon and simultaneously with the surrender to the corporation of the share certificate or certificates representing the shares of the dissenting shareholder. If the award shall not be paid by the corporation within thirty days after the order of the court thereon the amount of the award shall be a judgment against the corporation and may be collected as other judgments in such court are by law collectible. Upon the payment of the award or judgment the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation. Such shares may be held and disposed of by the corporation as it may see fit. Unless the dissenting shareholder shall file a petition within the time herein limited such shareholder and all persons claiming under him shall be conclusively presumed to have approved and ratified the amendment and shall be bound by the terms thereof.

C The rights and remedies at law or in equity of any shareholder who desires to object to or to dissent from any such amendment shall be limited to those prescribed under this section and such rights and remedies under this section shall be exclusive.

D Whenever any such amendment is proposed a copy of this Section 810 shall be enclosed with the written notice mentioned in Section 803 of this act and said written notice shall state that Section 810 sets forth the exclusive rights and remedies of shareholders who would be affected adversely by the proposed amendment and who object thereto.

Section 16 Paragraph B of Section nine hundred two of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

B The board of directors of each domestic corporation upon approving such plan of merger or plan of consolidation shall by resolution direct that the plan be submitted to a vote of the shareholders of such corporation entitled to vote thereon at an annual or special meeting of the shareholders. Written notice shall not less than ten days before such annual or special meeting be given to each shareholder of record of such corporation whether or not entitled to vote on such plan unless the plan of merger or plan of consolidation contemplates [an increase in the aggregate of the authorized capital stock of the constituent corporations] that the aggregate par value or aggregate authorized number of shares of the surviving or new corporation shall be so increased over the aggregate par value or aggregate authorized number of shares of a domestic corporation party to such plan that the increase if effectuated by amendment to the articles of incorporation of such corporation would necessitate a meeting of shareholders called on sixty days' notice under Section 8 E of this act in which event sixty days' notice of such meeting shall be given to each shareholder of each such domestic corporation. The notice shall state the place day hour and purpose of the meeting and a copy or a summary of the plan of merger or plan of consolidation as the case may be shall be included in or enclosed with such notice.

Section 17 Section nine hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 905 Filing of Articles of Merger or Consolidation The articles of merger or articles of consolidation as the case may be and proof of the advertisement required by the preceding section and a certificate or certificates from the proper department or departments evidencing payment by the corporation of all bonus taxes and charges as required by law shall be delivered to the Department of State except that no such certificates shall be required of the surviving corporation in cases of merger. If the Department of State finds that such articles conform to law and that the certificate or certificates evidencing payment of bonus or taxes or charges delivered therewith is in proper form it shall upon payment of the filing fee forthwith but not prior to the day specified in the advertisement required by the preceding section endorse its approval thereon and [file the articles and] issue to the surviving or new corporation or its representative a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation as the case may be to which shall be attached [a copy of] the approved articles and shall make and retain a copy thereof.

Section 18 Section nine hundred eight of said act is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof a new paragraph to read as follows

E The provisions of subsections A and B of this Section 908 shall not apply to the merger or consolidation of two or more corporations one of which owns all of the outstanding shares of all the others immediately prior to the approval of the plan of merger or consolidation and at all times thereafter provided that neither the state of incorporation nor the preferences qualifications limitations restrictions or special or relative rights granted to or imposed upon the shares of any class of the parent corporation are altered by such plan. The shareholders of such parent corporation shall have no right to dissent from any such merger or consolidation.

Section 19 Paragraph A of Section nine hundred nine of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 909 Domestication of Foreign Corporations A Any foreign business corporation holding a certificate of authority to do business in this Commonwealth may become a domestic corporation of this Commonwealth by delivering or causing to be delivered to the Department of State articles of domestication. If the Department of State finds that the articles conform to law it shall forthwith endorse its approval thereon and when all bonus fees and charges have been paid as required by law shall [file the articles and] issue to the foreign corporation a certificate of domestication to which shall be attached [a copy of] the articles and shall make and retain a copy thereof. The articles upon being approved [and filed] by the Department of State shall constitute the charter of the domesticated foreign corporation and it shall thereafter have all the powers and privileges and be subject to all the duties and limitations granted and imposed upon domestic corporations under the provisions of this act.

Section 20 Paragraph A of Section one thousand five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1005 Issuance of Certificate of Authority A If the Department of State finds that the provisions of this article have been complied with and that the applicant corporation is entitled to a certificate of authority to do business in this Commonwealth it shall forthwith but not prior to the day specified in the advertisement heretofore required in this article endorse its approval upon the application for a certificate of authority and when all bonus fees and charges have been paid as required by law shall [file the application and the copy of the articles and shall] issue to the corporation a certificate of authority to do business in this Commonwealth to which the application shall be attached and shall make and retain a copy thereof. The certificate of authority shall set forth the name of the corporation the address of its registered office in this Commonwealth and the character and nature of the business it is authorized to transact in this Commonwealth or a summary thereof. Upon the approval of the application for a certificate of authority by the Department of State the corporation may do in this Commonwealth any or all of the kinds of the business referred to in the certificate of authority and no other subject however to the right of Commonwealth to cancel or revoke such right to transact business in this Commonwealth as provided in this act. The certificate of authority shall be delivered to the corporation or its representative.

Section 21 Paragraph C of Section one thousand seven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

C If the Department of State finds that the provisions of this article have been complied with and that the applicant corporation is entitled to an amended certificate of authority it shall upon payment of the filing fee forthwith but not prior to the day specified in the advertisement heretofore required by this section endorse its approval upon the application [and file the application and] issue to the applicant corporation an amended certificate of authority setting forth the desired changes to which the application shall be attached and shall make and retain a copy thereof.

Section 22 Section one thousand eleven of said act as amended by the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2828) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1011 Service of Process Upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth Any foreign corporation which shall have done any business in this Commonwealth without procuring a certificate of authority to do so from the Department of State shall be conclusively presumed to have designated the Secretary of Commonwealth as its true and lawful attorney authorized to accept on its behalf service of process in any action arising out of acts or omissions of such corporation within this Commonwealth. Service of process against a foreign business corporation upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall be made by the sheriff of Dauphin County by leaving the fee the plaintiff is required by law to pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for this service and two copies of the process at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The sheriff shall make due return of his service of the process to the court magistrate or justice of the peace issuing the same. Such process may be issued by any court magistrate or justice of the peace having jurisdiction of the subject matter of the controversy in any county of the Commonwealth in which the corporation shall have its registered office or in the county in which the right of action arose. When legal process against any such corporation has been served upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth he shall immediately send by mail postage prepaid one copy of such process directed to the corporation at its registered office. If the corporation shall have no registered office the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall immediately send by mail postage prepaid one copy of such process directed to the corporation in care of the Secretary of State or the corresponding official of the State or place under the statutes or common law of which it was formed or is existing if known to the Secretary. The fee paid by the plaintiff to the Secretary of the Commonwealth at the time of the service shall be taxed in the plaintiff's costs if he prevails in the suit necessitating the service of the process. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall keep a record of the day and hour of the service of such process on him and a certified copy of such record shall be sufficient evidence thereof. The service of process on the Secretary of the Commonwealth under this section shall be of the same legal force and validity as if the process had been served on the corporation and the authority for such service of process shall continue in force as long as any liability remains outstanding against the corporation in the Commonwealth. Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the right to serve any process notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a foreign corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

Section 23 Section one thousand one hundred one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1101 Voluntary Dissolution by Incorporators The incorporators of a business corporation which has not commenced business or which has not issued any shares may effect the dissolution of the corporation by filing articles of dissolution with the Department of State. The articles of dissolution shall be executed under the seal of the corporation signed and verified by a majority of the incorporators and shall set forth

- (1) The name of the corporation
- (2) The address including street and number if any of its registered office
- (3) The date of its incorporation
- (4) That the corporation has not commenced business and that none of its shares has been issued
- (5) That the amount if any actually paid in on subscriptions to its shares less any part thereof disbursed for necessary expenses has been returned to those entitled thereto
- (6) That no debt of the corporation remain unpaid
- (7) That all the incorporators elect that the corporation be dissolved

The articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that the articles conform to law it shall upon payment of the filing fee endorse its approval thereon [and shall file the articles] and issue a certificate of dissolution to the incorporators or their representative to which shall be attached [a copy of] the approved articles and shall make and retain a copy thereof. Upon the approval of the articles of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease.

Section 24 Section one thousand one hundred three of said act as amended by the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2828) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1103 Certificate of Election to Dissolve Upon the execution by all the shareholders of a written agreement for the voluntary dissolution of a corporation or upon the adoption at a meeting of the shareholders of a resolution for the voluntary dissolution of a corporation as the case may be a certificate of election to dissolve shall be executed under the seal of the corporation signed and verified by two duly authorized officers of the corporation which shall set forth

- (1) The name of the corporation
- (2) The address including street and number if any of the registered office of the corporation in this Commonwealth
- (3) The names and respective addresses including street and number if any of its officers
- (4) The names and respective addresses including street and number if any of its directors
- (5) If the election to dissolve was by written agreement of all shareholders a statement that the agreement was signed by all shareholders of record of the corporation or signed in their names by their duly authorized attorneys

(6) If the election to dissolve was by resolution adopted at a meeting of the shareholders the number of shares outstanding the number of shares entitled to vote in respect of the dissolution of the corporation and the number of shares voted for and against the voluntary dissolution of the corporation respectively and if the shares of any class are entitled to vote as a class the number of shares of such class and the number of shares of all other classes voted for and against the voluntary dissolution of the corporation

The certificate of election to dissolve shall be delivered to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that the certificate conforms to law it shall endorse its approval hereon and when all fees required by law have been paid [shall file the certificate and] shall issued to the corporation or its representative [a copy of] the approved certificate and shall make and retain a copy thereof. Upon the [filing] approval by the Department of State of a certificate of election to dissolve the corporation shall cease to carry on its business except in so far as may be necessary for the proper winding up thereof but its corporate existence shall continue until a certificate of dissolution has been issued by the Department of State or until a decree dissolving the corporation has been entered by a court of common pleas as elsewhere provided in this act.

Section 25 Paragraph B of Section one thousand one hundred four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

B After the [filing] approval by the Department of State of a certificate of election to dissolve the board of directors shall immediately cause notice of the winding up proceedings to be mailed to each known creditor and claimant and to be published once a week for two successive weeks in two newspapers published in the English language one of which shall be a newspaper of general circulation and the others legal newspaper if any designated by the rules of court for the publication of legal notices otherwise in two newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which the registered office of the corporation is located. Where there is but one newspaper of general circulation published in any county advertisement in such newspaper shall be sufficient.

Section 26 Section one thousand one hundred five of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1773) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1105 Articles of Dissolution When all debts liabilities and obligations of the corporation have been paid and discharged or adequate provision shall have been made therefor and all of the remaining property and assets of the corporation shall have been distributed to its shareholders articles of dissolution shall be executed under the seal of the corporation and signed and verified by two duly authorized officers of the corporation which shall set forth

- (1) The name of the corporation
- (2) The address including street and number if any of the registered office of the corporation
- (3) A statement that the corporation has therefore delivered to the Department of State a certificate of election to dissolve and the date on which the certificate was filed by the Department of State
- (4) A statement that all debts obligations and liabilities of the corporation have been paid and discharged or that adequate provision has been made therefor
- (5) A statement that all the remaining property and assets of the corporation have been distributed among its shareholders in accordance with their respective rights and interests
- (6) A statement that there are no suits pending against the corporation in any court or that adequate provision has been made for the satisfaction of any judgment or decree which may be obtained against the corporation in each such pending suit

The articles of dissolution proof of the advertisement required by the preceding section and a certificate or certificates from the proper department or departments evidencing payment by the corporation of all bonus taxes and charges as required by law shall be delivered to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that such articles conform to law and that the certificate delivered therewith evidencing payment of bonus or taxes or charges is in proper form it shall upon payment of the filing fee endorse its approval thereon and shall file the articles and issue to the corporation or its representative a certificate of dissolution to which shall be attached [a copy of] the approved articles and shall make and retain a copy thereof Upon the approval of the articles of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 602, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" by extending the benefits of the act to certain county police pension funds

Section 1 The title and the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 259) entitled as amended "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of one-half of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns and townships and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes" as last amended in part by the acts approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 160) the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 433) the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 720) the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 407) and the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1901) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

Providing for the payment by the State Treasurer [of one-half] of the amount of the tax on permiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies to the treasurers of the several cities boroughs towns [and] townships and certain counties and for the payment thereof into police pension funds and in certain cases into the Municipal Employees' Retirement System and for Pension Annuity Contracts and in certain other cases into the State Employees' Retirement Fund for certain purposes Section 1 As used in this act the term

(1) "Municipality" means a city borough town or township

(2) "County" means any county having a police force separate and distinct from the police forces of the municipalities situate within the county

(3) "Participating Municipality" means a municipality in which provision is made through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund or a Pension Annuity Contract for the payment of pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or to the dependents of such policeman

(4) "Participating County" means a county in which provision is made through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund or a Pension Annuity Contract for the payment of pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such county or to the dependents of such policeman

(5) "Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund" means any pension or retirement fund established by a municipality or county to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to dependents of such policemen including components of the retirement system provided for by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 886) and amendments thereto

(6) "Police Pension Fund" means any pension or retirement fund established in any municipality or county and duly approved and recognized as such by the council commissioners or supervisors as the case may be of the municipality or county to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to the dependents of such policeman

(7) "Pension Annuity Contract" means any contract made by a municipality or county or any Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund or Police Pension Fund of a municipality or county with an insurance or other authorized company to provide pension retirement or disability benefits to the policemen employed by such municipality or county or to the dependents of such policeman

(8) "Number of policeman" whether of a participating municipality of a participating county or of the Pennsylvania State Police means the average number of policemen employed by any such municipality county or in the Pennsylvania State Police as the case may be during the year preceding the receipt of the tax by the Commonwealth

(9) "Policeman" means a full time paid policeman or policewoman

Section 2 (a) On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine and annually thereafter there shall be paid by the State Treasurer to the treasurers of the several municipalities and counties within the Commonwealth and to the State Employees' Retirement Fund for State police pension and retirement purposes the entire amount received from the two per centum tax paid upon premiums by foreign casualty insurance companies

(b) The amounts to be distributed shall be allocated in accordance with the following formulae

Formula 1 Divide the total amount of said tax available for distribution by the population of the Commonwealth as shown by the last preceding decennial census of the United States to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the population of each participating municipality to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such municipality under Formula 1

Formula 1a To determine the amount payable to a treasurer of any participating county sum the amounts payable to the treasurers of all participating municipalities within the participating county divide said sum by the total number of policemen of the participating municipalities within the participating county to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of policemen of the participating county

Formula 2 Add the amounts payable to the treasurers of the participating municipalities under Formula 1 and the amounts payable to the treasurers of the participating counties under Formula 1a and divide the total by the sum of the number of policemen in all the said municipalities and the number of policemen in all the said counties to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of Pennsylvania State Police to determine the amount payable to the State Employees' Retirement Fund under Formula 2

Formula 3 Divide the balance of the tax available for distribution not allocated under Formulae 1 1a and 2 by the total number of policemen of the participating municipalities participating counties and the Pennsylvania State Police to determine a quotient Multiply this quotient by the number of policemen of each participating municipality to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such municipality under Formula 3 Multiply the same quotient by the number of policemen of each participating county to determine the amount payable to the treasurer of such county under Formula 3 Multiply this same quotient by the number of State Police to determine the amount payable to the State Employees' Retirement Fund under Formula 3

(c) The following formulae illustrate the application of the foregoing methods of calculation wherein

"a" shall mean the total amount of tax for allocation

"b" shall mean the population of the Commonwealth

"c" shall mean the population of any municipality

"d" shall mean an amount payable to any municipal treasurer under Formula 1

"dl" shall mean total of amounts payable to all municipal treasurers under Formula 1

"e" shall mean number of policemen in all participating municipalities

"f" shall mean number of State police

"g" shall mean an amount payable to the State Retirement Fund under Formula 2

"h" shall mean number of policemen in any participating municipality

"i" shall mean an amount payable to any municipal treasurer under Formula 3

"il" shall mean total of [accounts] amounts payable to all municipal treasurers under Formula 3

"k" shall mean an amount payable to the State Retirement Fund under Formula 3

"ci" shall mean the population of all participating municipalities within any participating county

"hi" shall mean the number of policemen of all participating municipalities within the participating county

"n" shall mean the number of policemen of any participating county

"nl" shall mean the number of policemen of all participating counties

"p" shall mean the amount payable to participating county under Formula 1a

"pl" shall mean total of amounts payable to all county treasurers under Formula 1a

"m" shall mean the amount payable to any county treasurer under Formula 3

"ml" shall mean total of amounts payable to all county treasurers under Formula 3

(d) All moneys paid to the treasurer of any municipality or county shall be forthwith paid or credited to the pension or retirement fund or the premium on the pension annuity contract as the case may be to provide pension retirement or disability benefits for the policemen of such municipality or county or the dependents of such policemen. All moneys paid into the State Employee's Retirement Fund shall be credited in equal proportion to the State annuity accounts of the members of the State Police who are contributing members to such fund.

[The first allocation made under the provisions of this act shall include all moneys accumulated from the said one-half of the tax paid in premiums by foreign casualty insurance companies since the passage of the act to which this is an amendment]

(e) Warrants for the above purposes shall be drawn by the Auditor General payable to the treasurers of the several participating municipalities participating counties and to the State Employees' Retirement Fund in accordance with this act.

Section [1.1] 3 Every municipality or county which makes application and certifies that it has a police force comprising at least one full-time paid policeman but which does not have a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund as provided in section one of this act shall be paid in the manner provided in this act the amount that would be allocated had the municipality or county made provision through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund all of which sum so allocated shall be expended by the municipal or county authorities to secure Pension Annuity Contracts for their policemen. Warrants for this purpose shall be drawn by the Auditor General payable to the treasurers of the municipalities or counties and the municipal or county authorities are hereby directed to use the allocations to forthwith secure Pension Annuity Contracts until such time as they shall have made provisions therefor through a Municipal Employees' Retirement Fund a Police Pension or Retirement Fund.

Section 2 The provisions of this reenactment and amendment shall apply to all moneys received from the aforesaid tax in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and thereafter.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 701, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing requirements for contracts and purchases and imposing penalties.

Section 1 Section 1802 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as reenacted revised and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1802 General Regulations Concerning Contracts (a) All contracts or purchases made by any township involving the expenditure of over [five hundred] seven hundred fifty dollars except those hereinafter mentioned shall be in writing and shall be made only after notice by the secretary published in one newspaper of general circulation published or circulating in the county in which the township is situated at least [three] two times at intervals of not less than three days while daily newspapers of general circulation are employed for such publication or in case weekly newspapers are employed then the notice shall be published once a week for two successive weeks. The first advertisement shall be published not less than ten days prior to the date fixed for the opening of bids. All plans and specifications shall be on file at least ten days in advance of opening bids. The amount of the contract shall in all cases whether of straight sale price conditional sale bailment lease or otherwise be the entire amount which the township pays to the successful bidder or his assigns in order to obtain the services or property or both and shall not be construed to mean only the amount which is paid to acquire title or to receive any other particular benefit or benefits of the whole bargain.

(b) In every instance in which any contract for any public work construction materials supplies or other matters or things for any township shall be awarded upon competitive bids it shall be the duty of the authorities authorizing the same to award said contract to the lowest responsible bidder. Any published notice for bids shall contain full plans and specifications or refer to the places where copies thereof can be obtained and give the time and place of meeting of the township commissioners at which meeting bids shall be publicly opened and read. If through lack of a quorum or other reason no meeting shall be held at such time and place notice of the same kind shall be repeated once at least six days before the meeting of the subsequent time and place fixed and the foregoing provisions as to bids shall apply. The same course shall be pursued until a meeting shall actually be held for receiving and opening bids. Any contract made in violation of the provisions hereof shall be void. But nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of contracts for governmental services for a period exceeding one year but any contract so made shall be executory only for the amounts agreed to be paid for such services to be rendered in succeeding fiscal years. Provided That if prior to the letting of any contract taxpayers of the township whose valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall amount to sixty per centum or over of the total property valuation as assessed for taxable purposes within the township shall sign and file with the township secretary of the board a written protest against such contemplated contract then such contract shall not be let.

(c) The successful bidder when advertising is required shall be required to furnish bond with suitable reasonable requirements guaranteeing the performance of the contract with sufficient surety in the amount of fifty per centum of the amount of the liability under the contract within twenty days after the contract has been awarded unless the township commissioners shall prescribe a shorter period of not less than ten days. Upon failure to furnish such bond within such time the previous award shall be void. Deliveries accomplishment and guarantees may be required in all cases of expenditures including exceptions herein.

(d) The contracts or purchases made by the commissioners involving an expenditure of over [five hundred] seven hundred fifty dollars which shall not require advertising or bidding as hereinbefore provided are as follows:

(1) Those for maintenance repairs or replacements for water electric light or other public works of the township provided they do not constitute new additions extensions or enlargements of existing facilities and equipment but a bond may be required by the commissioners as in other cases of work done.

(2) Those made for improvements repairs and maintenance of any kind made or provided by any township through its own employees. Provided however That this shall not apply to construction materials used in a street improvement.

(3) Those where particular types models or pieces of new equipment articles apparatus appliances vehicles or parts thereof are desired by the commissioners which are patented and manufactured products.

(4) Those involving any policies of insurance or surety company bonds those made for public utility service under tariffs on file with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission those made with another political subdivision or a county the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the Federal Government any agency of the Commonwealth or the Federal Government or an ymunicipal authority including the sale leasing or loan of any supplies or materials by the Commonwealth or Federal Government or their agencies. But the price thereof shall not be in excess of that fixed by the Commonwealth the Federal Government or their agencies.

(5) Those involving personal or professional services.

Section 2 Article XVIII of said act as reenacted revised and amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1955) is hereby further amended by adding thereto immediately following section 1802 a new section to read as follows:

Section 1802.1 Evasion of Advertising Requirements

No commissioner or commissioners shall evade the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred two as to advertising for bids by purchasing or contracting for services and personal properties piecemeal for the purpose of obtaining prices under seven hundred fifty dollars upon transactions which transactions should in the exercise of reasonable discretion and prudence be conducted as one transaction amounting to more than seven hundred fifty dollars. This provision is intended to make unlawful the evading of advertising requirements by making a series of purchases or contracts each for less than the advertising requirement price or by making several simultaneous purchases or contracts each below said price when in either case the transactions involved should have been made as one transaction for one price. Any commissioners who so vote in violation of this provision and who know that the transaction upon which they so vote is or ought to be a part of a larger transaction and that it is being divided in order to evade the requirements as to advertising for bids shall be jointly and severally subject to surcharge for ten per centum of the full amount of the contract or purchase. Whenever it shall appear that a commissioner may have voted in violation of this section but the purchase or contract on which he so voted was not approved by the board of commissioners this section shall be inapplicable.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported, as amended, House Bill No. 231, entitled:

An Act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, over the week-end there were numerous representatives of sportsmen's organizations that called me to complain about certain fishing streams not being stocked in Northampton County. They also told me that other streams were given a reduction in the number of fish stocked in the streams and, of course, before I criticized or became critical of the Fish Commission, I wanted to verify the information that was conveyed to me over the week-end. So, I got in touch with a representative of the Joint State Government Commission, which I understand, is the fact-finding body for the Legislature and for the Legislative Members, and I asked them to get some information for me so that I could compare it with the information that was conveyed to me. I asked them to find out how many fish wardens we had in Pennsylvania, I asked them to find out how many deputy fish wardens we had in Pennsylvania, I asked them to find out in which counties these fish wardens functioned, so that I could make some sort of a comparison with Northampton County, because it does not have a fish warden or a deputy fish warden. I wanted to find out how many streams that were heretofore stocked were not stocked this time in 1951, for the opening of the trout season on Sunday. I wanted to find out how many streams got a reduction in the number of fish that were stocked and how many streams got an increase. I wanted to find out the total number of fish stocked in all streams in Pennsylvania so that I could make some sort of an analysis with what Northampton County got to determine whether it got its just share. I wanted to find out how much money was collected from licenses from Northampton County and compare it with other counties, and the gentleman from the Joint State Government Commission took the information and, of course, I assumed that before the Session convened this afternoon that the information would be available to me so that I could determine whether the information conveyed to me over the week-end was correct or false before I criticized any of the policies of the Fish Commission, and before I determined whether criticism was justified.

Mr. President, I called the Joint State Government Commission, and I was told that the information could not be compiled for me, that it had to go through some sort of standing committee. I do not know whether that is the procedure or not, but the distinguished Majority Leader at least led me to believe that if we wanted to compile any data, we could get it through the Joint State Government Commission. Now, I am only suggesting here that the members of the Joint State Government Commission get together and determine on some sort of policy. If we cannot get information from the Joint State Government Commission, then we ought to know about it and we will not bother them. If we can get it, then I think the members of the Joint State Government Commission staff ought to be so advised so that we will not have to go through a whole lot of red tape and get a lot of clearance from somebody—I do not know who is on the standing committee—so that they can go ahead and get the the information for us. During a Session of the Legislature, all the Members of the Legislature need information from some of the departments; information that is public, information that we need here for our personal information, such as I requested here in this case, and I think if there is some definite policy established, all of us will know where we stand. The staff of the Joint State Government Commission is on a salary basis, and I do not see why they could not compile this information for the Members of the Legislature.

Mr. President, in so far as Northampton County is concerned and the proper allocation of fish is concerned, I just want to say this, that if what I was told is true, they are going to transform Northampton County from a fisherman's paradise, which it has been known as, to a fisherman's graveyard, and I hope the facts after I get them do not indicate that to be true.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOSKO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to inquire from the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, when he presented the request for this information to the Joint State Government Commission?

Mr. YOSKO. Last evening, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say I feel doubly sorry about this. I have never seen anybody in my twelve years in the Senate who seems to have more trouble getting information than the gentleman from Northampton. Every time he asks for something he runs into a stone wall, and the information that he has just outlined to the Senate here, Mr. President, it certainly would require considerable time to gather that data together. Now, he inquired last evening and, of course, there was no particular hurry about getting the information; anytime before seven o'clock this morning would have been all right.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, is concerned about having Northampton County reduced to a fisherman's graveyard. Now, I would like to suggest to the gentleman that the information will be forthcoming as far as it is available in the files of the Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. President, I said on the floor of the Senate to the gentleman from Northampton, and I will repeat it so that if there are any ambiguities in my statement we can clarify them forthwith, that the Joint State Government Commission is a legislative fact-finding body, composed of twelve Members of the Senate and twelve Members of the House. Very distinguished gentlemen of the Senate from both sides of the aisle serve on that Joint State Government Commission. Any information that is in their files is available at any time to the two hundred fifty-eight members of the General Assembly. I am confident that anything they have they will turn over to the gentleman from Northampton just as soon as they can compile it. If the members of the Senate will just run back over their memories the list of the items that the gentleman from Northampton asked for, they will realize that that is information that must be gathered from a number of sources.

May I say to the gentleman from Northampton that those of us who happen to reside in Allegheny County are always interested in any fisherman's paradise because, Mr. President, we occupy a very unique position in the sporting world of Pennsylvania. There are more fishing licenses sold in Allegheny County than in any other two counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and yet Allegheny County does not have one foot of fishing water, so that when the gentleman starts to lodge a complaint about the allocation of fish to Northampton County, I want him to bear in mind the true sportsman-like attitude of those of us who come from Allegheny County, who travel over three hundred miles in order to come to Northampton County and enjoy their fishermen's paradise, and we certainly will join with him to see that they get all the fish they can possibly put in their streams because we do not have any fish. They will not stock the streams in Allegheny County because of the water conditions there.

Now, Mr. President, if in the course of several days the gentleman does not get this information, if he will consult with either the Majority or the Minority Leader, we will be glad to assist him in seeing that anything the Joint State Government Commission has will be turned over to him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, frankly I do not appreciate the sarcasms of the Majority Leader. I think they are uncalled for. I have not up to this time run into any stone walls, or whatever he indicates, neither have I complained about running into any stone walls so far as getting information is concerned. I think I made a just and fair suggestion to lay some policy with the members of the staff of the Joint State Government Commission. So far as the time element is concerned, I made no complaint here about how long it takes to get this information. I did not say one word about that. I said that I was called and the person in the Joint State Government Commission told me that he could not get the information for me unless it cleared through a standing committee. So, he misunderstood everything that I said.

Mr. President, I am not being critical of anybody, I have not criticized anybody. I just presented some facts here and his sarcasms are absolutely uncalled for. If the facts after I get them are true as they were presented to me, then I will make a criticism. If the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, the Majority Floor Leader, wants to engage in debate about it, that is all right. We will talk about it and we will discuss it. I was elected by the people of Northampton County, and I am here to protect their interests. I am not complaining about what Allegheny County gets or does not get. He can stand up here from now until tonight and defend the rights of Allegheny County, what it should get and complain about what it does not yet, and he is not going to hear one word from me, not one word, because he will be fighting for his district and that is what I am going to do as long as I am here.

I am only presenting facts. I want to know where I stand with the Joint State Government Commission so that the other Members will know. If I can get the information, fine; if I cannot, fine, too. I will go and dig it up myself, but I do not like to miss committee meetings unless I have to, and I had three of them this morning and I was busy. If the gentleman—I do not believe we want to mention his name—would have called me and said, "I am sorry, we cannot have that information for you today. It takes a little time to compile it. I will have it for you Monday," I would have said "Fine. Everything is well and good." I did not complain about that, yet the Majority Leader talks about how long it takes to get it. I agree with you. I am not disputing it, but I resent your sarcasms.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I distinctly gathered from the gentleman's original statement that he was concerned about the fact that the information had not been given to him, and if my memory serves me rightly in his statement, his original statement on the floor of the Senate regarding this matter, he referred to the fact that I had referred him to the Joint State Government Commission which is entirely true. I did. Any statement of mine that was considered by the gentleman from Northampton as being sarcasm would be classified as gently chiding the gentleman from Northampton for his impatience. Of course, Mr. President, when you deal with a captious disciple's interpretation of pragmatism, you always get involved in the problem of a hiatus between the allegata and the probata. For that reason, Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentleman that he just exercise a little patience until we see whether or not the information can be delivered, and then we will take up the discussion from there.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, will the gentleman from Allegheny County give us the definition of pragmatism?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the word was pragmatism.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, does that pertain to fish?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the gentleman would not think so if he read the definition in Webster's Dictionary, to which I refer him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I too have asked for information from the Joint State Government Commission. I understand that they have been running against some stone walls. I understand that a request which I made two weeks ago is still on the Governor's desk, and he would not approve of the Department giving me the information I wanted, and that information is, how much money was spent to travel in Pennsylvania and how much money was spent outside of Pennsylvania in traveling in the last two years. Four weeks ago I also asked for a list of the cars that are used up here on the Hill, and who are the people they are used by and how many State Police in civilian clothes are driving these cars. That was four weeks ago. I understand that is on the desk of the Secretary of Property and Supplies, and he will not let it go.

Now, Mr. President, I often wonder what power a State Senator has; if he is elected just to come down here and rubber stamp what the administration says is so, or shall we get the information that we are entitled to.

I might add one thing, too, about the fish. I have objection to the way the Fish Commission is handling fish. I understand that they stock these streams the day before the season starts and feed them so much liver they cannot swim uphill.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to find out from the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, whether in that inquiry about automobiles he includes the use of the car which is used by various members of the Senate to ride from the hotel to the Capitol Building.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am just learning some information. I have walked for seventeen years from my hotel to the Capitol Building, and now I find there is a car that can be used. I would like to know who is using that car because I have not had a ride for seventeen years.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, somebody made an inquiry about some word that the distinguished Majority Leader mention. Frankly, I did not get it. Every time I talk to somebody and they mention a word I do not get, I always say, "Spell it." So, I am going to ask the Majority Leader to spell it, please.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman guarantee he can write it down if I spell it?

Mr. YOSKO. Just spell it, please.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the word is spelled p-r-a-g-m-a-t-i-sm.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you, I will take a look and see what it is and we will talk about it a little bit later.

PRESENTATION OF PINE GROVE WOMEN'S CLUB

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I am not much of a speller and at the moment I do not have a fishing license, but I would ask the indulgence of the Chair to suspend the fishing season for thirty seconds because one of our very able Capitol guides has just called my attention to the fact that we have in the Senate balcony this afternoon a portion of a large group of ladies who are with the Pine Grove Women's Club, visiting the Capitol this afternoon. Pine Grove is one of Pennsylvania's very finest communities, and the ladies of the Women's Club, like the ladies of all women's clubs in Schuylkill County, are very intelligent, comely and very much interested in the Commonwealth.

I would appreciate it if the Chair would recognize the ladies so that we could see them.

The PRESIDING OFFICE. The Chair would ask the ladies from Pine Grove to rise in place and present themselves to the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am glad that the ladies were introduced, and I want them to know that this is one of the lighter moments that the Senate enjoys, but we do take up more serious things and the entire Legislative Session is not taken up by discussions of fish, trout, and rattlesnakes and things of that kind, and that the spelling bee that we just had was impromptu. There was no prior arrangement made for it, and I can assure you that all the members can write, even those on this side of the Senate, and I am rather positive that most of the members on the other side can spell. We do not often use words of more than two syllables because there is enough confusion in the Senate as it is.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 231, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 324, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 102 of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by defining "monotrailer," and extending to apply to monotrailers the provisions of said act applicable to trailers.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 453, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads at State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations, and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by changing or deleting certain routes in Westmoreland County.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 464, entitled:

An Act to add Section 17.1 to the act approved the seventeenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1092) entitled "An act defining fraternal benefit societies and their status; authorizing such societies to create subordinate lodges and to pay benefits to members and their beneficiaries from funds collected, and regulating such benefits and collections; providing for the organization and incorporation of such societies and for their supervision, regulation, and examination by the Insurance Commissioner, and for the admission of foreign societies; designating tables of mortality as a basis for rates of contribution; requiring all societies to make annual and other reports; and appointing the Insurance Commissioner as attorney for service of process; providing penalties for any violations of the act; exempting such societies from taxation and certain other societies from its provisions; and requiring beneficial associations, other than fraternal benefit societies, to report to and be supervised by the Insurance Commissioner; and repealing existing laws," by regulating the amendment of articles of incorporation and providing for fees.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 490, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 216), entitled "An act relating to dentistry; defining and providing for the licensing and registration of dentists and dental hygienists, and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses and registrations, subject to appeal, and for their reinstatement; defining the powers and duties of the State Dental Council and Examining Board and the Department of Public Instruction; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by further defining the term "Practice of Dentistry."

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 510, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 4 of the act, approved the tenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 23), entitled, as amended, "An act providing for the acceptance by the Commonwealth of a gift of lands from the American Petroleum Institute, located on the left bank of Oil Creek, in Oil Creek Township or Cherry Tree Township, or both, Venango County, to establish and maintain a public museum and park, as the Drake Well Memorial, under the control and supervision of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, in cooperation with the Department of Forests and Waters, and an advisory board to be appointed by the American Petroleum Institute; prescribing the powers and duties of the Commission relative to said memorial; authorizing the employment of certain assistants and employees, and for the payment of their salaries; empowering the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire additional lands for such Memorial Park without cost to the Commonwealth; and making an appropriation," by further providing for the acceptance of gifts of money and securities by the Drake Well Memorial Advisory Board.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 516, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1987), entitled, as amended, "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of public health, animal and aquatic life, and for industrial consumption, and recreation; empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution; providing protection of water supply; providing for the jurisdiction of courts in the enforcement thereof; requiring the approval of the Attorney General for prosecutions thereunder; providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters; imposing certain penalties; and repealing certain acts; authorizing the acquisition by purchase or condemnation, or otherwise, of easements and right of ways; the acquisition or construction of pipes, conduits, drains or tunnels by the Sanitary Water Board; and providing for payment of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth; authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with certain provisions of the act in certain cases and making it unlawful to open, reopen or continue operation of any coal mine, or to change any approved drainage or disposal plan without prior approval by the Sanitary Water Board," by increasing maximum time after notice for discontinuance of discharge or treatment of sewage or discharge of industrial waste.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 788, entitled:

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God give us strength to live from day to day. Let us not turn coward before its difficulties or prove recreant to its duties. Let us not lose faith in our fellow men. Keep us sound of heart, in spite of ingratitude, treachery, or meanness. Preserve us from minding little stings or giving them. Help us to keep our hearts clean and to live so honestly and fearlessly that no outward failure can dishearten us or take away the joy of conscious integrity. Open wide the eyes of our souls that we may see good in all things. Grant us this day some new vision of Thy truth, inspire us with Thy spirit of joy and gladness and make us the cup of strength to suffering souls in the name of the strong Deliverer, our only Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McMILLEN.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 33.

In the House of Representatives, April 16, 1951.

The people of Pennsylvania through their General Assembly, each biennium appropriate a part of their funds to the aid of their number who have suffered poor fortune.

The people of Pennsylvania depend upon their General Assembly and those in the executive branch of government charged with the distribution of those funds, to secure the maximum benefit of every dollar and assure judicious administration in providing all necessary benefits in every meritorious case, with the least expense.

The concern of the General Assembly for the responsibility and trust it enjoys, has resulted in an investigation of the administration of the Public Assistance laws, by the Joint State Government Commission.

That investigation has caused grave doubt that the generosity of the people of Pennsylvania has always been well used; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That six members of the General Assembly be named as a joint legislative committee to investigate, in cooperation with the Department of Justice and the Department of Public Assistance, the administration of the Public Assistance laws, with particular regard to the total amount expended for public assistance, the amounts paid in individual cases and the merit of individual cases, and giving particular attention to the investigation and report of the Joint State Government Commission and be it further

Resolved, That three members from the Senate be named by the President Pro Tempore, two from the majority party and one from the minority party, three members from the House of Representatives be named by the Speaker, two from the majority party and one from the minority party; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly before the end of the present session, in order that the General Assembly may take such action as is found to be necessary; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall have power to meet, hold meetings, to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting or commanding any proper person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters with respect to such inquiry for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any proper person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs MADIGAN, WOOD, BOWER and TOOMEY.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 34.

In the House of Representatives, April 16, 1951.

Whereas, There are now on Pennsylvania farms dairy animals, poultry and general livestock worth in the aggregate more than $412,000,000, producing approximately 75 per cent of the total annual income of Pennsylvania agriculture or in monetary terms about $575,000,000, a year; and

Whereas, The greatest economic losses to the dairy, poultry and general livestock industry are occasioned by the inroads of animal diseases and parasites; and

Whereas, Existing facilities for training persons qualified for the practice of veterinary medicine within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are inadequate to meet the existing and still growing need for doctors of veterinary medicine; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania State College by virtue of its scientific personnel; its resources for research; its close working relationship with dairy, poultry and general livestock raisers throughout the State and its physical location is the appropriate institution to develop the needed facilities; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the members of the General Assembly hereby request the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College to authorize the establishment of a school of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College and at the earliest possible time to erect such buildings; employ such personnel and establish such programs of research and instruction as in their judgment are requisite to the proper maintenance and operation of such a school of veterinary medicine; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the General Assembly hereby pledge their support in obtaining the funds required to construct and to equip essential research, instructional, clinical, and administrative buildings for a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College, and for the operation and maintenance of the proposed School of Veterinary Medicine; it being understood, however, that funds cannot be appropriated for such buildings and their maintenance at the 1951 Session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That it is the understanding and intention of the members of the General Assembly that funds ultimately appropriated for the construction and equipment of such buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of such a School of Veterinary Medicine shall be in addition to the amount appropriated at that time for the general operation and maintenance of the Pennsylvania State College as then constituted; and be it further

Resolved, That the trustees of the Pennsylvania State College be requested to prepare and to present to the members of the 1953 Session of the General Assembly specific and detailed information concerning the nature and estimated cost of requisite buildings and equipment, and also an estimate of the animal expense involved in the operation and maintenance of a School of Veterinary Medicine at the Pennsylvania State College under conditions which, in the judgment of the said trustees, would best meet the reasonable needs of the Commonwealth and its citizens for such veterinary medical service; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House send a copy of this resolution to the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

WARWICK TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. DALRYMPLE offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise at this particular time to bring to the attention of the House a matter which is of widespread importance to millions of people throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

There have been certain actions taken by the Senate upon this matter, namely, the ban on oleo sales in the state of Pennsylvania. The membership no doubt knows that there is a great popular demand by the citizens of the Commonwealth for legislation which would be regulatory upon oleo sales and yet not restrictive and prohibitive.

I understand that at the present time there is some consideration being given in the House Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries relating to this problem. The few remarks that I want to make to the Members of the House relate to the importance of this legislation for the uses of the product in the state of Pennsylvania today, and recognizing the consideration that the Committee is giving this legislation. However, I want to say that the proponents of this legislation, and myself in particular, will not let the same thing happen without a recorded vote on the floor of this House the same as happened in the Senate.

I point out to you that 38 States now have shaken off the restrictive and prohibitive measures against oleo sales. The great dairy state of Michigan repealed the ban on oleo sales of a restrictive and prohibitive nature by a referendum. Mind you, this in a great dairy State, and a referendum in lifting the ban on oleo sales won out by a two to one margin. The same thing, of course, has happened in the great dairy state of Ohio.

I am not going to comment much more on this nuisance law as it exists on the statute books of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but I do want to point out to the membership of the House that only 15 percent of the butter that is used in the state of Pennsylvania is produced by farmers in Pennsylvania. So, therefore, lifting restrictions on oleo will not hinder the industry at all. That is really a false piece of propaganda made use of by the opposition to lifting the ban on oleo sales. Eighty-five percent of the butter used in Pennsylvania is imported from surrounding States, so therefore it seems to me that the activity against the lifting of the oleo ban is without question a foreign one coming from surrounding States, and inasmuch as those States have no oleo sales ban. I believe we can do a great service to the housewives of Pennsylvania by acting forthwith upon the lifting of the oleo ban and therefore give them that which they request.

In closing may I say we are not dropping the issue. We will continue to press for some measure of relief on the banning of oleo sales in Pennsylvania, and you can rest assured that there will be on the floor of this House a recorded vote on the issue in event that the Committee does not bring in a bill for consideration before this body.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McNALLY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I arise today seeking an answer to a question of grave importance to thousands of citizens of this Commonwealth. I refer to the status of the bills regulating the sale of oleomargarine.

My constituents and the leading newspapers want to know what is being done about this important piece of legislation. Many of the Members of the majority and minority parties promised the citizens that some favorable legislation would be enacted in this term of the Legislature. To this date these bills have been tied up in the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries.

I want to know if the favorable legislation in regard to oleomargarine is going to die in committee?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MAXWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I understand that there has been at least one resolution introduced and possibly more that would censure President Truman concerning the action he took toward General MacArthur. Before the Republican side of the House reports one of these resolutions out to confuse the people of Pennsylvania, I would like to read an article that was published in the paper in my home town, the Monessen Daily Independent.

The editor of this editorial is an old line Republican, I would say a staunch Republican, who believes wholeheartedly in the Republican party. I would like to have the gentlemen on the other side of the House hear what this man says. I am very thankful that this gentleman places Americanism before his party.

I will read his article:

TRUMAN AND MACARTHUR

President Truman's action in relieving General MacArthur has produced one of those situations in which the prudent citizen will make a special effort to remain calm, cool and collected. Such situations are tailor-made for hotheads and self-serving politicians, who would be the only ones who might profit from any public hysteria.

There is no question that the President had the authority to relieve General MacArthur. Nor is there any question in our mind but that he was justified in doing so and on precisely the grounds which he stated, that "military commanders must be governed by the policies and directives issued to them in the manner provided by our laws and Constitution."

Our criticism of President Truman in this situation would be that he did not long ago either reconcile the views of General MacArthur with those of the administration and enlist the General's full cooperation in the national policy or relieve him forthwith. We doubt that American history affords a worse example of administrative weakness than this marathon harangue between Washington and Tokyo.

As to the wisdom of Mr. Truman's policies in the Far East, that is another matter entirely. For those he is accountable only to the people. And it is possible to disagree with the President thoroughly yet recognize that he is entitled to—indeed, must have—the full cooperation of the military forces.

So we hope the leaders of the Republican party will not be so foolish as to raise a great partisan hullaballo around the martyred figure of General MacArthur. If they do, they may succeed in winning some temporary political advantage by embarrassing the President. But they will be doing a disservice to the nation by further confusing our international relations, and we do not think the people in the long run will look with favor upon a political party which does that.

This country can come through this crisis, even with a leadership which is clearly inadequate, provided our people keep their heads, avoid excessive partisanship and keep the nation's good always foremost.

As for General MacArthur, it is too bad that he allowed this dispute with the administration to go on as long as it did. Surely he must have understood that the President someday would have to do something about it or else relinquish his authority completely.

It would not have been necessary for the General to suppress his convictions if he could not honestly do that. It would have been perfectly in order for him to resign his commands, come home to an honorable retirement, take off his uniform and then, if he still felt the urge, give his views to the nation. He would have been assured a good hearing. He did not need to precipitate this spectacle.

And now, if he lends himself to the uses of the partisan politicians and makes himself the center of a public turmoil, he risks tarnishing a great military career. Unquestionably a great general, it remains yet to be seen whether MacArthur is really also a great man.

But be all that as it will, our people should not now allow themselves to be distracted from the great issues and the great dangers of our time. In due season we shall be able to pass upon the policies of the Truman administration and say whether we approve them or not. But now Mr. Truman is our President and on the issue of his authority over the military forces there can be no question as to where our support belongs.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I regret that the gentleman from Westmoreland has seen fit to interject this particular issue at this time.

It was not my thought to in any way attempt to anticipate the action of the Rules Committee before which various resolutions may be pending.

It has been my opinion over the years, frequently expressed upon this floor, that we held no mandate to issue our decree or our opinion to the world regarding matters that did not appertain to the welfare of this Commonwealth as it could be served through legislation.

I have always been quite content to meet the partisan issue in Harrisburg on this floor, but I have never been personally in favor of those movements that attempted to interpose the partisan issue in Washington upon this floor. I hold to the theory that if the American Congress will keep off of our toes I am perfectly willing to keep off of the toes of the American Congress.

So I say, I regret that there has been any attempt to anticipate the action of the Rules Committee which in its wisdom may or may not report out resolutions now pending before it.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 18, 1951.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. THOMAS D. GARNER, Pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Bedford, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Eternal Father, our Maker and our Friend, we humbly bow before Thee in recognition of Thy supremacy over us. We know that without Thee we are nothing. It is only from Thy hand of love that we have the power and the strength to live this life. As we become more and more aware of Thy presence with us, may we strive harder and harder to make Thy will our will.

Bless the Members of this Senate and all others in authority. Give them strength and guidance to carry the burden of responsibility which is theirs.

In the name of our Lord, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. MALLERY, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am advised by the ranking Minority Member of the Appropriations Committee that the meeting tonight will deal with the appropriation for the Department of Public Assistance. That is the meeting of the Committee that is scheduled for eight o'clock tonight.

Mr. President, at the expense of incurring the wrath of the Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General, may I suggest that we change the meeting of the Judiciary General Committee from 11:00 a. m. to 10:00 a. m. on Tuesday, because we are desirous of having the Tuesday Session start at eleven o'clock in the morning in order to give the thespians attached to the Correspondents Association the opportunity of discharging their professional responsibilities and being available for the dinner. We would like to start at eleven o'clock on Tuesday, and that is why I am suggesting J. G. on Tuesday at ten instead of eleven.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the gentleman tell us why the Appropriations Committee must meet tonight at eight o'clock since we spent the entire day waiting for the Session and practically every bill has gone over in order? We have not done a thing this morning, and now if we wish to attend that meeting, we must stay here until eight o'clock tonight. I would like to know why we must wait that long for that Committee Meeting.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say to the gentleman from Cambria that the first I knew about it was when I heard it read from the desk, and I was just advised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Stiefel, as to the purport of the meeting this evening. Might I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Stiefel?? Perhaps he can answer the interrogatory of the Senator.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel.

Thre PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STIEFEL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Doctor Stiefel, I would like to ask you, since you have been appointed the spokesman in this case, as to why the meeting is going to be held of the Appropriations Committee at eight o'clock this evening? Why it could not be held this morning, or afternoon or during the day?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, at the time the schedule was prepared, the assumption was that the Session would last until Thursday, including Thursday, and this is the reason why. The list has been prepared weeks ago, and the hearing was assigned for a time when there would be ample opportunity to delve into the various aspects of the problem, and we did not know the Session would adjourn today.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, is it not possible to change that meeting to this afternoon?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am only a Minority Member. It is not up to me to change it. The schedule was prepared weeks ago, and it is a very crowded schedule.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Stiefel, I am under the impression by the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny that you are not a Minority Member, that you more or less dominate that Committee.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, as I say, I am only one of those members who is present when I am supposed to be present.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, give me an answer to the question as to whether he is or he is not an important member of that Committee?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in my opinion he is the most important member of that Committee from the Minority side. Now, let them make something out of that.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is that right, Senator Stiefel?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, back in 1941 a similar question was advanced and I answered it this way; that the essence of democracy is not that everybody is to be present, but whoever wants to be present has an opportunity to do so.

The PRESIDENT. Well, the Chair interprets that to mean if a man wants to be important, it is up to him as a personal matter.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, another thing, it is a known fact that a successful attorney wins his case by preparing it in his office, you see, and when it is well prepared and it is well balanced, there is no difficulty winning it. Now, in order to be an important person you have to persist in your work and be there always on time.

The PRESIDENT. Does that satisfy the Senator from Cambria?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not care to be important. I would like to do my duty. As you know, I am interested in this Department of Public Assistance, but I see no good reason to hold me over or any other Senator. If we were in Session all day, taking care of our duties here, then I would have no objection and I would wait until eight o'clock tonight, but I protest this system. I do not know who set it up. We have been here since nine o'clock this morning. We have done nothing. We are about to adjourn, and now I am told that I must stay here until eight o'clock if I care to be important. As I am interested in that Committee, I would like to be there, but I am not staying until eight o'clock tonight, and in the future I want to serve notice that I am going to more than talk modestly on such a procedure.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I do not hold any brief for the Committee on Appropriations, but I repeat again that at the time when the schedule was prepared weeks ago, the assumption was that the Session would be until Thursday, including Thursday, and this is the reason why the leadership of the two Committees wanted to utilize the evening so as to give ample time to everybody to be present and delve into all the aspects of this rather painful proposition.

Now, Mr. President, the reason why eight o'clock was chosen is because that gives them the entire evening, without pressure of other work, to do a good job. Meantime, the Session adjourns. As to whether or not it can be changed, that is not up to me. That is up to the majority of the members.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I notice by our Calendar that we have meetings every morning from eight o'clock on, Penn State this morning, the University of Pittsburgh and others that are local, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, if he has any influence, could have exercised that influence by having this Committee meet throughout the day. This is State-wide; these colleges are local and it is easy to attend those meetings at any time if you have a special interest. The Department of Public Assistance deals with the entire Commonwealth, and I see no reason why that should be set aside until eight o'clock tonight when the Calendar shows there were three or four meetings this morning dealing with certain colleges and universities. There must be something back of it. I am not going to be there.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, it seems that the position of the Majority Leader in the Senate is of great importance because whatever he says spreads throughout the entire Commonwealth. For instance, I was busy yesterday at a polling place in Philadelphia, and yet I heard that his expression "pragmatism" spread throughout the entire State, and there will be additional sales of dictionaries to find out the meaning of the word "pragmatism."

Now, Mr. President, last week just jokingly he ascribed to me powers which I do not possess. I am just a small cog in a big machine. I have no influence whatsoever and I am only a member of the Minority. So, therefore, I do not dictate any policies of the Committee. I am only attending there on time. That is all there is to it. So, please, I hope you will sheer me of the powers, and do not attach to me any super-human qualities.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, is the meeting on or off tonight?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would infer that since the Secretary announced that the meeting would be held tonight, that it is on.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. President.

Now, Mr. President, I have other commitments, looking forward to being home tonight, and I will not be at that meeting on Public Assistance. I want it clearly understood that there are some very serious questions that should be asked of the Department of Public Assistance, and I would like to ask those questions. I do not think that it is a fair procedure to ask the Members of this Senate to stay over when it is not essential that we do so. If we are working upon the Calendar, we plan our days and our weeks accordingly. We are here now four days and three days a week, working on a rather slim calendar, and we are trying to proceed in an orderly fashion with winding this Session of the Legislature up and going home. However, I do not think this meeting tonight is entirely a fair proposition in the face of the little known fact to the people of Pennsylvania that our salaries here are somewhere thirty-five per cent less than the janitors, and all of us, I believe, have to go home and try to earn a living in conjunction with the meager earnings that we have here. I have prepared to go home tonight, and I will go home and I will ask the questions that I am going to ask the Department of Public Assistance at a later meeting, if they will hold it, and if not, upon the floor of the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I suggest that the Chair send out and get the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and see if he cannot make a change in this hearing tonight. I, too, have a commitment that I must be in Pittsburgh tonight, and I would like to attend the Department of Assistance hearings, and I kindly suggest that the President send out for the Chairman of the Committee and see if he cannot arrange to have it on another day more suitable to those who are interested in the meeting, so that those who are trying to do a job can do their job.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny yield for a moment?

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, anticipating his suggestion and desiring to render to the Minority that high degree of service of which we are so capable, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has already been invited to return to his seat of dignity and honor here in the chamber, at which time the interrogatory may be addressed to him personally.

May I say, Mr. President, while I have the floor, that Doctor Stiefel's modesty is only surpassed by his tremendous ability to accomplish the most good for the greatest number of people in this great Commonwealth, and his contribution to the success of the Appropriations Committee is recognized by all of his colleagues here on the floor, and he is not going to remove one star from his crown by this display of modesty.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader and the Minority Floor Leader. How long is this going to continue? The Board of Pardons is in session, and I just left to come down to preside, thinking we might get out of here by one o'clock. Now, I will have to ask someone to take my place if I am going to be tied up much longer.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, under the Constitution you have that privilege. That privilege is denied us.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the Chair, we are sort of resting on our oars for the moment while we are awaiting the arrival of the distinguished gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman. There is an interrogatory that we would like have placed before him.

(The Senate was at ease)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, can we reconvene the Senate? Three gentlemen from Warren is here.

STATEMENT BY CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, relative to the meeting with the Senate Appropriations Committee this evening, that is a joint meeting with the House and with the Senate, and on account of the tax bill being passed, probably, in the House this afternoon, we had to hold it this evening at eight o'clock. That is the reason for holding it at that time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Senator Chapman?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Chapman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Doctor Chapman, a number of our boys have gone home. We have had a very light morning, and we have made plans to go home and we think it is very unfair to hold the meeting on this public assistance tonight. It is a State-wide issue. We have heard many debates upon the floor of this Senate about it, and a number of us wish to ask many questions and we think the meeting should be changed until, say, next Monday or Tuesday afternoon or morning, or this afternoon, but to keep us here tonight when most of our men have gone home I think it very unfair.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, perhaps it is a misnomer to say that we are only having a hearing with the Appropriations Committee, and I assure that the Senate that no business or bills will be discussed at this time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Well, Doctor Chapman, will we have the opportunity to question these members of the Department of Public Assistance? We would like to ask a number of questions dealing with the appropriation, with the huge pay roll, and if you have a hearing tonight in our absence we will be denied that opportunity. Will we have the opportunity of asking the questions again?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, Perhaps, if you want to ask any questions relative to the Department of Public Assistance, you will not have an opportunity if you are not there tonight, but I could adjourn it if the Senate so wishes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Well, Doctor Chapman, speaking for the Minority side, I would like to ask you to kindly postpone that meeting until some suitable date next week. I will appreciate it.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I will be very glad to postpone the meeting.

Mr. HALUSKA. Thank you.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

The SECRETARY. The meeting of the Appropriations Committee, scheduled for eight o'clock tonight, is postponed.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, April 23, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:02 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, April 23, 1951, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 18, 1951.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we pray Thee to guide by Thy Holy Spirit the Assembly of the state of Pennsylvania. Give to them a right judgment in all things, and the will to seek not only the welfare of their own people, but the greater good of the security, and peace and unity of all mankind, that so Thy kingdom may be advanced in the earth; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, April 17, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. DALRYMPLE and GREER.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 35.

In the House of Representatives, April 17, 1951.

Whereas, The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania along with the rest of the nation was shocked by the President's dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur from all his commands; and

Whereas, The General Assembly, fully aware of General MacArthur's outstanding record, particularly during the last ten years when he succeeded in keeping communism from sweeping through Japan, Korea, Formosa, the Philippines and points south and east, believes that General MacArthur should be given every opportunity to point out to the American people and their elected representatives the facts as he knows them on the true situation in the Orient; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends to General Douglas MacArthur an invitation to address it in the near future at such time as may be convenient to his busy schedule, on the entire military and political situation in the Far East as well as its connection with the position of the United States in world affairs, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to General Douglas MacArthur.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

JOHN HARRIS HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS
WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome to the House 155 pupils from the John Harris High School, Harrisburg. They are interested in Problems of Democracy and American History and are here under the supervision of Mr. John Lynch, a faculty member. They are guests of the gentlemen from Dauphin, Messrs. Zeigler and Dowling.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN'S VOTERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is also pleased to welcome a group of the League of Women's Voters of Swarthmore, Delaware County. They are here as the guests of the gentlemen from Delaware, Messrs. Bloom, Clendening, Robertson and William C. Leonard.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I suppose most of the Members of the House are familiar with what happened in Philadelphia yesterday. In spite of the campaign of vilification, in spite of a campaign intended to distort the issues, the people of Philadelphia came out in large numbers yesterday to endorse the new Charter.

I am happy to have been a Member of the House at the last session when most of the Members on both sides afforded the people of Philadelphia an opportunity to create a Charter Commission, which of course, set up this Charter.

There was a great deal of falsehood spread by the opponents of the Charter, but in spite of that, with the aid of most of the civic groups in Philadelphia, with the aid of the industrial concerns, the Chamber of Commerce, most of the labor organizations and all civic organizations, we were successful in presenting to the people the endorsements of the Charter Commission when they presented this worthwhile new Charter to Philadelphia.

I arise today, Mr. Speaker, to call your attention to the fact that this is but one step on the road that the people of Philadelphia are taking in the direction of obtaining proper, adequate local government. There has been on the calendar for a period of about a month the City-County consolidation measure which passed in the Senate. It has been referred to the Judiciary Committee where it is now lying, and I am hopeful that the leadership of this House will give to Philadelphia what it seeks. Measures like that should not be held up.

There have been rumors spread that this type of legislation has been held in abeyance awaiting the outcome of the vote on the Charter. We who are interested in providing Philadelphia with good government feel that now is the time to release that type of measure. At the same time we are hopeful that there will be placed on the calendar and presented for consideration by Members of this House a large number of bills pertaining to local activities which we feel now can be handled by the City.

This Charter was intended to grant a full measure of home rule to the citizens of Philadelphia. The fact that in the past we have had to come here cap in hand, begging the Members of the Legislature to grant us things that we need in Philadelphia will, I hope, no longer be necessary. I ask the leadership of this House to release for consideration those measures which are of a purely local nature, to be referred to the citizenry of Philadelphia and handled by the new council which will be set up in accordance with the new Charter they have passed.

I cannot help but thank the Members of this House who were instrumental in permitting the Charter to be presented to the electorate of Philadelphia. We also wish to thank the newspapers, particularly The Evening Bulletin and the Philadelphia Inquirer, the radio and television stations which joined hands with all groups in Philadelphia that were interested in forwarding the interests of that great city.

Most of you know that Philadelphia will face in the next five or ten years a tremendous period of growth. Some of the large steel mills and other industries, realizing that Philadelphia has an excellent labor situation where we have hard working, frugal workers, where we have people who are interested in aiding industry, have decided to come to the Philadelphia area. We who have been interested in the city have felt that under the old Charter there has been an opportunity to stifle the chance to grow and we think that with the passage of this Charter and other changes which will soon come in the city government in Philadelphia, we are on the road to a great period of growth which will inure to the benefit not only of Philadelphia, but to the people of Pennsylvania and of America and of the world.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TAHL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, of course, the people of Philadelphia spoke yesterday with reference to a new form of government for Philadelphia.

It was a far reaching change in the Charter provision that we had heretofore. Therefore, there was bound to be a difference of opinion as to whether or not it is going to improve the form of government in Philadelphia. However, the Republican leadership in Philadelphia as represented by the City Committee, Mr. Morrow as Chairman, was definitely in favor of the Charter. I want to say to you, Mr. Speaker, that most of the ward leaders in Philadelphia followed the leadership of Mr. Morrow and voted for the charter.

So we all joined together, Republicans and Democrats, to make Philadelphia a better and greater city.

CLASS OF MILLERSVILLE STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE WELCOMED

Section 302 Manner of Computing Taxable Income A The taxable income shall be computed upon the basis of the taxpayer's annual accounting period (fiscal year or calendar year as the case may be) but if the taxpayer's annual accounting period is other than a fiscal year as defined in this act or if the taxpayer has no annual accounting period or does not keep books the taxable income shall be computed on the basis of the calendar year Such taxable income shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of such taxpayer but if no such method of accounting has been so employed or if the method employed does not clearly reflect the taxable income the computation shall be made upon such basis and in such manner as in the opinion of the department does clearly reflect such income

B In the case of the death of a taxpayer there shall be included in computing taxable income for the tax year in which falls the date of his death only amounts received up to the date of his death

C If the taxpayer changes his accounting period from fiscal year to calendar year from calendar year to fiscal year or from one fiscal year to another taxable income shall with the approval of the department be computed on the basis of such new accounting period subject to the provisions of section four hundred five of this act

Section 303 Installment Basis A A taxpayer who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as taxable income in any tax year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the total profit realized or to be realized when the payment is completed bears to the total contract price

B If an installment obligation is satisfied at other than its face value or distributed transmitted sold or otherwise disposed of profit or loss shall result to the extent of the difference between the basis of the obligation and (1) in the case of satisfaction at other than face value or a sale or exchange the amount realized or (2) in case of a distribution transmission or disposition otherwise than by sale or exchange the fair market value of the obligation at the time of such distribution transmission or disposition Any profit or loss so resulting shall be considered as resulting from the sale or exchange of the property in respect of which the installment obligation was received The basis of the obligation shall be the excess of the face value of the obligation over an amount equal to the taxable income which would be returnable were the obligation satisfied in full

Section 304 Inventories Whenever in the opinion of the department the use of inventories is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the department may prescribe conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in trade or business of such taxpayer and most clearly reflecting the taxable income

Section 305 Ascertainment of Gain and Loss A Gain or profit derived from the sale or exchange of property including capital assets shall be the excess of the gross amount realized from such sale or exchange over the basis of the property plus the expenses incurred in the sale or exchange Loss sustained upon the sale or exchange of property including capital assets shall be the excess of the basis plus expenses of the sale or exchange over the gross amount realized

B The basis of property shall be in case of property acquired on or after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the cost thereof or the inventory value if the inventory is made in accordance with this act

C In case of property acquired prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and disposed of thereafter

(1) No profit shall be deemed to have been derived if either the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one exceeds the amount realized

(2) No loss shall be deemed to have been sustained if either the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one is less than the amount realized

(3) Where both the cost and the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one are less than the amount realized the basis for computing profit shall be the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one higher

(4) Where both the cost and the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one are in excess of the amount realized the basis for computing loss shall be the cost or the fair market price or value on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one whichever is lower

D In the case of property acquired by gift after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift except that for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift whichever is lower If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee the department shall if possible obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner or any other person cognizant thereof If the department finds it impossible to obtain such facts the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the department as of the date or approximate date at which according to the best information that the tax commission is able to obtain such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner

E In the case of property acquired by transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a bequest or devise) after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made

F In the case of property acquired by gift or transfer in trust before the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-one the basis for gain or loss shall be determined as provided in subsection C(1) or C(2) of this section except that the word "cost" as used in said subsections shall be deemed to mean the fair market price or value of such property at the time of such acquisition

G If the property was acquired by bequest devise or inheritance or by the decedent's estate from the decedent the basis for gain or loss shall be determined as provided in subsection B or C of this section except that the word "cost" as used in said subsections shall mean the fair market value of such property at the time of such acquisition In the case of property transferred in trust to pay the income for life to or upon the order or direction of the grantor with the right reserved to the grantor at all times prior to his death to revoke the trust the basis in the hands of the persons entitled under the terms of the trust instrument to the property after the grantor's death shall after such death be the same as if the trust instrument had been a will executed on the day of the grantor's death For the purpose of this subsection property passing without full and adequate consideration under a general power of appointment exercised by will shall be deemed to be property passing from the individual exercising such power by bequest or devise In case such property has been appraised (a) for the purpose of Pennsylvania transfer inheritance tax or (b) for death tax purposes by the state of domicile of the transferor or (c) for the purpose of the United States estate tax the appraised value shall be presumed to be the fair market value at the date as of which the appraisal was made but if appraised as of the same date for more than one of such purposes the appraisal for the purpose first specified shall be presumed to be the fair market value

H In the case of property acquired by a partnership if the basis is not otherwise determined under any of the subsections B to G inclusive of this section the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor If property so acquired by a partnership was distributed in kind to any partner the basis in the hands of such partner shall be such part of the basis in his hands of his partnership interest as is properly allocable to such property

I In the case of depreciable property used in a trade or business or held for the production of income a gain otherwise computed under this section shall be increased and a loss otherwise computed shall be decreased by the depreciation previously allowed to the taxpayer in determining his taxable income under this act

Section 306 Exchange of Property Upon the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss determined under section three hundred five of this act shall be recognized except as hereinafter provided in this section

A No gain or loss shall be recognized if properly held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale nor stocks bonds notes choses in action certificates of trust or beneficial interest or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment or if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation

B No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to reorganization are in pursuance of the plan of reorganization exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization

C No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more persons solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation and immediately after the exchange such person or persons are in control of the corporation but if the property thus transferred (other than stock in trade) is sold or otherwise disposed of by the corporation within the six months subsequent to such transfer gain or loss to such person or persons shall be recognized as of the date of the exchange the stock or securities received by such person or persons from the corporation being presumed in the absence of proof to the contrary in such case to be of the same value as the amount of the consideration received by the corporation on the subsequent sale or other disposition of such property and it is further provided that in the case of an exchange by two or more persons this subsection shall apply only if the amount of the stock of the stock or securities received by each is substantially in proportion to his interest in the property prior to the exchange

D If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part theft or seizure or an exercise of the power or requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof) is compulsory or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted or into money which is forthwith in good faith under regulations prescribed by the department expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property or in the establishment of a replacement fund no gain or loss shall be recognized If any part of the money is not so expended the gain if any shall be recognized but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended

E If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsections A B or C of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such subsection to be received without the recognition of gain but also of other property or money then the gain if any to the recipient shall be recognized but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property

F If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsections A B or C of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such subsection to be received without the recognition of gain or loss but also of other property or money then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized

G As used in this section the term "reorganization" means (1) a statutory merger or consolidation or (2) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock of at least eighty per centum of the voting stock and at least eighty per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation or of substantially all the properties of another corporation or (3) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its stockholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred or (4) a recapitalization or (5) a mere change in identity form or place of organization however effected

corporations in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another corporation

As used in this section "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least eighty per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least eighty per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation

H When property is exchanged for other property and no gain or loss is realized under the provisions of this section the property received shall be treated as taking the place of the property exchanged therefor

Section 405 Returns When Accounting Period Changes If a taxpayer with the approval of the department changes the basis of computing taxable income from fiscal year to calendar year a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last fiscal year for which return was made and the following thirty-first day of December If the change is made from calendar year to fiscal year a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last calendar year for which return was made and the date designated as the close of the fiscal year If the change is made for the period between the close of the former fiscal year and the date designated as the close of the new fiscal year If a taxpayer making his first return for income tax keeps his accounts on the basis of a fiscal year he shall make a separate return for the period between the beginning of a calendar year in which such fiscal year ends and the end of such fiscal year

Section 406 Time and Place of Filing Returns A Returns shall be made to the department on or before the fifteenth day of April in each year in the case of taxpayers reporting on the basis of a calendar year and in the case of taxpayers reporting on the basis of a fiscal year returns shall be made on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of such fiscal years or the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the month in which his act becomes effective whichever is later Returns shall be in such form shall contain the taxpayer's name residence address items of taxable income received and such other information as the department may from time to time prescribe and shall be filed with the department at its main office or at any branch office which it may establish Each return shall contain the certificate of the person making the return to the effect that the statements contained therein are true Blank forms of return shall be furnished by the department upon application but failure to secure the form shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making any return herein required

B The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe or or prior to the last day for filing any return and upon proper cause shown grant to the taxpayer required to file return an extension of not more than sixty days within which such return may be filed and in case the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at any time grants a taxpayer a longer extension of time for filing his Federal income tax return the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the return under this act of not more than thirty days after the termination of the Federal extension

C Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act taxpayers on active duty with the armed forces of the United States who are serving outside the continental limits of the United States at the time a return would otherwise be due under his act shall not be required to file such return until the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the month in which such taxpayer returns to the United States

Section 407 Assessment and Payment of Tax Each taxpayer shall or in cases where an agent or fiduciary makes then the agent or fiduciary shall at the time of filing a return for the taxpayer on whose behalf he is acting the return compute and pay to the department the amount of tax shown by such return to be payable In making such computation the taxpayer shall take credit for any tax withheld on his behalf by any employer

A Whenever the tax imposed by this act is not paid upon the due date of the return provided for in subsection A of section four hundred six interest shall be charged thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum until paid whether or not the time for filing the return shall have been extended except that no interest shall accrue during the period of extension granted under subsections on active duty with the armed forces of the United States C of section four hundred six of this act to taxpayers

Administration and Enforcement

Section 501 Department to Administer The Department of Revenue shall administer and enforce the provisions of this act

Section 502 Assessments by the Department Notice If any taxpayer shall fail to file a return or fail to include in any return all of his taxable income or shall fail to compute and pay the tax due the Commonwealth as required in this act the department shall make an estimated assessment or additional assessment or both of tax for which the taxpayer is liable or for which he is believed by the department to be liable together with the penalty of ten per centum of such tax

Section 503 Assessments Made At Any Time Within Five Years An additional assessment or estimated assessment as heretofore provided shall be made by the department at any time within five years after any taxable income of any taxpayer should have returned by him for taxation any such additional assessment or estimated assessment may be made at any time during said period notwithstanding he shall have paid a tax assessed on the basis of returns previously made or filed and notwithstanding the department shall have made previous additional or estimated assessments against such taxpayer In any such case no credit shall be given for any penalty formerly assessed and paid

Section 504 Procedure for Reassessment Review Appeal A Promptly after the date of an assessment by the department the department shall send by mail a copy thereof to the person against whom it was made Within ninety days after the date upon which the copy of any such assessment was mailed such person may file with the department a petition for reassessment of such tax Every petition for reassessment shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitled him to such reassessment and it shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts set forth therein are true I shall be the duty of the department within six months after the date of any assessment to dispose of any petition for reassessment Notice of the action taken upon any petition for reassessment shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of reassessment by the department

B Within sixty days after the date of mailing of notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for reassessment filed with it the person against whom such assessment was made may petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every pe-tion for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reason upon which the petitioner relies or shall incorporate by reference the petition for reassessment in which such reasons shall have been stated. The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true. The Board of Finance and Revenue shall act finally in disposition of such petitions filed with it within six months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within six months the action by the department upon the petition for reassessment shall be deemed sustained. The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for reassessment or it may reassess the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity. Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail to the department and to the petitioner.

C Any person or the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania aggrieved by the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or by the board's failure to act upon his petition for review within six months may within sixty days appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County from the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue or from the decision of the department as the case may be in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for appeals in the case of tax settlements.

D In all cases of petitions for reassessment review or appeal the burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner or appellant as the case may be.

E Whenever any assessment of additional tax is not paid within ninety days after the date thereof if no petition for reassessment has been filed or within sixty days from the date of reassessment if no petition for review has been filed or within sixty days from the date of the decision of the Board of Finance and Revenue upon a petition for review of the expiration of the board's time for acting upon such petition if no appeal has been made and in all cases of judicial sales receiverships assignments or bankruptcies the department may call upon the Department of Justice to collect such assessment. In such event in a proceeding for the collection of such taxes the person against whom they were assessed shall not be permitted to set up any ground of defense that might have been determined by the department. The Board of Finance and Revenue or the courts as aforesaid.

Section 505 Enforcement Rules and Regulations. Inquisitorial Powers of the Department. A The department is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe, adopt, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provision of this act and the collection of taxes, penalties and interest imposed by this act.

B The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books, papers and records of any taxpayer or supposed taxpayer in order to verify the accuracy of any return made or if no return was made to ascertain and assess the tax imposed by this act. Every such taxpayer or supposed taxpayer is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means, facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. The department is hereby authorized to examine any person under oath concerning any taxable income which was or should have been returned for taxation and to this end may compel the production of books, papers and records and the attendance of all persons whether as parties or witnesses whom it believes have knowledge of such taxable income. The procedure for such hearing or examination shall be the same as that provided by The Fiscal Code relating to inquisitorial powers of fiscal officers.

C Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns, investigations, hearings or verifications required or authorized by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and except in accordance with proper judicial order or as otherwise provided by law and any person or agent divulging such information shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not in excess of five hundred dollars and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than three years or both in the discretion of the court.

Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection C of this section the department may permit the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the United States or the proper officer of any state imposing an income tax upon the incomes of individuals or the authorized representative of either such officer to inspect the income tax returns of any individuals or may furnish to such officer or his authorized representative an abstract of the return of income of any individual or supply him with information concerning any item of income contained in any return or disclosed by the report of any investigation of the income or return of income of any individual but such officer or his representative only if the statutes of the United States or of such other state as he case may be grant substantially similar privileges to the proper officer of this State charged with the administration of the personal income tax law thereof.

Section 506 Lien of Taxes. A All taxes imposed by this act together with all penalties and interest shall be considered a public account after being assessed in the manner prescribed in this act and as such shall be a lien upon the franchises and property both real and personal of the taxpayer against whom the same are assessed after the same has been entered and docketed of record by the prothonotary of the county where the resident's franchises or property are situated.

B The department may at any time transmit to the prothonotaries of the respective counties of the Commonwealth to be by them entered of record certified copies of all liens for taxes imposed by this act and penalties and interest upon which record it shall be lawful for writs of scire facias to issue and be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the same manner as such writs are ordinarily employed.

Section 507 Violations Penalties. Any person who shall fail neglect or refuse to make any return required by this act or any taxpayer who shall refuse to pay the tax, penalties and interest imposed by this act or any person who shall refuse to permit the department or any agent appointed by it in writing to examine his or her books, records and papers or who shall knowingly make any incomplete, false or fraudulent report or who shall attempt to do anything whatever to avoid the full disclosure of the amount of taxable income to avoid the payment of the whole or any part of the tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars and costs of prosecution or undergo imprisonment not exceeding three years or both in the discretion of the court.

Such fine shall be in addition to any penalty imposed by any other section or subsection of this act.

Article VI

Miscellaneous

Section 601 Saving Clause. The tax imposed by this act shall be in addition to any local tax imposed or authorized by any law of this Commonwealth or by any ordinance or resolution of any political subdivision in force and effect on the effective date of this act and relating to the imposition, levy or collection of any taxes on the same persons or subjects covered by this act it being the intention of the General Assembly that any such law, ordinance or resolution shall not be vacated, effected or impaired by anything contained in this act notwithstanding any law to the contrary.

Section 602 Constitutional Construction. If any section, sentence, clause or part of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional sentence, section, clause or part thereof not been included herein.

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, two weeks ago I came before this same microphone. When I left my seat my hands were shaking so that I could hardly hold the cards, but I said in my own heart: "Dear God, if it be Thy will, help me to see this thing through." I came here and I talked to you on this same bill that you today are calling back on the calendar to try to force upon the people of Pennsylvania against the wishes of the people of Pennsylvania.

I want to put some things in the record for the people in the state of Pennsylvania. I tried to be a gentleman at this microphone the last time. I tried to take things easy. I even offered to break off debate if our party would sit down and consider the proposals which the Governor so greatly hollers from the rooftops that he welcomes so much. And he tells a contemptible lie when he says that—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SWARTZ. Yes sir.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will refrain from personal reflections.

Mr. SWARTZ. I will, Mr. Speaker, I beg your pardon.

I do not know whether I will be here two minutes or ten hours, but I want to put in the record what I have to say and let the people of Pennsylvania know where I stand. I do not change my stand from where I stood when I stood here before. I have not been promised to have a bill put through if I changed my vote. I would not accept such a promise if it had been made.

The people of Pennsylvania have been witnessing in the last few weeks one of the most contemptible spectacles of arrogance and pressure politics that this state has ever seen. We defeated this income tax bill after proper debate and I make no claim that I led any of the opposition. I did not. I did not seek the honor of being the leader of the opposition. I want no credit, if there be any credit, above the other 105 who stood and voted this contemptible bill down. I merely came here as an individual to speak the things which I had in my own heart and, as I told you at that time, when I follow the dictates of my own heart I usually find that I am doing what the people want me to do.

But on that same day we had not started this spectacle of overriding the will of the people, when three Members who voted for the measure changed their votes in order that they could be on the prevailing side, and thereby be permitted to recall this measure within the specified period of time, which they have done. They have managed to get it back on the calendar despite the antagonism of the millions of Pennsylvanians, the working people, who were at one time championed by the Republican party and who today stand deserted by the Republican party.

In my experiences when I came before this microphone two weeks ago I did not know that I had any support for what I would say. I did not know a thing about how the people would actually accept what I said. I just felt it in here. But today I know where I stand, because I have had letters, telegrams and personal calls—and the phone ringing at my place of business and at my home, and even in the corridors of this Capitol people coming out and tapping me on the arm and saying: "Don't quit. Don't give up the fight."

I know today that the majority of the people who draw pay checks are opposed to this legislation, while they would not be opposed to other forms of taxation. When you have people coming to you with tears in their eyes you know that their hearts are in it. I have had that happen to me in the past two weeks. I can take you to the place and bring you the people and the witnesses that were there when the tears were rolling down their cheeks, and said: "Don't give in. Stand up and fight!" That is what I am doing and I intend to keep it up.

I represent the Second Dauphin County District. In that district are the Bethlehem Steel plants at Steelton, the Hershey interests at Hershey, Pennsylvania, the Reading Railroad Company yards at Rutherford Heights, and I know what those people want. I know what they want because they have told me; not only their leaders but the men themselves and the people who work in those places.

I swore when I took my oath of office and even before that I would never pass legislation that is detrimental to the working masses of the people of Pennsylvania.

My opposition, so far, has been one penny postal card from one group who I do not want to put on the record; who I told I thought they were making a mistake; that they would get public sentiment against them; that I was not opposed to the things that they were after and that I would work for the things that they were after under other forms of taxation, if we needed it. To that group, and I do not want it written into the record, I am still going to be the gentleman although they have not been much of a gentleman with me.

I do not want to read everything. I could keep you here for two days reading the mail and the telegrams I have received. I will not go into that.

There is one thing I want to call your attention to. Some of these are not my own words. I am opposing a particular form of taxation and I want to call it to the attention of you who are the representatives of the people, that the power to tax is the power to corrupt; the power to tax is the power to destroy, the power to tax is the power to enslave.

Corrupt what? Corrupt the moral fibers of the people. Destroy what? Destroy the incentive of the people. Enslave whom? Enslave the people themselves. If you do not see what is happening on the other side of the water, gentlemen, I do not think you are wide awake. Yet this same power of taxation, if we used it wisely and in conformity with the interest of society as a whole, we could go forward to greater things than this state has ever known. Advancing our health, our welfare, our other services that the people want advanced, but not at the expense of putting a noose around their necks and getting their pay from their checks before they ever see it.

I think I better keep quiet. I think maybe the best thing to happen here is for this bill to pass and in the next election the Republican party will come down and find that they are out of power—maybe I ought to keep my mouth shut and just sit down.

If I ever wanted to lose an election I would do the things the leadership here have done. I just want to call your attention to a couple little things, and then I am going to shut up because the longer I talk the more I want to talk. I am just filled up with this subject.

As one of the representatives of the people I just want to call to your attention some facts.

The Mayflower compact begins, "in the name of God, Amen."

I want to call to your attention the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut, "for as much as it hath pleased the Almighty God."

And then that great document, The Declaration of Independence,

"When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them . . ."

Maybe there is another one here, but in those I want to point out the word "God." I do not profess to be a good man but I do believe in God and I think that we are making fun of our God, and we are forgetting God after the prayer has been said when we are convened here every day.

This party of ours which I must stand to oppose today should be ashamed of itself, because here are some of the words of the man who is supposed to be the father of the Republican party:

"That we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

After a lot of quotations I could say: "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country." "We have just begun to fight," "Give me liberty or give me death."

Down through this historical, vast and great nation of ours—I do not know—maybe we are getting off the track. Lincoln said:

"God must have loved the common people because He made so many of them."

And the party to which I belong and for which he set up such eloquent principles to follow, in the name of God, how have we come so far away from those common people.

Here in Pennsylvania the liberty bell rang many years ago. At Valley Forge the men walked in the snow until the blood was on the snow and they starved but they would not give way for the ideals that they thought were the things that they wanted in life for them and their children.

At Gettysburg fifteen thousand men under Pickett swept across the field and unto the ramparts and they dashed on the ramparts and tied up and flowed away and the high tide of the Civil War had been reached and it receded.

Here in Pennsylvania all of those outstanding things have taken place and I sincerely hope in spite of what other states are doing, what other nations are doing, that here in Pennsylvania it shall also be written that here we stood against the further encroachment upon the fundamental rights of a free people. That is the issue, it is not the one half of one percent income tax. I am fighting for a principle in which I believe.

The people of Pennsylvania know that we defeated upon the floor of this House by a vote of 105 to 101

this very bill that we discuss today. I have no doubt that the minority party will stand as they did. I have no doubt that any of the others will stand and we will go out of here licking this bill again by at least 105 to 101. But I want to call to the attention of the people of Pennsylvania to watch the 105. I ask the newspapers to publish the names of any of the 105 who today change their vote from what they voted two weeks ago. Let us mark them so everybody can see them and I make no other comments.

When this fight on this tax bill is past it is just the beginning because I, if it is passed, will go from one end of Pennsylvania, if I have a crawl on my hands and knees and bring the message of this contemptible legislation to all the people, and I will help to elect any Governor four years from now who will promise to take it off the record books.

I was going to ask permission to interrogate certain people here today, but I do not want to point the finger at them. I know the people of Pennsylvania are watching 105 men here. Just 4 or 5 of them have it in their power to put this tax on the millions of people. So I will not ask permission to interrogate them; I think they will be indicted before the bar of public opinion, so I will not go into that.

What I would like to see here is no income tax at this session, no sales tax, but a plan similar to what the Philadelphia Inquirer suggested in the next two years. That is to formulate a plan whereby if we need the money for educational help and so forth, be fair to the people and tell them if we give you a sales tax collected at the source, exempting food and those things, that is a fair tax. There you have your exemptions and that is the best tax for you and it is earmarked for health, welfare and education and the people of Pennsylvania will go along.

I have not heard any of the people that work at Hershey or those places that said they would not go for a tax like that, even though they tell me they do not want this type of a tax. We say we cannot save any money. I do not have any paper here to show you where there is a $15,000 office right now where the gentleman says that he will not be there very much of the time and his lieutenants can handle the job.

I say to you if that man is not needed there all of the time we do not need him there any of the time. We can save $15,000 for the taxpayer. That is chicken feed when you do not count $10 millions as being anything these days. At least you show the people you are getting started in the right direction.

Then we have the spectacle of a lot of loveseats being bought with the taxpayers' money, somewhere in this Capitol. Judas Priest I am getting too old for that kind of stuff, I do not know what they want with them over there.

I have been accused of playing for the headlines and I want to remark to you right here, I never played for any headlines. I do not play for headlines today. Being in the position I am in, if I would have wanted headlines, I would have gotten them when that bridge proposition was brought on the floor of the House: The resolution to name that bridge "The Harvey Taylor Bridge." I could have gotten on the floor of this House and torn that thing apart, but I resolved in my heart that I would not say "aye" for it, but I would not stoop to such low politics as to raise a furor and get my name in the papers. I wanted an issue and if I had to stand up and fight for a real issue, then I would stand up and I would fight, but not on an issue like that, although I could have had some publicity on it. I have a couple of bills in mind, if I dropped them in the hopper down there, I could have my name in the headlines from one part of Pennsylvania to the other. Even the Republicans here would be so hopping mad that they would not know what to do about it. I could do that, but I have not. I have not played for the headlines and I do not play for them.

I am going to get off the floor here. Somebody told me last night he was proofreading or something on that last speech I made—there were twelve pages—and he did not know I was so windy. I will get finished here and let these people put this noose around the necks of the people of Pennsylvania.

I just want to call to your attention one little thing. You who profess to believe in the American way of life; you who profess to be representatives of the people, passing legislation in the interests of all the people—"We hold these truths to be self evident that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men."

Are you going to allow those rights to continue for free people or are you going to regiment them under this income tax bill?

On the base of the Statue of Liberty which I have never seen I am sorry to say, they tell me there is an inscription something like this:

"Yield to me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free. The wretched refuge of your teeming shore. Send these the homeless, tempest tossed to me. I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

I thank you for your attention; I am just waiting to see if you are going to hold that lamp beside the golden door, and all I say is, as you vote may the will of Almighty God himself be done here today.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, what I am about to do I think will probably be something that is a little out of the ordinary. But due to the fact that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, and myself represent the Second Legislative District of this great county I feel as though it is my duty to set the record straight and interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I shall

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman and I together represent the Second Legislative District in Dauphin County.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, how many people are in that district?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, well I would say close to 100,000 people.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is approximately right, There are somewhere in the neighborhood of 96,000 people.

The gentleman made the statement awhile ago that he is representing his people and his people's wishes, is that correct?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many districts, how many boroughs there are in our district?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the figures. You are an older Member than I and I suppose you have had more opportunity to secure that information than I have had.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, for your own personal information and for the information of the House, there are 15 boroughs in our district.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am glad I got educated, sir.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know how many townships there are in our district?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, no, I do not.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the same answer will go for this: there are 22 townships.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I represent my people and I think that the gentleman does too, but I cannot let the record stand as it is.

The gentleman mentioned the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Hershey Estates, Rutherford Yards and so on and so forth. Did he hold a public hearing on this issue?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, in what way does the gentleman mean a public hearing?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, well, the gentleman made the statement that he was going to have a debate; did he hold that debate?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, where was this to have been held?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I understand that he held it in Derry Township; is that correct?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman needs an answer to that question inasmuch as he was invited to that meeting and refused to attend.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is evading my question.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am not. I have no desire to evade the question of the gentleman from Dauphin because in a few short weeks I will be out there on the stump opposing the gentleman who is interrogating me, ready and willing for the people of Dauphin County to decide the issue.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, oh, yes, indeed, I am just beginning to talk.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman hold any meetings in any of the other boroughs or townships in the Second Legislative District?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I did not for the simple reason that this income tax business was rammed in here in such a hurry, without proper time to consider it, that I could not have arranged those meetings.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, now one more question, Mr. Swartz.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am ready for all you have.

Mr. HOCKER. Was the gentleman in favor of the Soldiers' Bonus? If that is personal, he does not have to answer it.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, no, I have not one thing to hide. You know, I write a little weekly column for the Hummelstown Sun and it is all written into the record. I wrote one full column the week before that Bonus question was brought up and I pleaded with the people to vote for the Bonus. It is on the record.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, that is all. I thank the gentleman.

The only thought that I have in my mind this afternoon is to set the record straight in regard to the people from the Second Legislative District of Dauphin County.

I have represented these people during three sessions of this Legislature, and I have never had to go back to them and apologize for anything that I have done on the floor of this House. I always had a good reason for what I have done.

I do not want the rest of this Commonwealth to think that my District, the Second Legislative District of Dauphin County, which comprises the Boroughs of Middletown, Highspire, Steelton and on up into the hard coal regions, Millersburg, Lykens, Williamstown, I do not want the rest of the people of this Commonwealth to think that my people are a backward people.

Up until this time I have received exactly two letters in opposition to this measure. Both of those letters were from what I term "pressure groups." I will not mention them. I have no fear that I will fall down on my job on account of those two groups.

I have had many people come to me and talk to me about this. I told them that in view of the fact that we had to have new income, that anything they wished I would go along with, and with very few exceptions they all agreed that this was the wisest step to take at this time.

I have no axe to grind so far as this is concerned other than the fact that I was brought up to pay my debts. For two sessions I, and many of you people here put on the calendar of this House and passed, the Soldiers' Bonus. I was very proud of you and very proud to be a part of that program. It was put on the ballot and my people voted for it. I have no alternative but to pay that bill that my people wanted. I am going to vote for this program today because I feel I am carrying out the wishes of my people.

I will not take any more of the time of the House. I do not want Mr. Swartz to feel any ill-will towards me because we both campaigned in the last election, but I just could not take it lying down and let the people of the Commonwealth think that the great Dauphin County of which I am so proud, would take a backward step at this time.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, rose today so that all the people of Dauphin County know where he stands.

I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman from Dauphin, did I at any time say that I was defaulting in the debts of the state of Pennsylvania or upheld default of such debts by reason of my stand against the income tax in respect to the Soldiers Bonus?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, is that question directed at me? He started out by saying, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I believe I direct the questions through the Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, not necessarily.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform both of the gentlemen from Dauphin that an interrogation directed to the Chair is an interrogation directed to the Member.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question I would answer it this way. I did not say that he was opposed to the Soldiers Bonus. I did not say that he would default his debts. I merely made the statement in regard to myself.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that this income tax is the only way to have people pay their taxes to pay the debts?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, personally and on behalf of my people, and of course, in going to my people and talking to as many of them as I could, that is correct. That is the best method at this time.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, in other words, of all the people who work near his home at Bethlehem Steel, all the people who work at Hershey, all of the people who work at Rutherford or in this Capitol for that matter, then he is willing to say that the best way to get their money is to grab it from their pay checks before they have any choice in the spending of that money. I want it on the record, is that what you say?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, that is not what I said.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, well do not try to hedge or evade.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I am not hedging. I wish to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Swartz, desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, yes indeed.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I will refrain from any other interrogation because in my six years here I feel as though I have always been a gentleman and I wish to remain that way.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman states that he will not permit himself to be further interrogated.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to stand here. I once told you that I was going to be the gentleman, that I would not interrogate anybody in this House, but I will interrogate anybody who wants to interrogate me as fair play.

You see, I try to be a fair minded man. Now Mr. Hocker has his own opinion, and I have never at any time asked any man in this House, how to vote. Never. I never said "Go ahead vote this way or do not vote that way." I feel every man here is intelligent enough to make his own decisions.

Let us get it on the record: I will challenge Mr. Hocker to a series of debates on this issue any place in Dauphin County or on any radio station that will reach the people of Dauphin County—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Dauphin County, Mr. Swartz, desire to debate the question now before the House?

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I will just finish this statement and then I am done.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has allowed a great deal of latitude in the debate on this particular issue. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, thank you—and then we will let the people of Dauphin County say who is right.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to oppose this particular bill. I think what we should do here today is talk about the forgotten men and women who are involved in this taxation.

Two years ago we passed and sent to the voters for their approval a Soldiers' Bonus Bill. I recall very distinctly in the 1949 session that the Honorable Thomas Heatherington of Allegheny County rose after we passed the resolutions, and said: "Now, who will tell me how we are going to raise the funds to pay the soldiers' bonus?" There was no reply.

The voters went to the polls and they overwhelmingly approved the payment of the Soldiers' Bonus. I am surprised that the question has never been raised in debate in this House in connection with the repayment of the soldiers' bonus. I believe that the greater portion of this money that you are going to try to raise through the income tax is going to be used for that particular purpose.

On whom are we going to saddle the debt? The soldier boys went away; they were practically all over the world. We were going to do so much for them when they came back. Yet at the 1949 session we took away from them the right to have clubs. Now in 1951 we are going to say to them, "We want you to pay back the money that you have not yet received."

Many of them are still being processed through the Veterans' Administration. Many of the boys have not yet received their money, but if they are working in the steel mills and the coal mines, we are going to go to the payroll clerk and we are going to have him deduct from their wages,—their gross earnings, if you please,—the money to help repay the money we gave to them in recent months; in some cases, not yet received.

I think this is a very important factor. I say we should not be a bunch of Indian givers. We should not give a man money today and then say to him tomorrow: "We want you to return it." I for one am going to plead not guilty. I say that the man who gets up and waves the flag here on this floor and says he is for the soldier, and votes for this bill, he is only kidding somebody. And I think the only person that he is kidding is himself, because after all, that is exactly what is being done here today.

I thought after the vote was taken in Philadelphia yesterday on the issue of the City Charter, that this bill would automatically fall. I did not think it would be called before this House today for a vote, because of the fact that I believe down in the bottom of the hearts of the people of Philadelphia, one of the reasons that the people took the attitude they did there yesterday, in face of the opposition of political leaders who controlled those votes for so many years, is the fact that the people already have a so-called wage tax in Philadelphia. You are going to give them another wage tax in Philadelphia under the guise of an income tax. I believe they thought the only way they could rebuke the leadership of that city, which was partly responsible for this particular piece of legislation, was to march to the polls and to cast their vote of protest by voting for the Charter bill. I believe that they hope that in the future they will be able to make reforms which will relieve them of that type of taxation.

We speak of spreading this down into a broader tax base. Yes, there is no doubt that you are doing just that. But whom are you hurting? You are hurting the man who has spent the best years of his life in industry; he has given his energy to create the wealth of this Commonwealth, to make it the state that it is today, one of the leading in the nation and one of the greatest of any territories in the world.

People are going to be compelled, if they have seven or eight or ten children, to carry the greatest burden of the lot because of the fact that they are the ones who can least afford to pay it. In case a boy lost his life in the war, of course he is not here to pay it; but you are going to his aged parents, to his sisters and brothers and saying "we want that bonus money back; we only loaned it to you, so you pay it back." I think it is a shame with the wealth that we have here, the magnitude of our industry, the power to create, that we have to come down to this type of taxation.

I come from a mining district and I know that we have men there who have worked in the mines for twenty-five, thirty, or forty years who are now getting $100 a month pension. You are going to those old people and saying "We want fifty cents a month out of that pension check." Whereas, on the other hand under some of the exceptions, a Judge can probably retire on ten or twenty thousand a year and he does not pay anything.

I cannot see where there is any merit, any justification for this type of taxation. If we had no other source, I would say then possibly as a last resort, we would have to come to it. But that is not the case, because even although I voted against the pop tax in the 1949 session, I would prefer it to this. I would prefer some other tax to this because of the fact that you are going right down and taking it off the man's dinner table, and I do not think it is fair.

That is all I have to say Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to prolong matters here and I thank the House for its kind attention.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, on April 4th when House Bill 840 was before this House for consideration, I voted against the bill. At that time I did not have one single request asking me to vote in favor of the bill. I had a few letters and a few telegrams opposing the bill.

However, in my county since the defeat of that bill, House Bill 840 on April 4th, I have received approximately 108 telegrams and about thirty letters. I am not going to read all these telegrams, for they are practically all the same; but I do want to read a few of them to bring out the point that I want to present to this House.

"Dear Mr. Polen. In favor of Income Tax Bill 840 pending regarding increased subsidies to school districts and urge your support of same. Sincerely"

It is signed by Foster Township Teachers Association. Another one:

"Dear Mr. Polen (the telegram is addressed to me) "I favor Income Tax Bill 840 pending regarding increased subsidies to school districts and urge your support. Respectfully Gladys McCormack, Washington County."

"Dear Mr. Polen. I am in favor of Income Tax Bill pending regarding increasing subsidies to school district and urge your support of same. Sincerely."

And all down the line.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I certainly am not in favor, and I think my record in this House since 1941 will bear me out,—I am not in favor of defeating any bill that increases the subsidies to school districts. Since this bill was defeated I have had approximately 50 or 60 teachers and educators call upon me in person at my home and at my office. They all seem to be under the impression that this is a school subsidy bill. We do have such a bill, 334 in this House, and I heartily favor it.

However, in discussing this legislation, House Bill 840, with the men and women who are interested in education in Washington County, they all said to me, when I asked them the question: "How does it come that when this bill was originally up for consideration I did not hear from any of you asking my support? and where do you get the information that this is a school subsidy bill? The general answer was, "Well, we were instructed to see you and ask you to vote for this bill."

On Saturday of this past week one of the supervising principals of Washington County who is a close friend of mine, came to see me. I knew I could talk to him. I asked him a question; I said: "Do you know anything about this bill?"

He said: "Not a thing."

I again asked him the question, I said: "Do you think it covers school subsidies?"

He said: "I don't know, all I know is that I have instructions from Harrisburg to see you and put the heat on you to vote for this bill."

I think we are going far afield when any organization would attempt to do what has been done in this case. In fact, to me it amounts to misrepresentation. I am even going further with another telegram which I have received in which it says the Patton Township Teachers Association meeting April 13, 1951, voted in favor of the State Income Tax as recommended by the PSEA. We will appreciate your continued support of the teachers.

I have always felt that one of the great constructive attitudes of the PSEA—I am a great admirer of that organization—was the fact that they never tied their school subsidy bills or their teachers' bills to any tax program. I think the taxes for education in Pennsylvania should and must be raised, and I feel that the support of the public schools is certainly necessary.

I concur and agree with the Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews, when he made the statement on the floor of the House asking for a public hearing, when he specifically stated that he did not say that all of the items were too large, in fact, so far as the teachers' salaries are concerned, that the amount asked was too small.

I believe that that is the case here today. I do not believe that we have enough money in the budget to do properly the things that we want to do for the teachers of Pennsylvania, and I further feel that if we are to continue to have and maintain an enlightened citizenship in Pennsylvania, we are going to have to do it by having good schools, good buildings, well manned and staffed by well educated men and women, paid adequate salaries so that they can maintain a station in life in line with their responsibilities in teaching the youth of this nation.

In order to clear the record, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if there is anything in House Bill 840 that pertains to school subsidies.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can only answer the gentleman by saying House Bill 840 is a tax bill.

Mr. POLEN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I want to state that I am not opposed to an income tax bill simply because it has originated in the majority side of this House. I believe it is the duty and the responsibility of the majority party to formulate a tax program in Pennsylvania. I am heartily in favor of income taxes as the proper way to raise tax revenue on a broad program and a broad base. However, I do feel that if we want to do that we should legalize by a constitutional amendment the right to levy a graduated income tax.

I do not want to take up much more of the time of the Members of this House, because I feel that everyone has about made up his mind. However, in order to clarify some issues regarding this tax Bill 840 in my own mind and some of the questions that have been raised by my constituents, I would again like to interrogate the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if I am correct in my understanding that if I would, perchance, employ a boy to mow my lawn and pay him a dollar, would I have to deduct, if this bill becomes law, the one-half of one percent, and make the report and pay it to the Commonwealth?

Mr. SMITH. I do not believe the gentleman would, Mr. Speaker, because I believe that would be handled by administration.

Mr. POLEN. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman. Is there anything in the bill that would give any authority for the statement that the gentleman has just made?

Mr. SMITH. No, Mr. Speaker, there is not at this time. There are no exemptions, I would remind the gentleman.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I happen to be engaged in a small business. For a number of years I worked for other corporations, different companies, and I know that one of the great burdens that is being placed upon small business particularly, and also upon the larger corporations is the continuous adding of additional payroll deductions for which they are not paid, which causes endless trouble, worry and the detail is tremendous.

I hope that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, is correct when he says that the administration of these small items would be eliminated; but I doubt it; I do not see how it could be done.

However, I want to bring this thought to you, that everyone, according to my interpretation of this bill, that any individual or firm or corporation that employs anyone and pays wages, is going to have to deduct and remit this tax to the Commonwealth. I do not see that the amount makes a particle of difference; I do not see how it could. My heart does not bleed for labor, and the farmer and everybody; I think we are all in the same boat, but I do think that a busy farmer, if he hires a man for a few days in the threshing time, he has ten or fifteen extra men, I think it is going to be somewhat of a burden to ask him to assume this additional burden of making reports and deducting. I hoped that it could be eliminated, as the gentleman said administratively it might; but I am afraid that it cannot.

It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the question of further continuing and adding to the withholding tax idea is certainly something that is creeping up on us. Certainly sometime it has to be stopped, and it seems to me that a good time to stop it is right here in Pennsylvania, now.

I know lots of people in small business, they have to employ accountants; they are worried to death. They have social security and all these Federal taxes and believe me, my thought is if the Federal government, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any of its municipalities within it have to reach in and take their tax before the man gets it there is something wrong with the integrity of our government. I am not casting aspersions against any particular branch; that goes for all of them.

It seems to me as American citizens, if we have confidence in our government we would want to pay the bill. I am not opposing this bill just because it is an income tax bill; I am not opposing it because of the amount; in fact, I think it is very fair so far as the amount is concerned. I do not think it adds any great burden to anyone, though it might, in the case my colleague cited to the man on a small pension fifty cents or a dollar would be something material to him. What we are now doing in government is getting it first before the man ever gets his salary; it seems to me that if we have the proper respect, and if our people support the things that we do, they have to pay the bill.

Mr. Speaker, just one other question. I would like to interrogate once again the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman on the 4th of April when this bill was being debated made a statement, and I have not been able to verify it in the Legislative Journal because it is not in print, but as I copied the statement down at that time it was along these lines—possibly not the exact wording—that the tax paid under this bill is deductible dollar for dollar from the Federal income tax. Is that statement substantially correct?

Mr. SMITH. It certainly is, Mr. Speaker, so far as I know. Let me put it, in computing the Federal income tax, it is deductible.

Mr. POLEN. I thank the gentleman. That clarifies it. And I raise this question because today I had a telephone call from a businessman in Washington County, and he quoted this provision where he said that he understood that the administration had said it was deductible dollar for dollar. If I understand that right, if he paid $100 Federal tax and $10 State tax, he could deduct it. I just wanted that for the benefit of the record and for the people of my county, the great County of Washington. I am glad the gentleman has clarified that. It is not deductible, however, dollar for dollar. It can be listed and claimed as a deduction, but as the great majority of people take the standard deductions it would not in any way, unless they were extremely large taxpayers, reduce the amount of their Federal tax.

Mr. Speaker, I am not going to take up any more time of this House and I thank you very much for your attention.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I, too, have no desire to prolong the debate, but in view of statements made on this floor within the recent period of this debate, I feel that some statement needs to come forth at this point.

Interrogation the other day elicited the information from me that I am a teacher, and I was glad to give that information. I am certainly proud of being a member of that group. I am also opposed to the present tax bill and I would like to make a comment in view of the many statements that have been made. Five times in the last two weeks I have heard gentlemen rise on both sides of the floor and make an indictment of teachers.

I am also, I may say, a member of the PSEA although in view of what I have heard recently, I have not checked to find out whether I am in good standing. However, I do not want the Members of this House to have the feeling that the teachers of this great Commonwealth are, as was said on the floor on one occasion, a selfish group.

I agree with the gentleman from Washington County who just spoke, that the teachers are by no means unanimous in their opinion upon this tax bill. I would say that they divide as a group pretty much according to the lines drawn across the Commonwealth in any group of the same income and economic status. Their leadership, the PSEA has seen fit to take a stand on this bill and I do not intend to criticize it. However, I would like to make this statement to all concerned, I would request that you do not carry any resentment or animosity which might have been aroused in you by any alleged pressures such as the gentleman from Washington and others have referred to, to give you the opinion that the school teachers of this Commonwealth desire to take a partisan stand on this issue or desire to have their legislation considered as a partisan issue. They eminently do not.

In other words, the school teachers are standing for better schools. They are advocating salary increases and other bills which will lead to a better type of education in the State of Pennsylvania. In no wise should anybody's stand on this bill be influenced, it seems to me, by considerations of the teachers' bills. In other words, I hope that all will preserve their sense of humor and equanimity of mind so that when the time comes to consider school legislation they will be fair, impartial and not be governed by any of the resentment or animosity which they may feel now.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I certainly am not going to prolong the discussion on this bill inasmuch as I have had my say on the matter prior to today, but I do want to set the record straight in reference to the position that I took on April 4, and which I will again take today.

I, the same as the other gentlemen that have preceded me at the microphones, have been approached by a great number of teachers while at home over the week-ends. On every occasion that I had an opportunity to discuss the bill and the possibilities of tax legislation for this session of the General Assembly with the teachers who were assembled in my home, I was able from my notes to prove to them the figures which I have—and I will not repeat them inasmuch as my Minority Leader has covered the subject very well.

I maintain and continue to take the position that no new taxes are necessary at this particular time. By my vote I do not oppose anything that the teachers are for and especially so for the program which they have in this House. By the same token may I say publicly to the teachers who continue to implore me to vote for House Bill No. 840 that I for one, with all of the charges that have been placed upon this legislation that is before us, would rather quit my public office than vote for this type of tax bill.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, if this tax is passed would the gentleman tell me what Department would collect this tax?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it could be collected by the Secretary of Revenue.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman received any communications on House Bill No. 840 relative to a public hearing?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill No. 840 I have very, very, very few.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman received any telegrams or communications opposing this tax?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker again I have received very few. For the gentleman's information, I would say at the most 25 from a city of two million people.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman recall at the opening of this session the oath and obligation administered by the Honorable Judge Robert E. Woodside?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I certainly do.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this oath then makes the gentleman and I and the rest of the Members of this House obligated to the citizens of this Commonwealth and the Constitution of this State? Is that right?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I certainly have always felt that way.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

I was greatly relieved of the headache and annoyances due to the pressure brought to bear when this bill was defeated. Now it has been resurrected and placed on the postponed calendar before us for consideration again.

It would be a very fine thing to resurrect some of the now slumbering legislation, such bills as FEPC, a free city college, and bills that deal with child delinquency and what not.

I rise now in opposition to this House Bill 840. First, because my constituents have called and stopped me on the streets concerning this unwanted tax. I shall endeavor to bring to you a picture giving the views and the opinions from the citizens of my district, in conjunction with the citizens of this Commonwealth. If the people could learn how many bills are now pending in or slumbering in the Committees, that will never see daylight, that would be a benefit to them especially if they are Democratically sponsored, as most of the legislation seems to take on a political aspect. I have seen new members on the majority side present bills, move them from the Committees to the floor of the House, have them considered and passed.

I am going to offer a resolution to have House histories placed on the mailing list so that our constituents may have an opportunity to know what kind of legislation is pending in the Committees and what happens to them. These histories are never looked into by some of the Members. It seems the most we know of a bill is the number, the title and the sponsor. Then it is forgotten all about until someone raises the issue about what the bill can do. That is what we are doing now.

House and Senate histories would serve a better purpose in the homes of our citizens than lying on the floors or lying in a trash heap.

Veterans Councils are opposed to this tax. The veterans in my district have stated that if they had known they were going to be taxed for the bonus they had earned, it would have been better for Governor Duff to have kept it rather than give it with the hope at the end of the 1951 General Assembly to attach a string and snatch it back.

I want to read into the records some of the letters, some of the telegrams and telephone messages—which I will not be able to read, I will tell them.

Pennsylvania Council, holding a membership of 600,000 individuals, have directed this letter to the Members of the House. I will just read one paragraph:

"You have been elected to our state Legislature to represent the people in your district. This is a very high honor in these most serious times. It is also a very grave responsibility."

Further down the line is says,

"We expect you to decide and vote on merit."

I will also read a letter from an individual in Philadelphia. I do not know him. The name is F. A. Hass. It is addressed to me.

"My only purpose in writing to you is the fact that I am a voter and I would like to express my complete and unequivocal opposition to the enactment of any state income tax in Pennsylvania. It hasn't been proven yet in any itemized fashion as to why it is needed, and secondly, there are too many other things about the necessity for this type of taxation which have not been clearly put before the voting public."

Another letter from Philadelphia Typographical Union No. 2, representing 2,000 members. They are opposed to this tax measure.

Local No. 37, representing 2,000 members,—I will not read the full contents, but I am going to give you their conception of this type of tax. They are opposed to this tax and even a wage tax if that is also considered.

The International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers representing 6,500 members. They are also opposed to this type of tax.

The Bakery and Confectionery's Union Local No. 6 representing a membership of 5,000:

"We oppose any effort for the passage of a similar type of taxation which may be under consideration by the legislature."

A private individual writes to me—I do not know him, M. A. McDermitt,

"Dear Sir: I wish to write to you to record my disapproval of a state income tax. Any effort which you may make in opposition to enactment of such regulation will be greatly appreciated."

In regard to the organizations and the memberships opposing these bills, they also have been asking for a public hearing. Telegrams are seldom given any attention here. Only when they have something drastic, or death written across the face of it, we become shocked, hysterical, sympathetic and emotional.

This is what happened to our citizens when they received a telegram from you informing them that the chance for a public hearing for House Bill 840 had died. You have already denied these people the right to be heard, when they could have expressed their opinion and offered some solution to this tax problem. We have many tax wizards in the state that could have helped in this situation. I have been asked by the people in all walks or stations in life along the highways and byways, socially, professionally, fraternally and politically, and last but not the least, religiously.

The question, "Why don't you fellows in the Legislature set up a race track or pari-mutuel or bingo which would give the state and the communities a revenue to take care of operation and the cost of the state government?"

It was also mentioned that the state was in the liquor business, which is causing some of our boys and girls to become heavy drinkers of wines and liquors. The income of the state stores is some $80 million alone for the biennium of 1949 to 1951. Other sports such as baseball, basketball, boxing and wrestling, while some folks go for the sport, some may find time to do otherwise.

Incidentally, and for the first time in my life, I visited the bingo game here in Harrisburg. The room was jammed and packed. There was a little bit of diversion there. It was a matter of fun or sport to hear somebody at the rear of the room shout out "Bingo." And I stood there and waited for another call. I could have shouted out the same.

If these people are classed as gamblers, Kefauver would have to return to Pennsylvania to continue his investigation, as there would be a great percentage found gambling through the state. Throughout the state in all of these games and sports principles are altogether forgotten when administration orders are given. We have failed to adhere to the wills and the mandates of the citizens of the Commonwealth for a true and honest representation in the cause of good government, free of unnecessary pressure and taxes.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania under Article I Section 20, the right of mankind to petition the government.

"The citizens have a right, in a peaceful manner to assemble together for their common good and to apply to those invested with the power of government for redress of grievances or other proper purposes by petition, address or remonstrance."

We must bear in mind our oath and obligation in Article VII Section I which reads,

"I do solemnly swear that I will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of this Commonwealth and that I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity."

This makes all of us obligated to the citizens of this great Keystone state, but we have somewhat neglected our duties so far as extending the rights and the privileges to the citizens of this state.

If an FEPC was established, as our other sister states have, it would give more and better employment to the citizens throughout the state. Perhaps the constituents would not object to being taxed then. Political science is being taught to the statesmen of tomorrow who will work and act in behalf of the people whom they shall represent. Today you are petitioning Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, or should I say Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, with the words inscribed as follows: "We the undersigned do hereby refuse to grant you a public hearing and are about to impose a state income tax under House Bill 840," signed by G. O. P., which can be called the Grand Old Party.

This will place them in a dilemma that will probably last until November before they can become conscious of what happened at Harrisburg. Some of you will have the audacity to ask for support into public office. We were flooded with questionnaires as candidates by the various organizations. We were asked our views on legislation dealing with the welfare, health and economical status of the people of the state. Some of you answered; some of you did not. I did not hesitate to answer so long as the questions were put in the party platform. Therefore these people are depending on you and me to stand up and be counted for the things we have promised to do.

Mr. Speaker, I urge you to defeat this bill for the sake of humanity.
